At the Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held at Exeter Hall, London, on Tuesday, May 4, 1886, being the Eighty-seventh Anniversary—

CAPTAIN THE HON. F. MAUDE, R.N., President, in the Chair,

AFTER READING OF SCRIPTURE AND PRAYER;

On a Motion of SIR HARRY VERNEY, BART., V.P., seconded by the REV. F. BOURDILLON, M.A., it was Resolved—

(I.) That this meeting, while welcoming to the post of President the Society's veteran friend and Treasurer, Captain the Honourable Francis Maude, R.N., desires to put on record its grateful sense of the very eminent services rendered to the Society by the late Earl of Chichester, who during a period exceeding half a century held the office of President of the Church Missionary Society. At the Anniversary Meetings of the Society, only one of which he missed during fifty-one years, he always advocated with solemn earnestness the great spiritual principles which have from the first day until now been the distinguishing mark and the strength of the Society. To the counsels of the Committee his Lordship brought the aid of his wide and varied experience, his tenacious memory, his thoroughness of research, and his statesman-like ability; and he rendered willing service to the cause by frequent personal communications with the Government on matters affecting the interests of the Society. Under the hospitable roof of his home at Stanmer, many Missionaries became personally acquainted with him, and learned to value his true kindliness of heart. He made a practice of remembering in prayer each Missionary whose work was in any way brought to his notice. This meeting thanks God for His enabling grace bestowed on the late revered President, and for the powers of mind and body continued to him to the very close of a long life of devoted service.

The Annual Report was then read, followed by the CHAIRMAN'S Address, after which, on a Motion of the RIGHT REV. THE LORD BISHOP OF LIVERPOOL, V.P., seconded by the RIGHT REV. BISHOP MOULE, V.P., and supported by SYDNEY GEDGE, ESQ., M.A., V.P., it was Resolved—

(II.) That the Report, of which an Abstract has now been read, be adopted, and printed under the direction of the Committee; that the thanks of this Meeting be given to His Grace the Archbishop of Canterbury for his Sermon before the Society last evening, and that it be printed and circulated; that Captain the Honourable Francis Maude, R.N., President, be Treasurer of the Society; and that the Committee be appointed for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies; and that the Report having enumerated many tokens of growing interest in Missionary work—such as the development of flourishing organizations for the purpose of acquiring and imparting Missionary information, more frequent meetings for prayer for the Divine blessing on the work, numerous inquiries with a view to personal service, and especially the remarkable series of meetings held throughout England and Wales in February last—this meeting thanks God for these most encouraging indications of the presence of His Holy Spirit, and prays that there may be a yet much larger outpouring, which shall reach with its blessed influence all classes, deepening in some and quickening in others a spirit of self-consecration and zeal for the extension of their Redeemer's kingdom.

On a Motion of the REV. H. U. WEITBRECHT, PH.D., Missionary from the Punjab, seconded by the REV. H. M. M. HACKETT, M.A., Vice-Principal of the C.M.S. Divinity School, Allahabad, and supported by the REV. E. C. DAWSON, M.A., Incumbent of St. Thomas's, Edinburgh, it was Resolved—

(III.) That the long record of names read this morning, of men who, having faithfully served their generation by the will of God, have entered into rest during the past year, presents a striking illustration of the way in which the Great Master is pleased to use, in working out His own purposes, the varied gifts and characters of His servants—of such pioneer Bishops as Arthur Poole and James Hannington, such veteran Missionaries as Henry Townsend, such Christian officers as General Taylor, Colonel Martin, and Colonel Hughes, and such munificent benefactors as Joseph Hoare; and is an encouragement to men of equally diverse gifts and positions both at home and abroad to consecrate their service to the cause of Foreign Missions in full confidence that the Lord will accept and use them all.

At a Meeting, held at Exeter Hall, on the Evening of the same Day—

THE RIGHT HON. THE EARL OF NORTHBROOK, V.P., being in the Chair, Addresses were delivered by the Chairman; the Rev. C. C. Fenn, M.A., Secretary of the Society, the Rev. A. W. Baumann, Missionary from South India; the Rev. W. S. Price; the Rev. J. D. Thomas, Missionary from Tinnevelly; the Rev. L. Lloyd, Missionary from China; Dr. S. T. Pruen, Missionary for East Africa; the Rev. W A. Roberts, Missionary from Western India; Mr. W. Blakeney, R.N.; and the Rev. J. Robertson, M.A., Vicar of St. Mary's, Kilburn.

STATIONS, CLERICAL OR LAY MISSIONARIES, AND NATIVE CLERGYMEN

SUPPORTED EITHER DIRECTLY BY THE SOCIETY, OR BY NATIVE CHURCH FUNDS SUBSIDIZED OR AIDED BY THE SOCIETY.

JUNE 1, 1886.

 A STATION is the place at which a Clerical or Lay Missionary is stationed, or at which Native Christians are located under Native pastoral superintendence in connection with the Society. The letter (m) means Married. —Wives of Missionaries, &c., though not named, except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among Native Women; such as cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating children, and instructing the adult women.

The figures after the Names of the European Labourers show the date of their first connection with the Society's Missions.

*This mark * denotes that the Missionary to whose name it is prefixed is in Local Connection. It includes Europeans who have joined in the Mission, and Clergymen who were born in the country in which they labour.*

The mark ‡ denotes that the Name to which it is prefixed is that of an Agent supported by Native Church Funds aided by the Society. The Native Ministers in New Zealand are supported partly by Subscriptions from Native Christians, and partly from the rents of lands belonging to the Society in the Colony.

The Names of Native Clergymen are printed in italics. The figures after their names show the date of ordination.

All the names under one station or department of work are printed in order of date, without reference to nationality, sex, orders, or other difference, except that in the case of Colleges, &c., the Principal stands first.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. All questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between a Bishop of the Church of England abroad and the COMMITTEE, shall, in the absence of any tribunal having legal cognizance of the same, be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the Provinces of Canterbury and York, whose decision thereupon shall be binding upon the Society and its agents and representatives.

The proposed reference shall be made by the COMMITTEE, through His Grace the Primate, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the COMMITTEE may deem advisable.

XXXIII. The object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed, as in any other respect to alter the principles and practices of the Society, as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The Bishops of the Church of England, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] the Society's Missionaries; and in the event of their being appointed by the COMMITTEE to labour at stations within the jurisdiction of a Bishop of the Church of England abroad, it is the practice of the Society to apply to the Bishop for licenses, in which are specified the districts to which the Missionaries have been assigned. This is done on the understanding that licenses will neither be refused, nor when granted be withdrawn from the Missionaries during their connection with the Society, except for some assigned legal cause.

PRAYER USED AT THE ANNUAL MEETINGS OF THE SOCIETY AND AT THE OPENING OF MEETINGS OF THE GENERAL COMMITTEE.

ALMIGHTY and most merciful FATHER, we give Thee humble thanks for the light of Thy Gospel. Make us more grateful for this Thy mercy, and more zealous for the salvation of all mankind.

Visit in mercy the Church of Christ; enrich it more abundantly with the grace of Thy Holy Spirit; and bless its endeavours to make known Thy Truth. Unite, as one man, all who are truly labouring for Thee. Disappoint the designs of Satan. Let all Christian Societies live in harmony and love; give them wisdom in all their plans; perfect Thy strength in their weakness; and direct their labours to Thy glory.

The harvest truly is great, but the Labourers are few! O Thou Lord of the Harvest, send forth labourers into Thy Harvest! Fill with Thy Spirit those whom Thou hast sent forth; and enable them faithfully and boldly to preach, among Jews and Gentiles, the unsearchable riches of Christ. Keep them from the snares of the world, the flesh, and the devil; deliver them from all evil; and make them wise to win souls.

Upon all the Native Converts whom Thou hast gathered to Thyself, through Thy labouring servants throughout the world, pour out Thy Holy Spirit, that, as Thou hast begotten them again unto a lively hope, so they may ever be followers of Thee as dear children. Deliver them from all remaining darkness and ignorance; destroy and abolish in their hearts all that remains of Satan's kingdom; grant that their faith, and hope, and love may grow exceedingly; make them to be ready to every good work, and more especially to exert themselves for the salvation of those around them; that so, by their zeal and faithful testimony, by their holiness and faithfulness, they may glorify Thy name before their countrymen, and bring in unto Thee, from the midst of them, such as shall be saved.

Have compassion, O Most-merciful Father, on all those who have come under instruction, though they be not yet altogether Christians. Convince them effectually, by Thy Word and Spirit, of their sinful and miserable state; pour upon them the spirit of grace and supplication, and draw them to Jesus.

Take away blindness from the Jews. Let them receive Thee, O Jesus, as their Messiah, and proclaim Thy saving name among the Gentiles.

Deliver all Mohammedans from the delusions of the False Prophet! O Thou True Prophet of Thy Church, enlighten them by Thy Holy Spirit, and bow them down at the foot of Thy Cross!

Pity blind Idolaters, who are kept in cruel bondage by the god of this world. Turn them from idols, that they may serve the Living and True God.

O Thou Almighty Saviour, who by the right hand of God art exalted, and hast received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, shed forth His light and grace on this dark world!

Cause all Christians, we beseech Thee, to sow bountifully; that they may reap also bountifully. O Thou that lovest a cheerful giver, let all grace abound toward them, that they may minister liberally of their substance to the making known of Thy Name!

With these our humble prayers, we join our praises and thanksgivings for what Thou hast already done in making known Thy salvation; perfect Thy work, O Lord; shortly accomplish the number of Thine elect; and hasten the coming of Thy Kingdom.

Be present with us, O Lord, at this time. Give us all a single eye to Thy glory. May Thy blessing rest upon our meeting; and may all our hearts be this day quickened and encouraged to fresh and persevering efforts in Thy Service.

We ask these mercies for the glory of Thy Name, through the merits and mediation of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; and would ascribe to Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, Three Persons in One God, everlasting praise. Amen.

OUR Father which art in Heaven: hallowed be Thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil: for Thine is the kingdom, the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

PRAYER USED AT THE OPENING OF MEETINGS OF THE COMMITTEE OF CORRESPONDENCE.

ALMIGHTY GOD, our heavenly Father, who hast purchased to Thyself an Universal Church, by the precious blood of Thy dear Son, we give Thee hearty thanks that it hath pleased Thee to call us to the knowledge of Thy grace and faith in Thee, and to appoint our lot in an age and country, where the true light shineth. We bless Thee that Thou hast awakened us in some measure to feel our responsibilities. We praise Thee for what we have seen and heard of the power of Thy Word among the heathen; we adore Thee for Thy many servants who have gone out from amongst us to toil, and suffer, and die in making known Thy salvation; and we thank Thee that Thou dost allow us, unworthy sinners, to unite together in this work of faith and labour of love.

We humbly confess our past lukewarmness in this Thy service, notwithstanding these Thine inestimable benefits and mercies. For our Lord Jesus Christ's sake, forgive us our past negligences, and so endue us with Thy Holy Spirit, that we may more earnestly seek Thy glory in the salvation of souls.

Grant us, we beseech Thee, Thy very present help at these our meetings. We ask, most gracious God and Father, for a constraining sense of the love of the Lord Jesus, and for wisdom to direct us in all our endeavours. Increase upon us the spirit of power and of love and of a sound mind. Give us faith and courage; give us zeal and patience; give us a single eye to Thy glory, and help us to bear and to forbear. The silver and the gold are Thine, O King of kings! Supply us with what is needful for our great work, and make us faithful stewards of Thy bounty, for proclaiming to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ.

We pray also for all who are united with us in the direction of this sacred cause.

May Thine especial blessing rest upon our Committees, with their Secretaries, throughout the world. Bestow on them the help that we feel so needful for ourselves. Enable them to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace, and ever to find favour in the sight of all with whom they may have to do.

Especially we beseech Thee to look, O most merciful Father, upon our Missionary brethren. Draw out our hearts towards them more and more; and while they are bearing the burden abroad, give us grace to help and succour them by our sympathy and prayers at home. Bless every letter written to them from this house, and all our intercourse with them. We pray for them that they may be filled with Thy Spirit. Grant that the same mind may be in them which was also in Christ Jesus. Let them never lose their first love. Raise them above the cares of this world. Help them to deny themselves and to endure all things for the elect's sake. Give them the tongue of the learned. Clothe them with humility. Teach them to follow peace with each other, and with all men. Support them under spiritual distresses, temptations of the adversary, bodily sickness, domestic anxieties, and hope deferred. And so confirm Thy word from their lips by the power of the Holy Ghost, that through them multitudes may be turned from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto Thee, our God.

We commend to Thee the Missionaries' children entrusted to our charge. Bring them all to a true knowledge of, and faith in Thee. Defend them with Thy heavenly grace that they may continue Thine for ever, and daily increase in Thy Holy Spirit more and more, until they come into Thy everlasting kingdom. Give all needed grace to those who have the direction of the Home in the discharge of the arduous work with which Thou hast been pleased to entrust them.

We most heartily thank Thee, O Lord, for those whom Thou hast already sent forth through this Society; and we pray for a yet larger outpouring of a Missionary spirit on our younger Clergy, on the members of our Universities, on those who are elsewhere preparing for this holy work, on the young men of all ranks and orders throughout our land. And herein do we implore Thy special favour on our Islington Institution, that its numbers may be replenished continually; and that none may go forth thence but such as shall be able ministers of the New Testament, full of Faith, and of the Holy Ghost.

We praise Thee, O Thou God of all grace, for the Converts, the Native Catechists, and the Native Clergy, whom Thou hast granted to us in our several Missions. As Thou hast raised the Native Churches thus far, bring them, we pray Thee, to full ripeness and perfectness of age in Christ. Pour out upon them Thy Holy Spirit. Stablish, strengthen, settle them, and so enlarge their liberality, that they may both maintain Thy word among themselves, and may make it known to the regions beyond them, till all the Gentiles hear the glad tidings of Thy love.

And now, O Lord God, be Thou in the midst of us to-day. Give us a constant sense of Thy presence, and may all our undertakings be begun, continued, and ended in Thee, to the honour of Thy great name, for the sake of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

PRAYERS FOR MISSIONS,
SUITABLE TO BE USED AT MISSIONARY MEETINGS AND IN PRIVATE.

I.—From the Book of Common Prayer according to the use of the Church of Ireland.

Almighty God, who by Thy Son Jesus Christ didst give commandment to the apostles that they should go into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature; grant to us whom Thou hast called into Thy Church a ready will to obey Thy Word, and fill us with a hearty desire to make Thy way known upon earth, Thy saving health among all nations. Look with compassion upon the heathen that have not known Thee, and on the multitudes that are scattered as sheep having no shepherd. O heavenly Father, Lord of the harvest, have respect, we beseech Thee, to our prayers, and send forth labourers into Thy harvest. Fit and prepare them by Thy grace for the work of the ministry; give them the spirit of power, and of love, and of a sound mind; strengthen them to endure hardness; and grant that Thy Holy Spirit may prosper their work, and that by their life and doctrine they may set forth Thy glory and set forward the salvation of all men; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

II.—For a Blessing on Missionaries and their Labours.

(By Archbishop Sumner.)

O most merciful Saviour and Redeemer, who wouldest not that any should perish, but that all men should be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth, fulfil Thy gracious promise to be present with those who are gone forth in Thy Name to preach the Gospel of Salvation in distant lands. Be with them in all perils by land or by water, in sickness and distress, in weariness and painfulness, in disappointment and persecution. Bless them, we beseech Thee, with Thy continual favour, and send Thy Holy Spirit to guide them into all truth. O Lord, let Thy ministers be clothed with righteousness, and grant that Thy word spoken by their mouths may never be spoken in vain. Endue them with power from on high, and so prosper Thy work in their hands, that the fulness of the Gentiles may be gathered in, and all Israel be saved.

Hear us, O Lord, for Thy mercy's sake, and grant that all who are saved by Thy Name may be one in Thee, and may abound more and more in prayers and in free-will offerings, for the extension of Thy kingdom throughout the world, to Thy honour and glory, who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

III.—For Missions, and for Grace to help them.

(By Bishop Christopher Wordsworth.)

O Lord Jesu Christ, Saviour of Mankind, who hast commanded Thy disciples to go into all the world and to preach the Gospel to every creature, and who hast declared that this Gospel of the Kingdom shall first be preached to all nations, and that then the end shall come; we humbly beseech Thee to raise up men full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and send them forth to do the work of evangelists by spreading abroad the glad tidings of salvation; and so to fill us with Thy love, and to quicken us with Thy grace, that we may labour joyfully with them by prayers and offerings for their work, so that finally at Thy Second Coming to judge the world, we together with them, and with those who have received the Gospel at their hands, may rejoice in Thy presence with exceeding joy, and may praise Thee for evermore, our holy and most merciful Redeemer, our most worthy Judge Eternal, our most mighty Lord and God, to whom, with the Father and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory now and for ever. Amen.

IV.

(By Bishop Cotton, of Calcutta.)

O God, who hast made of one blood all nations of men to dwell upon the face of the whole earth, and who didst send Thy blessed Son to preach peace to them that are afar off, and to them that are nigh, grant that all the people of heathen and Mohammedan lands may feel after Thee and find Thee; and hasten, O Lord, the fulfilment of Thy promise, to pour out Thy spirit upon all flesh, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE ANNUAL SERMON,

Preached at St. Bride's Church, Fleet Street, on Monday Evening, May 3, 1886,

BY THE

Right Hon. and Most Rev. EDWARD WHITE BENSON, D.D.,

LORD ARCHBISHOP OF CANTERBURY.

"THE THINGS THAT THOU HAST HEARD OF ME AMONG MANY WITNESSES, THE SAME COMMIT THOU TO FAITHFUL MEN, WHO SHALL BE ABLE TO TEACH OTHERS ALSO."—2 Timothy ii. 1.

THIS is the law of Mission duty to Native Christians. But before we speak of it to-night, both the time of our gathering and the circumstances under which we meet claim a few words. Eastertide. The old Baptismal season of the Church of the first days. Now, week after week, in Scripture and in collect, we go on remembering Him who breathed on His saints and said, "Whosesoever sins ye remit, they are remitted unto them," who spoke not only of the flock, but of the other sheep not yet of this fold, whom He "must" bring into the one flock; we go on remembering "all those that are admitted into the fellowship of Christ's religion," and looking to "that Spirit of Truth who shall guide us into all the truth," and "Believing Him also who came from the Father to the world," until at the end of the great forty days we receive the distinct charge "to make disciples and to baptize through all the world." All is conversion, forgiveness, recovery, reconciliation—all, in a word, is Missions; and Chrysostom tells how in his time the Church gave itself in these Easter weeks to the reading and preaching from the Acts of the Apostles. The circumstances also under which we meet give our hearts special reasons for thankfulness that our Mission festivals are falling in the sunlight of the Resurrection. We have lost so many leaders—we should have lost them but for the resurrection, which not only gives us them for ever afterwards, but affirms to us that we never do lose them at all. Not only "shall they live though they die," saith the Master, but "they shall never die." They still "are living unto Him." We must speak a word of them. The strong judgment, the faithful piety, and practical, unwearied devotion of our late President, the passion for humanity, and the almost prophet-like enthusiasm of a Shaftesbury, were powers with which it is good to have been brought face to face in this Society. The learning and the power, the exact thought and the wide charity of a Trench; the beauty of spirit and penetrating influence of a Beresford; the refined, scholarly doctrinal delicacy of a Moberly; the child-like simplicity and manful steadfastness of a Woodford; the pioneering and the founding spirit of an Anderson; the unceasing labour, the unswerving firmness, and that honest comparing of the views of men and of the facts of life which we so valued in a Fraser—these are goodly gifts and names indeed to have passed in one year from the visible to the invisible Holy Place. But the roll is not ended. We have, like the ancient Church, our confessors; faithful unto a death coming not by violence, but with the wearing and the weariness and the pain with which the extremes of climate bring men down—missionaries falling upon the field; among others, Bishop Poole, whose clear insight and large views, set forth so modestly in your great meeting, as well as the devotedness and self-surrender of his whole being, marked him out to enter on the difficulties and the great claims of Japan. Yet again we have those three martyr boys whose tortured patience turned their torturer into a Christian. Above all we have the unquenchable hopefulness and intrepidity of Bishop Hannington, sealed with prison-suffering, and with death. His was one of those bright, brave spirits to which success seems pledged. His was also that purpose which would not count death itself a bar to success. For his was that simple faith which committed both life and death to God, and then looked not back again. It falls now on us to turn the dread check into one of those victories which are doubly consecrated by the chieftain's blood.

The world of to-day is full of such visions. The whole air rings with calls. There is not one heathen land into which the way of Christ is not prepared or fast preparing. "The leprosy of Christianity is spreading," says a bitter heathen tongue. Gates barred for ages grate on their hinges, opening unwillingly for us to enter. We have to put new armies into every field to take possession. And for these we want maintenance, wages, food, raiment. True it is that funds have increased so suddenly and so remarkably as to seem like a most immediate answer to prayer. But it is not less true that the imperious demands increase so suddenly, so fiercely, if I may say so, as to exceed all expectation and all provision.

Resources doubtless will appear if it be God's will that the great advance, which all portends, should now be made. Perhaps it is for this time that there have been kept back the great reserves of all. What has been lately pointed out,* viz. that among the liberalities—and they are not few—of the greatest and the richest classes, that cause which in itself is grandest of all, and has the most active relations to their own future in the world, has had their least support. For in passing we may say that now is the moment in which it is being determined whether the vast democracies which everywhere in the Empire are forming shall be Christian or half heathen—appreciative of the institutions of the mother country, or brought up to view them as selfish and obstructive. And on the answer to that question stability depends for all we honour most. In these days we have a home England, an island England, still. But we have a continental England, an oceanic England.† Our stations, our ports of trade, our factories, our commerce, far more than our arms, have transferred to us nations and kingdoms, and regions waiting to be made into kingdoms and nations—nations hungering for our laws and our religion; regions which are peopling but slowly, if we consider either their vastness or our crowded multitudes. Upon these unequalled inheritances we entered at first (we confess it) with few save selfish and material conceptions. Quietly we are awakening to what it means to have such a proportion of humanity itself subjected to us, and so much more subject to our indirect influences. It is a question of imperial import, even if the solution is best left to individual execution, Are they to be Christian or heathen? and if Christian, how soon? Official reports are now attributing to the labours of missionaries, even in China, the attainment of "a higher intellectual level," improved methods and aims in "commerce," a perception of "a higher tone of morality in the last twenty years," and "greater solicitude among officials for the welfare of the people." ‡ These are no slight elements contributed to "this world's good," out of the scant, stinted resources of the selfless missionary. They are important facts, also, as showing that there is no reason to believe that a trading nation is at a disadvantage (as some have feared) as regards the spreading of its religion. As in colonization, so in evangelization also. The mutual regard, the fairness, the peaceful tendencies, which true merchants promote, all contribute towards the obtaining of a fair hearing, and a solid establishment. Everywhere, indeed, the changes which commerce has carried along with it are surer and more lasting than those of conquest; and that even when conquest claimed, in the first instance, a monopoly of higher inspirations and more chivalrous instincts. We may think of this when some phenomena of the present day seem to grow too oppressive.

In thus speaking we speak truthfully; but in far lower tone than belongs to our high calling. We have spoken only of what our Lord calls "earthly things." The great stair which the Patriarch beheld, as night was falling, has its foot upon the earth in shadow; but it leads to the city of those whom he saw ascending and descending on it—and above it stands the Lord. He is the Christ to whom we and all the nations look—the great High Priest over the House of God—the Victim-Victor, who is abolishing both sin and death. The emigration and the commerce and the civilization are indeed rich with absorbing interests, and the faith that helps them to their best, helps great things. Yet those great interests are but a part of the eternal purpose, the outward part; willing or unwilling, they are themselves rendering service to what is greater than their greatness. They have served that service often willingly, but they have served it also by opposition, nay, even by persecution. Men deem that the word and work of the Crucified and the preaching of the Cross are one small section of the history of this world. We know that to be an inverted view. This world's history from first to last is but one passing scene of Eternal Existence, and of "that eternal purpose which God purposed in His Son." The Power of the Resurrection is assured to us, that this life may be seen by us in its true proportions. Vast as may be the interests and the import of this world's present life, yet its true interpretation, its real value, its saving principles, are worked out as yet only in that everlasting Gospel which we are commissioned to manifest to every creature. As this life, with all its hindrances, shortcomings, backslidings, is moving onward hour by hour to the eternal life, so the world, with all its freight and burden, is tending into that Church of God, and gradually being moulded into that Church of God which is the end of all creation. The history of the Universal Church, as it is forming and shaping itself, is varied, darkened, or shadowed, or lightened by all that concerns the world which God is saving. As the world has its Church problems, so the Church is sure to have its world problems. Some of them have to be solved at once. And some of them are greater than that which most would believe to be the greatest crisis which could happen in our country. It would be a crisis here, indeed, if the temporal position of our Church (which, looked at historically, is our country itself) could be shaken. But crises may have to be faced or averted in other regions of our Church, which would attract less attention, and yet be endlessly more important because the spiritual being of the Church, and not its mere place, would be affected by the solutions. Let me mention one or two examples :—

(1) As Native Churches form, and grow great, and yet our countrymen, in ever-increasing numbers and wealth, continue to live side by side with those Native Christians, there will come—there are signs of it already—strong tendencies to form two Churches, one holding closely by the home formulas, the home ceremonial, the home jurisdictions ; the other equally intelligently holding that the special treatment of the Gospel ideas which our formulas adopt is in part the consequence of our European history and of our insular independence ; that our ceremonials are less expressive than warmer or more sentimental races demand ; that our hold on doctrine is less refined, less penetrating, less sympathetic than our converts find easy and natural to themselves. These differences will strike deep, and they will be the deeper as our converts are more earnest and more spiritual. But they are differences which (like the primitive Pauline or Petrine or Apollonian supposed characteristics) rest on the character and on the point of view of the believer. And of such differences the Doctor of the Gentiles themselves writes that it was impossible they should be recognized in any organic form without assuming that there were two Christs or more, or that different moods needed different Saviours. Let no supposed policy, no ease of compromise which shall save us from sacrifice, lure us to a greater sacrifice than all—the sacrifice of perfect unity with our convert nations. Now for the first time is coming on the real searching trial of our "elasticity." The elasticity which we talk of at home is trivial in comparison. And we must remember that elasticity implies the absolute preservation of all that is essential to a substance. The growth, then, of great Churches in the greater England will involve the recognition that not every syllable of our formulas which is essential as against those who on our own ground contend with us, is equally essential to the Catholic Faith at large. That not every word of our dearest liturgies can be as full of meaning to those who have not lived our theological life as it is to us. That for their liturgies of the future they may yet again fall back upon the primæval quarries out of which our own were hewn, but which contain magnificent stores that we never could appropriate as Easterns can. As to the officers of the Church, we already see that the fourth chapter of the Epistle to the Ephesians, with the wide range of ministries or "orders" that it recognizes, some of them seemingly direct from Christ, without even apostolic intervention, gives a list that is more likely to work on those wide shores and wildernesses, than the simple triad of orders which suffices (though perhaps not quite suffices) for our settled compactness. Evangelists, readers, sub-deacons, catechists, have already been revived by pure necessity, and the "Liberty of Prophesying," by which the home sects have propagated themselves, will be absolutely conceded there to laymen accepted by the Church, whether with the individual responsibilities of the early Christian "prophet" so called, or with the corporate responsibilities of "preaching orders," or with both side by side. Only under a total misapprehension of the conditions of the problem, of the enormous multitudes, of the extreme diversities of customs, of the vast number of languages and races, can the idea be entertained that our own limited ministries will suffice to spread living Christianity even in India alone. Conversion will not remain a function of the clergy only. The converts must convert. They must be trained to make that first use of their conversion—orderly and yet enthusiastically. These are some kinds of elasticity which must be active in many countries if the Church is to win the world to Christ.

(2) But, again, there are other suggested elasticities which the Church of the modern Mission will be more and more tempted to consider and presently to experiment upon. When we find ourselves among remote and darkling populations, working side by side with zealous Christian men devotedly preaching Christ in eager organizations not our own, the old sectarian animosities seem discreditable to all sides, and partly unaccountable as the old arena fades in the distance; the occasions which excited them pass into old-world narratives; the old definitions seem less worth contending for in detail. Somewhat of that process sets in which I have touched upon as inevitable and necessary when we communicate truth without controversies to new races of thinkers.

Amalgamation with other Christian bodies is sure to be projected in those distant scenes sooner or later. And there is nothing on which Christian hope would more fondly fasten for the Church's future. But dares any one to think of a near future in this connection? There is common ground indeed. But has any one been able to point out a common ground large enough for any one body to be willing to accept as a whole sufficient ground for themselves to build their Churches on? Even if anywhere it is agreed to take to such common ground as can be found, and make it the basis of religious teaching for children, it is with the reservation that each body has its own teachings to add to them. But if Churches were to be amalgamated, such reservations would not be possible. Others may look with indifference at the body of spiritual doctrine which we inherit from the very earliest days, and which breathes to us the true inner spirit of the Scripture; they may look with indifference on the historic continuity which binds us in one undying communion; they may not see the value of those things, but we do. And we should be making a grievous mistake, which would have to be recovered from with much distress, if we led any religious thinkers to believe that anywhere, under any circumstances, we could surrender or impair any portion of that inheritance, simply on the ground that there are still more central, or more "saving" truths. We know very well that we should be sacrificing the reality of unity to a deceptive form of it. No section of devout thinkers within our own Church has recognized more clearly than the great Evangelical leaders that there are distinct lines which it would be no charity, but the opposite of charity, to overpass. Let elasticity exert its wonderful energies to the utmost. It is an internal property of a complete organic structure. There is much within our outlines that might be far more elastic. But elasticity is not the destruction of outlines; it is the very law by which they are preserved. Elasticity is the very opposite of adhesiveness. From the moment that we were to enter into compacts with external teaching bodies we should be a prey to discussions, jealousies, critical reinspections, which would swallow up edification. From that moment there would be an end of growth and of expansion for ourselves, and of freedom for the Native Churches of our Missions. All would be rigid when once the terms were settled. All would be by the bond. For the very love of charity let us distinguish between false hopes and true ones—between flexibility and formlessness. If we are but faithful to our "great deposit," neither suffering our Church to be divided, nor seeking for it premature alliances with those towards whom we yearn, who knows but that in the Native Churches themselves, never from the first entangled in our controversies, there may be found at last the very bond of the great reunion to come?

(3) There are other dangers to the Native Churches which we can perhaps help them to avoid. Those who have followed the action of both the American and the English Bishops in Japan, will have perceived with what skilful love they have kept their Mission purely religious, and roused in the native students a spiritual zeal for the conversion of their countrymen. But the speeches of enlightened sceptics among the ruling classes of that same Japan show how fast and how easily perhaps Christianity might come to be accepted as a merely civilizing and political advance; and how fatal that would be to spirituality. A warning of a different kind of danger is the pleasure which some were half disposed to feel in what we heard first of the Bramo-Somaj, as of a philosophic eclectic spontaneous choice of so much Christianity that more of its truth must ere long be desired and attained. And now already we hear that Christ has been deposed to a side place among the heroes of a new Pantheon. A Gospel embraced merely for its attractiveness, without discipline, and without sacrifice, wearing an intellectual crown, and not bearing the Cross, is no Gospel for humanity. Discipline of the most real kind is essential to the formation of new Churches. This is not the place to discuss what is the reason or significance of the modern absence of discipline from among ourselves. But among nearly all uncivilized tribes there are questions of discipline impending, such, for instance, as touch the marriages of polygamists, and so bear on the tenure of property, the descent of authority, and other grave questions. And then the stormy temperaments, or the marrowless yieldingness to pressure, or the inability to distinguish good from evil when under the spell of some impulse to us almost unintelligible, would leave new Churches, which had no discipline as to Holy Communion and congregational privileges, to welter like waterlogged hulks.

(4) And all this being so, how great is the temptation to save trouble and time by governing from home—or to impose from home rules so precise that a native council would be a mere registering body? But, while a great general from his office in the capital has before now, with his perfect maps and perfect information, directed a campaign, and even ruled a decisive battle, this is not possible when the campaign and the warfare are against fluctuating passions and ceaselessly varying grades of opinion, of feeling, or of party. Ruling must be real rule there. Yet it must itself be ruled and checked by perceptions scarcely possible except to those who can watch almost the faces of parties, and by a sympathy vibrating to all that is struggling after righteousness, however darkly; yet it must be animated by a decision that will not shrink from painful tasks. Such perceptions, sympathy, decision, are hardly possible to be produced in due proportion from another hemisphere. So long as that which is so difficult nevertheless remains necessary, it is cheering indeed to the lovers of this Society to find the despatches of its Committee described by an impartial witness as "temperate and conciliatory," dictated by "no love of dominion over the Faith," though "suited to advise the inexperience of the young Native Churches." May it be ever so. And if it be objected that mistakes have been made in our past, is not all Church history almost a chronicle of mistakes and of recoveries? and can any one say that the lessons of the past are not now being evidently read to some purpose? Bishop Butler, in the Analogy,* describes the foundation of the Church of Christ as intended "to be to mankind a standing memorial of religion, and invitation to it . . . over which He exercises an invisible government, by Himself and by His Spirit; over that part of it which is militant here, a government of discipline;" and I know not where I have seen a statement of the final aim of Missions, their activity and their self-effacement, more clear, or broad, or more fitted to the building up of such a Church, than that which opens our Manual on the Organization of Native Churches. "The object of Missions is," it says, "the development of Native Churches, with a view to their ultimate settlement upon a self-supporting, self-governing, and self-extending system. When this has been effected, the Mission will have attained its euthanasia. All missionary agency can then be transferred to the regions beyond." This willingness to labour and then to pass on, that other men may enter into his labours, is the glory of the true missionary. And with a true sagacity the Society points out to its own missionaries that it is in the power of any one of them who lacks that spirit to throw back its great work for a generation. Whilst every convert should be made to understand that his first duty to Christ must be to make Christ known (though the gifted ones only should be trained for the special office of teachers), still "the besetting temptation of every zealous missionary is to violate that simple principle, by becoming the chief [or almost the sole] teacher, and so overshadowing the mutual instruction." Even in our parishes, where the settled pastor of to-day really represents the ancient missionary, how such pastor multiplies his own force when he takes care to be the careful teacher of teachers and workers, instead of being afraid of allowing any one to stand between him and any single piece of work. The whole work, if it were to be really done, never could be compassed by one man in its range and in its detail, and he keeps willing workers all the day idle by vainly attempting it. The case is infinitely stronger in actual Mission work, while the missionary stage is still existent. That "besetting temptation" causes the mere paralysis of the zeal of the converts—a congenital, incurable paralysis.

What vast subjects have we left quite untouched—education, the nest of the world's religion; woman's work and teaching, which is blessedly revolutionizing vast societies, not from the street or the market, but from the inner retirement of the home! Other principles as great, or greater, than those which we have just earnestly glanced at, have to be passed in silence. How magnificent are the interests even for this world which are swayed by you and your Society, giving, thinking, labouring, worshipping here in the heart of things, "continuing steadfast in the Apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in the breaking of the bread, and the prayers"! If England is now no more merely an island-citadel of the temperate seas, but is what that mightiest Exhibition itself will but indicate in symbol and in specimen—if the real wor ld-wide England is just awakening to a new cycle of life, young, and with its world before it, then what—aye what—is the Church of England which will not only grapple, as men might, with the selfsame continents and races, to work them good, but has also ever towering before her eyes, ever ready to answer to her knocking at its gates, "the powers of the world to come"? Henry Martyn, as he swept along the mighty rivers, saw in vision their wooded banks and swelling hills studded with Christian towers and spires. "That vision is yet for an appointed time. But it will come and will not tarry." Not his Ganges only, but all the glorious empty land will in its appointed time stand thick with the signs of Faith. It is not ours to raise them. We should work no deliverance if we could build them up everywhere in a moment. They must be the memorials of the new Faith of that very soil. But ours it is to prepare, to touch, to instruct the great popular hearts which are rich already with the promise, nay, which glow with the dayspring of a Christian era. The eighteen centuries which we have in faith real called by that name are but a miniature, a rehearsal, a prelude.

And if you ask, Who is sufficient for these things? Who can exert the universal influence? Who can raise and mobilize the armies that would be needed to cope with the infinite spiritual conquest? Who can even pay their mere soldierly wage? The answer is you, yourselves, you and yours, you only. In the empire of China, besides vast revenues which maintain its three great religions, sums are mentioned as spent upon the worship of ancestors which seem incredible. I dare not quote them, but it is certain that the whole amount which our own empire raises in response to constant urgency is very small in comparison.*

But it seems that in that great people, of whom common sense and special ideals are equally characteristic, it is very usual to devote a fifth, a quarter, and even more, of private incomes, both large and small, to the honour of their gods. And so it comes to pass also that long before more than a few of us have learnt the secret of their liberality, the Native Christians also of China, and no less of India and Japan, are offering of their substance to Christ according to their old proportions. The secret is this: One of our clergy asked his heathen host how he managed his affairs so as to give such sums to the service of his religion, and he answered by telling him that the god whom he and his ancient family had chosen for themselves to invoke was called "the great bright god of self-restraint." All that they could spare as individuals and as a family went into the alms-chest of the "great bright god of self-restraint." The fifth part of their incomes went by that channel, and "yet," said he, "we are living in comfort, peace, and happiness." So it was that the "great bright god of self-restraint" became the banker and the paymaster for every high and noble purpose which a heathen man knew of.

Is it not a parable, and something much closer than a parable? In days when (as Dr. Westcott writes) "ease and selfish pleasure are" regarded as "the obvious ends of exertion," and "luxury is an object of open competition,"† the very thought of Missions seems as if it could correct all this. Vast the work, beyond speech or clear thought; infinite the reward. In its very beginnings we have something to learn from the scholars we begin upon, if it were no more than this—that the River of the world-wide, time-wide Church, yea, all the rivers of the floods thereof, have all to trickle up and well out, drop by drop, from the springs of the homes of England. Every gift hallowed by a prayer—rivers of gifts, rivers of prayers—so shall wisdom flow along with both gifts and prayers. And so with sound and even growth shall the nations grow into Churches even as we have grown ourselves—inseparable.

THE following system for spelling NATIVE NAMES is recommended to the Society's Missionaries generally for adoption in their letters and reports, unless any of them should prefer a still closer approximation to the more elaborate scheme of Professor Lepsius. This system should not be applied, of course, to those well-known places of which the spelling has become so fixed that it would be mere pedantry to disturb it; as, for instance, Travancore (Travankur), and Lucknow (Laknau). Other well-known names, spelt correctly according to this method, are not pronounced accordingly by English residents. For example, the a in Lagos is always pronounced by English residents, when speaking English, as in the word make.

â usually as in '*f*ather' (in North-Indian words as in '*a*ll').
e as in '*p*en.'
ê as in '*f*ête.'
i as in '*th*in.'
î as in '*p*ique.'
o as in '*n*ot,' or as in the French '*b*onne.'
ô as in '*n*ote.'
u as in '*f*ull.'
û as in '*tr*uly.'
ai as i in '*th*ine.'
au or ou or ow as in '*b*ough.'

It needs only to be noticed further that—

y always sounds as in '*y*ou.'
g " as in '*g*o.'
j " as in '*j*oin.'
gn as in 'poi*gn*ant.'
ng as in 'thi*ng*.'
ei as in 'v*ei*n.'

h has always a separate sound, except in ch as in '*ch*urch,' and sh as in she;' th and dh should, therefore, not be used in South Indian names to express the dental t and d.

c whether for k or s, being superfluous, is not used.

Doubled letters should each be pronounced distinctly, as in Italian.

ae represents a sound intermediate between a in 'm*a*t' and e in 'm*e*t.'

The above Rules are not adopted in the N.W. America Mission.

REPORT,

&c., &c.

GENERAL REVIEW OF THE YEAR.

(READ IN EXETER HALL.)

"Then saith He unto Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold My hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into My side; and be not faithless, but believing."—St. John xx. 27 (Second Lesson for Sunday, May 2).

An unusually late Easter has brought the Society's Anniversary close to the Sunday corresponding with that memorable evening when the Risen Saviour appeared the second time to His assembled disciples, and spoke these words to Thomas. Not unsuitably, therefore, may they be taken as the motto for this year's Annual Report. "Be not faithless, but believing"—why? Because of the Atoning Death witnessed to by those wound-prints; and because He who had died now lived, and was alive for evermore. And the ground of the Church Missionary Society's faith must be the same. The Society exists to tell of that Crucified and Risen Lord; and its only hope of success is that He was the Propitiation, "not for our sins only, but also for the sins of the whole world," and that He is the Resurrection and the Life to all that believe, of every kindred and nation and people and tongue.

"Be not faithless, but believing." The Society has its trials of faith, of one kind or another, every year; and the past year has been no exception. To see important Missions undermanned, posts of conspicuous influence vacant; to find income inadequate while work is expanding; to lose in rapid succession wise counsellors, trusted friends, ardent fellow-labourers;—these are real trials of faith. And yet never was there a year of more abundant encouragement both at home and abroad.

Losses by Death.

Beginning with the removal of friends and fellow-workers, the Committee have first to mention, with a deep sense of loss, but with a thankfulness that excludes sorrow, the late honoured and revered President of the Society, the Earl of Chichester. For fifty-one years he presided over its counsels; fifty times he was present at the Anniversary in this Hall; forty-seven times he occupied the chair; and from first to last he was the same sagacious adviser, the same devoted friend, the same man of prayer. His memory has already been honoured to-day, and more need not now be said. Let God have the praise for His grace bestowed upon His servant.

The list of Vice-Presidents has lost the honoured name of the Earl of Shaftesbury, who combined with his undisputed leadership of Home Mission enterprise a wide knowledge of the Foreign Mission field, and deep interest in the work of this Society; and also those of two primates of the Church of Ireland, Archbishops Beresford and Trench; of the Bishop of Salisbury (Dr. Moberly), the Bishop of Manchester (Dr. Fraser), and the Bishop of Ely (Dr. Woodford); of Bishop Anderson, the devoted pioneer of the Church of England among what were in his day the wild wastes of Rupert's Land; of two brave and much lamented soldiers of the Cross and missionaries of this Society, Arthur Poole, first English Bishop in Japan, and James Hannington, first English Bishop for Eastern Equatorial Africa; of Lord Teignmouth and the Rev. Lord Wriothesley Russell, both life-long friends; of Dean Howson, of Chester; of the Rev. Sir George L. Glyn, Bart.; of Dr. Corrie, Master of Jesus College, Cambridge, and brother of Daniel Corrie; and of the Society's faithful, munificent, and highly-valued friend, Joseph Hoare.

Of Hon. Life Governors, the Society has lost Colonel R. M. Hughes, Colonel W. J. Martin, General Reynell Taylor; the Rev. A. W. W. Steel, of Cambridge; the Rev. J. C. Raw, of Ainderby Steeple; and the Rev. W. Hockin, of Exeter; all of whom had indeed "rendered very essential services." Of other old and tried friends, Canon Babington, Canon Lee-Warner, the Rev. T. R. Govett, and Mr. Charles Pelly. Of old missionaries, Henry Townsend, the founder and leader for many years of the Yoruba Mission; Thomas McClatchie, one of the first two missionaries of the Society and of the Church of England in China; Robert Bren, formerly of Ceylon, and for many years at the head of the Preparatory Institution for missionary candidates at Reading; and Mrs. Keene, formerly of Amritsar. Of missionaries in the field (besides Bishop Hannington), C. Mountfort, of Western India; V. C. Sim, of the Tukudh Mission; S. G. Burr, a missionary assistant in East Africa; Mrs. Reuther, Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Tisdall, and Mrs. Durrant, all of India.

This is in some respects a list quite unprecedented. But, so far as the honorary offices are concerned, there is no difficulty in filling the vacant places. The new President has already been introduced to the Meeting, and the Committee will only express the unfeigned pleasure it has given them to request their honoured and esteemed Treasurer, Captain the Hon. Francis Maude, R.N., to accept the post for a time, even at an age greater than that of the late President when he died, greater even by a few months than that of the Society itself. The following have accepted the office of Vice-President:—The Bishops of Salisbury, Meath, and Jamaica; Bishop E. Bickersteth of Japan, the son and grandson of honoured men in the history of the Society; Archdeacons Perowne and Richardson; Professor Sir M. Monier-Williams; Sir R. N. Fowler, Bart., M.P.; Mr. Miles McInnes, M.P.; Mr. Samuel Hoare, M.P.; Mr. T. Fowell Buxton, of Easneye; Mr. Sydney Gedge, for twenty-six years a member of the Committee; and Mr. Robert Williams, sen., one of the Society's bankers. The new President and Vice-Presidents.

The list of Honorary Governors for Life has ten vacancies, six by death (as above-mentioned), and four by transfers to the list of Vice-Presidents. The Committee have nominated the following:—The Rev. Canon Jackson, of Leeds; the Rev. Canon Patteson, of Norwich; the Rev. Canon Brooke, of Bath; the Rev. C. Overton, of Cottingham; the Rev. W. E. Light, late of Dover; the Rev. H. C. G. Moule, Principal of Ridley Hall, Cambridge; Mr. R. N. Cust and Mr. Henry Morris, members of the Committee; Mr. Joseph Rice, Treasurer of the Manchester Association; and Mr. Frank Sellwood, of Cullompton.

Old missionaries cannot be replaced in this way; but the Committee thank God for many young aspirants for missionary service. The number of inquiries during the year has been quite unprecedented,—more than sixty since the February Meetings; but the large majority of these were from men either too young to be considered at present, or from other points of view unprepared for the work. The number of definite offers definitely considered in the year has been 61, and of these, 26 were accepted. These 26 included four clergymen: three of them graduates of Cambridge; one graduate (not yet ordained) of Dublin, and one medical graduate of London; the last-named being the second of two sons of the Society's old friend, Mr. Alfred Sutton, of Reading, accepted within three months of each other (his brother was in last year's list). Also, an expe- Missionary Candidates.

rienced missionary from India who had joined the Church of England; two schoolmasters; and four ladies. The remaining thirteen were accepted for training.

The Universities of Cambridge and Dublin are manifesting much missionary spirit. The latter is proposing to support a Mission in connection with the Society. From the former, a letter has been received signed by no less than thirty graduates and undergraduates, expressing their readiness to obey any clear and definite call from God for missionary service. The Committee fully hope within the next two or three years to be permitted to send forth many of these ardent servants of the Lord.

But the present need of men of some ministerial experience for important posts in India and Africa is as urgent as ever.

Funds. Turning to the financial position, the Committee have an account to present which calls both for gratitude to God and for vigorous effort. Very many friends who have had at their local meetings to report diminished receipts, owing to agricultural or commercial depression, will be, or ought to be, surprised as well as thankful to find the total Ordinary Income not only higher than that of last year, but actually higher than ever before. The amount is 201,237*l.* 12*s.* 11*d.*, or 3025*l.* more than last year, and 835*l.* more than the largest Ordinary Income yet reported. The Extension Fund and other Special Funds have received, in addition, 30,982*l.* The Association returns are larger than last year by 1100*l.*, but this is accounted for by legacies paid to them instead of to the head office; and several of the more important Associations are lower, both in urban and rural districts, though there are some bright exceptions.

But large as the Income has been, it is quite inadequate to the Society's needs. The Ordinary Expenditure has been 211,992*l.*, which, after allowing for the portion chargeable to the Extension Fund, leaves a deficit on the year of 7370*l.*, and the Society is now face to face with Estimates for the current year exceeding by 11,000*l.* the Income of the past year, and with only 3000*l.* left in the Contingency Fund to meet any deficiency.

Members of the Society will now press upon the Committee the Master's words just quoted and say, "Be not faithless, but believing." But the Committee must rejoin, "That motto is also for you, the clergy and laity generally. You must believe that the parish which puts the missionary cause foremost will not suffer for doing so; you must believe that the Lord will honour those who think more of His last great command than of even necessary and desirable local objects; you must believe that the way to deal with diminished rents and dividends and trade profits is not to lessen your gifts to the Lord's treasury, but to increase them; you must believe that 'there is that scattereth and yet increaseth,' that 'there is that withholdeth more than is meet, and it tendeth to poverty.'" "Be not faithless, but believing!"

The Society's never-failing friend, the Rector of Halesworth, whose generous gifts have in former years so often started fresh efforts to maintain its work, wrote on hearing of the position,— "Hoping by mutual sympathy of co-operation to attract more efficient aid from numerous true helpers in all ranks and classes of our community, I devote 2000*l.*, spread over four years. . . . The bases of property, public and private, are shaken. What might now be given with a free hand may a few years hence obtain an equivalent only by severe economy and self-denial. . . . Few of us who stay at home have touched the line of sacrifice yet. We cannot too early begin to learn the lesson, that we may be prepared for the day of more acute trial when it shall come. . . .

"Your unworthy fellow-servant,

"April 5, 1886. "V. J. STANTON."

Other friends, also, who heard of the heavy deficit on the year, have in the last three weeks come forward with generous special gifts amounting to 6500*l.*

The Committee were unwilling to put forth a Special Appeal before to-day, preferring to lay the case before their assembled friends, and ask rather for a combined and resolute effort, in the name of the Lord, to raise the regular income of the Society, not merely to the level of present expenditure, which is an expenditure cut down in some Missions to a degree incompatible with efficient work, but to the "Half as Much Again" called for by the present Bishop of Exeter four years ago.

The Committee would also remind their friends that although it pleased God to bless the scheme put forth two years ago, also by the Bishop of Exeter, whereby no less than 19,000*l.* has been specially given to build the New Wing of the Church Missionary House and to pay off the old mortgage debt on the House itself, yet 8500*l.* is still needed to complete this effort. Also, that free-will offerings are asked from those whose hearts God may touch with sympathy for the missionaries who have to leave their children to the Society's charge, to provide funds for the new Children's Home. The new buildings are now rising at Limpsfield in Surrey, once the parish of that revered man of God, Haldane Stewart, and the memorial stone was laid by Mrs. Wigram on April 14 in the presence of a large gathering of friends.

The Mission Field.

Year by year the impossibility of reporting on the Society's Missions themselves at the Annual Meeting becomes more and more evident. With a work constantly growing, the time allowed for reading this Report has gradually been reduced to one-half what was allotted to it a few years ago. The Committee can now only notice in a few brief sentences the most conspicuous aspects of the year's work.

Surveying the field in the light of the multitude of letters and reports received from all parts of the world, the eye falls upon the following features of special interest:—

1. We see flourishing Native Churches rejoicing in the progress granted them. Tinnevelly celebrates its beloved Bishop Sargent's Jubilee, and contrasts the 8000 Christians in 224 villages, and the one Native clergyman, of 1835, with the 56,000 Christians in 1000 villages, and the 68 Native clergymen, of 1885.

2. We see Native Churches also planning their own Missions and sending forth their own missionaries. Fuh-Chow, for example, encouraged by the sympathy and support of both Native and foreign merchants, sends lay evangelists to Corea.

3. We see Native Christian lay-workers imbued with the true missionary spirit. An ex-Mussulman at Amritsar writes, "I have worked more this year because I have trusted more in Christ." A young schoolmaster gives up his situation to join the Mission, and lives on his scanty savings, and then writes, "I cannot express my joy." Chinese divinity students astonish Mr. Hoare by their power in open-air preaching and their meekness under sore provocation. Nishkah Indians, on the Nass River in British Columbia, hold open-air services for their heathen brethren when away at their fishing; and one of them says, "We have not much knowledge; we cannot show a great light; but if we can only strike a match in the darkness it may show the path to one of the lost."

4. We see the labours of Native clergymen honoured of God; one of them, the Rev. Ruttonji Nowroji of Aurangabad, baptizing 255 adults, the largest number in the year at any one station.

5. We see Native clergymen honoured also by the Church —Bishop Speechly making the Rev. Koshi Koshi the first Native Archdeacon in India; and by the Universities—Cambridge conferring an honorary M.A. on Archdeacon Johnson of the Niger.

6. We see 252 Native clergymen at work, and we remember that they are but the survivors of a total roll of 349.

7. We see converts witnessing for Christ: school-boys and young men in India among opposing relatives, and before the magistrates; boys in U-Ganda even in the agonies of death by fire.

8. We see the great Enemy everywhere active among the Native Churches: drawing back into heathenism, as at Bezwáda, poor villagers, who, for lack of adequate help, get no teaching; ensnaring African Christians in the sins of the flesh, and Indian Christians in the toils of caste prejudice, and Palestine Christians in quarrels and party spirit.

9. We see also, with sorrow, the priests of Rome, who profess the name of Chrst, seeking to entice away weak Christians in Bengal, and in Tinnevelly, and in U-Ganda, and on the Niger, and in far-off Athabasca.

10. We see, on the other hand, earnest efforts put forth to quicken and revive dead and sleeping hereditary Native Christians, by means of services akin to the parochial missions so well known at home. Especially in West Africa, to be noticed presently.

11. We see abundant fruit granted to the Society's direct missionary labours in the Heathen and Mohammedan World: baptisms of adult converts which are of special interest—the firstfruits at Mpwapwa and Uyui, the first-fruits from among the Aino aborigines of Japan, the first convert from Mohammedanism in Egypt, the second convert from among the Gònds of Central India, a fakir and poet in Bengal, five lepers in a Leper Asylum; a leading Hydah chief in Queen Charlotte's Island, 70 years of age; and nearly 100 persons from a hitherto untouched community of despised and out-caste Punjab villagers.

12. We see the influence of the Gospel over many who remainunbaptized; such as a Hindu gentleman at Burdwan, who openly avows himself a believer in Christ, and holds a service every Sunday in his own house for those like-minded, using the English Prayer-Book.

13. We see the alarm of the still untouched heathen and Mohammedan antagonists: one, for example, lamenting that "the leprosy of Christianity is spreading fast everywhere."

14. We see fresh examples of the kindly feeling of high British officials towards the growing Native Churches; for example, at the dedication of a new Native church at Simla, the Viceroy himself and Lady Dufferin receiving the Communion with the Native Christians.

15. We see great work being done by the ladies of the Zenana Societies: in Krishnagar and in Cochin particularly, where the principal C.M.S. converts of the year have been directly influenced by their labours.

16. We see the progress of translational work: the first issue of a consecutive portion of Scripture (Matt. i.—vii.) in the language of U-Ganda, printed on the spot; the first printed page in the Aino language; the first translations in the Blackfoot, the Nishkah, and the Hydah tongues; extensive work in Santáli, Kashmiri, Pushtu, Telugu, Japanese, and many languages and dialects of East and West Africa.

17. We see the beneficent influence and attracting power of Medical Missions in Kashmir, on the Afghan Frontier, at Amritsar, and at Fuh-Ning and Hang-chow in China.

18. We see Missions crippled for lack of labourers: Yoruba, Western India, and the Telugu Mission, very especially: the hearts of the missionaries sad, and promising work waiting to be done.

19. We see, on the other hand, young recruits entering on their work: the late curate of Lowestoft at the foot of Mount Kilima Njaro; the late curate of All Saints', Hereford, in Palestine; the late curate of Fisherton at Bombay; the late curate of St. James', Holloway, in Tinnevelly; the late Vice-Principal of Ridley Hall at Calcutta; another Cambridge graduate at Batála; yet another Cambridge graduate in Central Africa; young medical men at outposts in Mohammedan lands; members of the C.M.S. Lay Workers' Union for London in the Seychelles Islands and among the Blackfeet of Saskatchewan; a member of the Liverpool Y.M.C.A. on the Niger; English ladies in West and East Africa; all these besides the men trained by the Society at Islington.

20. And, lastly, we see new names on the roll of missionary martyrs: the beloved Bishop cruelly put to death by the boy-king of U-Ganda, and the young missionary, V. C. Sim, dying of bodily privations within the Arctic Circle.

Four matters call for more particular notice.

Special Topics: U-Ganda.

(1) U-Ganda. Just ten years have now elapsed since the first party of eight sailed to begin this Mission. Of those eight, four died in Africa; two (artisans) retired; one (Mr. Wilson) is in Palestine; one only of the original party (Mr. Mackay) is still at his post, and the Committee thank God for the work that young Scotch layman has been permitted to do. Trials and difficulties of every kind have beset the Mission from the first; yet the Mission is there. That alone is a cause of thankfulness; and how much more the thousands of text and prayer leaflets distributed over the land; the hundreds who have learned to read them; the numerous converts, some indeed illustrating the frailty of human nature, but many showing remarkable faithfulness and zeal; the requests for baptism even in November last, when friendship with the missionaries involved peril of life! The Committee deeply deplore the cruel death of their beloved friend, Bishop Hannington, just when, having safely passed through all the perils of the dreaded Masai country, he had arrived, apparently unconscious of the new danger, on the borders of the land where he looked for a cordial reception; and they fully recognize the fresh peril involved in the young king concluding that he can kill an Englishman with impunity. But so long as brave men are ready to go forward into the danger, and so long as the door is open to them, so long is the Society bound to remember the converts God has given it, and to maintain its position in U-Ganda. If however the Mission should be driven out, it will leave behind it the living word of God, and men and women who know and love that word; and it may be that U-Ganda is to be a second Madagascar.

Metlakahtla.

(2) Metlakahtla. No solution has yet appeared to the difficulties at this station, although Mr. Duncan has been in England, and the Committee have been in communication with him. But the faithful minority of Christian Indians at Metlakahtla cannot be deserted; nor can the noble work of Bishop and Mrs. Ridley in giving the people for the first time portions of the word of God in their own tongue be disowned. A deputation, therefore,—General Touch, a much esteemed member of the Committee, and the Rev. W. R. Blackett, an experienced missionary,—have been sent out to report upon the whole position; and the Committee await the result in full confidence that the Lord will guide them to right decisions.

(3) The Special Mission in West Africa. The Mission of the Rev. S. W. Darwin Fox and the Rev. F. W. Dodd to the Native congregations of Sierra Leone and Lagos was not arranged by the Society, but by the Bishop of Sierra Leone and the Native Church. But the Committee must express their deep thankfulness for the blessings vouchsafed to this effort; and they feel that it suggests to them a work of the highest importance which the Society should be prepared to foster. The Society's own particular sphere is the unevangelized world, and its first duty to proclaim Christ to the Heathen and the Mohammedan; but, while throwing the Native Churches to the utmost upon their own resources for maintenance and administration, it cannot cease to care for their spiritual interests. Forty thousand Native communicants ought to mean forty thousand missionaries to the surrounding heathen; and if spiritual life in them were lifted up to the level of whole-hearted consecration, an immense impetus would be given to direct missionary work. The Committee trust that the Mission of Mr. Fox and Mr. Dodd may be the forerunner of many similar Missions for other parts of the world.

New Enterprises.

(4) The New Missions announced last year. Four fields for Extension were mentioned in the last Report, Chagga, Quetta, Aden, and the Soudan. Through God's good blessing, in three of these fields a first step has been taken towards their occupation; and only one of the three at the expense of the General Fund. Two missionaries, Mr. Fitch and Mr. Wray, are in Chagga; a medical missionary, Dr. S. W. Sutton, is probably by this time at Quetta, accompanied temporarily by Mr. Shirt of Sindh; another medical man, Dr. Harpur, is at Aden. To the Soudan, for which the Gordon Memorial Fund has provided 2714*l.*, the Committee regret that no way is yet open.

Turning once more to Home Work and Prospects, the Committee find abundant cause for praise for the past and hope for the future. The year's progress in certain directions is astonishing.

Encouragements at Home.

(a) When the Committee last year reported the opening of the New Wing of the Church Missionary House, they little thought to what varied uses that New Wing was going immediately to be put. Not only is the Thursday Prayer Meeting increasingly valued, and proving an agency for drawing new friends into the inner circle of active C.M.S. interest; but besides those gatherings, the large new Committee room has been crowded with sympathizing fellow-workers and earnest students of Missions nearly fifty times in the past year. The House is seen to be not only a business office, but also, more and more, a centre of prayer, study, and work for the Lord.

(b) This is mainly due to the meetings of the three London C.M.S. Unions,—the Lay Workers, with 300 members, the Ladies, with 600, and the Junior Clergy, with 200,—the two latter being new organizations in the past year. Besides which, the London Banks' Prayer Union, the Medical Prayer Union, the Civil Service Prayer Union, and three different companies of Sunday-school teachers have assembled in large numbers under the Society's roof to hear accounts of its Missions.

(c) Increased Prayer is not confined to London. The various County and other Local Unions are giving it a more prominent place in their arrangements. The C.M.S. Cycle of Prayer, long confined to a few friends of the Islington College, is in its new form being widely adopted. The happy return of the Day of Intercession to St. Andrew's Day has been generally welcomed, and the Committee earnestly hope that the invitation of the Archbishops and Bishops may year by year be more heartily responded to by the whole Church.

(d) Above all, the Committee rejoice and praise God for the February Simultaneous Meetings. They are well aware that some of their friends were able to report gatherings only ordinary, both in numbers and in interest; but in many towns the campaign unquestionably evoked genuine enthusiasm; in many more, the cause of Foreign Missions was lifted to a higher level of solemn personal obligation, not to be met by mere money gifts; while the bare fact that eight hundred meetings were held in one week, and that two hundred clergymen and laymen went forth as special deputations, has impressed the whole Christian world, as the missionary periodicals of many countries and Churches testify. The results will appear in due time, but already fresh organization has been started in some places, notably at Manchester. The Committee are considering whether the sacred influences now commonly alluded to by the letters "F.S.M." cannot be perpetuated by some world-wide Union for prayer and work, which shall combine in common fellowship all friends and workers without interfering with existing Unions and Associations.

Conclusion.

The Committee are sure that a Report like this will send many of their friends to the Throne of Grace in humble and hearty thanksgiving as well as in fervent intercession. One cloud there is in the brightness of the outlook, the cloud of straitened resources, possible heavy deficiency, and then the sorrowful task of retrenchment. The Committee trust that the cloud will not break—except (through its stirring many to fresh effort) in blessings on the Society's head. But why is the shadow of such a cloud permitted? Is it designed of God to try the faith of His servants? The Committee again call upon the clergy, and upon all the home workers, secretaries, treasurers, collectors, to believe that the Lord can enable them, even in times like these, to make the missionary contributions "half as much again" throughout the land. But they must take high ground. It is not for "the Society" merely, nor for "the Church," but for the Society's Lord and the Church's Lord, that they must plead; and not for mere pecuniary aid, but for interest, sympathy, fellowship, in the first and grandest of Christian enterprises. When great national interests are at stake, the mere expression of patriotic feeling is a mighty moral force. Let the stream of Christian public opinion begin to flow in favour of Foreign Missions as the highest duty of the Church, and there will be no difficulty about money. If, as Englishmen, we unite for what may seem to us the rightful cause politically; if, as Churchmen, we combine in defence of the Church, Reformed and National, against foes within or without; much more, as servants of the Lord, should we be banded together for the far higher cause of winning back a rebel world to allegiance to its King and Saviour.

Fifty-one years ago, in his first speech as President, the late Earl of Chichester said,—"A great deal is heard at the present day of the danger to which the Church of England is exposed from its political and outward foes. If the Church of England is indeed found zealously engaged in the work of her Lord, in the missionary cause, He will be on her side, and who then can be against her?" And last year, exactly half a century later, he said,—"It is one of the things we ought most to pray for, that we, as a Christian Church and nation, should be foremost in the work of Missions. So alone may we believe that our blessed Lord will look upon His Church and people with a smiling countenance." Yes. God's word is true of Churches, as of individuals,—"Them that honour Me I will honour."

Missions.

WEST-AFRICA MISSION.

Sierra Leone, 1816; Port Lokkoh, 1876.

The Society has three mission-fields in West Africa, viz., (1) Sierra Leone, and the adjoining countries, (2) Lagos and the Yoruba country, (3) the Niger. But the term "West-Africa Mission" is applied to the first of these only. The British possessions all along the coast, from the Gambia to beyond Lagos, form the Diocese of Sierra Leone, and the outlying Missions in contiguous Native territories are also regarded as attached to it; so that Bishop Ingham exercises episcopal jurisdiction in all the Society's West African fields except the Niger, which is Bishop Crowther's missionary quasi-diocese.

SIERRA LEONE.

The Society's direct work in the Colony is confined to the three leading Educational Institutions. The Committee thank God for the work and influence of the Rev. F. Nevill as Principal of Fourah Bay College, which has revived greatly under his care. At the close of the year there were ten students studying for the Durham B.A., seven of whom are pledged to the Society's missionary service; and four others (two of them students from the Native Church at Lagos) have been admitted this year. The Revs. J. B. Bowen and N. S. Davis, African clergymen, worked as tutors during the year; but Mr. Bowen has been appointed by the Bishop to a pastoral charge, and Mr. Davis is going into the interior as a missionary. On the other hand, the Rev. S. Spain has been transferred from the Native Church to the Society, to take one of the tutorships. An English Vice-Principal is much needed, to secure thoroughness and permanence to the work.

Fourah Bay College.

Of the Grammar School, the Native Principal, the Rev. Obadiah Moore, reports favourably. The numbers have again increased to 183, one-half of them boarders. There is an active School Missionary Association, with a monthly meeting, which has raised 26*l.* in the year within the school for the Sierra Leone Church Missions.

Annie Walsh School.

During Miss Ansell's absence in England, the Annie Walsh School has been kindly superintended by Miss Bertha Nevill, who accompanied her brother to Africa. Miss Ansell has now resumed charge, and is assisted by Miss Bisset, a lady who offered from Mrs. Meredith's Women's Institute at Clapham. Miss Nevill assures the Committee that there is "great and real improvement" in the school, "some of the elder girls showing plain evidence of an earnest desire to follow Christ;" and "the habit of private Bible-reading and prayer has increased." On the other hand, there is always anxiety in the charge of African girls, and Miss Ansell's hands should be constantly held up by the prayers of friends at home.

The Native Church.

The Sierra Leone Native Church holds its Annual Meeting about the same time as the Society. Its Report, therefore, now before the Committee, belongs to last year. This Report frankly recognizes the mixed character of West African Christianity, and the need of revival. Financially it is satisfactory. The contributions of the people in the year to pastoral and missionary objects exceeded 2000*l.* The Committee had the pleasure last summer of welcoming to England two of the African clergy of Sierra Leone, a pastor and a missionary, the Rev. D. G. Williams and the Rev. N. H. Boston, who came to lay the wants of their Church before Christian people in England, and whose presence at many meetings was much appreciated. The University of Durham made a graceful acknowledgment of its connection with West Africa through Fourah Bay College, by conferring an honorary M.A. on Mr. Williams, who was formerly a tutor in the College. Mr. Nevill writes to the Committee respecting the Native Church as follows:—

Visit of Mr Williams and Mr. Boston to England.

> As Secretary of the Mission, I am brought into close connection with much of the work of the Native Church, and in the course of the past year some important movements have taken place.
> Mr. Nevill's Report.
>
> (i.) There has been a more distinct recognition of the power and usefulness of the laity in the administration of all secular matters connected with the Church. This has been shown in the formation of tentative rules for conducting parochial committees in every parish.
>
> (ii.) The question of reconsidering and reconstructing the Articles of Arrangement which still binds the Native Church has been proposed, and will probably be carried into effect.
>
> (iii.) A Central School Board has been formed, which, if successful, will probably, in the course of time, manage all the Church schools in the Colony, promoting their interest as does the Native Pastorate for the several churches.

(iv.) A deputation of one Native clergyman and one Native missionary proceeded to England to interest the mother Church in the educational and missionary work of the Church here.

(v.) The "Special Mission" in the churches of Sierra Leone and Lagos.

It is impossible to write about these several movements without feeling what enormous progress—if in nothing else, yet at least in external organization, has been made by the Church since the arrival of the first missionaries upon these shores. Again, it is impossible to believe that the vigorous condition, in many particulars, of the Native Church, can exist without the presence of a considerable power of vital Christianity, even though that may require such rebukes and corrections as St. Paul felt bound to exercise towards the early Christian Churches which he himself had founded.

There is this good ground for hope and thankfulness, that if only an adequate supply of spiritually-minded teachers is given, for the teaching of the very youngest as well as of the oldest, this Church may long continue "to lighten the surrounding darkness of Mohammedanism and heathenism." Such Native teachers we hope to receive from Him who ascended into the heavens to give gifts to men; for what He did in the early days of the Church we may certainly believe that He will still continue to do in answer to the devout prayers of His Church.

Sierra Leone Church Missions.

The Sierra Leone Church Missions, the Missionary Society of the Native Church, employs two clergymen (one of them, the Rev. N. H. Boston, being one of the two who came to England last year), and several lay teachers, in the Bullom and Quiah territories, and in Tasso Island. Its income for 1884 was 429*l*.

PORT LOKKOH.

Gift of a Bible to a Mohammedan King.

The Society's little outlying Mission in the Timneh country is earnestly worked by the Rev. J. A. Alley, assisted by the Rev. S. Taylor, B.A., an African clergyman. The new king, a Mohammedan, has accepted from them an Arabic Bible. It is interesting to note that the little congregation gave its Sunday afternoon collections for six months, amounting to 1*l*. 13*s*. 2*d*., to the London Jews' Society.

The Special Mission at Sierra Leone and Lagos.

The Christian communities on the West African coast present a spectacle which, if Church history repeats itself, will be seen more and more in many lands as Christianity effects a lodgment in the Heathen World. Wherever large numbers have been gathered into the visible Church, it is a matter of experience that, around the nucleus of true spiritual children of God, there is an increasing body of those who are but Christians in name; and this will naturally be still more the case as the profession of Christianity becomes hereditary. If "Christian England" can be reproduced in Africa, it will be a grand thing for Africa; yet in "Christian England" those who give evidence of being true and living Christians are a small minority of the population. Moreover, each nation that is Christianized will be found to have its own national infirmities and sins. England has them; and so has West Africa.

Results of Hereditary Christianity.

Evangelistic work, therefore, among nominal Christians in the mission-field,—that is to say, the church-going population (for what are in England called "the lapsed masses" scarcely exist as yet abroad),—becomes very important for the spiritual welfare of the Native Churches. It was with great satisfaction that the Committee heard of the proposed visit of two clergymen belonging to the Church Parochial Mission Society to West Africa, at the invitation of the Bishop and Native clergy of Sierra Leone; and they unfeignedly thank God for the result. The Rev. S. W. Darwin Fox, with Mrs. Fox, and the Rev. F. W. Dodd, spent two months and a half on the coast; and Missions, on the plan of Parochial Missions at home, were held in four parishes in Lagos, and in eight or ten parishes in Sierra Leone. In the latter colony, some of the churches were taken by Archdeacon Henry Johnson, of the Niger, and the Rev. James Johnson, of Lagos.

Special Mission at Sierra Leone and Lagos.

Deeply interesting reports of the Mission were contributed by both Mr. Fox and Mr. Dodd. The former's account appeared in the Record newspaper, and the latter's in the C.M. Intelligencer for April.

The Bishop of Sierra Leone, in a private letter from which a quotation is permitted, writes as follows:—

Bishop Ingham's impressions of the Special Mission.

> We have had evidence, furnished by the Mission, that the people will bear the plainest speaking, if in love to their souls, and that definite, clear preaching of the Gospel does produce definite result.
>
> Of conversions I am slow to speak. There has been much personal dealing with individuals at the close of all services, and I quite believe that many will be found to have come into the light under the teaching given. But it is just here that one feels how powerless one is to guess how very much seed may now even be fructifying in many hearts. If we may trust the people themselves, and Mr. Jas. Johnson's opinion, this is really the case. If we may judge of the feelings of the people by the extent of their thankofferings, and by their many presents to the missioners, the people are much pleased and thankful for the effort. Nothing could be better than the clear, definite teaching that was given. Both missioners were appreciated. The churches have of course been crowded.
> You may be surprised to hear that our fears of any over-much emotionalism on the part of the people were quite unrealized. I felt rather inclined at times to complain of stolidity! There was little approach to it. No doubt we have to thank the missioners themselves to some extent for this. Their conduct of the services was most careful, and evidently experienced. Mrs. Fox, as you will have heard, has made a great impression. She held immense gatherings of women, and she was most unwearied. No doubt she has made many think. I trust some of our Native ladies may follow her example now. Perhaps one of the most important efforts was a two days' gathering of the clergy. It was much appreciated; plain words were spoken by the missioners to the pastors, and I think all were much drawn together by it.

Mr. James Johnson was put as missioner at St. John's, Brookfields, at the west end of Freetown, and his work there was remarkable. He seemed able to keep the people all day if he liked. He was absolutely unwearied. The people were packed like herrings, many bringing their own chairs from home to use inside and outside the building.

A word about after-work. We are, I trust, alive to the importance of the work that now devolves upon us. At least a few of us are. Nevill begins a Bible reading at Kissy Road Church on Monday evening. I begin one at the cathedral. We are sure the people, and specially those who profess to have come to the Lord, need clear teaching from God's Word to build them up. Many profess to have been struck with all the teaching Dodd brought out of God's Word in his Bible readings. Also, all our clergy have become members of, and several are establishing branches of the "Young People's Scripture Union." It provides for the reading of from ten to sixteen verses a day, and we intend to call it the "Sierra Leone Diocesan Bible Union." Nevill and his sister will work it.

I believe this mission marks an epoch in our Church here. I thank God it has been held. Forgive me if I abstain from speaking too definitely as to results. I hope and pray for many, but four or five months hence I shall be able to see more clearly (when the dust that has been raised has been laid again) what the effect of the effort has been.

And Mr. Nevill writes thus to the Society:—

Mr. Nevill on the effect of the Special Missions.

The immediate effect which the mission services have produced is, of course, entirely without precedent in the history of this Church; but it has been of such a real nature that the expense and labour connected with it need never be regretted for a moment. The permanent results, apart from the conversion of individual souls, must, humanly speaking, rest in the hands of the Native pastors. Whether they are sufficiently in earnest to seize this great opportunity, time alone can show. At a conference of the clergy, held a few weeks ago (which I was unable to attend, through sickness), several very important decisions were arrived at, with the unanimous consent of the whole body of clergy present, on such questions as the Administration of the Sacrament, temperance, purity, &c. A Bible Union has also been established in the colony. All these matters, if thoroughly carried out by the pastors, must raise the tone of the spiritual life of the Church.

Mr. Williams has asked me to conduct a special Bible-reading in his church every week, for those who have been aroused by the mission. Between 200 and 300 people have been present each night, and amongst them I see many who have been particularly blessed by the mission services.

That the mission will produce results up to what was expected of it, time, I say, alone will show; that it has done much real good, I have not the slightest doubt.

The Committee would earnestly commend to the prayers of the readers of this Report those whose hearts were touched, that they may become bright and living Christians, witnessing for Christ to those about them.

The Bishop's charge.

Bishop Ingham's Primary Charge has been received as these sheets go to press. It will be published, and the Committee commend it to the attention of all who are interested in West Africa.

YORUBA MISSION.

(Commenced 1843.)

Death of the Rev. H. Townsend.

THE death of the Rev. Henry Townsend, the founder of the Yoruba Mission, at Exeter, on Feb. 26th, should revive the interest of the Society's friends in what was at one time perhaps the most popular of all the C.M.S. Missions.

His missionary career.

In one respect Mr. Townsend's career was unique. No other C.M.S. missionary in Africa has served forty years. He sailed for Sierra Leone as a schoolmaster on October 26th, 1836, after having passed a few months at the C.M. College. Six years afterwards, in November, 1842, he went on a mission of inquiry to the then scarcely-known Yoruba country, whither some of the Yoruba ex-slaves were returning, who had found liberty and prosperity, and the true God, at Sierra Leone. He visited Abeokuta, and was the first white man to enter that since famous town. On his return he came on to England to report the remarkable opening there was for a Mission there, in a country a thousand miles beyond Sierra Leone. He was at once appointed to establish the Mission himself, with the Rev. C. A. Gollmer (who still survives), and Samuel Crowther, the then newly-ordained first African clergyman; and before leaving England he (Mr. Townsend) received both deacon's and priest's orders from the Bishop of London, Dr. Blomfield (1844).

At the close of that year the party proceeded from Sierra Leone to Badagry, where they were detained a year and a half, the disturbed state of the country preventing their going inland; but at length, on August 3rd, 1846, Townsend and Crowther entered Abeokuta amid the heartiest manifestations of welcome, and the Mission was begun.

For more than twenty years Mr. Townsend was the leading spirit of the Abeokuta Mission. After the outbreak in 1867, he joined for awhile in the rapidly growing work at Lagos; but in 1871 and in 1875 he was able to revisit the scene of his former labours, helping and encouraging the Native Christians, who had not decreased but increased in number during the absence of Europeans. The latter visit was his last service in the field; in 1876 he returned finally to England.

LAGOS, AND THE COAST DISTRICT.

The work in Lagos has been much impeded by the inadequacy of the missionary staff. The Society's share of it has fallen almost entirely upon Archdeacon Hamilton and the Rev. T. Harding, and even the latter was absent for a time at Madeira owing to the illness of his wife (the Mrs. Kerr mentioned last year). The Rev. C. H. V. Gollmer came home sick. The Committee sent out a young missionary, the Rev. J. W. Dickinson, with Mrs. Dickinson, and also a lady (Miss M. Littlewood) to assist Mrs. Harding at the Female Institution; but the latter was invalided home immediately. Another lady, the daughter of the Rev. W. Kendall of Stafford, has since gone out. Her offer gave the Committee peculiar satisfaction, as the first response to an appeal issued in connection with the February Simultaneous Meetings. The Rev. H. Sykes, M.A., Curate of St. Peter's, Hereford, had been appointed to Lagos; but the Medical Board could not pass him for the climate of Africa, and, to his own great regret, his location had to be changed.

The Society's work in Lagos.

Archdeacon Hamilton has charge of Christ Church, Faji, and is the Society's Secretary; and Mr. Harding conducts the Training Institution and (with Mrs. Harding) the Female Institution. There have been twenty students in the Training Institution, three of whom went out into Mission work as schoolmasters at the beginning of this year, one to Badagry, one to Abeokuta, and one to Ibadan. Mr. Harding describes some open-air services held in Lagos by the students under his direction on Sunday afternoons. The special want of the Institution is, not that the studies should be done, but that they should be done "with the might," and as in the sight of the Lord. A heavy trial came to it in the course of the year by the resignation of the senior Native tutor to avoid dismissal for sufficient reasons.

Two Native clergymen are in the Society's direct employ, the Rev. T. B. Wright, Pastor of St. Peter's, Faji, a chapel of ease to Christ Church for Yoruba-speaking people, and the Rev. Isaac Oluwole, Principal of the Grammar School. The latter is assisted by Mr. Henry Carr, B.A., an African Fourah Bay graduate of Durham. There are 55 boys, an increase on the preceding year.

Work of the Native Church.

No report is to hand from the Lagos Native Church, which now comprises four pastorates, viz. Breadfruit, Aroloya, Ebute Ero, and Ebute Meta; but it is undoubtedly prospering so far as external machinery and its pecuniary support are concerned. A Clerical Union has been formed, for the mutual improvement of the European and African clergy; also a Young Men's Christian Association, for the large body of young Africans belonging to the various congregations. An admirable paper was read by the Rev. James Johnson, Native Pastor of Breadfruit Church, before the Clerical Union, on "How to reach the young men and benefit them." A sum of 47*l.*, collections in the Lagos Churches for Foreign Missions, has been remitted to the Society.

Confirmation by Bishop Ingham.

The Bishop of Sierra Leone visited the Yoruba Mission at the close of the year. He confirmed 512 candidates at Lagos, Abeokuta, &c., and on January 6th admitted to deacon's orders Mr. Samuel Johnson (brother of Archdeacon H. Johnson and the Rev. N. Johnson) and Mr. Matthew J. Luke.

The Special Mission.

The Special Mission held at Lagos by the Rev. S. W. Darwin Fox and the Rev. F. W. Dodd has been already mentioned under the head of West Africa. Mr. Dodd wrote respecting the services at Lagos,—"Results we must leave with God. But if crowded congregations, hundreds of inquirers professing to find peace with God, much interest in God's word, and a feeling that all were being drawn close together, constitute a revival season, God certainly gave that to the Church in Lagos. Moreover, our Native brethren in the ministry testified to having themselves received much benefit." The Rev. James Johnson, of Breadfruit, wrote:—

Large congregations. Inquirers.

> The Word has had a good effect upon many of God's true people, I trust, and upon many merely nominal Christians, and we are looking forward to greater and richer results from the seeds sown so lovingly, so prayerfully, and so faithfully. God be praised for it. Of course we have not seen some brought in whom we would have liked to see brought to Christ; but these may yet be brought in as fruits of the Mission. We pray for God's blessing upon those who from love to souls, desire for God's glory, and the welfare of the African Church, arranged for the Mission.

Church Discipline.

One important result of the Mission has been an agreement among the clergy, English and African, to exercise stricter Church discipline. The low moral tone of the place surrounds the Native Christians with temptation, and the Mission revealed among them a great need of purity of heart and life. Immoral practices were not regarded by some of the people as any bar to the Lord's Table; but they are now learning—and the Committee pray God to teach it them more and more—that the Gospel is designed to make men holy in this life as well as to prepare them for the next.

Badagry and Leke.

At BADAGRY, the Rev. D. Coker is the African pastor; and at LEKE the Rev. S. Pearse. Mr. Coker writes that many of his people went to Lagos to attend the mission services, and returned full of what they had heard and seen. He likens their report of them to the report that would be given in far-off Parthia and Libya by the proselytes from those countries who witnessed the wonders of Pentecost.

INTERIOR MISSION: ABEOKUTA AND IBADAN.

These Missions are still superintended by the Society's trusted and now veteran missionary, the Rev. J. B. Wood. His report (a little condensed) is as follows:—

Abeokuta—the war.

Nearly nine years have passed since the war in the further interior, which still continues, broke out. Truly "hope deferred maketh the heart sick." Again and again we have thought peace was within view, only each time to be disappointed. At the present time it seems as if affairs were taking a shape decidedly favourable to a settlement of differences being arrived at within a few months.

It is a cause for thankfulness that near the end of the year we had the great pleasure of a visit to Abeokuta and its district from the Bishop of Sierra Leone and Mrs. Ingham. We hope for much good as the result of this visit of the Bishop to Abeokuta.

Church Council.

Another cause for thankfulness is that the Church Council, as newly constituted, has been in existence a year, and that all has worked happily and smoothly. I regard the new arrangement as well adapted to secure the end we have in view, namely, self-support, self-government, and self-extension by our Abeokuta Church, and I believe it will prove a blessing to our work in many ways, "by the good hand of our God upon us." A considerable amount of work of a business character has been transacted at the meetings of the Council, and in addition, the following subjects were intelligently and earnestly discussed:—"The means to be adopted to increase and deepen spiritual life in our several congregations;" "How may the Christian community in Abeokuta be brought to exercise that amount of moral and spiritual influence in the town which it ought to exercise?" "Our duty to our young people;" and "How may the various agencies now at work in our Church be best sustained?"

Christians in name only.

We have still to deplore the existence amongst us on the part of many "who profess and call themselves Christians," of much worldliness, of low views of morality and corresponding practices, of indifference to spiritual things, of irreverent dealing with holy things, of contentment with what is outward in religion; the Sabbath-day is not kept as it should be, the means of grace are not prized or used as we could wish they were, nor is God's Word the guide and companion of our people to the extent it should be.

Encouragements.

But all is not dark, there are encouragements to continued labour and prayer. During the past year several of the agents have shown more than usual diligence in their work; the number of those who realize that the Christian life amongst us ought to be fuller is increasing, if but slowly. Some of our people show greater earnestness and interest in spiritual things than has been usual with them. In connection with the Bible Union started in Lagos by Mr. Gollmer, and through him extended to this place, there is at several stations, as those in charge report, more attention to Bible-reading and increased interest in what is read. In three instances Christians who had fallen into polygamy or immorality years ago have been recovered. Others who have fallen in a similar way profess to have an earnest desire to return, but they are held back by difficulties of various kinds from which they do not find it easy to free themselves.

Increased numbers.

In the Abeokuta district there has been during the year an increase in the number of the communicants of seventy-four. The number confirmed at the town stations and at the out-stations was 312. Baptisms have been fifty-five adults and sixty-nine children, together 124. In the inquirers' classes there are 168 names on the rolls, of which fifty were added last year. The returns show an increase of 130 in the number of adherents in the district, making a total of 2612.

Income.

Some of us, of whom I confess to having been one, were afraid that there would be a falling off in last year's income. By the continuance of the war trade is much limited, work is lessened, and the means of the people are diminishing. The result has rebuked us. In 1884 the total income in the district for various purposes (and it was the largest amount yet received in any one year) was 521*l.*, but last year's income was 617*l.*, being an increase of 96*l.* on that of 1884. Thanks be to the Giver!

The work at the out-stations, that is, the Mission work (for four out of the five out-stations are supported by our Abeokuta Church, as a whole, as Mission stations), has made some advance, but less than we could have desired.

Ibadan.

As regards numbers, there has not been progress in the Ibadan Church during the last year. The communicants are fewer by four, and the adherents by eight, than in the previous year. There were baptisms of fifteen children, but none of adults. At Ayo there was no baptism, and the numbers there remain the same as in the preceding year. There were baptized at Agbomosho (which station is supported by the Ibadan Church) four adults and four children.

Iseyin.

At Iseyin about the middle of the year the mission-house and the church were destroyed by fire, the work of an incendiary; but the king and chief have shown much sympathy and have rendered great voluntary help in putting up the buildings again. At this station fourteen adults and six children were baptized.

Much as the continuance of the war is felt in Abeokuta, it is felt much more in the further interior. The condition of our people there, as well as of others, is such as to call forth our deep sympathy.

The Bishop of Sierra Leone thus writes of his visit:—

Bishop Ingham at Abeokuta.

Mr. Wood, with Mrs. Ingham and myself, left Lagos in the early morning of December 8th, and returned there on December 26th. Our journey up was by canoe all the way. A picture of our boat and its covering of mats you have in this year's almanack. Reaching there on the third day, we were met on the banks of the Ogun, three miles from Abeokuta, by a band of the Mission school-children, singing in English as well as in Yoruba. This was cheering.

The Ake buildings and Mission compound were a pleasant surprise, and a distinct relief in the midst of so much that was heathenish. So soon as it was possible we assembled the pastors and missionaries (the Revs. Moore, Williams, and Doherty) together, to arrange with their help a programme for the time I could stay. I think it matter for gratitude indeed that health was granted for the carrying out of every arrangement.

You will naturally wish to hear my thoughts about the work. Well I must confess that I had seen the name "Abeokuta" figuring so long in your periodicals, that I scarcely realized how utterly untouched by Christianity such an immense part of it really is. As a Christian balogun said to me, the Church there is one lump of sugar in a pool of water! It is obvious that our one care must be the good quality of the said lump of sugar or salt. So far as a superintendent can see to it that our little piece of organization is worked on right lines, I am certain that Mr. Wood will unflinchingly do so.

We left Abeokuta on the morning of the 22nd of December. Our first day's journey was by river to Mokoloki. From there in the evening we made a hammock journey of three hours to Ofada. It was moonlight, and our first experience of the pure African bush. The children came to meet us, and it had a singularly sweet effect to hear their hymns through the bush (or forest, for the trees were considerable in size) for quite half an hour before we met them. Next morning the confirmation service was held at 7.30 a.m., and during the forenoon we left for Agbawon.

Agbawon.—Four or five hours' journey across the Ogun, brought us to this small station, where we halted for the night of the 23rd of December. The candidates in this place were to go on to Shuren; but as there was an old chief living there who much desired confirmation, and could not journey so far, I gave them a service on the morning of the 24th.

Shuren.—We reached this place in about two and a half hours from Agbawon. I think there is some real work going on here, and we found the people more intelligent and interested than in the other villages. The catechist is apparently an efficient man.

ONDO MISSION.

Ondo Mission.

An extremely interesting account of the Mission at Ode Ondo and other places in the eastern parts of the Yoruba country was sent last summer by the Rev. J. B. Wood, who had visited these stations. He thus writes of the African missionary in charge, the Rev. Charles Phillips, and the difficulties and fruits of his work:—

Heathen opinion of Native Christians.

The Rev. C. Phillips has shown, by his soundness of judgment, readiness of resource, and ability to lend a helping hand to various kinds of work to be done in a Mission, that he is the right man in the right place. He has travelled much between Ondo, Ayesan, and Itebu, and has also paid visits to the Mission in Ilesha. He and those associated with him have had many difficulties and some dangers to face, but grace has been given them according to their day. They possess the respect and confidence of the Ondo authorities. Several times the principal chiefs told me that they were well pleased with the way they conducted themselves. One of them, when speaking to me, paid them the highest compliment he knew how to pay them. "They do not," he said, "interfere with our women; they do not steal our sheep, goats, or fowls." And he added, by way of contrast, that some messengers sent by the king of some other tribe on some business, who were only in Ode Ondo a short time, had wronged them in all the particulars named.

The Ondo Church numbers over one hundred persons. Amongst the converts is one of the king's sisters, and there are several other influential persons who have joined the Mission. As regards the knowledge they possess in other respects, the converts are very much what it might be expected they would be. There are traits in their Christian characters which excite pleasure; and there are others which indicate weakness, and the power of some ideas at work which belong more to social life as it is amongst the Ondos than as it is set forth in the New Testament. The greatest point of difference between them and our older churches is in the greater amount of freshness and simplicity that is noticeable amongst them. It is with much sorrow that one hears of professed Christians living inconsistent lives, going amongst such young converts, and making excuses for the lives they are living; but such find their way to Ondo. But the entrance of such grievances amongst the flock is to be expected. May the Good Shepherd preserve His own from the Evil One!

Mr. Phillips, in his turn, thus notices Mr. Wood's visit, and describes his work at Ode Ondo:—

Visit of Rev. J. B. Wood.

The principal event in this Mission district this year is the long-desired visit of the Rev. J. B. Wood. He arrived at Ode Ondo on the 7th of March. Though he told all the kings and the chiefs in the district that his visit was for missionary purposes, yet such was the universal solicitude, that he felt obliged to revisit the two hostile camps in the interest of peace. He asked me to accompany him from Ode Ondo. But his efforts met with no better success than at the first.

Human sacrifices.

Neither was Mr. Wood more successful in his conference with the Ondo authorities. A day before our return from the Ijesa country, a wealthy Ondo chief died, and at his funeral, which took place on Good Friday, five persons were immolated. This stirred Mr. Wood's indignation, and when he met the authorities in their council meeting he strongly denounced such wickedness, animadverted upon their perfidy in upholding the abominable custom, after signing a treaty with Lagos government for its abolition, and told them that such conduct would bring down God's judgment upon the country. Their replies were respectful, hopeful, but hypocritical. But when Mr. Wood spoke against the inhuman destruction of twins, they threw off the garb of hypocrisy, and rudely refused to allow any toleration to the Mission on the twin question. All they conceded was that the Mission agents would be permitted to remove any twin children born in the compound safely from their territory.

Baptisms.

But I believe that what Mr. Wood saw of our little Church of believers at Ode Ondo, and of our Sunday services and schools, delighted him. He spent the Easter Day here, and I was able to present four men and three women to him for baptism. The converts rejoiced to hear a white man telling them of the love of God in Christ in their own tongue, and I believe that his addresses will be long cherished and remembered by our Ondo converts.

Bible Union.

Another event of the year is the organization of a branch of the Bible Union among our few leading members. At Ode Ondo we have an adult and a children's union, each of which has its monthly meetings regularly, which I always conduct. The adult union numbers twenty-one, and the children ten. I believe the Scriptures are more regularly read and valued, and I often left the monthly meeting thanking God for deepening the spiritual tone of our converts by means of Bible unions.

I cannot report much success in our evangelistic work. The attitude of the Ondo people to Christianity is one of studied indifference.

Unbaptized "believers."

The total number of Christian adherents is 132, of whom twenty-seven are registered as candidates for baptism. There are several who care to be known as "onigbagbo" (i.e. believers), but who show no earnestness to become members of Christ's Church in His appointed way by baptism.

Including the congregations at Ilesha, Itebu, and Ayesan, there are 252 Native Christian adherents in these eastern districts.

Statistics of the Mission.

NIGER MISSION.

Onitsha, 1857; Akasa, 1865; Lokoja, 1865; Bonny, 1866; Brass, 1868; Osamare, 1873; Asaba, 1875; Kipo Hill, 1876; Alenso, 1878; Gbebe, 1879; Okrika, 1884.

Bishop Crowther.

The venerable founder of this Mission, and its leader now for twenty-nine years, Bishop Crowther, labours on with undiminished energy, "his eye not dim, nor his natural force abated." During the greater part of the year he has been at Lokoja, carrying on Archdeacon Henry Johnson's work during the latter's visit to England. The Committee were glad to see the Archdeacon once again in this country, and to consult with him regarding plans for the development of the Mission; and they record with special pleasure the conferring upon him of an honorary M.A. degree by the University of Cambridge.

Archdeacon Johnson's degree.

Building operations.

The English Secretary and medical missionary for this inviting mission-field are not yet forthcoming, but are anxiously looked for. Meanwhile the solitary English lay agent, Mr. Burness, has been doing valuable auxiliary service in building operations, &c., which the Committee highly appreciate; and they thank God for the health, and the patience and tact, vouchsafed to him. In particular, he has built the new Training Institution at Lokoja; and this work involved supervision of the Native workmen, and manual labour too, from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. for some months. Mr. Burness longs to be freed from his laborious secular tasks for direct spiritual work.

The new Henry Venn.

The new Henry Venn steamer, a river-boat drawing only two feet of water, was launched at Leith in June, and sent out in pieces, and has been put together by the energy of the young engineer, Mr. E. J. Hales, whom the Liverpool Young Men's Christian Association gave for this work. This was done at Akassa, an unhealthy place at the mouth of the Nun, where the National African Company has a building yard, &c.; and Mr. Hales has suffered from fever in consequence. The work of these two laymen on the Niger, secular though it be, deserves the recognition and sympathy of the Society's friends. Nothing is more important on the river than to show how such duties as they have performed can be done in a Christian spirit.

The liquor traffic;

The Committee have been in communication with other Missionary Societies with a view to joint action in the direction of limiting the liquor traffic in Africa, and especially on the Niger, where it is doing incalculable injury to the people for hundreds of miles up the river. The provisions of the International Conference at Berlin prevent the importation of spirits being prohibited by the British Government or the National African Company; but it may be and ought to be controlled. A Joint Committee of representatives of several societies has been formed to act in this matter. One of the most touching incidents of the year has been the receipt of a letter addressed to "Crowther, the great Christian minister," from Maliki, the Mohammedan king of Nupe, entreating him to get "the great priests" (the Committee) to beg the Queen to stop the immense liquor traffic, which, he wrote, was ruining the country and making the people mad." The letter was addressed to the Rev. C. Paul, Native missionary at Kipo Hill, in the Hausa language. The following is a translation:—

A Moslem king's appeal against it.

> Salute Crowther, the great Christian minister. After salutation, please tell him he is a father to us in this land; anything he sees will injure us in all this land, he would not like it. This we know perfectly well.
> The matter about which I am speaking with my mouth, write it; it is as if it is done by my hand; it is not a long matter, it is about Barasá [rum or gin]. Barasá, Barasá, Barasá, by God, it has ruined our country; it has ruined our people very much; it has made our people become mad. I have given a law that no one dares buy or sell it; and any one who is found selling it, his house is to be eaten up [plundered]; any one found drunk will be killed. I have told all the Christian traders that I agree to everything for trade except Barasá. I have told Mr. McIntosh's people to-day, the Barasá remaining with them must be returned down the river. Tell Crowther, the great Christian minister, that he is our father. I beg you, Malam Kipo [Rev. C. Paul, Native missionary], don't forget this writing; because we all beg that he [Bishop Crowther] should beg the great priests [Committee, C.M.S.] that they should beg the English Queen to prevent bringing Barasá into this land.
> For God and the prophet's sake, for God and the prophet His messenger's sake, he [Crowther] must help us in this matter, that of Barasá. We all have confidence in him; he must not leave our country to become spoiled by Barasá. Tell him, may God bless him in his work. This is the mouth-word from Maliki, the Emir of Nupe.

ARCHDEACONRY OF THE LOWER NIGER.

Archdeacon D. C. Crowther has resided at Tuwon, the port of the Brass territory. At Nembe, the capital of that territory, is the Rev. J. D. Garrick; at Bonny, the Rev. J. Boyle; and at Okrika, the Rev. W. E. Carew. All these, of course, are African clergymen.

The Delta stations.

The reports received from Archdeacon Crowther of these stations in the Delta are of a chequered character. Bonny has been the prey of contending factions, and missionary work has been much impeded, though the congregations continue large. At Okrika, the work goes on hopefully. Nembe has been the scene of a shocking outrage. Some men of a neighbouring village who, it was alleged, had insulted one of the Brass chiefs, were seized and murdered, and the murderers indulged even in cannibalism—a crime formerly rife in the Delta, but not known of late years. The chief himself who was mainly responsible had professed Christianity, and some of the other perpetrators of the outrage also; though other Christian Natives protested and remonstrated. The occurrence of this burst of really heathen fury has caused much grief and humiliation. Of course, such of the guilty parties as were connected in any way with the Church have been expelled or suspended; but the crime is a sad evidence of the terrible wickedness against which the Gospel has to struggle.

Cannibalism at Nembe.

At Tuwon, an iron church has been purchased by the people themselves, as was done at Nembe the year before. Archdeacon Crowther wrote on Sept. 25, 1885:—

A new Church at Tuwon.

> This new church is estimated to cost 819*l*. This sum the congregation, I believe, will have made up by the time this reaches you, solely by their own subscriptions. They are taking very kindly to the system of self-help, with a view of self-support in future, giving willingly. Some, after giving a certain sum promised, have come again with additional sums, saying, "I feel I can give more than I had given, and so have brought this." One man, when giving his additional sum, said, "My mind will give me rest now that I have done what I ought to do." One woman said, "I had promised and given two pieces of cloth = 8*s*. God has since blessed me, I bring 4*s*. more; should He bless me further, you will see me again." Another woman brought as "Thank-offering" towards the new church 4*s*., saying thus: "I am not a Native of this country, but I thank God for bringing me here as a slave to hear of Jesus—for this, 2*s*.; I have no child of my own, but I have been chosen godmother for many children at their baptism; these I look upon as my own children, given me by God to bring up in a right and Christian way till they grow up—for this comfort, 2*s*.;" and she added, "Do not mention my name; it is for God's cause."

Liberality of Native Christians.

> An influential and well-to-do chief, member of the church, gave towards the new church 240*l*., and when there was a difficulty to make up the balance of the amount required, asked what the sum was. In a most quiet and unassuming way he brought another 240*l*., saying, "When our Master, Jesus, calls, no one should withhold." A late chief, of the same standing as the above, was another earnest and consistent member of the church. He died five years ago. His household voted to his memory, towards the new church, 120*l*. The middle-class people also have given most cheerfully out of their means.
> The household of the late chief, to whose memory 120*l*. was given, afterwards brought an additional sum towards the balance required for the new church, viz. "80*l.* as thank-offering for God's mercies in over-ruling a heavy trial that befell the house after the chief's death."

ARCHDEACONRY OF THE UPPER NIGER.

Onitsha and Obotsi.

The station at Onitsha has been worked by two African lay agents, Aaron Strong and Isaac Mba, the latter a Native of the district. They have maintained an unequal but not unsuccessful struggle against heathenism, and against the polygamy and other evils that find lodgment among the nominal Christian Africans. Obotsi is visited regularly by voluntary Christians, who conduct the services.

Romish Mission.

Roman Catholic priests have established themselves at Onitsha and Lokoja. The Mission, therefore, has now rivals as well as open antagonists. It is circumstantially stated that at Lokoja they have employed the people of the place in Sunday labour, and at the end of the day distributed large quantities of rum and gin.

Gbebe: Progress of Mohammedanism.

At Gbebe, the Rev. P. J. Williams is stationed. He writes with great sorrow of the progress of Mohammedanism. Intelligent heathens who see the folly of idolatry turn Mohammedans rather than listen to the messages of Christ, in order that they may be no hindrance to the immorality of their lives. Yet, he writes, "the few sheep are living witnesses that God has invited us in His Gospel, and that He is able and willing to save those who come unto Him."

Kipo Hill: Preparandi Institution.

At Kipo Hill, the Rev. C. Paul has been chiefly engaged in teaching the six Ibo students for the Preparandi Institution, who were moved to this station during Archdeacon Johnson's absence from Lokoja.

At all these stations in the Upper Archdeaconry, the numbers are small. Onitsha has a large congregation still; but both there and elsewhere, nominal Christians have been lost through their yielding to polygamy. The sins of the flesh have terrible power on the Niger, and nothing but the grace of God in a surrendered heart can preserve men from it. All friends of the Mission should pray that the solemn teachings of 1st Corinthians, addressed, be it remembered, to Christian converts against these very sins, may be deeply impressed upon the converts.

Linguistic work.

Linguistic work goes on. Before leaving the Niger for England, Archdeacon Johnson reported that the Four Gospels, the Prayer Book, and an Old Testament History had been prepared in the Nupe language; the New Testament, the First Lessons, and the Prayer Book, in Igbira; and portions of Scripture and of the Prayer Book in Igara.

Some of these have been printed at the Society's request by the Bible Society and the S.P.C.K.

Bishop Hannington:

The movements, perils, and deeply-lamented death of Bishop Hannington have almost absorbed the interest of the Society's friends during the past year; and it will be convenient that, before reviewing the mission work at the various stations, the Committee should give a connected account of the Bishop's brief career in Eastern Equatorial Africa.

Second arrival in Africa;

He arrived at Mombasa on Jan. 24, 1885. "A thousand people," he wrote, "were on the shore; guns were fired, horns blown, women shrieked, and laughed, and cried. Altogether there was a grand welcome. The moment we could get a little quiet, we knelt down and thanked God, from Whom all blessings flow." He then proceeded to Zanzibar, to pay his respects to the Sultan, and to Sir John Kirk; and finding that Bishop Smythies, of the Universities' Mission, was away, he went over to U-Sambara, and marched up to Magila, in order to see him. A letter from Bishop Smythies, which afterwards appeared in Central Africa, the organ of the Universities' Mission, thus referred to this visit:—

> On Feb. 7th we had the great pleasure of a visit from the Bishop of East Equatorial Africa. . . . I am most thankful that Dr. Hannington has come out to superintend the Church Missionary Society's Central African Mission. I am certain that I shall always find in him a sympathizing friend, and that in all matters in which the two Missions are likely to touch one another, we shall be able to work together in perfect harmony. The coming of such a Bishop to superintend the neighbouring Mission cannot but strengthen our hands and be a help to the whole work. May God spare him long, and give him health for the arduous labours which lie before him!"

Visits the Taita country,

Between March 2nd and April 18th, Bishop Hannington made an important journey with Mr. Handford into the interior from Mombasa, visiting the station at Sagalla in the Taita country, and (taking Mr. Wray also) advancing from that place to Mount Kilima-Njaro and "the Switzerland of Africa."* He visited Tiveta, the place so highly spoken of by Mr. Thomson and Mr. Johnston; Moschi, the capital of Chagga, and residence of King Mandara; and other villages on the slopes of the mighty mountain.† On his return to Frere Town he made a journey northward into the Giriama country, visiting the C.M.S. station, Kamlikeni, on Mwaiba Hill, and Fulladoyo, the settlement of runaway slaves often referred to two or three years ago. He also met the rebel Mbaruk, whose name has turned up in the East African letters from time to time ever since Mr. Price went out in 1874. On Trinity Sunday, May 31, he held an ordination at Frere Town, when the first two Natives of East Africa admitted to the sacred ministry in connection with the Society, William Jones and Ishmael Michael Semler, received deacons' orders, and the Rev. W. E. Taylor, B.A., priest's orders. On June 13, he confirmed 33 candidates, most of them grown up, at Frere Town; and on June 14, at Rabai, he gave the Rev. J. C. Price, of Mpwapwa, priest's orders. Of the first ordination he wrote:—

> William Henry Jones and Ishmael Michael Semler were captured by Arabs as slaves, and recaptured by H.M. cruisers, before the formation of the freed-slave settlement at Frere Town, and were consequently taken to Nasik and put under the charge of the Rev. W. Salter Price. By him they were educated, and through his means brought to the true knowledge of the truth. Ordination at Frere Town.

When he founded Frere Town, these with others (notably George David, whose sudden death but a short time ago removed him from the land of prayer to the realms of praise) were employed by Mr. Price as teachers, educational and mechanical, in the great work he had in hand. Semler has continued at Frere Town ever since. Jones, on the other hand, has had a rather more stirring life, returning for a time to India, and lately having been in sole charge of Rabai.

Commencing on Thursday, May 28, we had daily, both morning and evening, special seasons set apart for prayers, and then it was that I gave them brief charges on Christian life and ministerial office. The Friday morning address my chaplain (Mr. Fitch) gave, speaking forcibly from the words, "Be strong in the Lord." These seasons I think we all felt to be times of great refreshment and strengthening. Saturday we met in the church, and thoroughly arranged and entered into the details of the solemn service before us. On Sunday the chaplain presented first the candidates for deacons' orders, and then the Rev. W. E. Taylor, B.A., for priest's orders. The Rev. William Jones, by my appointment, read the Gospel, and fifty-seven communicants joined us at the Holy Communion. On the whole service, which was almost entirely in Kiswahili, the divine blessing seemed to shine.

I can scarcely tell you how greatly privileged I feel in thus having been permitted to ordain the first Native minister of our infant East Africa Church, and, if I may so express it, to reap where Mr. Price and others have so diligently sown. The foundations of a Native ministry have been laid; now they must be strengthened and built up by our united prayers.

His plan for reaching U-Ganda by a new route.

At this time the Bishop was forming his great plan for reaching U-Ganda by the direct north-westerly route from Mombasa, past Kilima-Njaro and through the Masai country to Kavirondo and U-Soga. This route had been traversed by only one white man, Mr. Joseph Thomson, of the Royal Geographical Society; but he turned back before reaching U-Soga. The perils of the Masai districts were known to be serious; but no one anticipated that if the Bishop was safely carried through them he would meet further danger on the very threshold of U-Ganda. His scheme was approved by Sir John Kirk; but the C.M.S. Committee, in their anxiety that the Bishop might run no needless risk, wished that he had thought well to take the old and well-known route through U-Sagara and U-Nyamwezi. He, however, with characteristic fearlessness and ardour, did not give them time to express this feeling, but started before letters could reach him from England.

Pays another visit to Taita.

But before starting on this great expedition, he made another rapid journey up to Taita in the latter half of June, in order to speed on their way the Rev. E. A. Fitch and Mr. Wray, who were to advance to Chagga to found the new station there. Returning to the coast, he proceeded to Zanzibar, to meet Mr. Douglas Hooper and his companions who had arrived from England, and arrange plans for their journey to U-Ganda by the old route. Then, returning to Mombasa, he finally started on July 22nd, accompanied only by the newly-ordained African clergyman, the Rev. W. H. Jones, and a band of porters.

The start.

Last letters from him.

Only twice afterwards did letters come from him. From these a few lines are here extracted :—

Samburu, July 25th, 1885.

I have welcomed and feasted the brethren, and have got through, by Divine blessing, an amazing amount of work during the first year of my episcopacy ; and now I believe the God of Love is going to give me a time of rest and peace, and a slight cessation from such toil. While the Committee is in Scotland, Switzerland, or, it may be, eating shrimps at Margate, I shall be taking things easily in some of the savagest regions of Africa.

I have Jones with me. The brethren feel that you will be more comfortable if I am not quite alone. Never alone, for He is ever with me.

Later (no date).

The trials of caravan life are just now thick upon me, and I must confess that the outlook is gloomy ; difficulties present themselves in a way they never thought of doing before. Starvation, desertion, treachery, and a few other nightmares and furies hover over one's head in ghostly forms, and yet, in spite of all, I feel in capital spirits, and feel sure of results, though perhaps they may not come exactly in the way we expect. In the midst of the storm I can say,—

Peace, perfect peace, the future all unknown ;
Jesus we know, and He is on the throne.

And now let me beg every mite of spare prayer. You must uphold my hands, lest they fall. If this is the last chapter of earthly history, then the next will be the first page of the heavenly—no blots and smudges, no incoherence, but sweet converse in the presence of the Lamb !

Kikambuliu, Aug. 10.

My dear Friends,—As there is a remote chance of this reaching you, I shall mount on the wings of hope, and send a few lines relative to my movements up to the present date. First let me devoutly thank our God and Saviour that I have got thus far safely, and in spite of difficulties and trials have so far, on the whole, enjoyed excellent health.

The roads have all very nearly perished from want of traffic, so those who perhaps might have known were at an utter loss as to which way to go. We utterly lost ourselves in the dense fringe of bulrushes of the Voi. . . . On August 3rd we found ourselves lost over and over again. We got scattered in three parties. I taking the lead, climbed a tree, and got a survey of the country, and finally struck for a mass of rock, and by firing guns, &c., we found ourselves together at sunset after an intensely fatiguing day for some of us. The men fortunately were not overtaxed, as they rested while a few of us explored the country, or broke through the jungle. The next day we made out our direction, and again struck straight across the forest, and to our great joy found ourselves at the River Tzavo long before we had dared to hope. . . .

And now for the outlook. Another three days should bring us to Ulu. Here we are told that people are dying of famine. If this is so we shall have intense difficulty in getting through; . . . but I can see less hope of retreat. So, God helping us, speedy advance must be the word. Hitherto He has helped us, and one cannot but feel that He will continue to do so, and therefore in full hope we go forward, content to leave the future.

By-the-bye, candles and lamp oil were forgotten, so the camp-fire has to serve; and my watch, to use a Native expression, has died; so, as Jones expresses it, his lordship is very poor. After all I think it is for the best, and as all things work together for good, this must. I don't wake up two or three times in the night to look at my watch, and I don't sit up reading at nights, nor run in danger of setting myself and tent on fire. If this reaches [Frere Town], will the brethren kindly forward it to Salisbury Square, and will all forgive the flatness of my song?

The blessing of the Almighty be with us all, and prosper the missionary cause here and elsewhere!

The news of his death.

On New Year's Day, letters were received at Zanzibar (whence a telegram reached London the same afternoon) from U-Ganda, by the old route, stating that the Bishop had arrived in U-Soga about Oct. 23, and that the young King of U-Ganda had sent orders to kill him. On Feb. 4, the Rev. W. H. Jones and his caravan arrived at Rabai, having returned from the Lake by the Bishop's route, and brought tidings that the Bishop was undoubtedly murdered, two men who returned professing to have been eye-witnesses of his death. Mr. Jones reported that the journey through the Masai country had been without disaster, except at one place, Ngongo, where the Bishop's life was attempted, and where they were detained fifteen days through failing to procure food. "But the Bishop waited patiently, until at last the Lord in mercy made things easy for us, for which we were thankful." On Oct. 8, they reached Kwa Sundu, in Kavirondo, at the north-east corner of the Victoria Nyanza, and on the 12th, the Bishop, leaving Mr. Jones and the rest of the caravan there, went forward with fifty men to U-Soga. About a month afterwards, four men returned to Mr. Jones, and informed him that the Bishop and all his party had been killed, they only escaping. He waited another month in Kavirondo, in hopes of getting further particulars, and then started back for the coast, which, as above mentioned, he safely reached on Feb. 4.

The letters which have come from U-Ganda by the old

route confirm the statements of the four fugitives (which at first were doubted), and fully explain the history of this distressing massacre. For some time, the king and chiefs of U-Ganda had been alarmed by rumours of Europeans approaching their country by what they termed the "back door," from the east. Even Mr. Thomson's journey three years ago, though he did not come within 100 miles of U-Ganda, had been exaggerated by report. The news of the German settlements and "annexations" in U-Sagara and other parts of East Africa reached U-Ganda in September last, and excited the greatest alarm; and at the same time came the announcement that Bishop Hannington was approaching from the east, which caused an outburst of fury. A month later, when his arrival in the adjoining country, U-Soga, was announced, orders were at once sent to put him to death. Meanwhile the chief of U-Soga, Luba, had arrested the Bishop and his men, and put them in the stocks pending orders from Mwanga. On the arrival of the king's messengers, probably on Oct. 29, the whole party were at once led to execution. The Natives were speared, but the Bishop, at his own earnest request, was shot with his own rifle. Various particulars were afterwards communicated to the missionaries in U-Ganda by friendly people, and among them the following, which bears the stamp of truth, for no native could have invented it:—

> When a prisoner, the Muzungu (European) said that he was going to Buganda to see those who had been taught. They kept him aloof from his men and his goods, but allowed him his bedding, and his Bible and one or two other books. He occupied his time in writing much. When they were about to kill him, he bade them tell the king that he had purchased the road to Buganda with his life, and that he died for the Baganda.

The Bishop's Pocket Book and Bible.

Two relics of special interest came into Mr. Mackay's hands. The Bishop's pocket-diary was purchased by one of the Mission boys, who noticed it in the hands of the king's gate-keeper. It contains rough daily notes of the march, from the start at Rabai on July 23 to the arrival at Sakwas, near Kwa Sundu, on Oct. 6. The Bible was afterwards recovered in a similar way.

Thus one of the most devoted, unselfish, and undaunted of modern missionaries has fallen on the threshold of what was hoped might be a career of much blessing. Short, however, as that career was, it has left bright memories behind it; and when his biography appears, it will assuredly be used of God to inspire in many hearts a simple faith and a holy ardour like his. The Committee mourn the loss of a valued and beloved friend; but they humbly bow before the Lord, whose unsearchable judgments have in them always a purpose of love.

Change in the Staff.

Some few changes have taken place in the staff of the Eastern Equatorial Africa Mission during the year. Mr. (now the Rev.) H. Cole and Mr. H. W. Jeanes returned to Africa in August. Mr. Stuart Watt and Mrs. Watt, and Miss Mary W. Harvey, went out in November, the former an active layman from Belfast, and Miss Harvey a lady who has been trained in the Mildmay Medical Mission at Bethnal Green. Dr. S. T. Pruen, a medical missionary, sailed in May of this year. All these are for the interior, except Miss Harvey, who is at Frere Town. A second assistant was sent for by Mr. Douglas Hooper on his arrival in Africa, and Mr. W. Taylor, from Mildmay, went out at four days' notice; but he has returned home invalided, while Mr. Hooper's other assistant, Mr. Burr, died at Mamboia on their journey up country. Mr. C. Stokes has retired from the Society's service; and the Revs. J. W. Handford and J. C. Price, and Mr. Copplestone, have come home.

The Henry Wright.

The Henry Wright steamer continues to be of the greatest service to the Mission. By an arrangement with the Universities' Mission, she is also usefully employed in conveying its members to and fro between Zanzibar and the mainland.

In reviewing the work at the various stations, the Committee follow the order laid down last year, viz. (1) Mombasa district; (2) the interior reached from Mombasa, viz. Taita and Chagga; (3) the countries on the road between the Zanzibar coast and the south end of the Victoria Nyanza; (4) U-Ganda.

I.—MOMBASA MISSION: FRERE TOWN AND RABAI.

The work at Frere Town.

During the greater part of the year, the Rev. J. W. Handford continued in charge of Frere Town; but for a time he was away in Natal owing to Mrs. Handford's illness, and his place was taken temporarily by Mr. Copplestone, who had arrived from England en route to the interior. The school has been worked by the new schoolmaster, Mr. T. England; and Miss Harvey, since her arrival, has taken special charge of the women and girls. The Rev. Ishmael Semler is the Native pastor. Seventy more newly-rescued slaves have been handed to the Mission by Sir John Kirk.

Baptisms and Schools.

The statistics of Frere Town show 360 baptized Christians (of whom 168 are communicants), and 158 catechumens, including children. The baptisms in the year were, adults 43, children 49. The children at school number 232. Mr. England writes in very encouraging tones of his spiritual work among the boys. The Spirit of God has undoubtedly been moving the hearts of some among them. He also mentions the visit of two British men-of-war to repair some boats they had left on the beach. The crews attended church; and the officers were so pleased with the schools, that they gave some prizes to the boys. The departure of the British Vice-Consul at Mombasa, Lieut. C. S. Smith, has been much regretted; but it is hoped that he will return. He has shown the greatest interest in the Mission.

Visit of English sailors.

Government grant for slaves.

The Committee are glad to say that, on the recommendation of Sir John Kirk, the Government have agreed to make the Society a grant of 5*l.* per head for all the rescued slaves handed over to the care of its missionaries in East Africa since July, 1884.

Rabai.

Rabai has been again under the charge of the Rev. A. D. Shaw, assisted by the Rev. W. H. Jones, the newly-ordained African pastor. The Rev. W. E. Taylor is engaged in linguistic and evangelistic work. It is becoming an increasingly important station, owing to the large number of, not runaway slaves, but free Wa-Nika, who have settled round it. More than a thousand people are now under Christian instruction. Mr. Shaw writes:—

A glad sight.

On our return from England we found a school full of naked, dirty little children; fully half of whom were new-comers since we left. It was a glad sight. One of the great drawbacks here is the inability of the people to read. They come to our services, and hear the Word preached, but the seed sown so often perishes because the hearers have not the power to themselves draw the water from the fountain of the book. As a rule the African, when passed the age of youth, has not the energy to learn to read, but if we can get them to school when young, there is no difficulty in giving them a very fair elementary education, for these youngsters are often very bright. Therefore, a school full of little blacks is a glad sight to a missionary, for it means progression.

Adult Classes.

One of the best means we have for doing good are the adult classes for religious instruction, which are held almost daily from 7 to 8 a.m., the only day on which there is none being Saturday, that being a busy one with the people, who have water to fetch, wood to chop, corn to grind, their hair to plait, &c., &c., for Sunday. We have the names of every person in the place in the books, and all are expected to come once a week to his or her class. As we keep a regular record of each person's attendance, we can keep them up to the mark. On these occasions we give nothing but religious instruction; indeed, it is at these classes the people obtain most of what they really know of Christianity. We teach them texts, Scripture history, hymns, collects, and the commandments. It is very monotonous work for the teacher, for the poor people are so dull, but often here and there the labourer is permitted to catch a glimpse of the good grain growing and ripening for the harvest, and that refreshes and reinvigorates him.

Daily service.

We, of course, keep up the daily morning services. The mere fact of having the service, apart from the benefit derived, is good for the people, for it makes religion a matter of every-day life. We want them to regard it, not as a mere sentiment, for which one day in the week is especially reserved, but a vital part of the existence of every man and woman in the place, that shall not be a mere diversion, but a great reality, not to be played with, but lived. The attendance at the services is really good; it is exceptional if the building is not filled every weekday and three times every Sunday.

Wanika adherents.

We have now about 1000 people on the Mission premises, all of whom are under religious instruction. When we went home in 1884 we had scarcely twenty Wanyika on the place; now there are about 230 adults on the books; and these are by no means all that are here. I have for a long time refused permission to all runaway slaves to stay here, not that I have no sympathy with the poor people, but I feel that our connection with them does impede our work among the free people living around us. My advice to them is, "Go on farther; don't stop here, or your masters will come and catch you, for we can't protect you." The great increase in the number of free people is a cause for great thankfulness, because we have great influence over those living in the village; they have daily opportunities of hearing the Word, and we are able to check, to a certain degree, those vices which are openly indulged in in every place outside the Mission.

Outside work.

With those Wanyika who live outside the Mission premises, God has given us an "open door." Owing to the generosity of a friend at home, I am able to keep an evangelist daily at work among them. It is a peculiar work, and requires a peculiar man. We prayed for the right one, and the right one was given. My attention was directed to a Mnyika convert of Mr. Rebmann's, and I determined to try him. He (Nathaniel Kikofi) has turned out in every way a satisfactory worker. Every day he goes off to some part or other of the district, and spends several hours reading and preaching to any he can find. On his return in the afternoon he has generally something of interest to tell me about his work.

II.—TAITA AND CHAGGA.

Bishop Hannington's visit to Chagga in April, 1885, has resulted in the establishment, at last, after many years' delay, of a Mission there. Mr. Rebmann first discovered the country in 1848. The king, Mandara, was visited by Baron Von der Decken in 1863; by Mr. New, the Methodist missionary, in 1871; and by Mr. H. H. Johnston, the traveller, in 1884. In 1878, Mandara sent an Arabic letter to the missionaries at Frere Town, begging for teachers. "Send me a book," it said; "mind you don't forget it." An Arabic Bible was sent up by Mr. Lamb; but seven years passed away before a missionary followed. The Rev. E. A. Fitch arrived at Moschi, the capital, in July, accompanied by Mr. Wray, who found it useless to attempt to resume work in Taita, the whole population of that district having been driven away by famine. Mandara has proved somewhat fickle, like other African chiefs; but on the whole, the prospects are hopeful. The Bishop thus wrote of his first interview with the king, on March 19th:—

Chagga and its King.

The new Mission.

Bishop Hannington with the King.

I rose before daylight and made certain preparations, for I had suspicions which proved to be very true, namely, that dawn would bring the roseate Mandara (he always wears a rosy-red robe). Yes, there he was, with about twenty stark-naked warriors, fine athletic young men of one of the Masai clans, looking fierce enough to frighten one out of his wits. Mandara received his presents in a most satisfactory manner, nor did he ask to see a single thing in the tent, though I thought his one eye roved around in a somewhat restless manner. "Wait," said I, "he will develop."

After breakfast we had a private interview with his Majesty, and cautiously unfolded the objects of our visit. The same caution was strictly observed on his part. The sum of what he said is the echo of almost every chief's heart in Africa: "I want guns and gunpowder, and if I can't have them, the next best thing is a white teacher to live in the land." To the end of our visit Mandara maintained the same princely bearing and gentlemanly conduct. With the exception of Mirambo, I have never met in the interior a more enlightened or shrewd chief.

I have but little doubt that the history of a Mission here, if properly maintained, would be the counterpart of most of our Missions; the reception of the white man with joy and gladness, everything done for him for a week or two, then a cooling down of the first love, neglect, perhaps even persecution; after which, if patiently endured, fresh overtures, a mutual understanding deepening into confidence and love, then a gradual opening of the door, a breaking down of superstitions, a reception of the sweet gospel of peace of the Saviour of mankind. God give Chagga to His Son, for 'tis a lovely spot. I frequently exclaimed to the men in rapture of delight, "England, England! You see England here." Yes, and that charming part of England, Devonshire.

Mr. Fitch wrote on September 25th:—

Early efforts.

Mandara seems satisfied now, and is most unwilling that we should leave. The people themselves also tell us that we must not leave them now. This is very encouraging, and though we cannot yet, in this early stage, do much spiritual work amongst them, yet we can say a little now and then. Mandara was most intensely interested one day whilst Mr. Wray told him how that we were called Christians because we were followers of Christ, and how that we wanted all the Wachagga to become Christians, true followers of Christ; this leading us on to explain the rudiments of the Gospel; how that Christ died for the sins of all. It seems hard ground to sow on, but, thank God, He can touch the hardest heart, and why not Mandara's?

The Wachagga seem to have no word to express what we mean by "sin," nor "forgiveness." They have an idea of a God, but they seem to look upon Him with a kind of fatalism; as when a man is ill and they give him a medicine, and yet the man gets worse, they do not attribute any inefficacy to the medicine, but simply say, "God forbids him to be cured."

We thank God that He has thus given us favour with Mandara, but at first it was very hard. He seemed as though he did all he could to oppress us. I think the preceding Europeans who have visited him are partly to blame, as they promised him all sorts of things, knowing that they would never probably see him again in this world.

On January 1st of this year, Mr. Wray writes:—

Our relations with Mandara have been very friendly; we still pay him our weekly visits; sometimes he sends for us in between. One day, having summoned us to court, he handed me three books, a Prayer-book, hymn-book, and a Scripture story-book, all in the Swahili language, and asked me to read him something. I read and explained to him the first two chapters of the latter, which he apparently took in with delight. He then pointed out to me the picture, and said, That is Adam and Eve being driven out of the garden, and the angel's name is Gabriel. This is a piece of information he has picked up from some of our caravan porters. He then gave me a tract in English to read and interpret to him: it was about Herod and the flight into Egypt; he said Herod was a bad man. Mandara has a wonderful memory; if he is told anything he rarely forgets it, he often uses the English "no" in conversation, if he wants to emphasize a negative.

Mandara's greed.

One of the difficulties that arose subsequently was that Mandara stopped the market because a caravan with supplies had arrived after sunset! "The real cause was that he could not send out his spies," i.e. to claim some of the goods.

III.—U-SAGARA, U-NYAMWEZI, &c.

The four stations on the regular route from Zanzibar to the Victoria Nyanza have all been the scene of patient missionary labour during the year. Eleven missionaries, two of them with their wives, have been distributed among these stations. The first of the four, Mamboia, has now another missionary grave. On Sept. 5-8 arrived Mr. Douglas Hooper, with his two assistants, Mr. Burr and Mr. Taylor, on their way to the interior; but all three were ill and exhausted, and were carried up the hill to the station. Mr. Burr died on the 8th. His last intelligible words were, "Peace, perfect peace," and "You know the commandment, Do all to the glory."

Death of Mr. Burr.

Dr. Baxter was sent for from Mpwapwa, and at once ordered Mr. Taylor home. Mr. Hooper, with whom the Committee deeply sympathize, went on again with the doctor, and has since reached the Lake.

U-SAGARA MISSION: MAMBOIA AND MPWAPWA.

Mamboia.

Mr. J. Roscoe has been at MAMBOIA during the year. In November Mr. Jeanes arrived from the coast, and in March, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Watt,—the latter without the little child they took out from England, who had died on the march. The work of the Mission has been encouraging. The Christian services are largely attended, and the surrounding villages have begun voluntarily to recognize Sunday as a day of rest.

Sunday observance.

Mpwapwa.

At MPWAPWA have been Dr. and Mrs. Baxter and the Rev. J. C. Price; while the Rev. H. Cole, who rejoined the Mission towards the close of the year, is again at his old farm-station six miles off, Kisokwe. Dr. and Mrs. Baxter have suffered the loss of their first-born child, a daughter, born May 6, who only lived three months. Mr. Price, in a letter dated Nov. 30, begged that friends at home would not grow weary of praying for Mpwapwa. It would be easy, he said, to have baptisms, if he baptized people willing to please the white man, but with very vague notions of Christianity and the Christian life; but it is always most important that the first converts should be true ones, and well instructed. However, the Committee have been thankful to hear that the first-fruits of the station have at last been gathered. Two persons were baptized at Mpwapwa on Christmas Day, and one at Kisokwe on the Sunday following.

First-fruits.

Journey through U-Gogo.

Mr. Price made an important two months' journey through U-Gogo in the autumn, visiting many villages where an Englishman had never been seen before. He met with a very encouraging reception; and much interest was shown in the Gospel message. "Some phases of truth," he says, "it is very difficult to explain to these people;" but he finds they take in the idea of redemption:—

Africans understanding "Redemption."

> Thus, if a man has slaves, and these slaves have run away, or given themselves up to other masters (which they do by going and breaking something belonging to the man to whom they wish to give themselves up, in which case the former master often has to pay nearly the market value to redeem his runaway slaves), or if they have been stolen or otherwise taken away, and he wishes to get back his slaves, he takes oxen or goats, or cloth to redeem them; but would any man give his own son to redeem his slaves? No! his slaves are his property, but his son is part of himself. He loves his son. True! but God gave up His only Son to redeem us, His runaway slaves! and if we will only go back to Him, our rightful Master, He will make us His children. One man asked when God first came into existence, or whether he was born like men! It is not so easy to answer the former part of the question, as they have no word to express "eternity," or "for ever," as far as I know.

The account of one chief, at a place called Kitalalu, is particularly interesting :—

Went to see the chief of Kitalalu, Msimami, and took him some cloth and a cake of tobacco, but the shrewd old man (rather nice-looking, with a fine forehead) said he did not wish me to leave his country to-morrow as though I were driven away, and as it was getting dark I had better take my present back to camp, and come again to-morrow morning when we could see each other properly. He should like, he said, to give me two or three oxen, which of course was only a gentle hint that he wanted a larger present. He also had several tusks of ivory which he would like to sell to me, but I told him I did not come to trade. So I left him with the promise to come again in the morning.

Went to see the chief again, and of course he wanted more cloth than I took him as a present. These people are utter strangers to the proverb about "looking a gift horse in the mouth!" Still I took rather a fancy to the old man. Although he congratulated me on knowing Chi-Gogo, he would not speak directly to me, but used Kitindi as a go-between, not exactly as interpreter, for he simply repeated what we each said. He gave me a nice lot of milk, and what I could not drink of it then, he told Kitindi to take to camp for me. He said he was very sorry I did not come and camp near to his tembè, and so was I too, when I found they had nice fresh water quite close at hand. When I told him that I had come into U-gogo to tell the people the news about God and His love, he said, surely I could not go away without telling him all about it, and if I intended to leave Kitalalu to-morrow, I must tell him now. He appeared most interested in all I said, and remarked that it was good news indeed. When I had done he told those who were present, except Kitindi and myself, to go away, as he had something he wanted to say privately. So when they were gone, he wanted to know how to pray to God. So we told him just to go and speak to God alone, away from everybody else, to tell Him what he wanted just as we were speaking to each other then, that although he could not see God, God could see him and hear him. Then he said he wanted two things—to be liked by his people and to get rain. I did not discourage him in this, or tell him he ought first to pray for spiritual blessings, for even if he began by praying only for rain, &c., that would be a "coming to God." "He that cometh to God must believe that He is, and that He is the rewarder of such as diligently seek Him," and he really seemed to be in earnest in believing that God is present everywhere, and can hear when we pray to Him. He asked about Nkhumbiko and Uganga. I told him they were all no use, he was simply to pray to speak to God. I left him saying that I too would pray for him. Lord manifest Thyself to him. I spoke about going to Nyambwa, but he strongly advised me not to go, as the Wa-Nyambwa were very bad, they would steal what they could, and perhaps kill some of my men. He would not give me permission (!) to go there from his place, for if evil befell me, I should then say it was his fault for not telling me!—very kind, surely!

An African chief inquiring how to pray.

The extent and effect of the German settlements or "annexations" in U-Sagara and the neighbouring districts are very uncertain. The Committee have been in communication with the Foreign Office regarding the Society's interests, and have received satisfactory assurances that missionary work will not be impeded.

U-NYAMWEZI MISSION: UYUI.

Mr. C. Stokes and the Rev. J. Blackburn were at this station the greater part of the year. The former sent the following interesting account of the first-fruits of the work, seven persons baptized on July 12:—

First-fruits at Uyui.

The names of the candidates are as follows:—

(1) Saburi (patience), a native of Mbisa, near the Yao country; Mr. Copplestone's old faithful and now Mr. Blackburn's servant.

(2) Feraji (comfort), an M-Ganda given me by Jumba, chief of canoes in Bu-Ganda, and transferred by me to Mr. Copplestone.

(3) Sunguru (rabbit), an M-Nyamwezi given me by late chief of Uyuvi, Magembigana (hundred spades).

(4) Chasama (open-mouth), a native of U-Sukuma, given me by Chasama, chief of C.M.S. district Msalala.

(5) Mshata (knock-knee'd), an M-sumbwa of U-Nyamwezi, given Mr. Blackburn by late chief of Uyuvi.

(6) Mulimo (work) Takama, of U-Nyamwezi, given Mr. Blackburn by late chief.

(7) Safari (journey), a native of Luwemba, given to Mr. Blackburn by late chief of Uyuvi.

I hope these baptisms will be the means of many more coming forward to confess Christ.

The case of Saburi is, I believe, a genuine conversion. All the rest are most promising young boys, who have been under instruction for a long time, except Chasama, who came to me last Christmas, and I trust is truly converted from heathenism to Christianity. He now reads well, as can most of them, but I think he particularly so. All can repeat the Creed, the Lord's Prayer, and the Ten Commandments, and make fair answers.

When Blackburn asked Saburi why he wanted to be baptized, his answer was simply delightful: "Because I love Jesus;" and this in his own simple way, without prompting.

He is spokesman, and indeed father to the lot, and I'll never forget the evening after prayers when Blackburn asked them all, "Who wants to be baptized?" "All of us," said good old Saburi; and I believe he hastily expressed the wish of every heart.

We have, as you know, for a long time refrained from baptizing, but after careful consideration and prayer (certainly not hastily or lightly), at their own request, we have decided to present them in faith to the Lord, and, obeying His command by baptism, beseech Him to receive them and baptize them with His Spirit.

In October, Mr. Stokes, by instructions received from Bishop Hannington, went to Msalala, took the mission-boat Eleanor, and crossed the lake diagonally to Sendege on its eastern side, in order to meet the Bishop and convey him to U-Ganda; but hearing nothing of the caravan, he returned. As is now known, the Bishop had gone by a more northerly route direct to Kavirondo. Mr. Stokes has since retired from the Society's service, and Mr. Blackburn has been obliged to come home to recruit his health.

MSALALA.

Patient work at a new station.

The Rev. E. C. Gordon and Mr. Wise have continued at this station. They were joined by Mr. Douglas Hooper in November. Mr. Gordon thus wrote in July last year:—

The fact of my being alone for a long time gave me very little opportunity to attend to the language, and give time to the study of it, the men requiring the greater part of my time and attention. They are so like children as regards work, and can scarcely be left alone. The work is not similar to that in Buganda with respect to opportunities to be seized and employed. We have no eager seekers after knowledge, no thirst for book-lore, which can be turned to the best advantage by teaching the thirsty learners to read, and putting the Book of books into their hands. Here we have a hunger and thirst, a real demand for cloth. They say, "We will work for cloth at almost any price or rate you like to give."

At present I have sixteen youths, whom I engage to attend to the cattle and goats, and to collect firewood. They have most of them mastered the alphabet, and are ready to proceed with syllables. I teach them mid-day, when the cattle are resting, according to custom in this land. Some of them show no mean capabilities. I am glad to say the Wanyamwesi highly appreciate, and I may say are exceedingly fond of music. When living in the village last year I used thoroughly to enjoy their occasional musical performances, and I quite miss them. They take place on moonlight nights, and, after arrival here, I was tempted last year, on a great occasion, to go purposely and hear them. On this special occasion the women accompanied the men, one of the latter, with a fine tenor voice, acting as leader. The second night I went they were overcome by too much revelling and drinking, and the musical part was at a standstill. I endeavour to cultivate this taste, and am teaching them, i.e. the youths, Kiswahili hymns, which they learn quickly, although the language is quite strange to them. A short time ago some youths, who have gone home, were able to sing a number of hymns from memory, and we had quite lively meetings on Sunday afternoons, together with the few of our own men who know them. Chasama [the chief] himself used to be a very regular attendant, lately he has become irregular, and comes occasionally.

African love of music.

The village destroyed.

In February, the village was attacked by enemies and destroyed, and the chief Chasama carried away captive. The whole country has been desolated by war, and there are no people left near the station.

IV.—U-GANDA.

Trials and mercies in U-Ganda.

Last year the Committee reported the death of King Mtesa, and the accession of his son Mwanga, in October, 1884; but there was no later information. It was not until September, 1885, that accounts reached England of the history of the six months to May. It was a story of distressing trials and signal mercies. The three missionaries, the Revs. P. O'Flaherty and R. P. Ashe and Mr. Mackay, had been preserved in safety, and more converts had been baptized; but great anxieties had beset the Mission, and three Christian lads had been roasted to death.

Several causes combined at the beginning of 1885 to arouse the violent temper of the young king. Mr. Mackay returned from Msalala without the additional missionaries who were expected, and from whom Mwanga was hoping to get fresh presents. The rumours of white men in U-Soga, based on Mr. Thomson's journey, were prevalent. The

A time of trial: Converts seized.

Christian lads who came to the Sunday services were complained of for deserting the work allotted them by their masters. Then some of them were arrested for attempting to leave the country with Mr. Mackay, when in fact they were only accompanying them to the port where his boat was. He and Mr. Ashe were stopped on the road thither by an armed force, and compelled to return to the capital. Being unable to get access to the king, they appealed to the Katikiro (chief judge and virtual premier), but were ejected from his presence with violence and insult:—

The Missionaries attacked.

> The Katikiro said he had been told that we had appropriated a host of the king's badu (slaves); and working himself into a fury he continued, "You are always taking away our people and returning with hosts of Bazungu (Europeans), and secreting them in Busoga behind Buvuma with the intention of eating up our country." Then, turning to Mujasi, he roared, "To-morrow morning take your army and tie up Filipo (O'Flaherty) and this other Muzungu and Mackay, and drive them back to the country from which they came." While Mujasi and his men outside rose and brandished their spears, as they do in starting for war, we took the Katikiro by the hand and begged him not to give such an order, as we were friends and had done no wrong. He shrunk back, however, in a rage, only saying that we abused them every day as being savages. We could make no reply, for we were pulled out of the house and thrown violently about, finding ourselves pushed out of the gate and the mob already squabbling as to who would appropriate our different articles of clothing. We were perfectly helpless, expecting only the worst, for a mob has no mercy, when suddenly they let us alone, and we returned without further molestation to our house.
> Then we all three joined in pouring our hearts in prayer to our Heavenly Father, commending ourselves to His almighty protection, and asking guidance.

A timely present appeased both Mwanga and the Katikiro, and earnest efforts were made to effect the release of the boys in custody. Three were liberated, but two of these reported as follows:—

That they had been taken with Kakumba and Ashe's boy, as also, Serwanga, a tall, fine fellow, a baptized lad whom Mujasi (the leader of the hostile party) had caught, and Duta's wife, Sarah, and her child, to a place outside the capital. That Serwanga, Kakumba, and Ashe's boy had been tortured by having their arms cut off and were then bound alive to a scaffolding, under which a fire was made, and they were slowly burnt to death. Mujasi and his men mocked them, and bade them pray now if Isa Masiya [Jesus Christ] would rescue them from his hands. The dear lads clung to their faith, and in the fire they sang, Killa siku tunsifu (the hymn, "Daily, daily sing the praises").

Three boys roasted to death.

"Our hearts breaking," wrote Mr. Mackay, closing his journal entry for that day, Jan. 31st.

This distressing information—and yet not without cause for thankfulness and joy—was afterwards confirmed by other testimony. Mr. Mackay was anxious not to overstate the facts. He observed that it was not a case of "religious persecution" pure and simple. It was a burst of fury against the Englishmen and any who consorted with them. Still the fact that the lads were taunted with their faith in the Lord Jesus Christ, and died singing His praises, may justly claim for them the right to a place in the noble army of martyrs. The Committee thank God for the witness He enabled them to bear.

Plans for the converts.

The missionaries now, in the near probability of being compelled to leave, made plans for the incipient organization, if so it may be called, of the Native Church they would leave behind. Half a dozen "of the more staid and advanced men," having besides "a respectable standing among their fellows," were chosen to be leaders or elders, to conduct services at various centres in case of the regular services at the Mission being discontinued. Of the Church Prayers, and the texts, hymns, &c., which had been prepared, 1000 copies were printed for distribution. But the storm blew over, and, through God's mercy, the Mission went on.

Meanwhile, neither Christians nor inquirers seemed at all daunted. On Feb. 22nd, Mr. Mackay wrote:—

We have had daily help [in printing] from several of our best pupils. Considerable numbers still come on Sundays, while those in greatest danger of arrest come at nights. Not a few have been eager for baptism, and have, after examination, been admitted into the visible Church. Strange that the present trial has rather increased than diminished the desire to become Christians. We ourselves are astonished at the fortitude of many. Even some of Mujasi's own men who helped to entrap us have come for instruction. One of these was so impressed by the behaviour of our dear boys under torture of knife and fire, that he has determined to learn to pray also.

The king friendly again,

Up to the end of May, twenty more persons had been baptized, making 108 in all. Meanwhile, the capricious young king again became friendly, and promised that Mr. Mackay should give him further instruction in reading and in Christian truth:—

and receiving instruction.

10*th*.—Saw the king quite alone—gates and doors all closed for fear of intrusion. I began at the beginning, and gave him an account of God's purpose in Creation and Redemption, showing him that man was made to glorify God and enjoy Him for ever, and not to merely gratify the lusts of the flesh for a few short years, and perish like the brutes. He listened well, asking questions now and then, and giving me a present of a fat bullock when I came away. He promised to learn, but said that he was terribly thwarted by some old chiefs.

In July, the work was growing. "We have finished a large hall for church and school. On Sundays the place is packed. Our weekday school is so well attended that we cannot do justice to all." On July 26th, there was a congregation of 173 souls, and 35 communicants.

Alarm at the German "invasion."

In September, began the alarm about the German "invasion" and the approach of Bishop Hannington; and in October the Bishop arrived in U-Soga, and was cruelly murdered, as already mentioned. The position in U-Ganda itself at the time of the massacre, and afterwards, must be described here; and it can best be done by some brief extracts from Mr. Mackay's Journal:—

Mr. Mackay's Journal.

Sunday, Oct. 25th, 1885.—Soon after dawn one of the king's lads, who had come to morning prayers, told us that last night news had arrived at the palace that two Englishmen had come to Busoga,* one being a tall middle-aged man, and the other a youth. The elder was reported to have lost a thumb. From this we felt sure that it was our Bishop. An hour later, another page reported that the white men had been put in stocks, and, further, that the king had determined to kill them. By this time the chapel was full, all reading in classes, as usual, before the ordinary service. We called the Church elders into my room, and agreed at once to dismiss the congregation, in case of sudden arrest. We then had prayer, and they left. Ashe and myself started for the palace.†

News of the Bishop's arrest;

26*th*.—Believing that after killing the Bishop they would next resolve to kill ourselves, we wrote a few notes containing information respecting the king's order to kill the Bishop, and gave these to several of our Christian people to keep, and try to send by-and-by to Msalala. We believe they are able to secrete them, unless themselves arrested.

* There was really no second white man.

† They failed to see the king, though they made repeated applications.

28*th.*—S——, of the king's store, came early. He reports that king and Katikiro are eager to know who told us of their design to murder the Bishop and his party. Many of the pages and other lads in the palace are Christians, and now they are suspected of giving us the information. They fear being all killed, but do not shrink. The devotion and courage of these young Christians are wonderful.

29*th.*—Writing out final revision of St. Matthew. Ashe busy setting it up. A time of persecution has always here been a printing time. The future is ominous and dark, but God has ever been to us better than our fears.

30*th.*—After dark Ismail came to tell us that messengers had returned from Busoga with the tidings that the white men had been killed, and all their porters. Oh, night of sorrow! What an unheard-of deed of blood! And of his death.

Sunday, Nov. 1*st.*—It was this day last week we heard of the arrival of our dear brethren. What a week of dreadful anxiety and sorrow this last week of October has been! Now is the time to actually carry out our former plan, viz. to get our Church elders to assemble their friends in each neighbourhood, and have worship in their houses. We have now ten elders, and these could hold as many meetings simultaneously. While the present suspicion lasts, we only increase it by collecting crowds on our own premises.

3*rd.*—Every day several of our people spend some hours with us and we get progress made with revision of St. Matthew. To-day Ashe got proof of the first sheet.

5*th.*—Nine lads baptized to-day. They have been under instruction for many months. Baptisms.

6*th.*—Several more catechumens applied to-day for baptism, but did not receive it. They left much disappointed.

11*th.—Tumah and Tohar went to the palace, to present yesterday's present to the king. They returned in the forenoon, saying that Mwanga was in a rage, and ordered us to come ourselves and explain. Ashe and myself went up, commending ourselves to God, as we had done with the goods, for we little expected to return alive. We found Père Lourdel † in the store. He told us that the king was eager to find out who had told us, and that he meant to kill us. We were all three soon called in.

"What did we mean by the present at this time?" We replied that we had gone repeatedly to the court, and the king had refused to see us. We feared that he was angry with us, for some unknown reason, and we did not know that we had done anything to offend him. We had written him a letter, asking news of our brethren in Busoga, and got no answer; and now we came to him beseeching him to tell us about them. "Who told you of Bazungu being in Busoga?" No answer. He then said, "I see that there are double-tongued lads here, who tell you my secrets." After a deal of cross-questioning, they failed to get an answer. Again and again, and yet again, they demanded who was our informant. We declined to mention any one. Mwanga then tried passion. He would kill any one found at our station. We were bagwaga (low savages), who tried to get at his secrets. Other names of abuse he likewise called us. Perils at the palace.

Our weary interview had lasted more than two hours, and then we were allowed to depart. We returned home weary, but grateful to our Heavenly Father, who had preserved us in this great danger, for we little expected to see liberty or life more.

12*th.*—Gabunga, the young "lord of the lake," sent a message at midnight, asking when we could baptize him. So it is and ever will be. Some will press into the kingdom even in times of greatest trial.

13*th.*—Helping Ashe at printing. We "got ready" and printed off 350 copies of the first sheet of St. Matthew in Luganda.

More baptisms.

Some of the Church elders sent a note asking Ashe to go to Nua's house, about a mile off, to baptize Gabunga and about a dozen others. He went, and, after examination, baptized Gabunga and five others, mostly Gabunga's lads.

15*th.*—A force of men passed by our gate this afternoon. We hear that they are Mujasi's, and that they have been ordered to rob and burn alive the king's head-page, Balikudembe, also called Mukasa. The accusation seems to be that he informed on the king. This fine tall lad has been a faithful servant to Mwanga ever since he became king. Formerly he read with me a Gospel and the Acts, along with Mulumba, Mwana wa Kintu, and others. Afterwards, the Roman Catholics got hold of all these. He has, however, continued friendly to us, and spoke well for us to the king last February, when we were in deep trouble. May the Lord and Saviour, whom he has learned to trust, be with the poor lad in this hour of horror and death, and give him a joyous entrance into the happy land.

Another boy burnt alive.

We hear that orders have been given to arrest also Sebwato (Nikodemo), one of our people, a sub-chief of the Katikiro. We fear a general arrest of all the well-known Christians.

Poor Balikudembe! The first report was that he had given the king some native medicine which made his eyes smart, and that he was arrested for that. Now we hear that he had said to Mwanga that it was wrong to kill the Bishop, as white men were benefactors of the country. The king was wrathful, and sent for the Katikiro, to whom he said, "This fellow has insulted me." The order was at once given to burn him alive. When he was tied up, the king mocked him, saying, "This is the fellow who was always wanting to teach me, and told me to put away my charms." Brave lad, Mukasa! Thou hast witnessed faithfully for thy Master here below. Enter into the joy of thy Lord.

Our Christians in the king's service are all in great fear. They have never made any secret of their profession, and now they are all under suspicion, and fear being put to death at any moment. Several of them have been condemned to death, to be burnt alive for having gone to see Balikudembe after he was tied up.

29*th.*—First Sunday in Advent. May it be blessed of our dear Lord as the dawn of a brighter year to this benighted land.

"Their own gospel."

Dec. 8*th.*—The whole of the Sermon on the Mount now in type. Every proof-sheet we distribute several copies of among our people, and have their corrections and emendations before going to press. They take a deep interest in the work in this way, and are proud to have their own Gospel.

The whole journal is published in the C.M. Intelligencer of June, 1886. These brief extracts give but a meagre account of the anxieties and sufferings of the six weeks covered by them. But they show that God's work has gone on uninterruptedly; converts being baptized even in the midst of imminent peril, and the task of putting the word of God into the hands of the people being vigorously prosecuted. That is a significant entry of Oct. 29th, "A time of persecution has always been here a printing time;" i.e. when the missionary's time is not absorbed by constant visitors, he is able to utilize it at the printing-press; so that in this way there is progress. "If this work be of God, ye cannot overthrow it."

"A time of persecution a printing time."

The latest date from U-Ganda is Jan. 31st. Mr. O'Flaherty had obtained permission to leave, and he has since come down to Mpwapwa.

Some really beautiful specimens of printing on the spot, in the language of the country, have been received, comprising Morning and Evening Prayer, Baptismal Service, some sheets apparently containing the Creed, Lord's Prayer, and Ten Commandments, and some prayers, and also several hymns; all carefully and repeatedly revised; and, since these, the first complete fragment of the New Testament, St. Matt. i.-vii.

EGYPT MISSION.

Cairo, 1882.

Amid the agencies which have been set on foot by various parties in England for the promotion of Christianity in Egypt, the C.M.S. Mission occupies but a humble place. One solitary missionary, whose thirty-five years' of service involve other effects as well as experience of Oriental peoples and the Arabic tongue, is all that can be allotted by the Society to one of the great Mohammedan centres of the world. But in Mohammedan lands quiet work is the best; and the Rev. F. A. Klein, though deeply conscious of the heavy trials of spirit which every missionary in such fields must expect, is not left without encouragement, though the discouragements are many, as his report will show:—

One missionary for Egypt.

Bible and Book Depôt.

The various means we have during the last year also employed in order to benefit the few hungry and thirsty, and many "having need of nothing," have again been the same as in former years.

1. Our Bible and Book Depôt has been the means of circulating a greater number of copies of the Word of God among Christians, Jews, and Moslems, than in any former year, in a variety of languages, Arabic, Turkish, Armenian, Servian, Greek, Hebrew, English, French, Italian, and German. These books have not been distributed gratis and at random, but sold; and thus we are warranted in supposing that the purchasers value them, and will read and study them. We have been greatly helped in this part of the work by two colporteurs, a Jewish proselyte and a converted Moslem, whom Mr. Weakley, the British and Foreign Bible Society's agent, allowed to work here under my superintendence. The reports of their intercourse with Christians, Jews, and Moslems, are full of interest.

Reading-room.

The Reading-room connected with our Bible depôt, though not made use of by the Natives as much as I expected and could wish, has, nevertheless, done good service, and we could not do without it. It has frequently given myself and my assistants opportunities of meeting people of various classes and denominations for conversation, advice, and instruction. Among the Moslems there is nothing like a spirit of inquiry about Christianity. We have had, occasionally, a few Moslems buying our books, visiting our rooms and coming to our Lord's Day services, but these are exceptions to the rule. I hope and pray that the many copies of the Mizan-ul-Haqq and Al Kindi which have been bought in the course of last year, not only by Christians, but also by Moslems—and these, of course, of the more intelligent class—will become the means of opening the eyes of some, at least, and lead them to search the Scriptures and thereby find eternal life.

Visits to Natives.

2. Visiting Natives, particularly Moslems, in their own quarters, has chiefly been the work of our Native catechist, who has devoted to this important work several days in the week, with, on the whole, not very encouraging results. As a rule, he was, on his first and second visit, received with Oriental politeness, but when the people had found out what was the real object of his visits, they were either too busy to listen or declined to receive further visits.

Services.

3. Lord's Day Services.—Our Arabic services have been held regularly, for the greater part of the year, in our chapel, and, when we had to give it up, in the hall of my dwelling-house. The attendance varies greatly, but we never have a large audience.

Schools.

4. Schools.—One of the most promising branches of missionary work in these eastern countries, and especially so with regard to the Moslem population, is, no doubt, the education of the rising generation.

School at Gizeh.

Our school at Gizeh—with above 60 pupils, half of them Moslems—progressed in a very satisfactory manner, until, for various reasons, I was obliged to discharge the head teacher (a Copt). He then set up an opposition school and took with him nearly all the pupils. I then succeeded in engaging the services of a teacher of some experience, and his wife, both members of the Protestant congregation, and I was much pleased thus to be able to begin a girls's-chool. After a trial of a month, however, the good couple made demands which I could not satisfy, and they removed to Cairo in order here to open a school on their own account. I hope after some time, however, to find a pious Protestant, well-qualified teacher, and with his assistance to get our school again into its former, and I trust even better state of efficiency. Difficulties, obstacles, and opposition we must be prepared to meet with in these countries, and not be discouraged by them.

Our second school, I have been led, after due consideration, to open at Old Cairo. I am happy to say that I have found a pious, earnest, and well-trained Protestant teacher to take charge of it.

Baptism of an Egyptian Moslem.

In June last year, Mr. Klein was privileged to baptize an Egyptian Mohammedan, who gave evidence of sincere faith, and who had to undergo much persecution, and separation from his wife. The sponsors on the occasion were Miss M. L. Whately, Mr. Azùri (her medical missionary), and Major Seton Churchill.

ARABIA MISSION.

Five reasons for occupying Aden.

LAST year it was mentioned that the Society's old and tried friend, General Haig, had pressed upon the Committee the claims of ADEN as a missionary centre. There are certainly five good reasons why the Church Missionary Society should occupy that port. (1) It is almost in the very heart of the Mohammedan world, in which the Society is so peculiarly interested. (2) It is the one British possession whence certain parts of that world are accessible, and the one point on the vast continent of Western Asia where there is religious liberty. (3) It is the door to Southern Arabia, a country never yet penetrated by missionaries, and many of whose people visit Aden and can be reached there. (4) Arabic is one of the C.M.S. languages. The Turkish-speaking peoples the Society leaves to the American Societies; but Arabic is used in the C.M.S. Missions in Palestine, in Egypt, at Baghdad, and to some extent also in the Indian and African fields. (5) On the African coast, opposite Aden, are the Somali people, and, if they could be reached, there would be a link with the East Africa Mission.

These considerations led the Committee to the conclusion that the Lord has been pleased, as on so many former occasions in missionary history, to use the interest and influence of a Christian officer to guide the Society to a new field in accordance with His will. They did not, however, feel justified in diverting from the existing Missions any men or means that could be employed in strengthening them; but they resolved to begin an ARABIA MISSION at Aden if, through General Haig's efforts or otherwise, volunteers should come forward, and special resources be supplied. The General has by voice and pen sought to arouse an interest in the project among the Society's friends; and although men and means have not been forthcoming quite in the way expected, the Committee were glad to appoint to Aden a medical graduate of Trinity College, Dublin, Mr. F. J. Harpur, B.A., M.B., B.Ch., whose health was not suited to a tropical climate except at a place of peculiar dryness like Aden; and also to appropriate to the Mission a sum of 1000*l.*, specially given for new work among Mohammedans.

Plans for Aden.

Dr. and Mrs. Harpur left in October for Cairo, and remained there for some months, studying Arabic, and learning something of missionary work under Mr. Klein. In March last they proceeded to Aden, with the earnest desire that the Lord would there open a door for them to the people of Southern Arabia. In the meanwhile, another Mission has been begun by the Hon. Ion Keith-Falconer, well-known at Cambridge as an Orientalist, in connection with the Free Church of Scotland. Mr. Keith-Falconer proposes to settle at Sheikh Othman, a few miles from the port; and there seems no reason why both Missions should not find plenty of work to do.

PALESTINE MISSION.

Bible Lands the hardest soil.

THE Lands of the Bible, now, to the grief and humiliation of every thoughtful Christian, the Mohammedan Lands of the East, remain the hardest of mission-fields. The Society continues to stand upon the watch-tower, witnessing for the True Prophet of Jehovah, Christ the Son of God, and waiting upon God in unceasing supplication till the day of blessing comes, as come it assuredly will. Meanwhile, tokens of His presence and favour are not wanting. In EGYPT, as already mentioned, Mr. Klein has baptized a Mohammedan convert; and in PALESTINE and PERSIA instances are recorded of Mohammedans being convinced of the truth of Christianity, though unable to face almost certain death by coming out bodily for Christ. The success of the Society's schools in Palestine has had the effect of rousing the Turkish authorities to energetic action against the attendance at them of Moslem children. Some of the mission schools are being peremptorily closed; while all over Palestine Mohammedan schools are being opened. But as the Rev. C. T. Wilson says, "Until Bishop Gobat opened schools, nothing whatever was done for the education of the young. Alarmed by his success, Greeks and Latins, aided by Russian and French money, opened schools, followed now, at length, by the Turkish Government. One result of all this will be that the rising generation will be better educated; and from this we, as Protestant missionaries, have nothing to fear and everything to hope." But Mr. Wilson (who was formerly in U-Ganda) adds, "The country seems to me less hopeful in a missionary point of view than any part of Central Africa. Religion has been for so many years political, and the Christians have been so pauperized by the immense sums spent on them by the Latin and Greek Churches, that few of them have an idea of anything beyond a mere external religion; while misrule and oppression have degraded the fellahín almost to the level of their cattle."

Turkish opposition to Mission schools.

Some rearrangement of the missionary staff in Palestine has taken place. The Rev. J. Huber has been transferred from Nazareth to Gaza, and the Rev. T. F. Wolters from Jerusalem to Nazareth. The Rev. W. F. Connor has been placed in charge of all the Trans-Jordanic work. Of the Native clergy, the Rev. S. Boutaji has been transferred from Haifa to Nazareth, the Rev. M. Kawar from Jerusalem to Haifa, and the Rev. Nasir Odeh from Nazareth to Jerusalem. The Committee have with much satisfaction added to the staff the Rev. Robert Elliott, M.A. and M.B., the medical missionary formerly in the Santál Mission, and the Rev. Henry Sykes, M.A., late curate of All Saints, Hereford.

The Mission staff.

Bishop Cheetham, formerly of Sierra Leone, visited Ordination by Bishop Cheetham.

Palestine this spring, and, under a commission from the Archbishop of Canterbury, admitted to priests' orders the Revs. W. F. Connor, Ibrahim Baz, and Murad-el-Haddad, all of whom received deacons' orders from the late Bishop Hannington at Christmas, 1884. The ordination took place at Jaffa on Easter Day.

A new agency in Palestine has been set on foot by means of a special grant from the British and Foreign Bible Society for the support of four Bible-women. Mr. Hall's first report of their work is very encouraging :—

Work of Bible-women.

The work of the four Bible-women during the year 1885 was most encouraging, and we have every reason to praise God for the way in which opposition has been overcome and the people inclined to listen to the Word of God.

In Jerusalem the Bible-woman employed is one who has had many years' experience of the work of proclaiming the Gospel to her country-women. She is a very bright and earnest Christian, much beloved wherever she goes, and very clever in her methods of overcoming prejudice and fanaticism. When she first commenced work in Jerusalem she was treated very coldly and rudely, even by women who are accustomed to attend our services, and the Greek and Latin and Moslem women were indignant at the idea of any woman thinking that she could teach them anything, or presuming to urge them to purchase and to study carefully the Word of God. But now all is different. The Bible-woman is welcomed wherever she goes. She is the much valued friend of her poor, degraded, ignorant sisters—hardly one of whom is able to read—and they delight to hear her read to them from the Bible of God's love and goodness, and of Jesus' wondrous work for their redemption. The mothers' meetings are well attended, and we have good hope that as the girls now in our schools grow up and take the places of their mothers, who as a rule are not able to read, the Bible-woman may have extensive sales.

The Bible-woman welcomed.

In Nablus and Gaza the work is particularly difficult, as the population of both places is principally Mohammedan. Nevertheless the Bible-women are able to visit and read the Scriptures in very many families, and are heartily welcomed by not a few. Many Moslem women also attend the weekly mothers' meetings, and the knowledge of the Word of God is thus being disseminated widely throughout these two strongholds of Mohammedanism, and we feel sure that the good seed thus sown must bear fruit.

Woman's opposition overcome by woman's prayer.

In Haifa there have been, perhaps, more visible tokens of success than in the other districts. Before the Bible-woman commenced work, the women were amongst the most successful opponents of our Mission in Haifa. The mothers and sisters kept the children from going to our schools, and the wives prevented the husbands from attending our services. A woman was scarcely ever seen at our meetings, &c., in Haifa eighteen months ago, and I myself have frequently been cursed there, and pelted with stones by the Greek and Latin women in the streets. The poor Bible-woman had some terrible experiences there at first, and was very badly treated. Although an earnest Christian, she is young, and she almost gave up work in despair. But gradually—indeed I may say rapidly—the difficulties vanished in answer to earnest prayer, and now the female portion of our community outnumbers the male. Not only so, but numbers of Greek, Latin, and Moslem women who are afraid to come to our meetings, hear the Word of Life continually from the Bible-woman, and welcome her when she visits them.

We are making every effort to sell the Scriptures to the women of Palestine, and the Bible-women all make this one of their chief objects. Doubtless after a time we shall be successful, but at present the fact that very few women in this country can read, the excessive poverty of the people, the high price of the Arabic Scriptures compared with English Scriptures of the same size, render it impossible that the sales can be large for some time.

JAFFA.

The Rev. J. R. Longley Hall continues in charge of this station and district, besides discharging the important duties of Secretary of the Mission. The Rev. Murad-el-Haddad is the Native Pastor. The congregation consists of 400 persons, of whom 55 are communicants. There are 350 children at school. Mr. Hall's Annual Letter gives important illustrations of the opposition of the Turkish authorities alluded to, but at the same time shows that encouragement is met with in the work among the Mohammedans:—

Opposition of Turkish Government.

Throughout the year, the Palestine Mission has been called upon to contend with increased opposition from the Turkish Government. This may be owing partly to the fact that fresh branches of work have been opened up—such as that of the evangelist colporteurs—the success of which has irritated considerably the fanatical local officials. The Jaffa and the Gaza colporteur evangelists have both been arrested, and their books taken away from them, although these books were afterwards returned, and the work carried on as usual. The Jerusalem and Acre colporteur evangelists have been threatened several times with arrest and imprisonment.

In some places strong efforts were made, by threatening the parents with fines and imprisonment, to prevent Moslem children from coming to our schools. But on the whole these efforts to oppose the spread of the Gospel have been the very reverse of deterrent. For, whilst the Government has shown much hostility, there has been a far greater spirit of inquiry amongst the Moslems than previously. Many Moslems come to our Bible depôts, and enter into argument with reference to Christian doctrine. Our women's meetings are largely composed of Moslems.

Spirit of inquiry among Moslems.

In the places visited by our colporteur evangelists there are no lack of inquiries from Moslem villagers, indeed they are almost invariably the most attentive and interested members of the little village gatherings. In our schools, too, a very fair proportion of the children are Moslem. So that, notwithstanding Government opposition, work amongst the Moslems has been more promising during the past year than previously.

Of the work of the Mission at Jaffa and the out-stations, Mr. Hall writes,—

In Jaffa our services and meetings have been attended by about the same number of hearers as last year, and there is very much to cheer and encourage. The spiritual tone amongst the regular members of the congregation and the communicants is decidedly higher and healthier, and there is far more unity and brotherly love amongst them. They seem really anxious for each others' welfare, and desirous of bringing others within sound of the Gospel. Many of them are true Christians, and a great help and support to the work.

Jaffa and its out-stations.

I have established a prayer-meeting for the agents alone, every Saturday, to pray specially for an increase of holiness and spirituality in our own lives. On the last Saturday in each month I invite all the agents in Ramleh and Lydd to come over and join us. These meetings are greatly appreciated by the agents, and they have unquestionably been the means of very much blessing.

I cannot report any decided increase in the number of children attending our Jaffa school, although it has certainly not decreased. There would probably have been a large increase in numbers, both in the school and in the congregation, but for the vigorous and well-sustained efforts of the Greek Patriarch to draw away, and keep away from us, all those who have any connection with his church.

Our Bible-classes and prayer-meetings have been better attended than in previous years, although the numbers are still small.

The book-shop is one of our most useful agencies. Every day, and especially every afternoon, numbers come to the shop—Christians, Moslems, Jews—and read the Scriptures, or some of the religious books or papers that are laid on the tables, and very frequently commence an argument, either against Christianity, or against Protestantism. This gives a splendid opportunity for proclaiming to them Jesus Christ and Him crucified for them, in whom all that believe in Him are one, whether Jew or Gentile. It is most encouraging, that if a Moslem is present during an argument by a Latin or Greek against Protestant doctrine, the Moslem invariably gives us the strongest and most decided support. The sales in the shop are fair.

In Ramleh the work is progressing much more satisfactorily than it was twelve months ago. I was forced to dismiss the old teachers, and have now a most earnest Christian man at the head of the work there, and I trust and believe that his labours will be abundantly blessed.

At Lydd the work has suffered a good deal from the efforts of the Greek Patriarch to hinder us; but the number of Moslem children in the school is larger than it has been before.

At Abúd the wife and one of the children of the teacher died during the past year, and their prolonged illnesses hindered the teacher very much in his work. Nevertheless, there has been much encouragement.

Not only Ramleh, Lydd, and Abúd, are superintended from Jaffa, but Haifa also; which place, though far to the north, at the foot of Mount Carmel, is easily accessible by steamer. The Rev. Michael Kawar, late of Jerusalem, who was formerly a resident there as a merchant, and afterwards as a missionary under Bishop Gobat, is now stationed there as Native Pastor of the small congregation. He also visits Acca, on the opposite (northern) side of the Bay of Acre, where the Society has schools. At Haifa, there likewise reside Mrs. Jane Low, an honorary missionary of the Society (sister of the Rev. W. Hooper, Principal of the Allahabad Divinity School), and her daughter. They teach in the schools on weekdays and Sundays, superintend a Native Bible-woman named Martha, and visit the people; and they are diligently seeking to master the Arabic language.

JERUSALEM.

The work in the holy city has been chiefly divided between the veteran Rev. John Zeller and the Rev. C. T. Wilson. Mr. Wilson has suffered much in health, and in May of this year took sick leave to England. The Rev. Ibrahim Baz assists in the Preparandi Institution, and the Rev. Nasir Odeh, as already mentioned, is now pastor of the Native congregation. Mr. Zeller reports on the Institution (which has 15 students), and on the Diocesan Boarding School (which has 58 boys, its full number), and on the work of the printing-press. Of the last-named agency he says,—

The Printing-Press in Jerusalem.

> In the course of the year the following books and tracts were issued by our press and partly sent for use and sale to the different stations, partly kept here in stock:—Hanford's "Handbook on the Romish Controversy," Luther's "Commentary on the Epistle to the Galatians," and a number of tracts, viz. "Grasping the Promises," "Have you?" "David and Goliath," a poem; "Hymns," "The Spanish Wife" (a story from the Sunday at Home), "The wonder of Christ's Person," "The Little Bugler of Kassasin," "Christ is all." At present we print the "Churchman's Almanack" for the year, and continue Luther's "Commentary on the Galatians."

Mr. Wilson reports on the out-stations, Ramallah, Bir Zeit, Jiffna, Taiyibeh, and Beit Zahur; and also on the congregation and church services at Jerusalem. There are 332 members, of whom 100 are communicants. At Ramallah is stationed Mr. G. Nyland, a lay missionary from Holland.

A Native Church Council for Palestine.

A Native Church Council has been formed for Palestine, on the plan of those which have worked so well in India. The peculiar difficulties of this Mission, and the character of the people, will call for the exercise of patience in working out the scheme; but delegates have been elected by several of the congregations, and a preliminary meeting was held at Jerusalem on Jan. 14th, the Rev. T. F. Wolters being chairman, and the Rev. Chalil Jamal secretary.

GAZA.

The Rev. A. W. Schapira having returned to England, the Rev. J. Huber of Nazareth has been transferred to this station, and the Rev. R. Elliott will carry on the Medical Mission.

NABLÚS.

The Rev. C. Fallscheer, who was originally located at this town when it was a station of Bishop Gobat's, and who was accepted by the Society when it took over the Bishop's agencies, has continued his patient labours. The number of members of the congregation is not given, but there are 63 communicants. The schools, at Nablús, and at the out-stations, Rafidieh, Nisf el Jebil, and Zebaldeh, give instruction to 135 children. Of the work among Mohammedans, Mr. Fallscheer writes,—

Work among Moslems at Nablús.

Although the Mohammedans do not come to our services, yet I have much pleasure in stating that they come to our book-shops, and in our mission-house. In the villages they come to our assemblies when we speak with the people, but not when we pray. They hear our conversation with the Christians, and our exhortations. They, themselves, take part in these conversations, yet not without disputing; but before the Word of God they become silent; and we strongly believe that a quiet, unobtrusive work is going on in the hearts of some of them. And some of them have confessed that they believe in the Word of God, and that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, but they cannot turn Christians for fear they will be killed without the murderers being punished by the Government.

A "convinced" Moslem preaching Christ.

One of these convinced men, who pays, also, every month, six piastres to our Church Fund, had some weeks ago business in the villages. At one of them, he asked for our school, to lodge there, and, according to the custom of this land, the people of the village gathered round him in the evening, and he preached to the members of the Greek and Latin Churches of Christ, and that only by His righteousness we become righteous before God; and blamed them that only a few of them accept the pure Gospel.

NAZARETH.

The Rev. T. F. Wolters and the Rev. Seraphim Boutaji are now the clergy at this station. The congregations, both at Nazareth itself and at the out-stations, are in an unsatisfactory state. They are less in number than formerly, counting now only 306 members, of whom 45 are communicants; and among these, spiritual life is at a low ebb. They illustrate Mr. Wilson's remark quoted in the introductory paragraph of this Report on Palestine. Mr. Wolters, however, has been made a blessing in past years to the people at Jerusalem and at Salt, and the Committee pray that a like result may attend his ministrations at Nazareth. In the schools there are 383 boys.

SALT, AND THE HAURAN.

The Rev. W. F. Connor has been prevented by the high-handed proceedings of the Turkish authorities from taking up his residence at Irbid, as had been proposed; and orders have even been given to close the Society's schools for the Druses of the Hauran.

The Rev. Chalil Jamal gives a good account of the work at Salt. There are 306 members, of whom 45 are communicants. Services, prayer-meetings, Sunday-school, &c., have been continued as usual. The school, which (it will be remembered) was in former years praised and patronized by the Mohammedan authorities, is now opposed, and Mohammedan boys, much against their will, have been forced to leave.

PERSIA MISSION.

Varied work in Persia.

The Rev. Dr. R. Bruce and the Rev. Dr. E. F. Hoernle have continued at Julfa during the past year. The Committee have just sent out a young missionary to join them, the Rev. G. R. Ekins. Miss Read, of the Female Education Society, has rendered important service; as well as (it need scarcely be said) Mrs. Bruce. The Rev. Minasakan George is Native pastor. The congregation has increased to 207 persons, of whom 98 are communicants; and in the schools there are 207 boys and 116 girls. There are also an orphanage with 25 boarders; an industrial school, teaching three trades, weaving, shoe-making, and tailoring; a Bible and book depôt; the Bible Society's colporteurs; and the Medical Mission. The last-named agency has been Dr. Hoernle's sphere.

Most of the other agencies are superintended by Dr. Bruce; and, in addition, he has given all the time he could spare to the further revision of the Persian New Testament. His apology, therefore, for a short report, is very reasonable; but the gist of it is in the following encouraging sentence:—"On reviewing the past year, I find abundant reason to thank God for (I think I may truly say) a decided growth of spirituality and activity in some branches of our Mission work." He particularizes the new Julfa Young Men's Christian Association:—

Y.M.C.A. in Persia.

I have been especially cheered by the earnestness shown by the members of our Young Men's Christian Association. I cannot state the exact date on which I first started the Y.M.C.A., but the first entry in the journal of the association is May 6th, 1885. I suppose it is the weakest of all the numerous Y.M.C.A.'s affiliated with the London Y.M.C.A., which now encircle the globe, but He who despises not the day of small things, will bless our union for prayer, study of His Word, and labour for the extension of His kingdom.

Y.M.C.A., though so young, has already brought forth fruit. One of its members, Joseph Tharaverdi, started last week to open the school in Khargain, Feridun. The whole expenses of the school are being defrayed by funds subscribed or raised by the Y.M.C.A. itself. The great hope of the Persia-Baghdad Mission is in the young men of Julfa and Baghdad. The great desideratum of the Mission is to find the means to do more for the training of our young men. At present all I can do for them is to try and lay a good foundation of Scriptural truth in their hearts. For this purpose we are studying the Epistles of St. Paul together, and are now reading the Epistle to the Ephesians.

Of the congregation and scholars Mr. Bruce writes:—

Our congregation has increased from 89 communicants and 83 non-communicants (total 172) in 1884, to 98 communicants and 109 non-communicants (total 207) in 1885. The increase in the number of our scholars in our schools has been from 317 in 1884, to 323 in 1885. This last is a very small increase, but it would have been much greater if Miss Read, who has charge of both the girls' and infants' schools, had not been obliged to turn away numbers of applicants for want of room, &c.

BAGHDAD.

A new Medical missionary

The Rev. T. R. Hodgson has been joined by a medical missionary, Dr. Henry Martyn Sutton. There is a small congregation of Native Protestant Christians gathered from various parts. Of the evangelistic work Mr. Hodgson writes:—

Wickedness in Moslem Lands. The antidote.

"Wickedness pressed down in an ephah;" such was the seventh of Zechariah's prophetical visions. And they lifted up the ephah between the earth and the heaven, and bore it away, "to build it an house in the land of Shinar." That house has remained inhabited to this day. Why, when there is so much to admire among Mohammedans, there should be so much downright wickedness in Mohammedan countries, is a problem which the missionary, perhaps, is not called upon to solve. It is a fact he has to confront. If the Gospel is the only antidote (as we believe it is), it has been carried during the past year through the length and breadth of the land of Shinar, through the whole of Mesopotamia, almost, along the valleys of the Euphrates and the Tigris, and has reached from the frontiers of Persia to the borders of Assyria, from the ruins of Babylon to the mounds of Nineveh. During their travels through all these parts the colporteurs of the Bible Society have disposed of 1210 copies of the Scriptures, which have been bought by Moslems, Jews, Christians, Sabeans, and Yezidis. Probably a third of the above number of copies has been sold in Baghdad itself.

In fixing upon Baghdad as an outpost of the Persia Mission, the Committee chose an admirable "strategic" position, and it is necessary to keep the original motive for occupying Baghdad in view. Persian pilgrims, however, have not been able to overcome the difficulties put in the way of their visiting the shrines by both the Turkish and the Persian Governments. Recently they have begun to come in increasing numbers, and at the present time two of our agents (paid by the Bible Society) are at work in the neighbourhood of Kerbela and Nedjef, not without risk to themselves, and with every need of great caution and circumspection.

Work among Persian Pilgrims.

I have made two journeys towards the Persian frontier, on the pilgrim road, but met with no pilgrims, with the exception of a belated individual here and there, by whom the hospitality offered by my camp was much needed and thankfully received. I have been able (and record it with great thankfulness) to undertake a considerable amount of travelling throughout the year, among other places travelling through the great Bedouin country west of the Tigris to Mosul. I consider these journeys most useful in every way. The language, the country, the people, openings for our work, and the necessity of making it known, the gain of experience, and opportunity for naming the name of Christ,—are all so much in the scope of a missionary's studies and aims as to make it more than worth while to undergo the labour and risk which prolonged travelling in these parts involves.

Journeys in Mesopotamia.

I am glad to record the fact that in common with the mixed crowd of sojourners in the Turkish empire and the subject races of an alien faith, we have enjoyed such advantages of protection for person and property as the administration of the Government not inadequately provides.

INDIA.

THE Society's work in India is divided into five "Missions," corresponding with the Diocesan divisions of Calcutta, Lahore, Bombay, Madras, and Travancore and Cochin, and each with its separate administration: viz.,—"North India," "Punjab and Sindh," "Western India," "South India," and "Travancore and Cochin." Some of these "Missions," however, comprise smaller sections of the work which are themselves commonly called "Missions;" as, for example, the "Santál Mission" in North India, and the "Telugu Mission" in South India.

NORTH INDIA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived 1816.)

THE "North India Mission" comprises the work of the Society in the Diocese of Calcutta. The Bishop of Calcutta is Chairman of the Corresponding Committee. The Rev. Alfred Clifford, M.A., who had been labouring in the Krishnagar District since the death of Mr. Vaughan, and who had been acting as Secretary during the absence in England of the Rev. H. P. Parker, M.A., has now been definitely appointed Secretary, Mr. Parker having on his return to India taken up evangelistic work among the Gônds at his own earnest desire.

This Mission may be arranged in four divisions, viz. (1) Lower Bengal, including Calcutta; (2) Behar, comprising Santália and Bhágalpur; (3) the North-West Provinces; (4) the Central Provinces and Rájputána.

LOWER BENGAL.

Calcutta, 1816; Burdwan, 1817; Krishnagar, 1831.

Bengal Native Church Council.

THE C.M.S. Bengal Native Church Council held its annual meeting at Krishnagar on July 29th and 30th, the Rev. A. Clifford, the Chairman, presiding. There was a large attendance of Bengali Christians, and several European and Indian visitors, including the Bishop of Calcutta. One of the visitors, the Rev. P. M. Mukerjea, of the S.P.G., preached the sermon. At the opening service there were 150 communicants. Papers were read by Babu Daniel Biswas and the Rev. Piari Mohan Rudra on "Work among Women," and by Mr. M. L. Sandel on "How to get hold of educated young men for the work of the Church." The Treasurer, the Rev. Jani Alli, presented the accounts, and the finances were prosperous enough for the Council to forego an additional Rs. 100 of the Society's grant.

The late Dr. K. M. Banerjea.

The Committee received with much regret the news of the death, on May 11th last year, of the Rev. Dr. Krishna Mohan Banerjea, who had long been regarded as the most eminent of the Native Christians of Bengal. He was one of Dr. Duff's first converts, being baptized by him in 1832. Afterwards he joined the Church of England, and was ordained by Bishop Wilson in 1837. He was never connected with a Missionary Society, but held an independent position and was universally respected.

CALCUTTA.

Calcutta staff.

The evangelistic work in Calcutta continues to be superintended by the Rev. Dr. C. Baumann. The Rev. Jani Alli, M.A., is the missionary to the Mohammedans. The Rev. W. H. Ball has been in charge of the Divinity School and of Christ Church; the Rev. R. R. Bell, of the Boys' Boarding School (under Dr. Baumann's superintendence); and Miss H. J. Neele, of the Girls' Boarding School, assisted by Miss A. Sampson, and also of Agarpára, to which Miss L. Payne has succeeded. The Rev. C. S. Harington, M.A., is minister of the "Old Church;" and the Rev. A. Clifford (as before mentioned) is Secretary to the Calcutta Corresponding Committee. The Native clergy are the Rev. Raj Kristo Bose, who has been pastor of Trinity Church; and the Rev. Modhu Sudan Seal, who, though advanced in years, still labours at Kidderpore and its out-stations. Some outlying congregations are ministered to by catechists connected with the Bengal Church Council. The Native Christians altogether are just 1300 in number.

The Committee have been able to send two fresh labourers to Calcutta, viz. the Rev. Philip Ireland Jones, M.A. (late Vice-Principal of Ridley Hall, Cambridge, and a son of the Society's valued Ceylon missionary, the Rev. J. Ireland Jones), who is appointed Principal of the Divinity School; and also the Rev. C. H. Bradburn.

The Old Church.

Mr. Harington's Report of the Old Church is interesting as showing how much regular parochial work can be carried on in Calcutta, chiefly among the poorer English and Eurasians :—

In looking back on 1885, I would glance at our work under the following heads:—(1) Pastoral and Evangelistic; (2) Educational; (3) Miscellaneous Work.

Pastoral and Evangelistic.

I. Pastoral and Evangelistic.—1. Church Services. The attendance has been fair; the responses have gained in heartiness; choir increased. The return of the Rev. A. Clifford to Calcutta has been acceptable to all the congregation, and has gone far to compensate for the universal regret felt at Mr. Parker's departure. The Rev. W. H. Ball has given valued pulpit help.

2. The weekly prayer-meeting is scantily attended. It is very difficult to find an hour generally convenient. On the fourth Monday missionary information is given.

The Sailors' Home.

3. Major Miller, an ex-warrant-officer, is much esteemed in the Sailors' Home and in the district. The Sailors' Home morning (daily) prayers, and Sunday morning service and evening meeting have been kept up regularly, several lay friends assisting Major Miller and myself, some giving addresses, others playing the harmonium, &c. On Sunday evenings, in the absence of Colonel Lewis, the responsibility has rested on J. R. Hepburn, Esq.

4. The Welland Memorial Hall. Tuesday evening services have brought the Gospel in a simple way to a large number of East-Indians and Europeans, many of them young persons or strangers brought in by helpers who go out to draw them in.

5. The Hindustani-speaking population, who form so large a proportion of the inhabitants of the Kinthals, have been visited by Mr. A. C. Singh, who succeeded Mr. J. Lawrence, our late Urdu reader, on the death of the latter in the course of the year, and by Mrs. Hippolite, our invaluable Bible-woman. Mr. Singh holds a weekly service in the Welland Hall on Tuesday afternoons, and assists the Rev. Jani Alli on Sunday afternoons in the same place. Mr. Alli also kindly conducts the Urdu Communion service on the second Sunday morning each month. Mrs. Hippolite has an average attendance of ninety women at her weekly mothers' meeting. Two members of this meeting have died happily during the year.

6. Twelve voluntary district visitors have given great assistance in the district.

Educational.

II. Educational.—1. Welland Memorial School, late Old Church Day School. The head-master, Mr. C. Edwards, has worked faithfully since February, 1880, and has raised the tone and efficiency of the school in every way. The number of boys and girls on the books at the close of the last school-year was 105; average attendance, ninety-four. In the six years the grant has risen from Rs. 70 per mensem to Rs. 148. The inspector reports most favourably of the school, now a middle-class one. I visit it twice a week.

2. Sunday-schools, held in (i.) Old Church Mission Room. Superintendent, Captain E. Lewis, now gone home; sixteen teachers; children, over 100. (ii.) Welland Hall. Morning and evening; average attendance, sixty-seven each Sunday; morning superintendent, Mr. D. Costa; evening, J. N. Stuart, Esq. (iii.) Bow Bazaars. Afternoon, forty to fifty children; superintendent, Mr. L. A. Smith, a true friend to the poor East-Indians, who has also started an "Anglo-Indian Industrial School." In the first of these, missionary boxes are regularly handed round in aid of Dr. Baumann's work, with a result of Rs. 30 to Rs. 40 quarterly. Dr. Baumann sometimes gives a missionary address, which is listened to with much interest. An "Anglo-Indian Industrial School."

3. Old Church Parochial Home, founded by Bishop Stuart, and containing about eighteen girls. Mrs. Hippolite superintends this, with a good resident matron, and several ladies give voluntary instruction. The girls have married or gone to service. Their help in singing at the Tuesday meetings is valuable.

III. Miscellaneous.—1. Distribution of Alms. A committee of eight or nine lay members of the congregation assist in visiting and reporting on the numerous cases of distress, which are relieved as far as possible from the monthly grant of the District Charity Society and offertories.

2. The Temperance Society (C.E.T.S.) has made good progress, numbering from 150 to 200 members. The weekly meetings have been kept up with spirit.

3. The Savings' Bank has drawn a fair number of depositors, deposits amounting to over Rs. 4000.

4. The Library has 545 volumes for parochial circulation, the subscriptions, almost nominal, amounting to not quite Rs. 3 per mensem. Subscribers, about forty-five.

5. The Working Party is a weekly gathering of very poor women, who make and take home their own garments, cut of material provided for them, under the direction of ladies who meet in the mission-room for the purpose. During the year they have made 410 articles of clothing. To buy material, &c., Rs. 240 were contributed, with a large tin of tea, a cup of which, with a bun, is given to each before work begins. A few verses from the Testament, and the Lord's Prayer, in Urdu, close the meeting.

Of the Divinity School, Mr. Ball reports favourably. There have been twelve students. An interesting incident of the year was a visit from the Armenian Archbishop of Cilicia. The Archbishop addressed the students in Syriac, which his chaplain translated into English, and Mr. Ball from English into Bengali. Divinity School.

Of the Christian Boys' Boarding School, Mr. Bell sends an encouraging report. This institution is one of the most recent developments of the Society's work in Calcutta, and one of the most promising. Mr. Bell writes,— Boy's Boarding School.

There are sixty-four boarders in this school, the sons of Christian parents, many of whom come from the Krishnagar district, some from the Santali Mission, and there are also a few Burmese students, besides those who come from Calcutta and the neighbourhood. Besides these there are about twenty day-scholars, among whom are Hindus and Mohammedans, but only Christian boys are taken as boarders. The Bible is taught in every class three times a week, prayers are conducted by the head-master or monitors every morning and evening, and on Saturday evenings, instead of meeting to prepare their lessons for the next day, as on other evenings, a devotional meeting is held amongst the boys. It is opened with a hymn and prayer, after which a chapter is read and a short address given either by one of the monitors, or, I am thankful to say, sometimes by one of the elder boys; then it is closed with a hymn and prayer, lasting about an hour.

There is also a Sunday-school held in the church on Sunday afternoons, the teachers of which are the monitors, some Christian young men who are employed in the city during the week, and three or four of the elder boys. The first or Bible-class my wife takes, and has been greatly encouraged by the regular attendance and deep interest which the boys take in the lesson.

On the second Sunday evening in the month, after communion, the English-speaking boys, about twenty-five or thirty in number, meet at Dr. Baumann's house, where we all spend a very pleasant evening in singing Sankey's hymns, and Dr. Baumann reads some interesting account, from the C.M. Gleaner or other source, of missionary work going on in other parts of the world, in order to stir up a missionary spirit amongst the boys. They are also refreshed by a cup of tea and some cake, which is handed round while a pause is made, and the evening is closed with reading and prayer.

On Monday morning we commence the week by meeting in Dr. Baumann's study with all the Christian teachers for reading and prayer for God's blessing on the work of the coming week.

Confirmation. Six of the boys were presented to the Bishop for confirmation during the past year, which has proved to be in one or two cases a turning-point in their lives.

Girls' Boarding School. Miss Neele sends a satisfactory report of the Christian Girls' Boarding School, in which there are 116 girls. The class work has been successful. Many of the elder pupils and teachers are members of the Bengali Branch of the Bible and Prayer Union, and some of the juniors have joined the Children's Bible Union. A late pupil, recently married, has become Secretary of the Bengali Branch of the Young Women's Christian Association.

alcutta .M. Association. The general evangelistic work is carried on under the auspices of the auxiliary body called the Calcutta Church Missionary Association. Sir Rivers Thompson, Lieut.-Governor of Bengal, has lately become President of this Association. Dr. Baumann's Report of its agencies begins with the following summary of the work of the Native evangelists:—

Work of its Native Evangelists. The vernacular work has been carried on in the city and its environments by our Native agents, constantly, earnestly, strenuously. Whilst the Gospel is preached to every creature, some of the catechists have devoted themselves more especially to the Hindus, others to the Brahmos, others to the Mohammedans, others to the Kols and Santáls, others to the Ooriyas, and others to the Chámárs and outcasts.

During the week, they are engaged in preaching in the bazaars and bustees, or at thoroughfares and preaching chapels, or at railway-stations and the ghâts by the river-side, or in visiting the sick in the various hospitals and lazar-houses, or in exhorting their Christian brethren and in instructing the catechumens, and in the middle of the week they all issue forth into the district in the neighbourhood of Calcutta to tell of the Gospel of Christ to the heathen in the villages. On Sundays they do pastoral work of one kind or other, either by holding services, or by instructing in Sunday-schools, or by ministering to the sick who cannot attend church.

They keep written records of each day's work, and present them to the senior missionary every Saturday for revision and remark. Every Saturday afternoon they all come to the Mission compound for a united prayer meeting, and tell their experiences in connection with their respective spheres of work, and by reading the Word of God, and by singing and prayer, refresh and strengthen themselves for the following week's work.

Instruction of Native Servants.

Another branch of work in which these agents are engaged is the important one of Instruction of Native Servants. Every week about 400 of this spiritually-neglected class are taught the Word of God. But, as Dr. Baumann remarks, 400 only represent one tithe of those who serve in English households. Few masters and mistresses feel the slightest responsibility regarding them. There are a few, however, and the result of the efforts of one is thus recorded, by the pen of a Wesleyan lady missionary :—

Baptism of Native Servants.

On Monday, the 9th October, a very impressive service was witnessed in the compound of the C.M.S. Mission, 33, Amherst Street. In the freshness and beauty of early morning two men were by the outward form of baptism received into the Church of Christ.

One especially was a most interesting and satisfactory case of true conversion, not of mind only but of heart. This young Ooriyah came from Cuttack three years ago, and became the servant to a Christian lady in Calcutta, who made it her daily prayer that she might be the means of bringing at least one soul to Christ in this land. She became a "missionary" to her servants, and by careful example and instruction, sought to lead them to Christ. The young man spoken of was at first but her punkah-wallah, and while pulling the punkah with one hand, held his Testament in the other, reading it with eager interest. One day he said that in a dream he had been told to go and bathe in the church. This he could not understand, saying, "We have no church." He was made "bearer" and was all through one of the best of servants. A short time ago he went to his mistress, Testament in hand, saying he had found the explanation of his dream, quoting passages relating to baptism, and expressed his wish to be baptized. She at once sought help from some missionary and took him some tracts, one of which was a great help to him, "Krishna and Christianity." He said, "Our gods are bad, all bad." "Our gods are bad, all bad."

She went to Dr. Baumann, who at once received the earnest seeker after Christ, and kept him four weeks to give him religious instruction, and after a most satisfactory testing time, in face of all opposition from relatives, came forward humbly but firmly and bravely, and acknowledged before a crowd of witnesses his union with Christ and His Church.

The scene was most touching, and a truer case of conversion could not be imagined. He was under the deepest emotion and seemed to forget all his surroundings in his great joy and anxiety to become one with Christ outwardly as he had already done in heart. His mistress

(from whom I received these particulars) received him joyfully as the answer to her prayers. Would that all ladies who have servants committed to their care would do what this noble lady is doing.

The Leper Asylum.

One section of the evangelistic work is visiting the Leper Asylum. This also is under Dr. Baumann's superintendence, and it is assisted by the society known as "The Mission to Lepers," whose headquarters are at Edinburgh. In the last twenty years, no less than fifty lepers have been admitted into the Church of Christ. Two most touching accounts of recent conversions are given in Dr. Baumann's Report:—

Conversion of Lepers.

Last year a young woman was sent to us from the C.M.S. Female Normal School in Benares, who, besides being afflicted with leprosy, had been made blind by the terrible disease. "Poor Emily," as we were wont to call her, had but an imperfect knowledge of the Bible when she first came to us, but as time went on she daily grew in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, whom she loved and trusted with her whole heart. During the one year that she was with us, she gave offence to nobody, but by her unmurmuring patience, under sufferings which almost pass conception, she bore such striking testimony to the sustaining power of the grace of God that the Native doctor, a Hindu, was once obliged to confess, "If any one is a true Christian, it is poor Emily."

When her last hour drew near, her faith became still more bright and cheerful. When the passage was read to her, "I know that my Redeemer liveth, and that He shall stand at the latter day upon the earth; whom I shall see for myself, and mine eyes shall behold, and not another," poor blind Emily audibly repeated, "Mine eyes shall behold, and not another," which she also did when the passage was read, "Who shall change our vile body, that it may be fashioned like unto His glorious body," saying, "fashioned like unto His glorious body." And though racked with pain, and almost powerless to support herself, she would by no means consent to lie down during prayer, but falling on her face on her bed, she desired with her last bodily strength to show her love and reverence for Him who did not think her too loathsome "to have compassion on her and to touch her."

Another blessing was vouchsafed to this Institution last year by the conversion of a young Hindu, called Mahesh Chandra Dass. Mahesh has received some education, being a compounder by profession. When he first came to the Asylum, he and another educated Bengali leper, a Brahmo by creed, did everything they could to counteract our influence and teaching among the inmates. Their conduct became so offensive at last that we were obliged to bring it to the notice of the superintendent, who rebuked them and made arrangements for the better protection of our work. Upon this both ran away from the Institution, but whereas the Brahmo left us for good, the Hindu returned after a while with the olive-branch of peace, and begged to be readmitted into the Asylum. He said that since he left he had been very restless and uneasy, and that he felt a yearning in his soul after peace. He also felt that by persecuting the disciples of Christ he had been persecuting Christ Himself, and this thought made him utterly miserable. From that time he began to attend diligently to Christian instruction, and on the last day of the year, after about six months' probation, he was received into the Church.

Miss Sampson has been a visitor at the Asylum, and writes:—

Women in the Lepers' Asylum.

I still go to visit the women in the Leper Asylum as often as I can on Saturdays, and spend a very happy hour there. There are four Christian women there now; the two who were baptized there, Shama and Maryam, are true followers of Jesus Christ, and seem to be really growing in grace and in the knowledge of Him. Maryam is most eager in learning to read, and will soon be able to read the Bible for herself. She is very thorough in her method of learning; whenever I go she asks me to teach her a few lines, which she reads over and over again, and then says, "That is enough; if I learn more I shall forget it." She has such a bright, happy face, and I am sure her influence is telling upon the Hindu women. One of them, Shordoo, has just begun to learn to read too, struck by admiration of Maryam; and I hope it will draw them together and be the beginning of better things for poor Shordoo. Two new Christian women have been admitted lately, but they only speak Hindustani, so I cannot talk to them; one is a blind woman from Benares, and the other a girl, of about seventeen, from Poonah. I am told she is very far gone in the disease, and cannot live more than a year or two, but she looks very bright and cheerful.

A Lepers' Church.

A small chapel, called the Lepers' Church, has been lately built on the premises of the Asylum, through Dr. Baumann's exertions.

The Rev. Jani Alli's work.

The Garden Reach Anglo-Vernacular School is now superintended by the Rev. Jani Alli, who undertook it under the disadvantageous circumstances of the buildings being pulled down by Government to enlarge the city docks, and of a reduced roll of boys on this and other accounts. Under Mr. Alli's energetic management, seconded by the liberality of his friends at Cambridge in enabling him to give prizes and scholarships, the School has revived; and the year closed with a roll of 211, viz. 156 Hindus, 51 Mussulmans, and four Christians.

Mr. Alli also prosecutes his general evangelistic work among Mohammedans, and is privileged to report three baptisms:—

Baptisms of Mohammedans.

One, of a Persian, on July 9th, and the other, of an Arab, on December 17th, both in the Old Church. The Persian was brought first under the influence of the Gospel at Julfa, where he wished to place himself under Dr. Bruce for Christian instruction. He was not allowed by the authorities. Then being in partnership with an Armenian, he came to Calcutta. Having heard of me in Persia, he began to make inquiries. One day he asked of a member of the Old Church, and this Christian lady not only took him to the Tuesday evening evangelistic service, but also brought him to the Old Church on Good Friday. From that day he was under instruction. He has gone now to Bushire, to settle his affairs and bring his wife and children. The Arab was brought to me by this Persian. It is very difficult to find work for this man, as he does not know any of the Indian languages.

During the year I have regularly conducted the Sunday services for the Hindustani-speaking members of the Old Church, and for several months took also the Tuesday afternoon meeting. In connection with this work I baptized an elderly Mussulman woman on November 22nd. She is a domestic in a Roman Catholic family. Her mistress not only allowed the district lady visitor to instruct her, but also encouraged her to be baptized in a Protestant Church.

Two other Mohammedans were baptized in the year by Dr. Baumann, but one, alas! was afterwards induced to apostatize by some vicious "Christians."

BURDWAN.

The Rev. Piari Mohan Rudra is in charge of Weitbrecht's old station. He has issued a very interesting printed Report. It is noticeable that among his ministrations have been services for the English congregation at Burdwan, and the Bishop of Calcutta writes, "It is a cause of special satisfaction to me to find how universally he is respected by the European officials." The Bishop, on a recent visit, administered the Communion to the European and Native members of the Church at the same time; "a memorable event in Burdwan," says Mr. Rudra, "and a noble illustration that there is neither Jew nor Greek, bond nor free, but all are one in Christ." The Native congregation in the town has decreased by death and desertions; but in outlying villages there has been progress. Mr. Rudra writes:—

Converts in Rural Bengal.

This year has been to us a year of great rejoicing in the history of the Burdwan Mission. There has been an accession of converts to the Church at Sarakdi, near Assensole, since last year. The first converts baptized here three years ago have had an addition of thirty-six souls during the last two years, and a pretty good congregation has sprung up in the village of Sarakdi, promising to increase with the continuance of faithful and earnest work by us and our agents. These people have now to walk three miles, with a river between, to attend church on Sundays at Assensole. But by the help of friends in Calcutta and the congregation at Burdwan, and with a grant from the Corresponding Committee, we have been able to secure land, and propose to erect a house of worship and a residence for the catechist.

Romish tactics.

Assensole is the stronghold of Roman Catholicism in this district, and the nearness of the place to Sarakdi is a source of anxiety to us; for a Romish priest has been, with the help of a hireling convert, a renegade from our Mission at Thakurpooker, doing his best to circulate stories of all descriptions, with a view to unsettle the minds of our converts, and holding out hopes of temporal help to persuade them to join the Romish fold. But thank God they have not met with much success. These simple people have shown much steadiness of faith, and have shown great earnestness of devotion, with a desire to know more of Jesus during the year under review. Five of these converts have been confirmed by the Bishop of Calcutta, during his recent visit to Burdwan.

At a place called Cutwa, a town formerly occupied by the Baptist Mission, Mr. Rudra found some Native gentlemen who professed belief in Christianity :—

Borderers.

In the neighbourhood are some very interesting inquirers and believers in Christianity, men of position and influence. They openly profess Jesus Christ before men, and are not afraid to speak a word for Him. They have been witnessing to others about the consolations of Christianity, and helping them to understand it, according to the light they themselves have received. I cannot describe the gladness with which these brethren received us when we went to them, inquiring of us those things which they could not understand, and helping us in our intercourse with others.

A Hindu gentleman using the Prayer-book.

One of these holds a service regularly every Sunday in his own house, according to the form of the Common Prayer Book, and has been teaching his friends the doctrines of the Christian religion. He has had some loose notions with regard to Baptism, but since we have explained the nature and efficacy of the Holy Sacrament, he has been thinking seriously on the subject, and teaching his wife and other friends of the necessity of faith in our Lord Jesus Christ and joining His Church. He is a gentleman of independent means, and has been rewarded by Government with the grant of a jaghir (land) on account of his faithful and meritorious services during the Mutiny of 1857. He is an old man, but quite strong yet. The name of the village where he lives is Patolee, on the banks of the Bhagirathee.

The other gentleman, the proprietor of an indigo concern and a man of superior education, has also been longing to know more of Christ and the promises of our holy religion in respect of those departed from this life. And great was his joy when we explained to him from the Scriptures the doctrine of salvation by faith, resurrection of the dead, and their consequent glory in the world to come, maintaining individual existences. He has been led to seek the consolations of Christianity by the death of his son, and the Lord has worked mysteriously by His providence to awaken in him the sense of sin, and a desire to accept Christ as the Saviour of mankind. He has had some knowledge of the Scriptures, being formerly a student of our Cathedral Mission College, but now he has been reading the Bible attentively, and explaining it to his wife, and advising other friends to do the same.

Besides these two, whom God seems to have raised in this part of the country to be witnesses to the truth, there are others of an inquiring spirit whom we ought to help and encourage and lead on to the great Saviour.

Colportage.

Mr. Rudra has superintended four colporteurs, three supported by the Bible Society and one by the Colonel Roxburgh Fund; the latter, however, died lately. He speaks with gratitude of the voluntary mission work done by a Bengali Christian gentleman and his wife, Mr. and Mrs.

Good work of a Native gentleman.

Chowdbury. This gentleman, who is superintendent of the local hospital, has a Bible-class of young Hindus; and both are described as "abounding in good works and always ready to testify of the Lord Jesus." Mr. Rudra also thankfully acknowledges the devoted work of the ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S.

KRISHNAGAR DISTRICT.

The Rev. H. Williams has succeeded the Rev. A. Clifford in the superintendence of this district. The Itinerating work has been carried on by the Revs. J. W. Hall and G. H. Parsons, but upon the former brother it pleased God to lay the heavy affliction of the loss of his young wife (Miss Kimmins, of the I.F.N.S. Society), and he came home to recruit health and spirits, and has only lately gone back. The Rev. R. R. Bell has lately moved from Calcutta to this Mission. The Rev. A. J. Santer is in charge of the Normal School at the town of Krishnagar. Mr. Parsons resides at Chapra. There are three Native pastors, the Rev. Mohan Biswas at Solo, the Rev. Koilash Chunder Biswas at Bollobhpur, and the Rev. Sartok Biswas at Kapasdanga.

Mr. Williams reports on the Native Christian community, numbering 5465 souls. It would probably be larger but for Romanist aggression, of which Mr. Williams says,— Romanist aggression.

> I can say, without fear of contradiction, that there is not a single congregation professing to be Romanist which was not originally belonging to our Church. All the efforts of a large staff of priests and nuns are directed against our people. Foul means as well as fair are used. People excommunicated by us find an asylum with them. Money, too, is freely used to attach to themselves the leading man in a village. All this goes on in the sight of the heathen and Mohammedan. What can outsiders make of the Christian religion, when they see the Christian Church demoralized in this way, and are told by the Italians that the religion which we preach is all wrong? It would be tolerable if the Romanists would only preach the Gospel themselves, but they do no work amongst the heathen, and most effectually hinder us from evangelizing them.

Discussion with Romish Priests.

Since he wrote, Mr. Williams has had a public discussion with the priests, on their challenge, with the result of the complete discomfiture of the latter, if not in their own estimation, certainly in that of a large and influential audience of Hindus and Mohammedans. But Mr. Williams deeply laments the necessity that was laid upon him to expose the controversies of Christendom to the gaze and to the scorn of non-Christians.

That some of the hereditary nominal Christians of this district were not proof against these enticements is not surprising, remembering the doubtful motives that brought many of their fathers into the Church fifty years ago, and the caste feelings long cherished by them, which have been so serious an obstacle both to their spiritual life and to the conversion of the heathen. The difficulties with the muchi Christians which caused Mr. Vaughan so much anxious struggle, seem to be not wholly overcome; and Mr. Williams says, "How different our work would be if the Christian Church stood behind us as a great brotherhood, ready and rejoicing to receive into its bosom every saved sinner, from whatever caste he might come." But he adds that there are signs of better days coming. It was Mr. Vaughan's opinion that aggressive evangelistic work among the Heathen and Mohammedan population was the way to raise the nominal Christians to a higher life; and now "the Christians are getting to know that Christianity is an aggressive religion, and that it is the glory of a Church to extend the Saviour's Kingdom." How important, then, to strengthen the Itinerant Mission! For this both Mr. Williams and Mr. Parsons plead earnestly; and it is indeed to be hoped that the Church at home will soon enable the Committee to send reinforcements.

Survival of Caste.

Mr. Parsons' Annual Letter is most interesting, giving graphic pictures of his itinerations, which are in tents from November to March, and in a boat from July to September; and describing conversations, at once encouraging and saddening, with Bengali gentlemen who know the Gospel, and more or less believe it, and yet who cannot confess Christ. More than one he has found who learned the truth from the former zealous missionary at Nadiya (Nuddea), afterwards so well known in this country, Samuel Hasell. Nadiya, formerly the University town of Bengal, still attracts many students, even from places so remote as Kashmir and Tinnevelly; and it ought to be worked in a very different way than by occasional visits of an itinerating missionary. In the villages, the Hindus stand aloof, "hugging in their despair the effete and filthy rags of Hinduism," and "confessing themselves afraid to read the Christian's book lest they should be convinced of sin;" while the Mussulmans "crowd to the preachings and listen attentively, acknowledge the truth of what is said about God, and the Bible, and sin, and heaven, and hell, and also listen with interest to the claims of Isa Masih."

Itinerating by land and water.

"Afraid to read the Christian's book."

Some conversions are reported. Mr. Williams writes:—

God has been gracious to us this year, and souls have been gathered in. The first to be baptized was a young Brahman. He was travelling about the country in the garb of a devotee. He came to Mr. Clifford, who passed him on to me. He lived with my Native helpers, and became as efficient a preacher as any of them. I found him to be very intelligent, and possessing more than the average independence of character. He said that all that he wanted was baptism, and that after receiving it he would shift for himself. After his baptism he left for his own district, Dacca. I have since heard from him, and, as far as I can judge, he is true to his profession.

Conversions: of a Brahman;

Of a father and his family.

A family of four souls have been won for Christ, at a village eight miles north of Ballabhpur. First the son, a young man of about twenty, was baptized; then his father came to us; after an interval of two months his mother was received; and, last of all, the young wife. The conversion of this family is an illustration of what I have so often contended for—the need and the value of women evangelists. Humanly speaking, all these baptisms are due to the labours of the ladies who were out in camp with us last year. While we were at Mehepur, Miss Sugden and Miss Gore, of the Zenana Society, visited the house of these converts. They won the heart of the mother, the mistress of the house, for Christ, and she made it easy for the rest of the household to confess Him. But for this I do not believe that one of them would have confessed Christ. They might have believed; but the breaking-up of the home and the loss of their wives would have been too much for the men to bear; and as for the girl, she would have been sent to her father's house, and lost entirely.

A Native Christian poet.

The father of this family is a remarkable man. He is not learned as far as this world's learning is concerned, but he is deeply versed in the mystical religions which prevail in these parts. He is poor, a fakir by name and profession, combining with it a little practice in surgery and medicine. The caste to which he belongs is very skilful in operations on the eye, and he has a fair reputation for the treatment of eye diseases. He is a poet, and his religious songs are current in the villages for miles around his home. Since his baptism, this talent has been laid out in the Saviour's service, and already he has composed several hymns full of Evangelical teaching. A religious mind such as his very quickly grasps the Gospel truths. His baptism has had a very good effect upon many. I have heard some of the simple village people remark, "There must be something in Christianity, or why did Dina Fakir embrace it?" It is by such baptisms as these that outsiders will come to recognize that Christianity is a religion, and not merely the Englishman's caste. The son is now apprenticed to a carpenter, and will, I trust, before long be able to maintain the whole family.

Ladies' work in Bengal.

This narrative illustrates the great value of the labours of the C.E.Z.M.S. ladies in the Krishnagar villages. Mrs. Parsons also is an honorary missionary of that Society, and her Widows' Class is regarded as its work. She also has a mothers' Bible meeting, a sewing class, and Sunday classes for girls, young women, and mothers. Mr. Parsons rightly urges that, in any efforts to elevate the Christian congregations, the best way is to begin with the mothers and the girls.

Some translational work has been done: Mr. Williams has rendered into English some Bengali tracts written by the Rev. G. H. Rouse, of the Baptist Mission at Calcutta, in order that other missionaries might then translate them into other Indian languages; and four or five versions have been the result already, Dr. Murdoch, the active agent of the Religious Tract Society and Christian Vernacular Education Society, having taken the matter up. "It is thus," remarks Mr. Williams, "that Baptist, Anglican, and Presbyterian combine in India." Mr. Parsons also has been preparing a Bengali version of the Sunday School Institute's Steps to Truth, by Sarah Geraldina Stock. Bengali translations.

SANTALIA, BEHAR, &c.

SANTÁL MISSION.

THERE is no alteration in the staff of the Santál Mission. The Rev. F. T. Cole is at the Central Station, TALJHÁRI; and the Rev. J. Blaich has removed there, to take general charge of the Boys' Boarding Schools. The Rev. J. Tunbridge is at HIRANPUR; the Rev. J. Brown at BAHÁWA; the Rev. A. Stark at BHÁGÁYA; and the Rev. A. J. Shields at GODDA. Of the four Native pastors, the Rev. Ram Charan is at Bhágáya, the Revs. W. Sido and Sham Besra in the Baháwa district, and the Rev. Bhim Hansda at Taljhári.

The Native Christian population shows a considerable increase, partly from accessions from heathenism, partly from natural causes, and partly from the transfer to the Bhágáya district of several outlying stations hitherto attached to Bhágalpur. The numbers are, Taljhári, 986; Hiranpur, 169; Baháwa, 1031; Bhágáya, 233; Godda, 200; total 2619. There are 788 communicants. The children under instruction are 2000. The free Boarding Schools, which are regarded as an important agency in this Mission, are now amalgamated into three, one for Santál boys at Taljhári, one for Santál girls at Baháwa, and one for Pahári boys and girls at Bhágáya. Mr. Brown thus writes of the school work:— Native Christian population.

> The education of girls. We have not yet reached the stage of having village girls' schools taught by educated women. Yet there are several women who have become the wives of Mission agents and others, who are able to do the work. Education is not yet sought for itself to any appreciable extent. There is, however, an awakening in this respect, and there is a great desire in many of the Christian Education of Santál girls.

girls to rise in the scale of education, which we regard as a welcome sign. A few years may witness a marked change in the women of this country. Government is pushing forward the education of women. A Christian Santal woman from the Taljhari school is employed by Government for a girls' school in a centre of heathenism in the heart of this district. And (blessed change) the building used for school, and as a dwelling-house for the mistress and her husband, is an abandoned Government liquor distillery.

Girls' schools have been in existence in the several Mission stations since the commencement. The elder girls pass out yearly to marry; thus, few or none can be kept long enough to reach even the upper primary standard. Some have, however, received lower primary scholarships at the Government annual examinations. It is a pleasure to see how anxious the girls are to pass. It is an aspiration in the right direction. What a difference between them and their poor benighted sisters, whose highest pleasures are to dance and drink at the heathen festivals. And besides knowledge and refined aspirations, which after all are only relatively good, we have every reason to believe that some at least of these girls are truly converted and are leading consistent lives.

This year we begin with fifty-three boarders and twenty-one day pupils. These include the infant school, in which there are twenty-seven pupils, seven of whom are boys. These seven little boys are of course day pupils. Only girls from a distance are taken as boarders. This is the Santal girls' boarding-school for the whole Mission.

And of boys.

From this time only one Boarding school will exist for Santal boys, those of Hirampur and Bhagaya being now amalgamated with the Taljhari school. One good school under the undivided care of one missionary being better than three under three missionaries who have multifarious duties to attend to; and also better economically. In this Mission, therefore, educational work is confined to village schools, which send up the more promising boys for higher education to Taljhari. The average on the rolls during the year has been 514. Average attendance, 339. Sunday-schools on any large scale are an impossibility where the Christians are so scattered.

Mr. Tunbridge describes the remarkable success of the magic lantern, as a means not only of attracting the people, but of giving them instruction in Bible history :—

The Magic Lantern as a missionary agent.

It will cheer our good friends at Burslem, Ramsgate, and in many parts of England, to hear that the great source of attraction was the magic lantern, which we exhibited most nights in the open air. Santals, Hindus, Mussulmans, and Paharis, all came from miles around to see the new wonder, and listened for three hours at a time as we proclaimed in their own tongues (sometimes no less than four different languages in one evening) the wonderful works of God. Our slides were mostly Scriptural scenes. The wondering, yet intelligent, interest displayed night after night, the exclamations of delight and remarks on each different picture, showed how deep a hold the message thus conveyed was making, made me often lift my heart in grateful praise to Him who put the idea of a magic-lantern into my mind, and the liberality of His people who enabled me to bring it out. Our explanations of the slides were interspersed and relieved by the singing of Christian lyrics set to Native tunes.

After tramping about from village to village all day, preaching, and showing the lantern for full three hours at night, we were generally pretty well tired; but it was a blessed work, and much enjoyed by us all, though my Native helpers were often hoarse with singing and speaking. During our six weeks' tour we exhibited thirty-three times, to an average of ninety-four persons, though sometimes the number went up to 600. In the villages we had 220 preachings, with an average of thirteen souls; so that the magic-lantern enabled us to reach over 6000 people, whom we could not otherwise have got near.

Santáli translations.

At present, the only part of the Old Testament in Santáli is the Psalms. Meanwhile, a collection of Bible Stories has been brought out. St. Luke's Gospel has been revised, and St. John's is under revision. The Prayer Book is completed. The Epistle to the Romans is being translated. The Pilgrim's Progress has been printed by the Religious Tract Society.

Mr. Shields notices an interesting indigenous religious movement, which, guided by the Holy Spirit, may prove to be the beginning of a remarkable work:—

An indigenous religious movement.

One part of my work this last year has hitherto been full of nothing but encouragement, though the very incipient state of things prevents my saying too much about it. I allude to a movement among the heathen Santáls in the northern portion of the Godda district, a large number—as many as a hundred families—of whom, under the leadership of a Santál named J. Ram, have given up heathenism, and all that they know to be wrong, and are seeking God with an earnestness which speaks well for the sincerity of their motives. During the whole of last hot season these men came to me once or twice weekly by twos and threes or more, for instruction. I twice visited these people, at their earnest request, at the house of their leader, where they assembled twice monthly to hear his exhortation, and I am thankful to say, to hear the Word of God read by one of them (the only member of their number who can read or write).

This work is remarkable as being indigenous, as distinguished from that which might be called the result of Christian work. The leader was called out of heathenism by a dream some thirty years ago, and it is through his efforts and work that this movement has arisen. I cannot doubt that the work is of the Holy Spirit, and a work so strange and wonderful when compared with anything one sees in civilized countries, that one recalls the words πολυμέρως καὶ πολυτρόπως, and realizes that God's power and methods are still so shown in places where the knowledge of the Son has not penetrated.

Under my hands God has taught these people of His Son as the Mediator, and one or two fundamental Christian doctrines. The position and knowledge of these people before I came into contact with them seemed to correspond very closely with that of believers under the old dispensation.

I need not now say more, but to commend these souls to your earnest prayers, that they may be gathered in due time into God's visible Church. I live in much fear lest Satan should ravage this flock; one sees so many ways in which he could find an entrance—their ignorance, superstitiousness, and pride—but would take rest in the reflection that the Good Shepherd is surely watching them.

Mr. Stark mentions the congregations transferred from Bhágalpur :—

Owing to Mr. Droese's transfer to Annfield, the eastern portion of the Bhaugulpore Mission district has been united to this station. This includes the Hindi-speaking congregation of the Satguruas of Phulkia, the Urdu congregations of Sahebgunj and Gungapersad, and the Pahári congregations of Demba, Jokamári, &c.

Boycotting converts.

Phulkia.—The congregation here is a most interesting one. The people are all cultivators, and have endured a great deal from the petty persecutions of the heathen. For example, the village barber refuses to shave them, the sellers of salt or oil refuse to deal with them, and such like things, which, though trifles in themselves, are very inconvenient, and show the spirit of the heathen. Though they have yet much to learn, I am thankful to say they are walking consistently. They are regular at the daily morning and evening and the Sunday services. Their particular delight is in singing hymns to Native tunes. I hope shortly to begin a night-school, to teach them to read.

Baptism of Paháris.

Paháris.—There have been eight baptisms (three of adults) among the Paháris of Jokamári, and I am happy to say there are three families of fourteen souls under instruction. The Paháris, too, are not without persecution, particularly from the heathen head-men. The three families above mentioned were being persecuted, and ordered to leave the village, I had to appeal to the magistrates on their behalf, and had the persecution stopped.

In September a "Special Mission" for the Santál Christians was held at Dharampur. A very interesting account appeared in the Calcutta Localized C.M. Gleaner, from which the following is taken :—

Special Mission for the Santal Christians.

We began the first day at 8 a.m. with a prayer-meeting for a special blessing upon the mission. After breakfast we met together from 11.30 a.m. to 2.30 p.m., when all the missionaries and Native pastors gave short stirring addresses to the people, limited to fifteen minutes. All addresses were confined to the various aspects of the one great subject of the "New Birth," and were interspersed with hymns and prayers, the latter being chiefly extempore, and by the Native pastors.

Mr. Cole pressed home to each one the inquiry, "Am I born again?" Mr. Stark then explained the meaning of the New Birth. Pastor W. Sido spoke on the same point. Mr. Shields then read John iii., followed by Mr. Tunbridge, to whose lot it fell to explain the "manner" of the New Birth from the Divine side, by pointing out the Holy Spirit as the sole life-giving agent.

"Really stirring and splendid."

After another hymn, Pastor Sham gave us a really stirring and splendid address on the same subject, to which we all listened with surprise, and gratitude to God for being so evidently present with our Native brother. In illustrating the manner of the New Birth he drew attention to the various changes and transformations in nature wrought by the Great Creator before they were fit for the use of man, showing that in a precisely similar way He works changes and transformations in the natural man before he can be fit to render acceptable worship to his God; proving his point by a reference to the marvellous change for bold work and testimony wrought in the Apostles by the Holy Spirit on the Day of Pentecost.

This was succeeded by a few minutes of silent Prayer. Next came two addresses upon the human side of the New Birth, viz. True Repentance, as seen in conviction, sorrow, confession, and the forsaking of sins. Pastor Ram Charan opened this section of the subject. Mr. Brown then dwelt on each of the four steps on the great ladder of Repentance, viz., Conviction, Sorrow, Confession, and the Forsaking of Sin.

The signs and tests of the New Birth were described by Mr. Shields as—(1) Visible, i.e. Holiness; (2) Invisible, i.e. the Inward Witness. Pastor Bhim finished up by dwelling upon the "Fruits of the Spirit."

Second Day.—At 8 a.m. large numbers gathered together and partook of the Supper of the Lord. Mr. Tunbridge addressed a few solemn words to them from John vi. 35, on "Christ, as the Bread of Life," the food of the soul. At 11.30 a.m. we again met, and after praise and prayer, Mr. Cole recapitulated the various lessons of yesterday's addresses.

To-day all the addresses were on the "New-Born." Pastor Sham explained the New Relationship of the New-Born—"Sons of God." A prayer and portion of Scripture were followed by an address from Pastor Bhim on the "Privileges of the New-Born." These he pointed out, in the words of the Catechism, to be three:—(1) Members of Christ; (2) Children of God; (3) Inheritors of the Kingdom of Heaven. Mr. Stark then gave a summary, in Hindi, of the whole subject, as there were some present who did not understand Santáli. This was followed by silent prayer.

Mr. Brown now dwelt on the "New Duties of the Sons of God, or of the New-Born." Pastor Sido warned us against the dangers of the New-Born. Pastor Ram Charan and Mr. Tunbridge gave the closing addresses on the "New Hopes of the New-Born," the "End of the Journey," and the "Home with God in Heaven." Prayer and praise, with a few words from Mr. Cole, closed the mission.

BHÁGALPUR.

The Rev. G. H. Weber reports that Bhágalpur is becoming more and more a kind of health-resort for Bengal, and that many educated Bengalis are taking houses there. With a view to reaching them, and counteracting the influence of the infidel literature which has been so largely circulated, a reading-room and library has been opened, for the use of Native gentlemen. A Bengali Christian, a graduate of Calcutta University, who has come to the station to be head-master of the Mission High School, has called upon many of them and been well received; and he gives three evenings a week to the reading-room, to converse with any who resort there.

Reading-room for Hindu gentlemen.

Unfortunately the Native Christian community is not of a high class, either morally or socially, and is very far from commending the religion it professes to thoughtful but somewhat proud men. Even the respectable Christians keep aloof from the church services, lest they should be too closely identified with the class of people who mostly attend, and prefer to attend the English church. This is a state of things much to be deplored; and prayer should be offered that it may please God to use Mr. Weber's energies to revive both sections of the community, and to restore the one to a higher moral tone and the other to a more brotherly and lowly spirit.

The number of adherents, 309, is much reduced, owing to the transfer of out-stations to the Santál Mission, as before mentioned.

NORTH-WEST PROVINCES.

Agra, commenced 1813; Mirát, 1815; Benares, 1817; Gorakpur, 1823; Azimgarh and Jaunpur, 1831; Lucknow, 1858; Allahabad, 1859; Faizabad, 1862; Aligarh, 1863.

The Revs. B. Davis, G. B. Durrant, and H. M. M. Hackett have come to Europe on furlough. The Rev. C. G. Daeuble has also returned in weakened health, after more than forty years' patient labours. The veteran German brethren who were in the past a great strength to the North India Mission are becoming fewer year by year. Their record is on high. The Rev. R. J. Bell has returned to the field, and taken up Mr. Davis's work. The Rev. T. F. Robothan has been added to the staff.

N.W.P. Native Church Council.

The Annual Meeting of the N.W.P. Native Church Council was held at Lucknow on October 15th and 16th, the Rev. B. Davis, the Chairman, presiding. The Bishop of Calcutta was also present.

BENARES.

Jay Narain's School.

The Rev. B. Davis has been in general charge, while more particularly responsible for Jay Narain's School. The Rev. A. H. Wright is Principal of the Female Normal School and Girls' Orphanage. The Rev. J. J. Johnson continues his evangelistic work among the Hindu pundits and devotees, and Mrs. Johnson her superintendence of the Hindu City Girls' Schools. Mr. Johnson is also member of the Hindi New Testament Translation Committee, which comprises missionaries of different societies, and occupies much time and thought. The Rev. Aman Masih Levi is the Native pastor, and the Rev. Katwaru Lal assists in evangelistic work. The steady round of patient preaching of the Gospel is thus described by Mr. Davis:—

The commencement of the year found us itinerating towards the south of Banaras. After visiting our agricultural settlement of Gharwah, we passed through our out-station, Araurah, on our way back. The villages in that direction lie chiefly among low hills, and are generally small; but we had good congregations in a few of the largest, especially at Araurah and Ram Naggar, the village, or rather town, where the Rajah of Banaras mostly lives, just on the further side of the Ganges. We were surprised to find so many at but a small distance from the old mission-station of Banaras affirm that they had never heard about salvation through Christ, and, though knowing His name, in practical ignorance concerning Him. These, of course, were in villages to which we had not found our way on our previous visit. In others, we were not only remembered, but the same individuals came to dispute with us who had done the same the time before.

Catechists' labours.

During the rest of the year our catechists have gone every day once, and three times a week twice, to the various preaching-stations appointed for them in the city. One of the days on which they go only once is devoted to visiting individual houses, to which they find access, and are sometimes invited; and on these occasions considerable numbers frequently come and sit down to talk with them. They find not a few possessing Testaments and other Christian books, while some go so far as to acknowledge the excellence of the truths of the Gospel; and this, in some degree, is the result of the teaching in Jai Narain's and our other schools in past time. On another day they come to my house for reading and prayers, and the third they have as a half-holiday. As on previous years, I have devoted two evenings each week to preaching with them in the bazaars, and we have commonly had fair audiences, i.e. from thirty to fifty; not often more than this, sometimes less than thirty.

At Jaunpur there is a Native pastor, the Rev. Nathaniel Rahim Bakhsh; and at Azamgarh, the important High School, which instructs (with three branch schools) 350 boys, is successfully carried on by Babu G. C. Bose, who also superintends three evangelists, a colporteur, and a Bible-woman.

GORAKHPUR.

Gorakhpur and its Christian villages.

The Rev. H. Stern continues his multifarious labours at this station, with its two Christian villages, Basharatpur and Sternpur. At the former place there is a Native pastor, the Rev. Benjamin Tobit. The whole number of adherents is 853, but the increase is due to natural growth, and not to accessions from heathenism. The Bishop of Calcutta confirmed 105 candidates in October. Among other events of interest, Mr. Stern mentions a crushing lecture on Theosophy, by the Rev. H. M. M. Hackett, and another on "Optimism," by the Rev. S. Allnutt, of the Cambridge Delhi Mission, in which he took "a very bright view of the final victory of the Gospel of Jesus Christ in this heathen land."

Confirmation.

ALLAHABAD.

N.W.P. Divinity School.

The absence in England of Mr. Hackett has left the Rev W. Hooper alone with his Native helpers; yet he has worked as usual as Principal of the Divinity School, engaged with his students in itinerant evangelistic labours, given some weeks to attendance at the Bishop's Hindi Prayer-book Committee, done some other literary work, and acted as Secretary for North India to the Indian Female Instruction Society. He writes,—

Its studies.

During the last school-year, i.e. from November, 1884, to July, 1885, the subjects I taught were:—I. To the Upper Class—1. Psalms; 2. Introduction to the Four Gospels and Exposition of St. John; 3. Fundamental Doctrines; 4. Church History of the first two centuries; 5. Hebrew, to two students; 6. Hindu Mythology. II. To the Lower Class, Zoology. Besides this, the pandit and maulwi taught the Upper Class; and they and John Baptist the Lower, under my direction.

My "Introduction to the Four Gospels" was mainly a proof of their genuineness,—such an extremely important matter in the defence of the Faith, and, though not often attacked by orthodox Hindus, owing to their unhistorical minds, yet frequently objected to both by Mussulmans and by Europeanized Hindus. On this subject I wish to testify to the exceeding value, in my opinion, of a Present Day Tract, on "The Unity of the Christ of the Gospels an argument for their veracity." For the particular phase of the argument which it presents —itself yielding to none in importance—I know nothing like it.

By "Fundamental Doctrines," I mean those which are logically antecedent to Christianity though historically evolved from it, or at least made clear and certain by it. I divided the subject into twenty-two chapters, viz.:—1. The Natural Religiousness of Man; 2. God the First Cause; 3. God the Intelligent Former; 4. God the Moral Governor; 5. God the Infinite Being; 6. Atheism and Agnosticism; 7. Necessity of Revelation; 8. Man made in God's Image; 9. Personality; 10. Spirit distinct from Body; 11. Freewill; 12. Man's Immortality; 13. Man's Superiority to other animals; 14. Miracles; 15. Pantheism and Deism; 16. God's Attributes; 17. Man's Natural Relation to God; 18. The Relation of Man's Spirit to his Body; 19. Man's Natural Relation to the World; 20. The Worth and Object of Human Life; 21. Sin; 22. Sin's consequences.

I am more and more convinced, every year I live and work in India, of the supreme necessity of teaching these fundamental principles—I mean the truth on these fundamental subjects—very clearly, and proving them very satisfactorily. No doubt, when souls are won to Christ, it is generally through the Cross, or some other of the distinctive truths of Christianity. But the acceptance of Christianity in the intellectual sphere depends absolutely on the acceptance of these truths, which are all, or almost all, denied in Hinduism and in those compounds of Oriental and Occidental error which are so much in vogue nowadays among Europeans as well as Asiatics. The great reason why people's reasons do not accept Christianity is that they have never accepted these fundamental truths. And even Native Christians, whose hearts have accepted Christianity because they have believed in Christ, are in danger of being driven away from their moorings because they are not grounded in these (logically) pre-Christian truths.

In the school-year, now already two months begun, I am teaching the Upper Class—1. Job, Prov., Eccl., Song; 2. Jeremiah and Ezekiel; 3. Acts; 4. Hebrews; 5. Church History after the Eleventh Century, exclusive of Church of England; 6. Doctrines concerning the Person and Work of Christ; 7. The Prayer-book; 8. Hindu Philosophy; 9. Hebrew, to the same two students.

Evangelists.

We have had three evangelists this year—the old Pandit Janaki Datt, Peter Ralph, and a young man (formerly a Hindu ascetic) supported by Mr. Hackett's friends. The old pandit, in spite of his infirmities, does not let his zeal or love flag.

Translations.

September and half October I spent at Dehra Dun, acting as pastor to the English there belonging to the Church of England, and engaged with three Native brethren, as last year at Sagar, in the translation of the Prayer-book into Hindi. This time we did the Epistles and Gospels, and began the final revision of the whole book, which I hope will be completed shortly. The Epistles and Gospels I have had printed at my own expense, chiefly for use here in our services. It is the first time these portions of the Prayer-book have been ever translated, as such, into Hindi; and besides the great improvement in the translation (owing to the preponderant Native element in the Bishop's Committee), it is a very great convenience not to have to turn them out in the New Testament, and in some cases the Old Testament too, necessitating taking three extra large volumes to church.

I have written one of the twelve papers to be published by the Religious Tract Society as a companion volume to the Bible, which the Bible Society is going to give to all who become B.A.'s in India. The subject allotted me was "The Supernatural in the Bible."

Death of a baptized Moslem.

The Rev. David Mohun continues the pastor of the Christian village of Muirabad, to which congregation he has ministered with much efficiency for twenty-seven years. He is assisted by the Rev. Mark Drummond. The Mohammedan baptized in 1884, mentioned in last year's Report, has died, steadfast to the end. "I fully believe," says Mr. Mohun, "that he is now a member of the Church triumphant." Mr. Mohun, like Mr. Johnson of Benares, is a member of the Hindi New Testament Translation Committee.

LUCKNOW AND FAIZABAD.

Death of Mrs. Durrant.

The Rev. G. B. Durrant has returned to Europe after ten years' uninterrupted work at LUCKNOW, for which the Committee thank God. Mrs. Durrant reached Europe in very weak health, and it pleased God to take her to Himself at Mentone, where they were sojourning before coming on to England. The Society has lost a true missionary helper, and the Committee deeply sympathize with their bereaved brother. The Rev. W. Latham remains in charge at Lucknow, and the Rev. T. F. Robothan is also there for his time of probation and study. Mr. Latham has suffered much from weak health during his three years in India, but his refusal to give way has been rewarded by an increase of strength which now enables him to engage in active work, with two languages (Urdu and Hindi) fairly acquired.

The pastoral work of the station is done by the Rev. D. Solomon, now a veteran Native clergyman. The Schools continue efficient and successful. Babu Solomon Nehal Singh has succeeded the Rev. W. Seetal (now at Agra) in the head-mastership of the High School. The number of boys under instruction is 528; and 323 attend the Sunday-schools. The Bible teacher in the High School is a catechist from the S.P.G. Delhi Mission named Rasul Shah, who is also doing promising work among the Mohammedan population. He finds the Arabic edition of Al Kindy's Apology much valued; and the new Urdu version of that work will be still more useful.

Moslems at Lucknow.

Bishop of Calcutta at Lucknow.

The Bishop of Calcutta visited Lucknow in October. Mr. Durrant says,—

> During his visit, the Bishop held a confirmation in the Church of the Epiphany. Over twenty candidates were confirmed, amongst them the Arab convert mentioned above, and a Persian, baptized by Mr. Deimler in Bombay during 1884, who has been with us for about a year. The Bishop also addressed a gathering of English-speaking Native gentlemen in the Baradan, Kaiserbagh, taking as his subject. "Our rights, and how to use them." J. Quinn, Esq., C.S., Commissioner of Lucknow, was in the chair. The annual festival in commemoration of the laying of the foundation-stone of the Church of the Epiphany was this year thrown back three weeks, in order to make it coincide with the Bishop's visit and the meeting of the Church Council. A service was held in the church at 4 p.m. on Friday, October 16th, when a short address was given by the Rev. W. Seetal. At the close of the service all adjourned to the shamianah pitched in the church compound. Several speakers addressed those present. The concluding address was given by the Bishop, his remarks being interpreted by G. E. Knox, Esq., C.S., Treasurer of the Native Church Council. The proceedings closed with a display of fireworks.

Recent converts.

Mr. Durrant also mentions some recent converts:—

> The first baptism was of a young man, a Hindu, who had been prepared by our Native pastor, the Rev. D. Solomon. This was early in January.

A Moslem baptized.

> The next to come forward was again a young man, but this time a Mohammedan, an Arab by birth, who has been resident in Lucknow for some four or five years. For a considerable time past, he had shown an intelligent interest in the subject of Christianity, and a drawing of heart towards it. His convictions of its truth gradually deepened, till he was at length led to come forward. He was carefully instructed, and on Sunday, June 7th, during morning service, he was publicly admitted into the Christian Church. Since then, he has gone on very satisfactorily. It is hoped that his wife will soon be placed under regular instruction, with a view to baptism. I am glad to say she never left her husband, though much pressed to do so by relations and friends. They have now separated themselves from their Mohammedan relations, and this makes it much easier to arrange for her being regularly taught. The man's trade is that of watchmaker. But his is the experience which too many of our converts have to pass through—that is to say, before his baptism he was making a comfortable living by his trade; now his customers have dropped off, one by one, till it is with extreme difficulty that he earns his daily bread. It is, however, we consider, of the utmost importance that he should, if possible, continue at his trade; and I am in hopes that, if he only holds on patiently for awhile, he will gradually gather customers round him again.

Later on in the year, three women, brought forward by the ladies of the Zenana Mission, were baptized.

The last to receive baptism was the wife of Hira Singh, the pundit who was baptized nearly three years ago, that is, in May, 1883, and of whose case I wrote an account at the time. She had never refused to live with her husband, who is an agent of the C.M.S. in Lucknow, but had steadily declined to become herself a Christian. Towards the close of the year, however, her feelings underwent a change, and on Christmas Day she, too, was baptized. She and her husband are now in one of our out-stations, and will, we trust, both of them prove earnest and successful workers there.

Hira Singh a baptized Pundit.

Hira Singh does not seem to have been mentioned in the Society's publications at the time. Mr. Latham also writes of him,—

I am now wandering in the villages, in company with our Christian pundit, Hira Singh, whose baptism has been reported, but whose history has yet to be written, as a proof of the clearest evidence of the working of the Spirit of God, and the power of that Spirit to humble the pride of a religious fanatic, who, before meeting with the Gospel, had believed himself to be a god, and, indeed, was considered so by his disciples.

His mode of living is quite unchanged by his creed, as is, unfortunately, not the case with other catechists; and hence he is admirably fitted to live among the people. His knowledge also of the people is perfect, having been brought up among them, and been priest and prophet in their midst. He has already done a little work of this kind. His singing of bhajans of his own composing is something to be remembered, as well for the peculiar method of teaching the Gospel as for the rapt attention of the villagers to his metrical messages of salvation.

The Shíd Shidán.

The Shíd Shidán (Messenger of Light), the Native Christian newspaper published at Lucknow, continues its useful career. One interesting item of news in it last year was a report of a crowded meeting of Native Christians, held in that city on the 4th of May (at the time of the difficulty with Russia about Penjdeh), to express loyalty to the British Crown, and readiness to join in the protection of our Indian Empire. A resolution was adopted asking the Government to enroll the Christians in the Oudh Volunteer Corps. The Loyalty of Christian Natives.

Rev. D. Solomon, pastor of the C.M.S. congregation, presided, and among the speakers was the Rev. Ram Chandra Bose, M.A., the able minister of the American Methodist Episcopal Church.

Lucknow Mission Press.

The Lucknow Mission Press has printed, among other things, a Sunday School Hymn Book in Urdu, with a Form of Children's Service appended.

AGRA, MATTRA, AND ALIGARH.

The Rev. C. G. Daeuble's return home has been already referred to. He writes that during the four years he has been at Agra since his return to India at the close of 1881, the fruits of his evangelistic labours have been 41 baptisms, three-fourths being of adults; and adds,—

An old missionary's retrospect.

I cannot express the grief it is to me and my dear wife, that ill-health compels us to leave such a promising field, just when we had learnt to know our whole district thoroughly, and the people had learned to know and confide in us. For forty years and more the work has, in the district at least, been almost exclusively confined to the male population. My good wife has been the first to commence, with the aid of her Bible-women, systematic work amongst the female population of the district on a larger scale. Her practical knowledge of medicine has enabled her to afford kind help and advice to many thousands of people who applied to her for aid in their bodily ailments. And there is no key like kindness for opening hearts. It is of far greater effect than mere preaching. How we looked forward to meet them all again, and how they have been looking out for our coming again! And now to be laid aside! But "why art thou cast down, O my soul? And why art thou disquieted within me? Hope thou in God; for I shall yet praise Him, who is the help of my countenance, and my God."

St. John's College.

The Rev. G. E. A. Pargiter is Principal of St. John's College. He has been assisted by the Rev. A. E. Bowlby, and also has had the help of the Rev. W. Seetal, the Native pastor (whose coming to Agra has been of advantage to the Christian community). Mr. Pargiter's report is again very interesting, especially the welcome account of a convert from the School:—

Our numbers during the past year have averaged a little over 500, divided in exceedingly unequal proportions between the College and the School department. The College department has averaged only nine students, while the School department has averaged 500. This shows that in these provinces those students who proceed beyond the Entrance Examination are comparatively few in number. But signs are not wanting to show that higher education is being more appreciated, and will flourish in the near future.

Rivalry.

We in Agra have one great difficulty to contend against, and that is the rivalship of the Agra College. This, which was lately the Government College, has been handed over to a local committee of influential Natives, who are doing all they can to render it a success, not only by their influence, but also by their contributions. In addition to this it has a substantial endowment fund, a grant-in-aid from the Provincial Government of Rs. 10,000 a year, and a municipal grant of Rs. 8000 from the local city funds. It has further an able and experienced Principal, Mr. Thomson, an officer of the Government Educational Service, who has been lent by the Government to the local committee, and he is assisted by an able and well-paid staff of professors and masters.

Scripture teaching.

Scripture Teaching.—This has been quietly and patiently given as in past years. The little boys are taught orally, then we ascend to Barth's Bible Stories, then to the text of the Bible itself, and lastly, in the Entrance and College Classes, the text is read and the truths drawn out and applied historically, morally, spiritually, and with some reference to the principles of Mohammedanism, of Hinduism, and of the Arya Somaj, &c. The senior students who have been any time with us show a grasp of Biblical truth which would do credit to many an English lad supposed to be well up in Holy Scripture. One can see plainly that the truths of Holy Scripture have a profound influence in moulding their thoughts and ideas, even if they do not lead them to open confession of faith in Christ Jesus. They are to a great degree Christianized, and must have great influence for good when in the future they occupy important positions in Native society. This influence will tend, I feel sure, in many cases, towards maintaining and developing religious as opposed to merely secular education, towards the abolishing of idolatry and the barriers of caste, and towards the elevation of the female sex by education, and the introduction of improved social customs. It is these things which will prepare Native society for the future reception of Christian truth and Christian ideals and standards, so that Christian education, though a quiet and unexciting work, is yet a mighty factor in the elevation of the degraded millions of India.

Conversion of a pupil.

The great event of the past year has been the conversion of one of our school lads, Deli Pershad, and his baptism. In March, 1885, Harsaran Dass came to me, and said that a young connection of his, studying in the sixth class, wished to embrace Christianity. He said that he had been teaching him privately, in addition to the Scripture teaching the lad had had day by day in his class, and that the boy was quite fit for baptism. I thereupon examined the lad, and found that he really was in earnest, and that as far as we could judge the grace of God was really at work in his heart. I pointed out to him the importance of baptism and the serious consequences of such a step from a social point of view, and asked him if he was willing to suffer the loss of friends and relations for the sake of Christ? He answered that he was willing to brave all for Christ. I then asked him if he knew Christ, and loved Him as he knew and loved his mother and his dear ones, and he replied with real emotion, "Very, very much more." However, I told him that he must wait awhile until he was sixteen years old, and that if then his desire remained unchanged I would baptize him.

In May we broke up for the hot-weather vacation, and I went to the hills for a change. While away I had letters from the lad, in which he stated that he still desired baptism, and that his home people, having discovered his leanings, were subjecting him to persecution, forbidding him to read the Bible, and stating that they would not allow him to study any longer at St. John's College, or hold intercourse with Harsaran Dass. On my return I saw the boy, and he said that as he was suffering persecution for the sake of Christ, he thought he should have the rights and privileges of a Christian. I felt that it would be wrong to delay any longer, and so we baptized him privately in the house of Mr. Thomas, our Haileybury Master, by the Christian name of Isa Charan.

After the baptism we sent the boy home, but he returned, saying that he would be allowed no Christian privileges at home, and that he would like to go to another Mission-station for a time. I therefore sent him to Goruckpore, to the care of Mr. Stern, where he stayed three months, and after that to the Christian Boarding-school at Batala, where he is at present, and where he is exhibiting a good Christian character. He is now nearly seventeen years old.

Legal action taken by his friends.

After the lad had left Agra, his relations made a great stir, and tried to get us tried on the charge of kidnapping. They forged a horoscope, which gave the boy's age as thirteen years and four months, and presenting this to the magistrate, adding at the same time many lies and false statements, they induced him to have an inquiry. We appeared before him, showed our school register, which gave his age as fifteen years, showed his horoscope, which made him sixteen years and four months, and stated fully what we had done. The magistrate then ordered the boy to be examined in Goruckpore in open court as to the circumstances under which he had left Agra, and also ordered him to be medically examined to ascertain his age. The boy bravely stated that he was now a Christian, and had left Agra of his own free-will; while the doctor certified that the lad was fully sixteen years old.

Result.

Thus the struggle in the court ended. There was, however, a very strong feeling excited in the city, and some of our boys left, their parents thinking that they too would become Christians. Now, however, everything has settled down into the ordinary routine, and we can praise God that out of the mouths of babes and sucklings He has ordained praise, and pray that others may follow Isa Charan's brave and fearless conduct.

Mr. Seetal's report contains much that is interesting, particularly the two paragraphs subjoined, describing methods of enlisting voluntary preachers, and varieties in the form of administering baptism:—

Voluntary preachers and how they work.

I started the Wednesday evening service, in which I asked the Christian teachers and the senior students to give religious addresses or sermons by turns, and to offer extempore prayers. Their turns I marked out beforehand for them; in no case the time allowed for preparation being less than a fortnight. This necessitated meditation, prayer, and the reading of devotional books, and served to keep a happy balance against the influence of absorption into secular studies. Those who acquitted themselves well in the three or four turns allowed them in the Wednesday services, received promotion (so to say), and were asked to preach now and then in the Sunday evening services. The same line I followed out with the catechists and preachers. And thus our Agra Church is rich in having twelve curates, six being what may be called University men, and six divinity school men. The strong ones out of both the sets were reserved for the Sunday services; the shy and the nervous for Wednesdays, at which the attendance has ranged from twenty to forty

These brethren, I am thankful to say, have fallen in very readily with this plan, and worked heartily at it, and so been a blessing to our congregation, and of great help to me whenever I had occasion to be away from Agra on other duties.

Baptisms.

Of baptisms there have been several for infants during the year, but only some eight for adults, six being from the sweeper caste, one a Bengalee woman, and the other a Mohammedan woman. Immersion was used for the grown-up man, and sprinkling for the women and children. On Christmas Day, however, I departed from the ordinary rule, baptizing neither at the font nor at the baptistery (which are at very inconvenient ends of the church), but right in the centre, by placing a teapoy and a finger-bowl over it, and pouring high the water from a jug, so that the heathens who had come might know there was neither swine's blood nor cow's blood used at baptisms, and so get rid of their abominable prejudice. It was a party of four, the youngest being a smart lad of thirteen, and the oldest a woman of thirty years of age.

Secundra and its agencies.

SECUNDRA, so long associated with the loving and diligent labours of Mr. and Mrs. Erhardt, is at present under the charge of the Rev. H. Lewis, who sends a most interesting account of the Orphanage, Press, Christian village, and widespread evangelistic agencies. The great importance of Secundra has not been always realized. "No single institution," remarks Mr. Lewis, "has played so remarkable a part in the formation of the Church of Christ in Northern India. In every large city of these upper provinces, representatives of the Orphanage abound, either as Christian teachers, evangelists, Government clerks, or railway employés. In Ajmere is a flourishing colony of seventy or eighty old Secundra orphans. The Christian community at Allahabad owes its origin to a migration of our old press-workers. In Agra, Mírat, Lucknow, Amritsar, Lahore, may be found a good sprinkling of those who first received the knowledge of Christ within our walls." In the Secundra village itself there are now 140 Christians, and in the Orphanage 353 boys and girls. On September 5th, eighty-seven of them were confirmed by the Bishop of Calcutta. Mr. Lewis writes thus of the work generally:—

Confirmation of Orphans.

The Orphanage.

We took up our residence at the Orphanage on April 12, and almost before we knew it, the whole total sum of daily interests and needs of over 490 souls were laid as a burden upon our shoulders. In meeting the wants of some 180 girls, we have the invaluable assistance of three German ladies, Miss Schultz, Miss Tillich, and Miss Wahl, the representatives of the Berlin Ladies' Mission Society. These ladies undertake school-work, food arrangements, nursing in hospital, and superintending the making of the girls' clothes, &c. The boys, who at first numbered close upon 200, are dependent upon my care, my dear wife being responsible for the tailoring department, the supervision of which makes large demands upon both her ingenuity and time. Of the boys, about 120 are in school, the remainder being occupied in doing some work or learning some trade.

Printing-press.

To afford facilities for this latter purpose, we have a printing-press, employing some forty men and boys, the latter being taught the mysteries of composing, bookbinding, type-casting, and general printing work. During the past year our printers have had some important work on hand, the new Urdu Prayer-Book for the Punjab, the Malto Prayer-Book for the Santals, and the Roman Urdu Prayer-Book for use in the North-West Provinces, all having been done within our walls. The other branches of industry practised at Secundra are carpentering, tailoring, and gardening, in each department of which are several boys.

Besides the above, we have four boys as normal students in St. John's College, and eleven girls in Benares Training School, where they are instructed in the art and science of teaching.

Lace-making.

A further department, which we have resuscitated again this year, is lace-making, an accomplishment which is eagerly and skilfully taken up by our elder girls. Nor is the education of our girls neglected. Every girl is taught to make and keep her own clothes in order, and, besides her book-learning, is made to take turns at cooking, in order to fit her for her future domestic duties as a wife.

Religious Services.

Our chief anxiety, however, has been for the spiritual needs of our large household. Besides our weekly Sunday services in church, and morning and evening prayers in school, we have instituted a Thursday evening Bible meeting for workers, at which all our teachers, evangelists, and press-workers attend. At this gathering we have an opportunity of pressing home to the heart of each labourer the responsibility as well as the privilege of the work. My dear wife, too, with the co-operation of Miss Schultz, has carried on a mothers' meeting in our Christian village, every week, at which special stress is laid on the many duties attending domestic life. About twenty names are on the book, every married woman being a member.

Native Evangelists.

Another meeting we have begun is a periodical gathering of our evangelistic workers, consisting of four catechists and two colporteurs, the object of which is to enlighten and strengthen each other's faith, by the Word and prayer, and thus to become better equipped for the battle.

With regard to our evangelistic staff, I may mention that its sphere of work extends as far as Jeypore, which is some 150 miles away; the intervening country being scoured in all directions by our energetic and enterprising "messengers of peace."

At Mattra, Mr. and Miss Zenker have not ceased going in and out among the people, and round about the villages, making known the name of Christ. This district is one of the most idolatrous in India, and the work is often very difficult. Mr. Zenker is now using the important agency of Bible-women. In September seven Native Christians were confirmed by the Bishop of Calcutta.

The Rev. Nemi Solomon is pastor at ALIGARH.

MÍRAT.

The Rev. I. T. H. Hoernle continues in charge of this station, with its town and village congregations, schools, and evangelistic agencies: There are 742 Christian adherents, of whom 275 are communicants. 536 children are at school. Nine adults were baptized during the year. Mr. Hoernle gives an interesting account of a monthly lecture by himself to the Native staff of helpers:—

Monthly Lectures to Native helpers.

I have made use of the monthly meeting of the preaching and teaching Christian staff of this Mission, to hold a special service with them with the Holy Communion, and as often as I could find time to have a lecture ready to give them one on Scriptural subjects,—all in Hindustani, of course. We have in this way gone through the explanation of the following terms: "The Kingdom of God," "Heaven," "Earth," "Paradise," "Hell," "God," which latter subject has not yet been finished. My idea was that in this way my people might be induced to prosecute the study of Scripture in some systematic way, by looking up the various passages of Scripture referring to some special subject. Thus they may, if they like, become clearer in their minds of the teaching of God's holy Scripture. May the Lord vouchsafe His blessing on this humble endeavour to promote His glory.

In the Dehra Dûn valley, below Mussoorie, is the village of Annfield, an agricultural colony of Native Christians with a Native pastor, which has always been superintended from Mírat. Now, however, the Rev. E. Droese will take charge of it, having moved (as before mentioned) from Bhagalpúr, and residing, on account of health, chiefly at Mussoorie. He also does what he can for the hill-people who get a living at Mussoorie and Landour by job-work during the English season at those health resorts, and also for the Native Christian servants of English families. Language is a difficulty in dealing with the former, but for the latter, a Hindustani Sunday service is provided.

JABALPUR.

The Rev. J. P. Ellwood's report again gives a picture of varied and excellent work in this city. "The motto of the past year," he says, "might be, Faint, yet pursuing. There has been a great amount of religious activity displayed, but very little visible result. All our agents have worked well, and in the spirit of faith; the blessing must surely follow." The Mission has lost some Christian workers by death: an aged catechist, who "manifested a firm faith in his Lord to the end;" the devoted wife of a former head-master of the High School; and a former zenana teacher, who "exhibited great patience and Christian love in her lingering illness." But excellent labourers are left. Pundit Jagannath carries on his dispensary. Jane, the Bible-woman on the F. R. Havergal Fund, is "working nobly." In houses where a few years ago a Christian woman would not have been admitted, she now opens her lessons with prayer, her women-pupils sometimes praying themselves. At the out-station of Marwara, Babu Timothy Noah, the head-catechist, is "a devoted worker," and so are his assistant and his wife, "Peter and Annie," who have been mentioned in former Reports. In bazaar preaching, Babu Isaac Vincent "is as energetic as ever," and Pundit Praythu Dyal is "a very faithful worker."

Of the masters and teachers in the schools, also, Mr. Ellwood writes appreciatively; and the High School, under its new head-master, Mr. C. Donel, has been very successful, the boys gaining five Government scholarships, and one of the students of the entrance class being second in the whole province. And this notwithstanding the strenuous opposition of a Hindu school on one side, a Mohammedan schoool on the other, and a Native society which makes it a special business to hinder boys from joining the Mission schools. Opposition of other kinds Mr. Ellwood thus notices:—

Opposition: by Lectures;

Connected with the school work are our English lectures in the High School; they have created a great stir in the city, and evoked counter-lectures from some of the babus. During his visitation the Bishop of Calcutta gave a lecture on "Our Rights," which was very much appreciated. The Rev. H. M. M. Hackett gave a very good lecture on "Theosophy," which attracted a large crowd of Natives. Lectures were also given by the Rev. J. Johnson, Dr. Johnson, Mr: Duss, a former head-master of the school, Mr. C. Donel, several of the teachers, and by me.

By Infidel literature;

There is a vigorous opposition to Christianity in the city, and attempts are now made to spread broadcast in the vernacular translations of such works as Colonel Ingersoll's Self-contradiction of the Bible. They are translated without comment, and find their way even into our schools. It is very cheering to know that the heathen boys in the school consider some of these objections so foolish, that any boy who has been trained in the Mission school could answer them. These translations are prepared chiefly by the "Arya Samaj," and will have to be met in a decided spirit. We hope soon to issue an answer in the vernacular to Colonel Ingersoll's book.

By Theosophists.

The Theosophists also have taken their part in opposition to Christianity, but Colonel Olcott, on his visit to Jabalpur, refused to allow us to speak at his meeting, and declined to take up a challenge we sent him. Christianity has been now face to face with many systems of error for many years, and every year witnesses some new development of the Native mind to ward off the truths of Christianity. The old foundations are being moved further and further back, till soon there will be little left of original Hinduism to cling to. Young India is dissatisfied, and is advancing apace. Imitations of Christianity abound on all sides, and everything but Christianity is hailed with delight as a panacea for the evils of life.

The Rev. Madho Ram also sends a report on the Native congregation. The new church of St. Luke was dedicated by the Bishop of Calcutta on Oct. 28.

MANDLA (GÓND MISSION).

Plans for development of the Gónd Mission.

The Gónd Mission has now four missionaries, to the great joy and satisfaction of the Rev. H. D. Williamson, who has been for some years the solitary pioneer. The appointment of the Rev. E. P. Herbert and Dr. W. Johnson was mentioned last year; and now the Rev. H. P. Parker, late the Society's Secretary at Calcutta, who had long been anxious to engage in direct missionary work, has thrown in his lot, with the Christ-like enterprise of seeking out the wandering and uncivilized Gónds. He is especially desirous of trying the experiment of throwing inquirers and converts on their own resources from the first instead of providing for them settled pastoral agents at the Society's expense. This is of course the Society's well-understood principle; but it has proved very hard to carry out, and is scarcely anywhere acted upon strictly, unless it be among the Tukudh Indians within the Arctic Circle. Mr. Williamson writes,—

> Now that we have become such a strong body of missionaries, we have inaugurated a quarterly Gond sub-conference, the first meeting of which was held on December 23rd, at our house in Mandla, Mr. Parker, Mr. Herbert, and myself being present; Dr. Johnson unfortunately could not attend. Our object was principally to agree upon the general principles on which we should combine to work, discussing at some length the basis on which the educational work at Patpara should be established, and formulating our views as to the self-supporting character which we wish the Gond Mission to assume from the first. The importance of preventing the Gonds from relying on external support was felt very strongly, and we agreed that even non-Christians should be induced to contribute in kind to the maintenance, whilst at the boarding-school, of any boys whom they wish to send there. And we felt that the inducements to be held out to them to send their boys should be of a spiritual kind, representing to them the advantages of their being able to read God's Holy Word for themselves, rather than those of being able to keep accounts, &c. By working on such principles as these, we do not shut our eyes to the difficulties which lie in our path; but such appears to us to be the Apostolic method, and therefore the right one, and the more room we leave for the Holy Spirit's working, the more certainty there will be of the foundations being firmly and rightly laid, with Christ Himself as the corner-stone. Time may have to elapse before the Gonds will be found willing to send their boys to the school, with none of the usual expectations of food and clothing gratis, but as they are led by God to appreciate Gospel truth, so we pray that they may be led by the same power to look upon the privilege of sending their boys to the boarding-school as something worthy of more or less self-denial.

It is proposed now to organize the Mission round four centres, viz. Mandla, where are Mr. Williamson's head-quarters; Mangalpur, where Mr. Parker will reside; Patpara, where Mr. Herbert will start the boarding and day schools; and Marpha, a village in the heart of the jungle, where an excellent Christian helper, Pundit Dayal Masih, has expressed his readiness to live, in a house which has been built at a cost of six rupees (say 10*s*.).

A house for 10*s*.

The first Gónd convert, Paulus, mentioned last year, has been followed by a second, baptized in June by the name of Prabhu Das (servant of the Lord); and three or four more have since been baptized. Paulus himself, so long known as a Gónd ascetic, is, even now that he is a Christian, greatly reverenced; and he accompanies Mr. Williamson on his tours and assists him in preaching Christ. Cordiality has now entirely superseded suspicious shyness, and large audiences come together, especially to the magic-lantern exhibitions, which are familiarizing the people with the facts and scenes of Scripture.

Baptism of Gónds.

KHERWARA (BHEEL MISSION).

Bheel Mission.

This Mission also, in the heart of Rájputána, is giving grounds of hope and expectation that the Lord's blessing will soon be poured out. The Rev. C. S. Thompson is now entirely occupied in itinerating, while the Rev. G. Litchfield works at the station. The latter's Annual Letter gives an encouraging account of both material and spiritual progress:—

Material progress.

The mission-house, whose foundations were slowly rising day by day, is now completed, and Mrs. Litchfield and myself are able to appreciate the comfort of a home of our own, after nearly two years of unsettled wandering. The rice-field below, in which our tent was pitched for so many months, is being transformed into a garden; while the brow of a small hill, some eighty or ninety yards distant from the mission-house, is thick with workmen busily engaged in erecting dwelling-houses for a Native Christian master and about twenty Bheel young men, who will form the nucleus of a training class. A schoolroom and small dispensary are also being built, and we hope to see them all completed before the great heat sets in, in order that the full machinery for the successful working of the Mission may be set in motion as soon as possible. The erection of these various buildings naturally gives an appearance of organization and system which was entirely wanting before, and we cannot but rejoice over the blessing granted to our efforts in this direction, notwithstanding unusual difficulties with regard to materials, workmen, &c., &c.

But it is in the internal working of the Mission that we have the greatest reason for deep thankfulness, over the numerous tokens of the Holy Spirit's influence and teaching. The beginning of the year 1885 saw me plodding patiently from day to day with a small band of young men whose minds appeared at first to be little better than mere blanks, and quite unable to grasp and retain the simplest message of Gospel truth. Time after time, on asking them what they had been taught the previous morning, they could not remember a single thing; and this, not because they were uninterested, for they were anxious to learn, but because their powers of memory seemed altogether undeveloped. My wife and I made it a subject of earnest prayer that God would grant them increased powers in this respect, and the answer was granted even beyond our expectations. In August, on giving them repeated examinations in the Gospel of St. Matthew, which was the one we had been studying and reading through together, I was overjoyed at the thoughtful and correct answers they gave, not merely as to the facts of our Lord's history, but as to the meaning and necessity of His incarnation and suffering on our behalf. Since then, some of the elder members of the little band, by their thoughtful questions, have revealed something far deeper than a mere head knowledge of the Word of God, and I believe I can truthfully write, without the slightest exaggeration, that several of them are simple believers in Christ in their hearts, and that they will probably evince their faith by baptism before the present year closes.

Spiritual progress: Closed minds opening. Gospel truths grasped.

One of the present members of this little class of learners and inquirers is a notable man:—

One of them, a man about thirty or thirty-five years of age, named Umr-Das, deserves more than a passing notice. He has been for some years a kind of religious reformer among the Bheels, and has been teaching them a fairly high standard of morals and living, total abstinence being one of his tenets. He is highly respected by them, and has a personal following of some thirty to fifty disciples, so that his conversion to Christianity would produce a marked influence in the country round. This man came to me on November 15th saying that he earnestly desired to know the true wisdom of God, and begged that I would allow him to remain with me, not in the hope of silver, or food, or patronage, but that he might be taught the Word of God. Only four days previously we had received a gift of money from a lady in Alexandria, to maintain a Bheel under training for twelve months, and had been praying that He who had sent the silver would now send the right man, when, lo! our prayers were answered almost as soon as uttered. Need I say, then, with what joy we welcomed that man, and what deep pleasure it gives me to see his and his disciples' faces (for he brought in five with him) round me every morning. Pray much for Umr-Das, for on the side of Christ he might, and doubtless would, become an instrument of great power, while it is his great desire that we should teach his people also.

A Bheel reformer inquiring.

Value of the Dispensary.

The Bheels now come freely to the dispensary; some four to five hundred monthly. "The poor untaught people come with old sores of long standing which they expect to be cured on the spot; while the women display their faith in a still more trying manner by bringing sick and weeping babies in baskets on their heads."

Mr. Thompson writes,—

I have been itinerating with some of our brightest and best Bheel boys. We have spent the most of our time in the pâls, or villages, lying immediately around Kherwara. The people have heard us gladly. We hold, as a rule, two Gospel-meetings daily, one in the morning and one in the evening. Over 300 people are sometimes present. We begin by singing two or three hymns: then I read a portion of Scripture in the Bheel dialect: Christ is then preached. After the address we dispense medicines. We have had as many as 613 visits in one day.

One of the most interesting features of the work this year is the movement towards us amongst the Bhagats, or Bheel fakirs. They have asked us to build them a school-house and dispensary, and to send them a teacher. I went to see the Bhagats a couple of months ago, and spent a few days with them. To-day I leave this en route to revisit their pâls and to arrange for a Mission station there.

FRONTIER MISSION: Quetta, 1886.

THE Committee cannot begin their review of the Society's work in the Punjab without offering, with thankfulness to their Divine Master, Whose grace alone it is that enables His servants to consecrate their service to Him, an affectionate tribute to the memory of the real founder of the Mission, the late Colonel Martin. It was he who sent the Society, through the American missionaries (who were first in the Punjab), an anonymous gift of 1000*l.* towards starting the Mission. It was he who, with the sanction of Sir Herbert Edwardes, invited the Society to venture even on preaching Christ to the fanatical Afghans of the Frontier; who himself gave another 1000*l.* to start the Pesháwar Mission; and who then resigned his commission to become a regular though honorary missionary. On the Society's roll he was entered in 1854, and on the Society's roll he remained till his death; for even after his retirement to England his wish to that effect was expressed in a way that precluded resistance.

The late Colonel Martin.

Another of the great Christian soldiers of India has also passed away: a generous and devoted friend of the Punjab Mission, General Reynell Taylor, C.B., C.S.I. In 1861, when Commissioner of the Deraját, he invited the Society to begin a Mission there, and himself gave 1000*l.* to start it. God has given no better gift to the missionary cause than men like General Taylor and Colonel Martin.

The late General Taylor.

In the past year three ladies connected with the Punjab Mission have been called to their heavenly rest, viz. Mrs. Reuther, widow of a veteran missionary, who has since his death, with her daughters, laboured most usefully at Amritsar and Kangra; Mrs. Keene, who with her husband (another veteran) had retired to England; and Mrs. Tisdall, the young wife of the Vice-Principal of the Lahore Divinity School. The Committee deeply regret these losses, while they unfeignedly thank God for the unexpected recovery of that devoted lady, Miss Tucker of the C.E.Z.M.S.

Other deaths.

The Mission staff, otherwise, has undergone little change. The Rev. R. Clark has returned to India, and resumed his important functions as Secretary. The Revs. A. Lewis and

H. U. Weitbrecht have come home on furlough, but the former is returning shortly. The Rev. Egerton Corfield, B.A., the Rev. A. E. Day, and Dr. S. W. Sutton, M.D., B.Sc. (late House Physician at St. Thomas' Hospital), have been sent out, the last-named for the new Mission at Quetta. One Native clergyman has been ordained by the Bishop of Lahore, the Rev. Mulaim-ud-dín.

Ordination.

Mr. D. N. P. Datta, and Mr. Khem Chand.

Two Indian gentlemen from the Punjab, well known to many friends in England, Mr. Dina Nath Pridhu Datta and Mr. W. Khem Chand, who have lately gone back to India, should also be mentioned. Mr. Datta was five years in this country studying medicine. He took his M.B. degree at Edinburgh University in July. He was a Brahmin, and was converted to Christ at Mr. Bateman's school at Narowál in 1874. He has taken an active part in Christian work in Edinburgh and elsewhere, and desires to consecrate his medical acquirements to the Master's service in the Punjab. Mr. Khem Chand was converted while at the C.M.S. school at Dera Ismail Khan. He has gone through the Islington College course, and hopes in time to be ordained in India for work among his countrymen.

Synod of the Diocese of Lahore.

The first meeting of the new Synod of the Diocese of Lahore was held on Nov. 24, the Bishop presiding. The missionaries and Native clergy of the C.M.S., and lay delegates from its congregations, formed about one-half of the Synod. The discussions were of considerable interest and importance. In the evenings missionary meetings were held, one of them at Government House, on the invitation of Sir Charles Aitchison, the Lieut.-Governor.

Punjab Book Society.

The Punjab Religious Book Society, of which the Rev. R. Clark is Secretary, sold in 1885 vernacular books to the value of Rs. 9329, and English books to the value of Rs. 11,782; and the Punjab Auxiliary Bible Society, vernacular Scriptures, Rs. 4990, and English ditto, Rs. 751; the total of sales being Rs. 26,856, of which Rs. 14,319 was for publications in the languages of the Punjab.

AMRITSAR.

Amritsar and its agencies.

The Rev. T. R. Wade has continued the general charge of this station, and the Rev. A. G. Norman the superintendence of the educational work. The Revs. R. Bateman and E. Guilford carry on the Itinerant Missions, having their headquarters respectively at Narowál and Taran Táran; and Dr. Henry Martyn Clark his Medical Mission. Mr. H. F. Beutel superintends Clarkabad, and the Boys'

Orphanage there. The Rev. Dr. Imad-ud-dín is engaged in preaching, lecturing, and literary work; and the Rev. Mian Sadiq Masih is evangelistic missionary under the Native Church Council. The Girls' Orphanage is superintended by Mrs. Wade, and the Alexandra Christian Girls' Boarding School and the Lady Lawrence Girls' Schools are worked for the Society by the ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S., who also, it need scarcely be added, do valuable work in Medical, Village, and Zenana Missions.

Advance shown by statistics.

Mr. Wade gives some striking figures to show the progress in and around Amritsar in four years since 1882. The Native Christians "usually present at Divine Service" have increased from 287 to 431; the communicants, "ditto," from 90 to 154; the contributions of the people, from Rs. 603 to Rs. 1012; the pupils in schools, from 1374 to 2426; the Native Christian teachers, from 20 to 37. He reports on the general work as follows:—

Mr. Wade's report.

The church has been almost entirely reseated, and when quite finished there will be over 400 sittings. The usual church services, Bible-classes, prayer-meetings, and Sunday-school classes, have been carried on regularly throughout the year. There has not only been greater appreciation of their own services on the part of the members of this congregation, but also, we are thankful to say, a greater desire to make the unsearchable riches of Christ known to others. One person has given his dog-cart for Mission work in the district, and a Missionary Collecting Association has been formed amongst the Christian Native ladies.

Missionary Meetings.

Missionary meetings have been held, generally once a month, and addresses given on "Daybreak in Britain," Missionary work in New Zealand, Africa, China, North America, Greenland, Patagonia, Palestine, and other places. Missionary-boxes were distributed to those who desired them, and when these were opened in May last, the various sums together amounted to Rs. 83, which has been forwarded, at the request of the collectors, to Palestine, for the Leper Home near Jerusalem.

Confirmations.

On the 3rd of February the Bishop of Lahore confirmed 34 candidates: of these 9 were from the Alexandra School, 10 from the Girls' Orphanage, and 6 men and 9 women from the congregation. Many of the answers given to searching questions on experimental and practical religion were most encouraging.

Native Y.M.C.A.

The members of the Prem Sabha, our Young Men's Christian Association, have held their regular weekly meetings for the study of Scripture singing and prayer, and two half-yearly gatherings. The object of the Association is, according to their own rules, "to promote such love and unity among themselves that by their example others may become followers of Christ Jesus;" and we are glad to say that some of them have been active in teaching and helping inquirers, visiting the poor and sick, and in endeavouring to prevent ill-feeling and quarrelling amongst their brethren.

Poor Christians.

As Amritsar is now becoming a large Christian centre in the Punjab, many Christians, when in distress, come here from all parts of the country. Of the Rs. 1403 received by the Amritsar Church Committee from various sources, no less than Rs. 425 have been expended on poor Christians.

Non-Christians at church.

The space at the west end of the church, set apart for non-Christians, is often crowded. There are some who are very regular in their attendance, for as they themselves have said, whenever they hear the church bell they feel compelled to attend the service, and some occasionally, at their own request, contribute to the offertories.

735 Baptisms in 34 years.

During the year there have been 6 marriages, 12 deaths, and 26 baptisms; of those baptized 6 were men and 11 women. The register in the church contains, up to date, a list of 735 baptisms. The first recorded was by the Rev. H. Fitzpatrick, on 30th January, 1852, and the fourth was by the Rev. R. Clark, who is still with us in the Mission.

Evangelistic efforts.

Evangelistic efforts.—Regular open-air preaching has been carried on at various places as last year, only more are ready to listen, and there is less opposition; more intelligent questions are asked, and there is a much greater desire for books than formerly. About 10,000 small tracts and leaflets have been distributed in Amritsar and the neighbouring villages, and at the two large fairs held annually near the city. There are a number of educated men, some of them men of considerable influence, now studying the Bible; and many, although they have not been baptized, are more Christian than they are Hindu, Mohammedan, or Sikh. As one of our opponents remarked, "The leprosy of Christianity is fast spreading everywhere."

"The leprosy of Christianity."

Mr. Wade also dwells in encouraging tones on the general prospects of the Mission:—

Signs of progress.

During my twenty-three years of labour in various parts of the Punjab I have seen much seed sown, and watched some grow up and ripen, notwithstanding the scorching heat of persecution and the withering blasts of scorn and mockery, but never before have I seen such whole tracts of country, like nature's fields at this spring season of the year, so full of the fairest promises of a coming rich harvest. Never before have I heard of a greater spirit of inquiry abroad, more intelligent and earnest religious discussions, more persons studying God's Word, some of them, I know, men of position and influence, and some truly hungering and thirsting for the bread and water of life. People from the district petition us to open Mission schools in their villages; I receive letters begging for books, numbers say privately they believe in Christ, and I know some who have publicly confessed Him, though they have not yet been baptized. Our bitterest opponents acknowledge that Christianity is spreading everywhere, and that the praises of Christ are heard in the streets from the lips of children. Never before have I known more work carried on by more workers in more departments of Mission work. We have Christian boarding-schools and orphanages, Medical Missions for men and others for women, itinerating and village Missions, Mission day and night and Sunday-schools, Bible-classes, prayer-meetings, lectures, a missionary association, a Young Men's Christian Association, and a Christian village.

Decay of Native religions.

Never before, I believe, have the foundations of Mohammedanism and Hinduism and Sikhism been more sapped and honeycombed. The old edifices are looking so decayed and crumbling in the increasing light of modern education and civilization, that the leading spirits of the rising generation have even given up the hope once entertained of making them acceptable by means of alterations and improvements, and are now chiefly engaged in erecting half-way houses of refuge more suitable to modern requirements. Amongst these reformers may be mentioned the "Nachuris" (followers of nature), Arya Somaj, Brahmo Somaj, and Singh Sabha.

Never before were there more pupils in our schools, notwithstanding the counter-attractions of rival schools and the open and avowed opposition of Hindu reformers. At the time of my writing this letter there are over 2500 pupils receiving regular religious instruction in Amritsar and its out-stations.

And whilst there are certainly now more Christians in this Mission than ever before, I think I can also truly add that they are firmer in faith, holier in life, more active and earnest, and in every way having more influence than ever before. The Church Committee raised over Rs. 1400 for church work last year, besides sending Rs. 83 for Mission work in Palestine. We have some honorary workers, and we hope for more. A rich Hindu landlord in the city confessed that he would rather have Christian tenants than any others, because they paid better, were more cleanly in their habits, and took more care of his property.

A Hindu landlord on Christian tenants.

I know this bright picture has its dark shading, and I should not be presenting the whole truth did I not acknowledge that the Christians are by no means perfect; that we are again and again saddened by their misconduct, and occasionally shocked by some one openly denying the faith; that though all the pupils of our schools are ready to receive religious instruction, and numbers are willing to attend Sunday-school and Christian services, yet but few come forward and seek for baptism; and that the opposition to Christianity, though it is not so much the open and noisy preaching against us in the bazaars, yet it is the more systematic and insidious seeking after hopeful inquirers and weak converts, and endeavouring to turn them aside, poison their minds, and corrupt their lives, as well as the printing and circulating vile attacks on the Bible and its morality, Christ and His teaching, and holding up the doctrines of Christianity to ridicule.

At a public trial in Amritsar last week the fact was elicited that there is in this city an association with the avowed object of hindering the spread of our religion, and removing inquirers and young converts from our teaching and influence. Many desperate efforts—some which I cannot mention—were made to bring back the young man, Lachmi Chand, recently baptized, to Hinduism. A number of pleaders were only too ready to undertake the case. He was taken from the custody of Christians, questioned and argued with, put to much personal discomfort and inconvenience, and kept under surveillance during the protracted trial. It was alleged that he was a minor and of unsound mind. Rs. 10,000 were offered him at once, and Rs. 40,000 by will at the death of his father-in-law, if he would renounce Christ; but he stood firm, and nobly refused the offer. Of course he has lost all, his young wife and child included, but he is rejoicing in his new faith.

An association for hindering Christianity.

The printed Amritsar Report also contains short reports from the Rev. Imad-ud-dín, Mr. Abdullah Athim (honorary lay evangelist), Munshi Diwan Sahib Dyal (lay pastor); from three catechists, Munshi Nur-ud-dín, Munshi M. N.

Good work of Native catechists.

Ilyas (Elias), and Muhammad Fazl-ud-dín; and from Pundit Kharak Singh Narain Das. Dr. Imad-ud-dín has re-written one of his important books, and given it a new title, Kawaif-ul-Sahaif, a Companion to all the Books in the Bible. (It will be seen below that Dr. Imad-ud-dín's son is working as a medical missionary under Mr. Bateman.) Mr. Athim has written four little books on Christian Principles, Evidences, &c. He adds, "Christ crucified is my all in all, and by His help I will lean more on Him in future." Munshi Nur-ud-dín visits and preaches in the villages; and he says, "I have worked more this year because I trusted more in the Lord Jesus Christ, Who heard my prayers and helped me." Munshi Fazl-ud-dín says, "By the grace of our Heavenly Father, my sister, whom I have been teaching for the last four years, has been baptized, and I pray that my mother may soon follow her example."

Amritsar High School.

The High School in the city of Amritsar, Mr. Norman reports, has 267 boys, of whom 130 are Hindus, 73 Mohammedans, 54 Sikhs or Jains, and 10 Christians. "It is," he says, "a great cause for thankfulness that 73 Mohammedans attend, for the influential Mohammedans have begun a school, practically aimed, to a large extent, to break up the Mission school." He acknowledges the excellent services of the Christian head-master, Babu Mitter. There are 12 Branch Schools in Amritsar and neighbouring towns, and altogether 1073 boys are under instruction. The recent development of municipal institutions in India was expected to put fresh obstacles in the way of missionary education; but it is not always so, as the following notable case shows:—

A Hindu Municipality supporting a Christian school.

> The Municipality, chiefly, in fact almost entirely, so far as numbers are concerned, made up of heathens, have been induced, by the strong recommendations of Mr. C. J. Rodgers, of the C.E.V.S. School, Amritsar, to give a grant of Rs. 20 per month towards my night-school, a valuable part of my Mission work. The night-school consists of Natives who work during the day at their various occupations and come to read at night. It includes a moulvie, a darzi, or Native tailor, carpenters, stonemasons (or raj mistri as they are called), and shopkeepers. They learn English, Persian, Urdu, geography and history, and mathematics. But a condition of permission to read is that half an hour be devoted to Christian instruction. The Municipality offered first to give a grant, provided that the religious instruction be made voluntary. This I at first conceded with the advice of some of my elders. But with the urgent remonstrances of good Dr. Henry Martyn Clark, I withdrew my concession. I then went to the night-school and spoke to all the students, and every one of them, of their own accord, signed an address to the Municipality, in which they stated that the Christian teaching, as I conducted it, was practically voluntary, and that they liked to read the Bible and obtained benefit from so doing. This I then sent to the Municipality. After a good deal of discussion in the sub-committee of the Municipality on education, through Mr. Rodgers's arguments they agreed to give a grant of Rs. 20 per month. This was afterwards sanctioned by the whole Municipality; so that from June 15, 1885, I have been in receipt of Rs. 20 per month from the heathen Amritsar Municipality in support of a Christian night-school!

Dr. Henry Martyn Clark's report of his Medical Mission is deeply interesting, and ought to be inserted here in extenso; but only a few paragraphs must be extracted :— Dr. H. M. Clark's Medical Mission.

As regards the medical work done during the year the facts are as follows:—New patients seen, 21,589; visits recorded, 30,746; total, 52,335. That is to say, 52,335 patients were seen and treated during the year, 21,589 of these having come for the first time. In addition to this, 122 in-patients were treated, being:—Surgical cases, 38; medical cases, 84; total 122. The results of treatment were:—Cured, 89; relieved, 17; died, 9; unrelieved, 7. Twenty-seven major operations were performed, and about eighteen hundred minor. Seven of the deaths resulted from various diseases. Two occurred after operation, one after a slight amputation from pyæmia, the other after lithotomy. The average daily attendance was 176. The patients entered as unrelieved left hospital of their own accord before the effect of the treatment employed could be ascertained.

The work in the central hospital has been carried on as usual. We have continued to preach, and treat the sick, and to train our students.

The preaching is listened to with great attention. Many have been impressed; several have been led to earnest inquiry; and some have confessed Christ openly. There have been seven baptisms during the year. Two of those baptized, to our great sorrow, subsequently proved to be utterly worthless characters; the others, we are thankful to say, are living consistent Christian lives. One of these converts is a man of about fifty. He was a Mohammedan, and attended our hospital in Narowal, where he was cured of his disease. Patients baptized.

The good done is far greater than is represented by the mere number of baptisms. As in past years we have endeavoured to let no one who comes to us for treatment go away without hearing the Gospel. This we do by addresses, prayers, personal dealing, conversation, books, tracts, &c. I think the vast majority of those whom we have treated have had the truth preached to them. Had we done no more than preach the Gospel to 52,000 people we should have done a good year's work. The barriers of prejudice, ignorance, and ill-will have been broken down. Many a man who would scoff at us and our message in the bazaar is in the hospital convinced and silenced. For whatever he may think of the religion of Christ, he sees that they are being benefited by the love and devotion of Christians freely expended on them for Christ's sake.

The work in the district has been carried on by means of our branch dispensaries, and of itinerating in the villages. The event of the year has been the opening of a dispensary in connection with Mr. Bateman's work at Narowal. It is doing good work medically, and a grand work spiritually. We have already gathered our first- New dispensary at Narowal.

fruits from it. Babu F. Lahiz (eldest son of Dr. Imad-ud-din), an ex-student of our own training, is in charge of it. He has organized a Dharm Sabha, that is, a Young Men's Christian Association, for mutual help and Evangelical effort. They hold stirring services, and without doubt much good is being done.

Service for outcasts.

A new feature in our evangelistic work has been a regular service at the hospital every Sunday afternoon for Mehtar outcasts. This has, in some respects, been the happiest part of my missionary work. The contrast between preaching to these poor outcasts and to Hindus or Mohammedans is very remarkable. Instead of the blind opposition, stupid bigotry, and wearisome cavillings, with which these latter too often receive the Gospel message, we have rapt attention and interest, quiet, earnest questions, which show the hearing ear, and the understanding and believing heart. The work is most cheering: as of old the common people hear gladly. We have seen strong men weeping over the story of the Prodigal Son, and of our Lord's Crucifixion.

Weeping at the story of the Prodigal.

The services are conducted in an informal way. We sit on the grass, they bring their hukkas and their children. We have some hymns, prayer, and preaching, and after that religious conversation as long as any one cares to talk. All our talk is in the broadest Punjabi: Urdu is useless.

The lease of our old hospital having expired, we had this year to move into other premises. Our new hospital is Mission property. It consists of what was the pastor's house and the building called "Shamaun's Flag for Christ." The story of this latter, as embodied in the beautiful poem of Miss Havergal, is too well known to need repetition. Prior to our occupation of it the flag was conspicuous by its absence. We felt this was not as it ought to be. Two good friends gave a handsome donation, which has enabled me to put up a flag-staff sixty feet high. This is visible for two or three miles. We have a large red flag with "Shamaun's Flag for Christ" on it in English, Punjabi, and Urdu letters. We have now, as old Shamaun wished, a silent witness for Christ visible near and far all day long.

Shamaun's Flag for Christ.

In Mr. Guilford's report there is a touching notice of witnesses for Christ, and of new converts, in the Leper Asylum at Taran Táran :—

Christian Lepers.

When first I visited the asylum, I found there six Christian lepers, who had been baptized by the Ludhiana Mission at the Sabathu Leper Asylum, and who had for some reason migrated from that place to the Government Asylum there. Since they have been here, they have nobly and faithfully upheld the "Lamp of Life" in the midst of the thick darkness in which their poor fellow-sufferers are enveloped. And God has given them their reward; for during this year they have had the joy of seeing five of their fellows admitted into the fold of Christ. These I baptized in June last, and it filled me with "joy unspeakable" to hear them confess their faith in Christ boldly and intelligently. Since then services have been held for them every day, and I am led to believe that they daily grow in grace and in the knowledge of Jesus Christ. It is truly refreshing to hear them sing their simple songs of praise and pour out their hearts to God in prayer.

Baptisms in Leper Asylum.

In Christmas week we were able, through the kindness of Miss Bose, our zenana medical lady, who interested some of her friends in these poor sufferers, to give a good substantial feast to all the inmates of the asylum, with the exception of the Hindu portion, who, although they are lepers and consequently outcasts of society, considered themselves too holy to eat of food given by Christians, notwithstanding that a Hindu of a good caste had been employed to cook it for them.

Through the kindness of the "Society to Lepers in India," I have been enabled to erect a place of worship at the asylum. With a grant from the same Society, we are able to keep a Bible-reader specially for the lepers.

Mr. Bateman's report is only too meagre; but his words always touch the heart:—

The sorrows of Narowal as set forth in recent reports led many Christians to pray for the place and for the work and workers there. What wonder, then, that there are now blessings and encouragements to record? Experience makes one shy of publishing the hopes or successes which cheer one's own heart. We live night and day, but the seed grows we know not how. We devise and we labour, but cannot tell which shall prosper, whether this or that. There is no temptation to sacrifice to our net or burn incense to our drag. "We have toiled all night and have taken nothing." Of the three Narowalians who have been baptized since last report, there is not one of whom at that time any hopes had been raised. The sorrows of Narowal turned to blessings.

There are some things, however, which ought to be recorded for the information of our friends, so that they may know what is going on. First of all, the arrival of two ladies of the Village Mission, one of them an experienced labourer, and the other fresh from England, who reminds us of an honoured father who died amongst us six years ago. These ladies, besides diligently visiting the heathen women in the town and in the villages around, do much that only ladies can do among the women and children of the congregation; while by constantly residing in Narowal, they dispel the despondency which in spite of our theories and our wishes does fall on our Native agents when the presence of their European helpers is removed.

Next comes the establishment of a Mission hospital in the town. Our doctor is the eldest son of Dr. Imad-ud-din. He has two Christian helpers, one of them a convert from the Mazhabi Sikhs. I am ashamed to say that there is still so much suspicion and ignorance among the people as to prevent the Hindus as a body from availing themselves of medicines dispensed by him. But in spite of this drawback, there has been an immense amount of work done, both for soul and body, amongst the patients. The doctor goes out with his medicine-chest into the villages from time to time, and sitting under a tree or at a well, does what I consider ideal medical missionary work. Mission hospital.

An appeal for money to build a hospital was put out in the spring, and friends in England and in India responded so handsomely, that we got more than twice the amount of money required. The hospital is being built so far well within the estimate, and we are now building a ward for four beds and a doctor's house with the balance. Most gratefully do I acknowledge the liberality of my friends.

A Pathan, who was employed as chaprasi at the hospital, and who constantly heard the Gospel there, was baptized in November. One of the Christians gave a dinner on the day of his baptism in honour Baptism of a Pathan.

of the event. It was reported in the town that the convert was to be ceremonially fed thereat with swine's flesh; so a crowd of Mohammedans assembled, and a party of women led by his wife burst in among the guests and laid violent hands upon him, determined by seizing his throat to prevent so foul a consummation of his change of faith. I need hardly say that there was no such viand as they supposed in the house, but the police had to be called in before anything like festivity could begin again.

Narowal converts joining in Mission work.

Young Christians who had gone out into the world from Narowal, have been invited to rally round her, and to give all the self-sacrificing help that grateful affection to their old birthplace may suggest. One, two, or three at a time, of these dear young fellows have been with me from time to time during the year, sharing my lot and my labour as volunteers, and witnessing in every place to the truth and power of the Gospel. The comfort which this help has given to me, and the hope it has inspired me with, are very real; but the true value of such work lies in this, that therein Christ is lifted up.

One gave up his appointment in a school to preach the Gospel, and in order to do so free of charge to the Mission, he sent me his savings, calculated to last for four years, which I am to disburse as he has need. Before coming he wrote:—"I do not intend to teach English any further. My soul is not at all satisfied in it. I have the prospect of becoming head-master here, but neither joy nor comfort can I find in these things. The hope of everlasting life and eternal joy has taken the possession of my heart. The more I teach and preach and think on the love of God to man, the higher state I feel in my heart. I cannot express my joy; you know it perfectly yourself."

A curious result of the ladies' work in the district is that I am now (as never before in a single instance) not unfrequently addressed by the women; sometimes by way of salutation, and sometimes in terms of religious inquiry. I have long been an object of horror and terror to the gentle sex, and so it is very pleasant to find that their prejudices have been in some degree softened by conversation with lady missionaries.

More workers urgently needed.

Once more it must be reported that I have three men's work to do in a most fruitful and encouraging field. Batala district will be added in the spring. Oh, for more workers! It is pitiful to think of inquirers unvisited, and invitations to preach and teach perforce declined, to say nothing of the Christian communities untended. One must sigh and sorrow when such thoughts come up, but again and again one has fresh cause to rejoice over the progress and power of Christianity in the land, and to thank God for what He is doing here, and that He permits our eyes to see it.

Of the Christian village of Clarkabad, Mr. Beutel sends a very interesting report, particularly regarding the agricultural and industrial work. A few sentences may be extracted:—

Christian village of Clarkabad.

The village has been thoroughly swept and cleaned, and the ihátas (enclosures of the houses) for the residents marked out. Some more buildings and walls have been added—the new dispensary and hospital buildings, and also the gateways and doors completed, so that the village now can be shut up at nights, and thus thieves be prevented from stealing our cattle, as they repeatedly have done as long as the village was open. The village tank has been enlarged, some more roads, together with some bridges, constructed, and more trees planted in many places.

Special stress has been laid on the improvements of the fields: shrubs have been rooted up, mounds of earth removed, and the ground levelled in many places; the old watercourses have been repaired, and others dug in different directions. Day-labourers (Christians and non-Christians) have been employed almost daily all the year round; sometimes there have been thirty to forty labourers at work; the average number has been ten to twenty. The out-turn of the spring crops, although very promising at first, has been rather small at the end. . . . Hence our income from the spring crop has been far below the average. Scarcely any of our zamindars (Christian and non-Christian) were able to pay their mamla (water-due), because some of them had reaped little more than the seed corn. I had no money in hand, and yet nearly all of them expected me to advance the mamla for them.

Answers to prayer.

I was in great straits. What was to be done? I first applied to the great Giver of all good things, and I did not ask in vain, Miss Tucker, who had heard about our difficulties, very kindly sent me 10*l.* (Rs. 123). I received a grant of Rs. 230 from the Famine Fund, and later on, after the cause of our difficulty had appeared in the Lahore Church Gazette, another gift of Rs. 150 from H. E. Perkins, Esq., came in, and thus our greatest difficulty was removed, and I could just manage to carry on the most necessary work. . . . God has been very gracious and good to us, despite the little trials and difficulties that we have had.

Industrial pursuits and their results.

The garden and fields that were laid out and prepared for the benefit of our orphan boys four years ago, and on which a good deal of money from the Orphanage Fund has been spent, begin to pay, and have already brought in something. Besides the produce from the fields, the fruits and vegetables from the garden for the boys' own use, more than Rs. 700 has been recovered from sale of produce, including about Rs. 130 for fruits and vegetables, roses and plants from the garden only. This income from sales covers about the expenditure for the garden and fields at the present. Consequently all the grain, fruits, and vegetables for the boys' own use is a net income, the value of which, if roughly estimated, is about Rs. 200. But this is not all. More important is the fact that nearly all the boys are usefully employed in various agricultural labours, which is more or less appreciated by them.

Our industrial pursuits have been also extended in brick-burning. A kiln with about 200,000 bricks, which were baked early in spring, turned out fairly.

In last spring I have also made an experiment with silk-worms, the result of which was a few pounds of good cocoons. I intend to try this kind of industry on a somewhat larger scale, if possible and if it should pay. There is no longer any want of mulberry-leaves, more than a thousand trees have been planted.

Baptisms and Confirmations.

The last year began here with the baptism of sixteen children and adults by the Rev. R. Bateman. On Jan. 23rd, twenty-two persons were confirmed by the Lord Bishop of Lahore. Daily evening services, and services twice on Sundays, during the Passion Week, and other holy days and special occasions, and a Bible-class for the women on Wednesdays, have been held throughout the year.

BATÁLA.

The Rev. H. U. Weitbrecht, Ph.D., having come home, the Rev. Egerton Corfield will now carry on the Christian Boys' Boarding School. The various branches of work, which were fully described in last year's Report, have been in full operation during the past year under Dr. Weitbrecht's superintendence.

Illness and recovery of A.L.O.E.

Dr. Weitbrecht's Annual Letter is one of very great interest. He begins by expressing deep thankfulness, in which the Committee most truly join, for the unlooked-for recovery from serious illness of the revered honorary missionary of the C.E.Z.M.S., Miss Tucker. Of the Christian Boys' Boarding School which was Mr. Baring's special work, he writes that it is prospering, and its numbers larger than ever, owing, he says, to the "unwearied and loving work" of the excellent head-master, Babu J. C. Singha. He goes on,—

Reading and Prayer Union.

The Reading and Prayer Union has continued to work well as far as I can judge, most of the members and some new ones having expressed a desire to join again at the beginning of this year. Six of the boys, with three other Christians, were confirmed by the Bishop, when he visited Batala on the 1st of February, 1885, and as many more are looking forward to the rite (some having been put back last year) on the occasion of the consecration of our new Church.

Batala Y.M.C.A.

The Young Men's Christian Association, under the presidency of our Batala catechist, Munshi Fath Masih, continues to be well kept up and to do a good work. It raises funds, not only from members here, but also from old boys, and with the aid of one offertory a month from the school chapel, the Association maintains and supervises (through its president) a school for sweeper boys. Two of the pupils of this school are now candidates for baptism, and a former teacher (of the Chuhra caste) has been baptized, and is now under training for evangelistic work among his caste-fellows.

I believe that the Spirit of God is really working among the boys; and as one sign of it I am thankful to mention that no less than three (in addition to one who was sent here with the intention) have expressed a desire to go to the Divinity School. One of these, the eldest son of Munshi Narayan Prashad, is very decided about it, and though not yet fifteen years old, he has asked to go at once, without proceeding to the Entrance Examination, because he has noticed that none who have passed that standard have yet given themselves to the Lord's work, and he fears lest he may be carried away by the same notions.

He writes also of three baptisms, one of the converts being the lad mentioned above by Mr. Wade, Lachmi Chand:—

Three baptisms.

In Batala itself there have been a few baptisms. Three were those of youths who are now in our school—one the younger son of Bishan Das, another a younger brother of the Rev. Dina Nath, and the third a lad from the Narowal Mission school, whom Bateman brought here for baptism.

This last-mentioned boy, Lachmi Chand by name, has had to suffer a good deal. He belongs to a high-caste family of Narowal, and his father-in-law lives in Dera Nanak. The father-in-law and other relations came to dissuade him, as usual in such cases, before his baptism, and after it they brought an action against Mr. Bateman for detention of a minor. This was very protracted, and in the meanwhile the lad was beset on all hands by his own people and the Dayanandis (Arya Samaj). He was well supported by his Christian friends, notably by another of our boys, Ram Chand, a Pind Dadan Khan convert, and with God's help he remained firm.

But before sentence was finally pronounced in this civil suit, I was suddenly called down one Sunday evening to the schoolroom, to find Lachmi Chand in a raving condition. He had already told the boys that some relations had been to see him and had giving him sweets. It was evident that he had been poisoned. Happily, Dr. H. M. Sutton, of Bagdad, was visiting us, and the Deputy Commissioner, Mr. W. Coldstream, who happened to be encamped in Batala, was dining here. Medical measures were quickly taken, and the police were in attendance with unwonted celerity; indeed, by ten o'clock the three men who had visited Lachmi Chand were produced and identified. Happily the boy has recovered, having eaten only a very small quantity of the sweets that were offered to him. We trust all will turn out to the furtherance of the Gospel, and to the future protection of young converts from like peril.

Movement among the Chuhras towards Christianity.

But what gives special interest to Dr. Weitbrecht's Report is its account of the widespread movement towards Christianity among the low-caste village people called Chuhras, of whom there are about a million in the Punjab, and who are probably a remnant of the aborigines conquered 3000 years ago by the Aryan invaders. In the towns they are the scavengers; in the rural districts they are the lowest class of labourers. These people have scarcely being touched by the missionaries, but they seem to have heard of the Gospel, so to speak, "by chance," and are now pressing into the circle of Christian instruction. The American United Presbyterians first admitted them, in considerable numbers; and now Dr. Weitbrecht reports numerous inquiries from those in the C.M.S. districts, and many baptisms:—

"We want to find the true way."

On the 9th of March last Mr. Bateman and myself were camping together at Fathgarh, when the heads of the Chuhra community there (after frequently speaking on the subject with the Mission agents) came to ask us that we would have them taught the Gospel, and establish a school for their children. "We want to find the true way," they said. They promised to provide the ground for a school-house, and to raise the walls of sun-burnt brick, on the understanding that the Mission should provide the wood for doors, windows, and roof. To this we agreed. A worker was found in one of the head boys of our Fathgarh Mission school, who is a Christian at heart, and likely to become one fully on attaining his majority. He, under the supervision of the head-master, Munshi 'Umru'd Din, has done very creditable work.

Meanwhile, teaching of the adults was zealously carried on by our veteran catechist, Munshi Narayan Prashad, who rejoices in his old age to see a harvest being gathered in. He was ably seconded by Munshi 'Umru'd Din, who is a good musician, and something of a hymn-writer in Punjabi. The people took most warmly to Christian hymn-singing, and would assemble night after night, with their rude instruments, to be taught to pray and sing. The music, rude as it is, seems to have brought a colour into their lives which they had not known before.

Numerous baptisms.

After frequently visiting the place, I was able, in October last, to baptize the first group of catechumens, numbering twenty. At the close of the year, and a few days ago (February), further baptisms took place, amounting in all to sixty-five. One of these, who was baptized in an advanced stage of consumption, has since gone to his rest, and his body is the first seed of resurrection sown in the little cemetery which Mr. Baring bought.

All the candidates for baptism have been required to commit to memory the Creed, the Lord's Prayer, and the Ten Commandments, and to show some appreciation of their meaning; and care has been taken to exclude any whose life was known to be evil or doubtful. In some cases, we have seen a really hearty appreciation of the Gospel message. The newly-baptized have remained in their former occupations of agricultural and potters' labourers and leather-sellers; but it has been insisted on that they should break off their connection with the heathen Chuhra community, and more especially cease to eat carrion. A Church Committee, or Panchayat, is being organized, and weekly offerings of pice, flour, and grain, are brought at the Sunday morning service. The converts gain, to a certain extent, in social position, being no longer reckoned as Chuhras, but as Christians. On the other hand, they have to suffer a good deal of opposition and petty persecution, especially from the cultivators, who put obstacles in the way of their coming to service, under the impression that, as Christians, they will become too independent.

Social changes on conversion

Dedication of new church at Batala.

This is only one village. At several others there are equally earnest inquirers; and there have been further baptisms. The new church at Batála, built chiefly at the cost of Mr. Baring, who has spent nearly 1000*l.* upon it, was dedicated by the Bishop of Lahore on March 4th.

KANGRA, KÓTGÚR, SIMLA.

Death of Mrs. Reuther: her missionary career.

The death of Mrs. Reuther, on July 5, has removed from KANGRA its "mother in Israel." Adelaide Bernhardt was married in 1844 to the Rev. C. Reuther, who was then an agent of the Berlin Society. Their connection with the C.M.S. began in 1849, and for thirty years they worked unweariedly, at several stations in the North-West Provinces, and afterwards at Kangra. After her husband's death in 1879, Mrs. Reuther took charge of the Girls' Orphanage at Amritsar for a time, and then went back to Kangra, and virtually superintended the Mission there. There are 67 Native Christians, and 210 children at school. Mr. W. Briggs, late of Múltán, now resides at Kangra; and he gives an interesting account of evangelistic work at the great annual mela:—

Evangelistic work at a mela.

At the October mela, which is visited by people from the remotest parts of India—even from Bombay and Tinnevelly—our preaching operations were greatly assisted by Mr. Lemmon with his concertina, and by Miss Briggs on the harmonium. Strange to relate, the temple authorities rented us a raised platform, under the shadow of the temple, as a preaching-stand. Whether it was the love of filthy lucre or indifference to our proceedings which prompted them to do this I do not know.

During the five days of the mela, for at least five hours a day, the Gospel of Jesus was preached and sung to quiet and attentive crowds, composed of men and women from all parts of North India. The singing of some well-known Hindustani hymns and bhajans—especially the hymn, "Whither pilgrim art thou going?" (Hind., "Kidhar jate gatri logo?") had doubtless a great deal to do with getting together the congregations and keeping them. The hymns, however, were never sung merely to get the people together, but to illustrate the subject of discourse, and sometimes to found a discourse on. As a rule, every verse was fully explained and commented on, so as to insure it being understood by the people when sung.

It was pleasing to notice not a few persons always present at every service, so it is not too much to hope that the seed of the Word may have found a resting-place in some few hearts, perhaps to spring up and bring forth fruit in some village hundreds of miles away. A goodly number of Gospels and tracts, in Urdu, Hindi, and Panjabi, was sold at this mela; and some few persons followed our Native friends and helpers to their homes to inquire further about the things they had heard.

Most of the people who attend the Kangra Mela, after its close go on to Jawalamukhi (the mouth of Jawala, the Hindu fire-god), some twenty-two miles south of Kangra. It gets its name from the fact that a small flame issues from the ground. For ages Jawalaji, as it is often called, has been a famous place of pilgrimage. A town, substantially built of stone, has sprung up round the temple, and is, of course, wholly supported by idolatry. Disgusting idols meet the eyes at every turn in the streets and lanes of the town.

We spent four days at Jawalamukhi, preaching two hours morning and evening, but the most hopeful sign, to my mind, was the great demand for Christian books and Gospels in Panjabi. We sold all we had and might have sold hundreds more.

The Rev. A. Bailey is the missionary at KÓTGÚR.

Lord Dufferin at Native Communion Service.

The Rev. Thos. Edwards, a Native Christian from Madras, is the pastor of the congregation of some 200 persons at SIMLA. The new church of St. Thomas was dedicated by the Bishop of Lahore on Aug. 9, on which occasion the Viceroy and Lady Dufferin received the Holy Communion with the Native Christians and other friends. Mr. Edwards gratefully acknowledges the help of Christian people among the Anglo-Indian official community:—

Help from English residents.

During the past year we have received direct help from four workers, of whom two are ladies, who have exerted much missionary influence amongst our people. One lady has taken part in the Bible-reading for women, and the other has kindly interested herself in the school. One of the gentlemen, who holds a high position under Government, has carried on regularly a Bible-class for both Christian men and women once every week, and has also conducted a weekly meeting for non-Christians, when religious matters have been discussed. Another kind friend, a major in the army, has also taken a part in the last-named meeting.

LAHORE.

Lahore Divinity school.

The Lahore Divinity School continues to be carried on by the Rev. F. A. P. Shirreff as Principal; and the Rev. W. T. St. Clair Tisdall, of the University of New Zealand, having passed both the first and second language examinations both in Urdu and Persian (besides studying Arabic and Sanscrit), has been acting as Vice-Principal. The Committee deeply sympathize with Mr. Tisdall in the loss of his wife, already mentioned. He asks for prayer "that his affliction may be blessed, and that he may be made more fit for the work to which God has called him." The Committee cannot but repeat the expression of their gratitude to the Church of New Zealand for its gift to the Punjab Mission.

The Rev. Dina Nath has also rendered important help in the College work; in addition to which he has spent the vacations in preaching tours in the Narowal district, and has also written two useful Urdu tracts on the Lord's Supper.

Mr. Shirreff, in a brief notice of the College studies, mentions especially the value to the students of lectures on Davison on Prophecy, and Hooker's Ecclesiastical Polity.

Mr. Tisdall, while studying the languages, was able to do important work in English. Educated Natives will value lectures in English when they will not attend lectures in the vernacular:—

English lectures to educated Natives.

Almost immediately after reaching Lahore, I perceived what a vast field of usefulness was presented to one, even while devoid of a thorough knowledge of Urdu, by the fact that in this station there are some hundreds of educated Natives, mostly young men, who speak English fluently, and who are willing to attend English lectures on religious subjects, but would not attend an address in Urdu on such matters. The Rev. C. Forman, of the American Presbyterian Mission, very kindly gave me the opportunity of doing as I desired by repeatedly inviting me to deliver such lectures in the City, and placing at my disposal for the purpose his large school there, known as the Rang Mahal. I there delivered several lectures,—one, for example, entitled "Christianity: its Progress, Present Position, and Future Prospects:" another on "The Historical Proofs of the Resurrection of Jesus Christ," &c. On each occasion I had a large audience, and an attentive hearing was given. After each lecture, on either the same or on some following evening, an opportunity was granted for free discussion of the subject dealt with. Of this the audience freely availed themselves. In this manner the Resurrection of our Lord engaged their attention for three weeks.

On several occasions I was enabled to have an earnest private talk on religious matters, after the meeting was over, with twenty or thirty persons who had remained for the purpose; and once this lasted for two hours. The opportunity thus afforded of urging them to accept the Gospel was a valuable one. One or two of the audience have generally walked home with me, and have even come into my study as inquirers.

There is a large association here in connection with the Brahmo Somaj, entitled the "Young Men's Religious Society." I have made it my duty to attend the lectures there, given whenever possible, and have thus formed the acquaintance of some of the leading members, with whom I have had religious conversation. I never enter into a discussion when it seems that the object of those who wish to dispute is merely to show their argumentative abilities, but only when there seems to be some desire to know the truth. With a view to remove one of the standing objections which these people urge against Christianity, viz., that all the greatest scientists in the world are opposed to it, and that science has driven Christianity from the field, I have published one of a course of lectures on Christian Evidences (which course I delivered in New Zealand) in English. In this lecture I show by argument, and quotations from the works of many leading scientists, that such a theory is untenable.

Holy Trinity, Lahore.

To Mr. Tisdall was also allotted the supervision of the Native Christian congregation of Holy Trinity, with its "zealous and hard-working pastor," the Rev. Yakub Ali. This community, comprising 265 souls, much needs quickening in spiritual life, and particularly in readiness to support its own church expenses, &c. In connection with this branch of the work Mr. Tisdall has started a new evangelistic movement:—

Hymns in the streets.

At Yakub Ali's suggestion, we have invited all earnest Native Christians of upright life, belonging either to our own or to the American Mission, to join us in forming a body of men to undertake voluntary mission work among their own countrymen. Our plan is to go once a week in procession, singing hymns set to Native bhajan tunes, either to one of the bazaars outside the town, or into the city itself, or to one of the neighbouring villages. It is thought that this will probably enable us to collect a heathen or Mohammedan congregation. When the people assemble we shall lead them to some suitable building,—three, viz., the Holy Trinity Church, the Lohari Gate chapel, and the Rang Mahal (the latter voluntarily offered by the Rev. C. Forman, who warmly approves of our plan), are at our disposal—and there preach the simple Gospel message without controversial discussions, inviting those who wish to inquire further to come to us at a fixed date and place. None but volunteers engage in the work, and it is intended to be a voluntary attempt of the Native Church of Christ to bring the Light of Life to their fellow-countrymen who still sit in darkness.

It was mentioned last year that Dr. Weitbrecht had conducted a special Mission at Lahore for English people. This was a mistake. It was for the Native Christians. The following notice of it has been furnished by the Rev. A. Lewis:—

Parochial Mission at Lahore.

An effort was made last year to deeper spiritual life in the Native Christian congregation of Holy Trinity Church, Anarkali. During Passion Week (1885) the Rev. H. U. Weitbrecht conducted a series of special services on the basis of English Parochial Missions. All the services were in the vernacular. The success of the effort is evident perhaps from the remarks of one of the leading members of the congregation, who having expressed grave doubts about our ever having more than five or six people in church, on seeing it well filled service after service, said, "Well, I never expected to see anything like this." Many professed a desire to consecrate themselves more entirely to the Lord, and volunteers for work came forward. Mr. H. E. Perkins, C.E., and Mrs. Perkins rendered assistance, the one by addressing young men, the other by taking a children's meeting.

Holiday work of a missionary.

Missionaries are sometimes criticized because, like other Anglo-Indians, they resort for the recruiting of health and strength to some sanatorium in the hills. No doubt the moral atmosphere of these hill-stations is not favourable to missionary ardour and industry; but a sojourn at one of them may be turned to good account, as the following will show:—

During my residence of some months at Dharmsala, besides making a very decided advance in Urdu and carrying my Persian, Arabic, and Sanskrit studies a little further, I was frequently engaged in preaching at the English Church, and occasionally at a series of evangelistic meetings (Urdu) which were begun by Colonel Millett, District Superintendent of Police of Montgomery, who was then staying at Dharmsala. We also succeeded in holding a series of devotional meetings for the study of God's Word among those missionaries of the C.M.S. and the C.E.Z.M.S. who were then at Dharmsala, and were fortunate enough to induce the members of the American Village Mission and some people of the station to join us. I believe these meetings were productive of much good.

PIND DÁDAN KHAN.

The Rev. C. Merk has been in charge of this station, assisted by the Rev. Thos. Howell, a Native clergyman. There are 25 Christian adherents, and 53 children under instruction.

MÚLTÁN.

The Rev. Trevor Bomford is the missionary at this most important but too much neglected station, assisted by the Rev. Theophilus Holden. Mr. Bomford's Annual Letter, though it has little indeed of visible fruit of his patient labours to report, is particularly interesting. Referring to the Bishop of Rochester's sermon at St. Bride's at the C.M.S. Anniversary of 1880, the text of which was "Take ye away the stone," he divides his letter into three parts, (1) Taking away the stone, (2) Giving life, (3) Loosing and letting go. Under the first head he enlarges on the school work at Múltán, Bahawalpur, and Shujabad, the importance of which has been illustrated in previous Annual Reports, and also on his bazaar-preaching and on the sale of Christian books. Then he asks, "Is the stone going?"—

"Take away the stone."

Yes, inch at a time, and chip by chip. Thirteen years ago the first Native of Multan was baptized. His relations heaped curses on him and the missionaries. Three years ago he was (while a catechist) living with his parents. This year his father died. The family, all Mohammedans, met to elect a head, and they elected the Christian catechist; and further, some land belonging to the family in another district was, with their unanimous consent, registered in his name. The storm of prejudice is certainly considerably shaken before this could take place in Multan.

"Is the stone going?"

Then, under the second head, he asks, "Have any received life and come forth in the year under review?"—

The answer to this is, "I am sorry to say, not one." Inquirers we have of various sorts. (a) The "Christ-Trafficker" (see Teaching of the Apostles). (b) The slow but fairly steady class, generally in middle age, who take three months reading through one gospel, and ask questions about what they read once a month or so. (c) Representatives of the younger generation, who are dissatisfied with both Hinduism and Mohammedanism, and who are inclined to see whether Christianity has anything better for them. But one has to be very careful with all such. We want "living" men, and not merely their bodies dressed up in the name of Christ.

The 'Christ Trafficker.'

Under the third head, "Loosing and letting go," he describes his efforts for the spiritual improvement of the little band of Native Christians, forty in all. One illustration may be given:—

Loosing and letting go.

During the whole hot weather of eight months I had the leading member of the congregation for Bible instruction for an hour and a half every day. He told me, after a few months, that at first he was rather annoyed at my proposing to read the Bible with him, as he thought he knew it; but finding out there was more in it than he thought, he latterly enjoyed it very much. He had hitherto retained in his life one or two Hindu customs comparatively harmless, but still distinctly Hindu, which I had once vainly tried to reason him out of; but when reading 1 Corinthians viii. I asked him how St. Paul's teaching bore on the question, and he at once said, "I see I was wrong;" and from that day discontinued the custom. He was loosed from that.

DERA GHÁZI KHAN (BELUCH MISSION).

Beluch Medical Mission.

The Rev. A. Lewis being in England, the Rev. M. Hamid Ishaq has forwarded the statistics. In the town there are 10 Native Christians, and 88 children at school. In the Beluch Mission itself fruit is yet waited for. Dr. A. Jukes has carried on his medical work both in Dera Gházi and (in the summer) at Fort Munro. He has had 6431 separate out-patients, who have made 20,564 visits; and 100 in-patients. Translation work also goes on, and considerable additions have been made to the Múltáni Dictionary.

DERA ISMAIL KHAN, BANNU, TANK.

The same missionaries have continued to labour in the Deraját Mission, viz. the Rev. W. Thwaites at DERA ISMAIL KHAN, the Rev. T. J. L. Mayer at BANNU, and the Rev. John Williams, Native medical missionary, at TANK. Mr. Thwaites is assisted by the newly-ordained deacon already mentioned, the Rev. Mulaim-ud-dín, who is an old worker at the station. Miss Johnson (Nurse Rose) is also there, doing a very interesting work among the women:—

A lady's medical work.

> During the short time my wife was with me, after her return from England, she began a work among the women of Deera, which seemed to be very much appreciated, and she was encouraged to make arrangements for the getting out of a helper from home. . . . Miss Johnson has now been at work over a year, and has found many and great opportunities for making known the words and also the spirit of the Gospel to the women of this neighbourhood. She is never without patients; women come for medicine sometimes as many as sixty or seventy in the day, and hardly a day passes without at least one visit to the city, and she is also frequently called to the villages. She has had patients from a distance of twenty or thirty miles, sometimes on camels, sometimes on bullocks, and sometimes on ponies. In the year 1885 more than 4000 visits were made to her, and of these many were Pushtu-speaking women, the wives of Povindah merchants, or of Waziris from the hills.

Of Tank, Mr. Thwaites writes:—

> One of the brightest spots in my life on the frontier is my friendship with my dear brother at Tank, John Williams. For many years he has laboured patiently, and sown the seed of the Gospel faithfully, and as yet he has had very little of the joy of the reaper. But he is bright and strong in hope, and his happy, cheery Christian character has often been a lesson to me. His work is among a people whose hearts seem to be as hard as their own hills, yet some have not been altogether able to resist the loving gentleness of their faqir doctor. In 1885 there were 6104 new cases treated in the hospital, and 5643 old ones; in all, 11,747. He performed 1181 minor operations and 99 major.

Medical work at Tank.

Mr. Mayer, at Bannu, was full of joy on Feb. 21st, at the baptism of the first pure Pathán boy from his mission school; but his joy has been turned into sorrow. Upon the baptism a great tumult arose; and to avoid bloodshed, the Deputy-Commissioner insisted upon the lad being given back to his friends for twenty days, they undertaking, if he then still desired to remain a Christian, to make no further difficulty. The twenty days were a time of terrible trial; but the boy stood firm until he was brought back before the Deputy-Commissioner, when, worn out with the persecution he had endured, he elected to remain with his family. Mr. Mayer believes, however, that he still has not denied his Lord; and certainly he is not beyond the reach of prayer.

PESHÁWAR (AFGHAN MISSION).

The Rev. Worthington Jukes has now two young colleagues, in the preparatory stage of missionary work, the Revs. T. E. Coverdale and A. E. Day. Mr. Jukes earnestly pleads that, now there are three men, "nothing may persuade the Society to diminish the number." "The organization," he urges, "for a large and active Mission exists, with abundant prospect of success and blessing; but hitherto the Mission has been kept at its lowest possible strength." He deprecates "all the energy of the Society seeming to go in starting new Missions, at Aden, Quetta, &c." So far, at all events, the Society has sent one lay medical missionary to each of these places, and, in the case of Aden, a gentleman forbidden by the Medical Board to go to India. It would be much more accurate to say that the Society's energy goes in the perpetual but not always successful effort to keep long-established Missions reinforced. In the past six years, six-sevenths of the ordained men whose location lay entirely with the Committee have been so allotted. Lay missionaries, medical or industrial or educational, are only engaged for specific work; and in the case of candidates who offer for particular fields, their wishes have ordinarily to be respected. If a Cambridge graduate in orders gives up prospects at home to devote himself to Central Africa or Japan, he cannot be sent to Pesháwar or Múltán. But the Punjab has less reason than any other Mission in the world to doubt the Committee's earnest desire to strengthen existing work.

The question of locations of Missionaries.

Mr. Jukes gives an account of the various agencies for reaching the Afghans, similar to that printed last year. There have been no events of special interest. The opportunity may be taken to give this time some passages from the Rev. Imam Shah's report:—

Rev. Imam Shah's report.

The Word of God is preached here in three ways:—

1. In the Church. To preach in the church is a good, easy plan. Sometimes a great many people come to attend, and hear the Word of God, and sometimes only a few. On such occasions, the preaching and giving of some notes on the lesson of the day is chiefly done for them. I am sure people understand what is spoken on the behalf of their good, but often a great deal of sorrow is felt when they come only to amuse themselves by singing. Yet it is hoped that God will awaken their conscience and heart to receive the glory and honour of God, and know his sin and think of salvation.

2. In the Literary Institute or Reading Club. Here we see members of the above club, and, finding good opportunity, talk about different subjects in compliance with the Christian religion. The greater part of the people whom we meet, oftentimes is the sect of Aryas (the new reformed Hindu youths). These Aryas are full of prejudice. It appears, when they heard of Christianity converting Hindus to the true religion, and proving Hinduism a mere invention of no use, these Aryas also contrived that, though they are not able to prove Hinduism a true religion, yet they will try their best to show defects in Christianity; and by this plan they will keep back people from being Christians.

3. In the Mission Guest-House, we especially see and talk to the Mohammedans, whose souls are confined in such a dark place that it seems quite hard that they will ever get rid of it. Their hearts are full of prejudice. These people who are careless about religion, when they hear of the true religion, at once become the defenders of Mohammedanism.

In this little flock all the people have been converted from Mohammedans into Christians, leaving only a few, who are strangers. And I hope they all try their best to bring their countrymen unto Christ.

Gift of New Testament to the Ameer of Cabul.

On the return of the Ameer of Afghanistan from the Durbar at Rawal Pindi in April last year to Kabul, Mr. Jukes presented him with a handsomely-bound copy of the New Testament in Pushto. In reply the Ameer wrote,—

"I have received your letter, and regret with you that I had no opportunity of seeing you. I am exceedingly sorry that during my visit to the Panjâb I was unable to see more of British thought and learning, but everything has its allotted time. The copy of the Gospel which you kindly sent, I receive with great reverence; although I do not consider myself bound by all that is written therein, I shall, nevertheless, treat it with that respect which is its due, as a book sent to us by God. I shall take great interest in its perusal. I shall, moreover, take extracts of all those passages that correspond with the Qurán, as well as all such passages as may be interesting and striking, and shall try to act up to them. It is with great pleasure that I receive this, the best of all my presents."

KASHMIR.

Summary of work in Kashmir.

Dr. A. Neve and the Rev. J. H. Knowles are the missionaries at Srinagar. In a recent printed report issued by the former, the Mission agencies are thus summarized:—

i. Preaching in the Mission Church, in the hospital, and to congregations of beggars.

ii. A special daily service in the church for Christians only.
iii. The Mission-school.
iv. The book-shop in Srinagar city.
v. Hospital visitation work, i.e. reading and expounding the Scriptures by the bedside, or rather squatting on the ground beside the patients in the wards.
vi. Itinerating with the medicine-box and Christian books for about three months in the year, as opportunity allows.

"Every branch of the work," writes Mr. Knowles, "hospital, church, schools, &c., has more or less developed. Thousands and thousands of people have visited us, and all have heard the story of Jesus and His love."

The event of the year was the disastrous earthquake of May 30. The missionaries worked hard to relieve the widespread suffering that ensued.

Death of the Maharajah.

The Maharajah of Kashmir, Runbeer Singh, died last summer. The Committee, remembering the protection and favour which, latterly at all events, he had accorded to the Mission, sent a resolution of condolence to his son, the present Maharajah. A cordial reply has been received.

SINDH MISSION.

The Sindh Mission has the same five missionaries who were reported last year; or if Quetta be regarded as attached to it, it now has six, Dr. S. W. Sutton having been appointed to that frontier outpost. The Rev. G. Shirt, the senior Sindh missionary, who had himself already visited Quetta, has been requested to take the superintendence of the new enterprise, and to introduce Dr. Sutton to the sphere of his labours.* An ordained missionary to be stationed there permanently is yet to be provided.

KARÁCHI.

Marked signs of "enlargement."

The Revs. J. J. Bambridge and A. E. Ball occupy this flourishing and growing post. It is encouraging to find Mr. Bambridge expressing his conviction that "the Karáchi Mission seems to be entering upon a more definite period of progress and extension than ever heretofore. Marked and evident signs of enlargement, religious, social, intellectual, and political, surround us; and," he adds, "it now remains for the C.M.S. not only to thoroughly realize its position, but also to utilize every opening and make Karáchi a strong centre." Most gladly would the Committee do so! Mr. Bambridge gives a most interesting notice of the English Lectures, Literary Society, and "at homes," by which he seeks to influence the educated Natives:—

* June 16th.—The Committee have received with deep regret, by telegraph, the news of Mr. Shirt's sudden death.

English Lectures.

For the last two or three years English addresses have been a medium for reaching our high-class and better-educated Native gentlemen. During the year this kind of work has been more definitely sustained. The erection and opening of the Max Denso Hall, a kind of town-hall for the use of Natives, and situated in the Native town, affords us an excellent meeting place.

At the close of the year I finished my first course of twenty lectures on "The Historical Religions of India." The lectures were given at 8.30 on Sunday mornings, and I usually had an encouraging and attentive audience. Upon the return of my friends from the districts I hope to begin a second course on "The Religions of India compared with Christianity," to be followed—provided the sharp lancet of truth has not severed my connection with an audience—by a third course on "The Christian Creed."

Out of these Sunday morning lectures a Literary Society for the moral, social, and intellectual improvement of its members has grown. This Society, of which I am the president, meets in the above hall on Wednesday evenings, and numbers 250 members, among whom are the leading Native gentry of Karachi. Many influential Europeans in the station have given us valuable help by delivering lectures, &c.

A missionary's "At homes."

Deriving my guests from the above society, I have lately tried "at homes" on Friday evenings at the mission-house, which I think have proved a further bond of union between Europeans and Natives, as well as a means to an end. However, before thoroughly testing and weighing this kind of work, I hesitate to record any further impressions of it, beyond saying that it is from the ranks of such men as attend these meetings the leaders and teachers of the next generation will be drawn, and therefore all that they hear and learn by close personal contact with European missionaries must make them more conversant and sympathetic with Christianity, even though they do not now openly embrace it. This though must follow, and it is for this end that we must live and labour.

Divinity Class.

The Divinity Class, with three students, and the various evangelistic agencies, have been carried on regularly. The Native congregation of eighty souls has a pastor under the Punjab Church Council, the Rev. Bhola Nath Ghose.

Mr. Ball superintends the educational work, comprising a High School and Vernacular Schools, and also the Book-shop, Bible colportage, &c. There are 650 boys under instruction, the great majority being Hindus, with a few Mohammedans. The sales of books and tracts have been highly encouraging. In 1883, the number sold was 6779; in 1884, it was 11,109; in 1885, it was 17,395.

Sales of books.

HYDRABAD.

The Revs. J. Redman and A. W. Cotton have carried on without interruption their patient and persistent efforts for the evangelization of this city and district, hitherto one of the least fruitful of all the Society's fields. They have been cheered by the arrival of a C.E.Z.M.S. lady, Miss Bloomer, who has been in the province before, and who will be a great help to Mrs. Redman. The want of the Mission is Native Christian teachers in the schools. As long as, in order to keep them going at all, non-Christian teachers have to be engaged for the secular instruction, a high moral and spiritual tone cannot be looked for, even with all the personal zeal of the missionaries. The Bishop of Lahore has earnestly drawn attention to this point. Meanwhile a Young Men's Mutual Improvement Society has been started, with a view to influencing some of the youths attending the High School.

A Young Men's Mutual Improvement Society.

Mr. Redman describes the position of the brethren in Sindh in words which should elicit much prayer in their behalf:—

"Toiling in rowing."

> We are like the disciples on the sea, when their Lord saw them "toiling in rowing, for the wind was contrary unto them" (Mark vi. 48), and came to them. We, like them, have made but little headway, but we know that the Master is at hand to help and strengthen. Or, again, we are like them too when, after toiling all night at their work, they had taken nothing. But the Lord came and gave them a net full of fish, and we pray Him to direct us also on which side to cast the net, so that we too may enclose a great multitude of living souls.

SUKKUR.

This town, in the north of Sindh, on the Indus, has been visited for many years by the Society's missionaries. It has lately increased in importance, being close to the great railway bridge over the Indus, and near the junction of the Sibi Railway which runs up to the frontier of Beluchistan, and which is the route to Quetta; and here the Rev. G. Shirt chiefly resided on his return to India last year. Mr. Cotton has now moved up from Hydrabad to hold the place.

Mr. Shirt's report gives the following account of his recent translation work:—

Sindhi translational work.

> I have revised the Book of Proverbs, not formerly published, but read for years in the Sindhi services at Hydrabad, and prepared it for the press. The book is now being published by the Bible Society. I have also revised the Gospel according to St. Luke, and prepared a copy for the press in the Hindu Sindhi character. Besides this I have translated Nehemiah, Job, Jeremiah, and Daniel, thus helping to fill up some of the gaps that still exist in the translation of the Old Testament. One is thankful at last to have the assistance of the labours of the revisers of the Old Testament in English; but this does not obviate, in my opinion, the necessity for a Bible translator very carefully to weigh the original, compare versions, use good commentaries, digest the word, and, above all, that he should really know the language into which he translates. I have also written a small original tract on "Fate," and translated a bhajan. Only those who have worked in the same mine can form a judgment of the labour implied in even so small an amount of work as I have just reported.

Mr. Shirt's translations.

WESTERN-INDIA MISSION.

Bombay, 1820; Nasik, 1832; Junir, 1846; Malegâm, 1848; Aurangabad, 1860.

An insufficient Staff.

ONCE again deep sympathy has to be expressed as this Mission is turned to. The six missionaries who have borne the burden and heat of the day during the past year ought to have been sixteen, to carry on the work effectively. The seven who were sympathized with in last year's Annual Report were reduced by one while it was passing through the press, the Rev. C. Mountfort dying of typhoid fever on June 14. The Committee much regret the loss of a promising young missionary. Two recruits have since been sent out, the Rev. J. M. Macdonald, late curate of Fisherton, and the Rev. E. J. Jones; and one or more of the members of the staff now at home will, it is hoped, return to the field in the autumn; but meanwhile the Rev. F. G. Macartney has come home on furlough after nearly twelve years' unbroken service. The Committee earnestly hope that next year they may be able, not merely to express sympathy, but to act upon it by sending reinforcements. This, however, rests with the whole Society rather than with them.

BOMBAY.

The staff is unaltered. The Rev. R. A. Squires continues Acting Secretary of the Mission and Minister of the Girgaum Church; the Rev. H. A. Bren and Mr. Jackson, Principal and Vice-Principal of the Robert Money School; the Rev. J. G. Deimler, missionary to the Mohammedans; and the Rev. Appaji Bapuji, pastor of the Maráthi congregation.

Robert Money School.

Messrs. Bren and Jackson send a joint report on the Money School. The School has suffered numerically by the starting of an opposition school by two ex-assistant Native masters, but is recovering; and the educational results of the year in the University examinations have been good notwithstanding. The year closed with the following numbers:—Brahmans, 41; other Hindus, 101; Moslems, 8; Jews, 18; Romanist, 1; Protestants, 6. Of the School as a mission agency the report says,— Scripture-teaching in school.

> As we have endeavoured to maintain the efficiency of the school as an educational institution, so also we have done our best to preserve and increase its influence as a missionary agency. The school has been opened daily with prayer and the reading of the Scriptures in the vernacular. The Word of God is taught daily in every class. In the lower division of the school our Native Christian master, Mr. Anandrao Ramchandra, gives the instruction, and each class is orally examined in turn every week by Mr. Jackson. The religious instruction of the upper classes is entirely in our own hands, and we always find the lads very attentive and willing to learn.

Hindu students debating.

> The discussions in the seventh standard have been as full of interest and instruction as ever. In one of the bi-monthly examinations the question was set, "Show how far St. Paul's speech to the Athenians in Acts xvii. is applicable to Hindus in Bombay." A Brahmin lad who has passed the matriculation examination this year, and who has since taken up work as an assistant master in a school connected with the S.P.G. at Dapoli, tried to show that it was entirely inapplicable. He argued that Hinduism and Christianity were far too much alike for Paul to have sought to convert the Hindus to the Christian faith. He pointed out many apparent resemblances, e.g. a belief in a Trinity—in a revelation—and in the possibility of an incarnation. He compared the moral sayings of Christ with those contained in the Vedas. He also made much of the fact that Paul did not preach at every street corner to an ignorant crowd, but waited rather for an opportunity of explaining the new religion to the educated and well-informed leaders of philosophical and religious thought amongst the Athenians.

As I was anxious to answer him fully, and hoped that the whole class might be greatly benefited by our discussion, I allowed him to state his views fully before the boys, and after he had done so I took up his statements separately, and endeavoured to show the vast difference between the true and the false system of religion. The contrast, not only between the incarnation of Krishna and Christ, but between all the other Hindu incarnations and the one Christian incarnation, served to show clearly that the resemblance between the two religions was more in words and appearances than in fact and reality.

Perhaps nothing was more striking than the impartiality of our hearers. It was surprising to see how fully the lads appreciated the arguments brought forward, and how readily they acknowledged when they had been fairly met.

Mr. Deimler reports fully on the Mohammedan Mission. Visiting is the chief method of reaching the upper classes, and street preaching the lower classes. During the year, the two Punjabi Christian fakirs, Musa Shah and Haji Shah, came to Bombay and joined in the preaching. Concerning them Mr. Deimler writes,— Christian fakirs preaching to Mohammedans.

For a whole month the Panjabi Christian faqir, Musa Shah, who had come to Bombay in company with his brother, Haji Shah, both honourably mentioned in the Society's periodicals, assisted us in the work. I was especially pleased with Musa Shah's power as a preacher, and his grasp of the essential truths of Christianity; in particular, his representation of it, not so much as a doctrine, but as a life which regenerates, renews, and sanctifies the sinner.

The gatherings throughout the year were, on the whole, quiet, attentive, and respectable. On one occasion only we were badly insulted; but on another occasion, when some of the better class of Natives were present, the catechist's address was followed with lively interest, and when he had finished, one after the other of the hearers shook hands with him in the most friendly way, at the same time giving expression to the pleasure they had had in hearing such good words falling from his lips. In all my missionary life I never before witnessed such courtesy shown to a preacher as in this case.

Mr. Deimler draws a very striking picture of Bombay as a Mohammedan field:—

Bombay as a Mohammedan field.

According to the last Census, there are about 160,000 Mohammedans in this island. This number is made up of several nationalities —the Konkanis, the Dakkanis, the Hindustanis, the Memans, the Khojas, the Bohoras, the Arabs, the Persians or Moghuls, and the Suahelis from East Africa. Though almost all know a little Hindustani, yet this language is the mother-tongue of only the Konkanis, the Dakkanis, and the Hindustanis; the Memans and the Khojas speak Kutchi; the Bohoras, Guzurathi; the Arabs, Arabic; the Persians, Persian; and the Suahelis, Kisuaheli. Thus we have six languages spoken by the Mohammedan population of the Presidency. Then we have a small number of other nationalities from all parts of India and the outlying countries, such as Sindhis, Beluchis, Afghans, and at the time of the annual pilgrimage to Mecca, even Tartars and Mongols, in considerable numbers.

Only "scratching the Surface."

All these present an open and inviting field for missionary labour. But what are two European missionaries, engaged in multifarious occupations, and three Native agents (this is the whole number), for a Mohammedan population of 160,000, speaking six different languages? All that they can do, at the most, is but to scratch the surface of the field. Nothing at all is done at present amongst the Hajis, the Arabs, and Persians. Does not this state of affairs appeal powerfully to the Committee to send another European missionary, and to engage one Native agent for each of the principal languages spoken by Mussulmans?

Bombay as a centre for Christian work.

Bombay, too, the city for which we ask the Society's aid, is one of the most important cities of the East, a splendid centre for Christian work, one of the chief cities of the British Empire, the seat of a Bishop of the Church of England, and also of European learning; a port for all the nations of the world, a gathering place for all the Hajis from the north, south, and east; a place of enormous wealth and generous munificence, where the better classes of Mohammedans are no bigots, but evince a liberal mind, and show attachment and kindness to benevolent and Christian institutions and missionaries.

POONA AND JUNIR.

An honorary Native missionary.

The Divinity School at Poona is not yet opened, owing to the paucity of the missionary staff; and there is no European missionary of the Society in this district. The honorary Native missionary, the Rev. Sorabji Kharsedji, sends some interesting particulars of his work:—

I.F.N.S. work at Poonah.

During the year our unpretentious work has been more or less varied. We have been rather successful in the educational branch, in which my wife and daughters are engaged, in connection with the Indian Female Normal School and Instruction Society. This society is indeed a real "help-meet" to the C.M.S. in its different stations in India, and it therefore deserves the heartfelt sympathy, active support, and earnest prayers of every Christian. At the beginning of the year, this branch of our work was severely attacked by no less than four Parsee journals. Parsee parents, who send their children to our school, were warned against the ultimate aim and object of our teaching, and a noble Parsee lady was blamed for her countenance and support to an avowed Christianizing school. These attacks were met by a letter from a young Parsee lady, who subscribed herself a pupil of Mrs. Sorabji. She said that although the Christian Scriptures were taught in the Victoria High School, Mrs. Sorabji did not force her creed upon any one, nor use underhand means to convert others; and she concluded her letter by contrasting the teaching given in the Victoria High School with that given in the Elphinstone High School in Bombay, the effects of which, she said, had led many Parsee young men to throw off all religious restraint, and become infidels. This letter effectually silenced the journalists' agitation, and we have now twice the number of Parsee children we had in former years.

Our work in Poona, of friendly intercourse among the Parsees and Brahmins, is carried on as usual. We have made some new acquaintances among the educated classes. Some of the young men we meet are endowed with fine intellects and noble natures; but, alas! they are misguided in the choice of their reading. They too readily grasp at atheistical or agnostical teaching, and we have thus a new difficulty to contend with, besides superstition and idolatry. However, they are honest, and declare themselves to be open to conviction, and, when we talk to them, deplore their inability to believe as the Christians do, and long for the gift of faith.

Longing for the gift of Faith.

I have had a great deal of travelling this year. I took every opportunity of proclaiming to my fellow-countrymen, of all castes and creeds, in railway carriages, and at whatever place I stayed, the Gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

My journeys to Surat and Ahmedabad were taken for the revision of the New Testament in Guzrathi, in connection with our devoted brethren, the Irish Presbyterian missionaries at Guzrat. We had two sessions of ten days each, during which we examined minutely and critically the Gospels of St. Matthew and St. Mark. The task was hard but pleasant, as we went through it with perfect unanimity; and I am happy to say that my faith in the integrity and authenticity of the sacred text was greatly strengthened and revived. It struck me as being remarkable that, in casting lots for the different portions of the Holy Scriptures among the members of the Revision Committee, the Gospel of St. Matthew should fall to my lot; for, through the reading of this, with the help of the Society's devoted missionary, the Rev. G. M. Valentine, of pious memory, whilst attending the Robert Money School, I was led to confess Christ and Him crucified, forty-five years ago.

A coincidence and a retrospect.

NASIK AND SHARANPUR.

The Rev. F. G. Macartney, who has come to England on furlough, has not sent a report, but the work at this station was fully described last year. The Rev. Lucas Maloba, the Native pastor at Sharanpur, mentions that six adults and thirteen children were baptized during the year, and twenty-one persons confirmed by the Bishop of Bombay. The Christian adherents number 365, of whom 160 are communicants.

Baptisms and confirmations.

MALEGAM.

This station and district were also described in some detail last year. The Rev. A. Manwaring writes that the past year has, he trusts, "witnessed a steady advance in the work." The Christian adherents have increased to 209, and the communicants to 92. Eleven adults and fourteen children have been baptized. Among the new converts are two disciples of the old guru so often mentioned, Dasarathboa; but the old man himself, while expressing pleasure at their baptism, still holds aloof. But Mr. Manwaring reminds us that his district is an area of 12,000 square miles, equal to the nine southern counties of England, with a population of 1,200,000, and no brother missionary!

The area of a missionary's district.

AURANGABAD.

This is the bright spot of the Western-India Mission, though without an English missionary. The Native brother in charge, the Rev. Ruttonji Nowroji, has been conspicuously blessed in his work. His baptisms in the past year (255 adults, 146 children) are numerically more like Tinnevelly or Fuh-Kien than North or Western India. His totals (Christians, 1065; communicants, 565) have just doubled in three years. His Annual Letter is deeply interesting:—

A bright spot in Western India: 400 baptisms.

I am thankful to be able to report that the past year has been a year of great success and encouragement to this Mission. Our number has considerably increased by the baptism of 255 adults and 146 children, making in all 401.

These new converts are chiefly from amongst the humblest classes of the Native community, who are thought little or nothing of by the higher classes. But to us, who believe that God has made of one blood all nations of men, their souls are as precious as the souls of the very highest of our fellow-beings. Long kept in degradation, and trodden under foot by the tyranny of caste, it is the prerogative of Christianity to improve their social standing in life as it enlightens and ennobles the mental and moral nature of its believers.

Social benefits of the Gospel.

But despised as they are, they have given sufficient proofs of their sincerity. They have cheerfully given their thank-offerings at their baptism, and though it was but little in each instance, it was an earnest of what they might hereafter do for the maintenance of their religious teachers. They have had trials to bear on their taking up their cross, some more than others, but they have stood the test.

In a Jahageer village, managed by a Mohammedan official exercising authority independently of the Nizam's officials, the converts were greatly harassed. The official, on learning that they had consented to be baptized, had sent his peons to watch them, and to drive them out of the village. It was an hour of sore trouble and anxiety, the like of which had never taken place before. I felt deeply for them, and was at a loss to know what to do. I sent four of the agents, with a polite message, to the official to countermand his order, as the men had done nothing wrong in embracing Christianity, and that he would soon find that they had become better inhabitants for their conversion. The man, though civil, seemed determined to carry out his threats. We had but one course left to us: it was prayer. We prayed that God would not let the new converts suffer more than they were able to bear; and that the heart of the official might be softened. And the answer came. With the dawn of day the persecution ceased, and all threats withdrawn. I have subsequently visited the village, and was cheered to find that the converts were in good favour of the official. Since becoming Christians they have given up their intoxicating habits, and this has given the man a great pleasure.

Zeal of the Converts.

Some of the newly baptized Christians take an active part in persuading their friends and relations to embrace Christianity. The young man who wanted to put off his baptism, but was, at last, overcome with his wife's entreaty and earnestness, and received baptism with her, as mentioned in my last year's report, has done much good work in this respect. He has taken pains to learn to read, and has gone, with the New Testament, from village to village calling on people to believe on the Lord Jesus Christ. I have already baptized several families who have been brought under the influence and teaching of this man.

Preaching tours.

I have made extensive preaching tours in the district, and was rejoiced to find that the people are everywhere better disposed to hear us than in times past. I usually put up under some shady tree close by the village, where we may attract all classes. Although we have had few of the higher classes to come over to us, I do not despair of larger numbers becoming Christians. They have not only great sacrifices to make, but accustomed, as the people of this country are, to follow a multitude in all things, they desire that the more influential among them should take the lead in matters of religion. The sentiment expressed eighteen centuries ago, "Have any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed on Him?" finds an echo in the hearts of the people of this country. But from what I see and hear, I have no hesitation in saying that the time is not far distant when the higher classes will not resist the power of Christianity.

Need of helpers.

But what we do greatly need is an increased staff of helpers. Almost all our Mission stations are undermanned, but Aurangabad is more than any other. I have upwards of sixty villages in which one thousand of my Christians reside. It is no easy matter to provide for their spiritual wants. Some of my promising young men, taught in the Mission schools attached to the Aurangabad Mission, have offered their services at a nominal salary. I have employed a few of these, paying them a trifle to keep them in clothes, while the Christians among whom they labour provide them with food. But what are these among so many congregations? If the Gospel is to be extensively preached we ought to have a more duly qualified staff of preachers. And if the Christians are to be duly guided and instructed we ought to have village pastors.

Bazaar-preaching.

We have carried on our daily preaching in the bazaar without intermission. On weekly bazaar days our audiences are larger, and are composed of the city Hindus and Mohammedans, as well as villagers. We distribute leaflets in several languages. Though we do not preach in the large city of Aurangabad itself, we attract large numbers of its inhabitants week after week on their way to the camp market. Of course, we are not satisfied with this. I am in hopes of being able to place a suitable agent in the city where he could preach from his dwelling-house without exciting the animosity of the population.

Visitation of Bishop of Madras: Confirmations.

In November last we had a triennial visit from the good Bishop of Madras. One hundred and forty of my people were confirmed. The Confirmation Service was solemn, and the Bishop's address impressive. The Bishop visited the English school, and examined the senior boys. He also met the Society's agents, some of whom gave accounts of their work in the district. His Lordship seemed pleased with what he saw and heard, and exhorted the agents to be faithful in making Christ known to their fellow-countrymen.

SOUTH-INDIA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived in 1814.)

MADRAS, commenced 1814; TINNEVELLY, 1820; TELUGU MISSION, 1841.

Division of the Mission.

THE Society has four Mission-fields in South India; but as one of them, Travancore and Cochin, being a separate diocese, is separately administered, the term "South-India Mission" now comprises only three, viz. (1) Madras, (2) Telugu Mission, (3) Tinnevelly. It is important to remember this in comparing the statistical returns of successive years.

The Society is deeply indebted to the Bishop of Madras for unfailing kindness and wise counsel in his episcopal supervision of these Missions; also to the other members of the Madras Corresponding Committee. The Rev. E. Sell, B.D., has continued his labours as Secretary, but has since come home on furlough.

Indebtedness to English Residents.

As elsewhere in India, the South India Missions are much indebted to the sympathy and support of English residents. Here and there a chaplain has started a C.M.S. Association.

One is mentioned at Bangalore, where there is no local C.M.S. Mission, but where the congregation of Trinity Church collect for the Society in missionary boxes. A lawn meeting was held last March at the house of the Resident of Mysore, Mr. Girdlestone, which was addressed by the Rev. E. T. Beatty, the chaplain, and the Rev. J. E. Padfield, of the Telugu Mission.

Australian Liberality.

The Committee must again, as in former Reports, acknowledge with much gratitude the effective aid rendered to the South-India Missions by the Rev. H. B. Macartney of Melbourne. They also note with pleasure the increasing use made of the Frances Ridley Havergal Fund. The separate account of that Fund at the end of this Report will show that Madras has been foremost in availing itself of its aid to reproduce Miss Havergal's edifying books in the Indian languages.

Havergal Fund.

I. MADRAS.

Madras, 1814; Ootacamund, 1870.

Besides the Rev. E. Sell, Secretary to the Corresponding Committee, the brothers Goldsmith continue the only English missionaries of the Society in Madras. But the real working band has been added to by the marriage of one of the brothers to a lady who is already actively using two languages to influence the women of Madras, and by the arrival of their sister, Miss Goldsmith, who also is engaging in missionary labour. Mrs. Vickers, too, has returned to India to resume her zenana visiting as a C.M.S. agent.

Varied agencies in Madras.

The Rev. H. D. Goldsmith's principal work is in English. He is President of the Chintadrepettah Christian Association, a Native Literary Institute whose lectures and discussions have been mentioned in former Reports. He is an active promoter of the Temperance cause, being joint secretary of the Diocesan Branch of the C.E.T.S., and also interested in the "Christ Church Society, the League, and the Blue Ribbon." And he and his brother are responsible for ministrations to an English congregation at Trinity Chapel. But his most important duties are those of Principal of the Society's new Theological Class, or incipient Divinity School, for the training of educated English-speaking Indians for evangelistic work and holy orders. Of this he writes,—

The Theological Class, formed in April, 1884, will, we trust, some day develop into a flourishing Madras Divinity School. During the year, two of the students have been ordained, and have gone to their respective spheres of labour. The Rev. A. Subbarayudu, who joined in May, 1884, was ordained on March 1st in Madras, and has gone to a distant field in the Telugu country. He was one of Robert Noble's Brahman converts, and is now over forty years of age. The other student, the Rev. D. A. Peter, took Holy Orders at Bangalore, on the 20th Sept., and has received charge of the Tamil flock at Poonamallee. He is about the same age as the other, and has had some experience as a schoolmaster in Tinnevelly. He has also passed the F.A. University Examination, and tried twice for the B.A. degree. Mr. Subbarayudu is a matriculate, the first ordained man of that standing, I believe, in the C.M.S. Native Church in Southern India; while Mr. Peter is the first F.A. who has appeared as a candidate for ordination. We hope their number will greatly increase as the Native Church awakes to her need of a higher standard of education amongst her clergy. Mr. P. N. Devanayagam, a convert from the Vellala caste, baptized on 23rd Nov., 1879, commenced with me in April, 1884, together with Mr. Peter.

Theological Class.

Students ordained.

Notice was issued last May that a Divinity School would be opened on July 1st. The course of study to comprise the subjects for the Cambridge Preliminary Theological Examination, and for the ordination examinations of the diocese; graduates only to be admitted to this class. It was hoped that many would come forward, and after due preparation enter the service of the C.M.S. as evangelists, or join the ranks of the clergy of the Native Church.

In addition to the above, it was proposed to form a class for undergraduates. The course of study for this class to be arranged to suit the diocesan examinations. Applicants for admission to this class to be recommended by a Church Council, prepared to employ the men thus recommended, after they have received a suitable theological training.

In regard to the former class, two or three men have communicated with me. But difficulties have been raised about the proposed allowance to such students during their course of study. In response to the latter appeal three young Tamil men have been sent here by the Church Councils of Palamcottah, North Tinnevelly, and Masulipatam respectively: Mr. David M. Pakkianadhan, Mr. Daniel Simeon, and Mr. George H. Asirvatham. These are all married men, and, with their wives and children, occupy the small bungalow and part of another block of buildings in our compound. All the available accommodation is thus taken up, and any new-comers must either, like Devanayagam, reside in Chintadrepettah, or find lodgings in the neighbourhood until a suitable Divinity School is built. Perhaps the waste piece of land adjoining the Church Mission House might be available for the purpose.

The subjects studied during the year have been: Greek Testament; Old and New Testament, with Pinnock's Analysis; the Thirty-nine Articles, with Boultbee and Browne; Prayer-book, with Procter and Barry; Pearson on the Creed, Articles I. to III.; Church History—Robertson, Book I.; and Homiletics.

The Mohammedan Mission.

Both the brothers take a part in the Mohammedan Mission; but the Rev. Malcolm G. Goldsmith is almost wholly occupied by it. The Harris School has to a large extent recovered from the blow it received when the Moslem maulavis issued their fatwa forbidding boys to attend it two years ago, of which an account was given in last year's Report. The numbers at once fell to 12, but the boys slowly came back. The year 1885 opened with 54; it closed with 96. A very few of these, indeed, are not Mohammedans, the School having been now thrown open to others; and the influence of this step has been good, although its immediate result has been small, the Hindus being already provided for by other schools in the neighbourhood. Among the new scholars are four Tamil Christians, "two at least of whom are examples of Christian life, and all are successful as students and popular with their class-mates."

Of other work for the Moslems, Mr. M. G. Goldsmith says,— Preaching to Moslems.

The rice-shop preaching-room has continued to be a convenient and hopeful spot, where at least three times a week we endeavour to hold forth the Gospel, sometimes in face of contradiction and opposition, but often with a small but attentive audience. Our Telugu Christian schoolmaster generally accompanies us, and preaches in Telugu or Tamil when the Hindustani part of the audience is small. In Indian cities there is always a good field for tract distribution, and we draw monthly supplies of Tamil, Telugu, and English handbills from the Madras Religious Tract Society, and 300 Urdu handbills monthly from Lahore. These are quickly disposed of, and if the eagerness of all classes to get them can be taken as a hopeful sign, it is a very encouraging feature in missionary work. It is but seldom that any are torn up, but often enough to show that the natural man is still bitter against the Gospel, and that the "two-edged sword" (Heb. iv. 12) is not blunt.

Our Hindustani Mission, being the only one in the Presidency, is a kind of depôt for Hindustani literature. We are frequently written to for supplies for other towns and places, where there are Mohammedan inquirers.

Moslem inquirers.

We have had no baptisms, but there have been hopeful cases around us. In August a Mohammedan was sent to us by the American Methodists of Bangalore, as an inquirer. He stayed in our guest-house for a fortnight, but as we felt he was not ready for baptism, and ought to be supporting himself meanwhile, we sent him back (at his own request) to Bangalore, where he had Christian friends who understood him. We met him again there in October, and he seemed to be doing well, and he has since been baptized in the Methodist Episcopal Church. Another Bangalore Mohammedan, whom we often have met, and who has been a thoughtful reader of the Bible for some years in the Wesleyan High School there, and subsequently in municipal employment, was baptized two months ago at Kolar. One who was last year staying with us, but is now employed in the School of Art, is asking for baptism, but we prefer referring him to the Salvation Army, to which he belongs, as we have little opportunity now of seeing and examining him.

Help to Moslem poor.

Every Sunday morning we have about 200 Mohammedan poor, to whom we preach, and for whom we have hymn-singing, &c., after which a small sum of money is distributed, and twenty of the poorest receive a dole of rice. This commenced seven years ago, in the famine time, but is now organized, and proves an excellent means for reaching some very deserving poor and old people.

Much of my time has been taken up with a revision of the Madras Hindustani (or Dakhani) New Testament, and with a new edition of Genesis with part of Exodus. We are anxious to get a good edition out soon in the popular lithograph form, but there are difficulties in getting it done, as it must pass through the hands of Mohammedans, who are afraid to let it be known to their co-religionists that they have helped in producing a Christian book. Dakhani Bible translation.

The Rev. Samuel John, the Society's Native missionary to the Educated Hindus, sends, as usual, an interesting report, which, if inserted at full length, would occupy several pages. One section may be quoted :—

During this year, public addresses have been given by me in different parts of the town of Madras in English, besides open-air preachings to promiscuous gatherings in the public thoroughfares, as well as in the streets and lanes, in the vernaculars. Religious conversations and discussions have been repeatedly held with educated and uneducated (not acquainted with English) Hindus on the following subjects: "Sin," "The Justice of God," "Atonement of Christ," "Mediation of Christ," "Evils of Idolatry," "Insufficiency of Theism," &c. Work among Educated Hindus.

The large number of men with whom I carried on religious conversations, and do still carry on, may be included under any one of the three following classes, as regards their attitude towards the preaching or proclamation of the Gospel; whether they belong to the orthodox sect, meaning thereby those who still adhere to the popular religion and its superstitious customs and ceremonies, or to the heterodox sect, meaning thereby those who, to a certain extent, relinquished their ancestral faith and have become professedly Theists, Materialists, and Theosophists. The first class consists of those who turn a deaf ear to the message of the Gospel, and will not receive any tract or pamphlet in which the truths of Christianity are stated. The second class consists of those who will receive the tracts and papers given to them, and will enter into conversations at least for some time, and go away apparently satisfied or dissatisfied with the answers received; and the third class consists of those who will enter into religious discussion, professing that they are labouring under doubts and difficulties in reference to some of the statements of the Bible. Men of this class do often speak out their honest conviction and their real impediments to accept the Gospel.

As I walk through the long streets of this city of Madras in the mornings, I come into contact with a very large number of officials and young men who are receiving instruction in the various educational establishments of this place. I enter into conversation with a great number of them, and endeavour to impress upon their minds the necessity of a Mediator between God and man, and that none but Jesus Christ is fit to hold that sacred office. I take a bundle of hand-bills, both in English and in vernaculars, and distribute them to as many as I can, naming the subject on which they are written, and asking those who receive the papers to read the same carefully. I am thankful to state that several who have received papers have also told me what they have read, and desired that I should give them others.

Native Church Council.

As has been frequently said before, all the remaining work in Madras in connection with the Society is carried on by the Native Church Council. There are now four clergymen associated with the Council, viz. the Rev. W. T. Satthianádhan, Chairman, and Pastor of Zion Church, Chintadrepettah; the Rev. S. Paul, Pastor of Black Town and Royapuram; the Rev. T. Ephraim, who is at Pulicat, 25 miles to the north; and the Rev. D. A. Peter, B.A., lately appointed to Punamalli, 13 miles to the south-west. Pulicat is a new name in C.M.S. Reports. Some fifty Native Christian fishermen belonging to the Church of England having been found there, the Madras Church Council resolved to send them a minister, and the Rev. T. Ephraim, formerly of Mauritius, was appointed. He writes,—

A new station.

Pulicat (or Palicat, which is marked in our Annual Report map without the blue line) is twenty-five miles from Madras. It was formerly the first seaport town under the Dutch. Everything is now ruined. Scarcely are there here any European residents; but we have occasional visitors, who come to spend and enjoy their holidays. This place is mostly occupied by the Lubbai caste, who profess the Mohammedan religion. They are ignorant of the language which is spoken by the genuine Mohammedans. They speak the Tamil, which evidently shows that they are converts from Hinduism. The majority of the people who live here and along the sea-shore are fishermen. The London Missionary Society had a footing in this place some thirty years ago. They have neither a chapel nor a school prayer-house. They meet in the catechist's house for worship. Their minister visits the place once in three months to perform the ministerial functions. The Romanists of this place are not very bigoted. Their priest is a Goanee, who can speak very little of the Tamil language, and seldom or never visits his congregation. This accounts for the Romanists often attending our services in church.

Christian Fishermen.

Our Christians of this place are very poor, being fishermen. It is, I think, a great privilege to me that I was appointed to preach the Gospel to these poor fishermen. They were Christians from their infancy. Properly speaking, their parents or their great-grandfathers must have become Christians from heathenism. They possess very little knowledge of Scripture. In fact, they cannot repeat the Lord's Prayer or the Creed. I made them as a rule repeat the words of the Prayer and the Creed after me. And my sermons were the subjects of the Old Testament history in the morning, and the New Testament history in the evening.

It is very difficult to collect them at a fixed hour, because their time for labour is unlimited. They have to depend for their work on the high tide or low tide of the ocean. As a rule they do not use the fishing materials on the Sabbath-day. We have two services on Sundays; and I resumed the English service also, especially for the visitors, and introduced a book of subscriptions. They appreciated my services, and subscribed something to the Pulicat Mission, which meets contingencies of the school and the poor.

Prayer Meetings.—Seeing that the Christians are very regular at Sunday services, I spoke to them about my intention to introduce prayer-meetings in their houses. Some objected, and said that they have very small huts, which will not contain more than four or five men. Two said that their wives and children were Roman Catholics; and some said that they have no place, as their huts were washed away by the late cyclone. But their excuses were soon overcome, and the prayer-meeting is kept once a week in each house at 7 p.m., when the owner of the hut collects his neighbours, i.e. Romanists and heathens. Before he commences to collect his friends, he goes to the teacher's house to fetch a table and a chair. He places them in the front of his hut, and then he comes to my house to take the light. Meanwhile his wife sprinkles water over the sandy ground, sweeps it, borrows mats from her friends, and spreads them before the table. I read a parable and explain it a little to suit their taste, and conclude with a short, extempore prayer. We get more people in our prayer-meetings than in our Sunday services; and it is one of the means to draw the Romanists and heathens into our church. Prayer-meetings in Fishermen's huts.

The Rev. D. A. Peter, having retired from the superintendence of the Fenn Hostel on his ordination in September last, has issued a report of that institution, which he had carried on from its establishment in Feb. 1882. The inmates consist of students from different parts of South India, and connected with different Missions, studying at the colleges and schools in Madras, such as the well-known Christian College (of which Dr. Miller of the Free Church of Scotland is Principal), the Government Medical and Engineering Colleges, &c. In the three years and a half there were 25 admitted; and Mr. Peter describes them by a threefold classification:— The Fenn Hostel.

OOTACAMUND.

By an oversight, the Ootacamund Tamil Mission was entirely omitted from last year's Annual Report. Some 660 Native members of the Church of England are gathered, in various callings, at the hill-resorts of Ootacamund and Coonoor, and on the Wynaad plateau. A Native pastor, the Rev. M. Nallathambi, ministers to them, in connection with the Society, but not at its cost, all the expenses being met on the spot, with the aid of a fund contributed by the English residents and visitors, which amounted last year to Rs. 1820. Mrs. Grant Duff, wife of the Governor of Ootacamund.

Madras, and other ladies, have shown much kindness to the schools. Evangelistic work is carried on among various classes, in which missionaries join who are sent up to the hills for health. Mr. Nallathambi has baptized some interesting adult converts: one of them influenced by Gospel truth learned years ago in one of the Madras schools; another through reading some R.T.S. leaflets; a third by a sense of the impotence of heathenism to give him comfort in view of death.

Baptism of interesting Converts.

II. TELUGU MISSION.

(Commenced 1841.)

The Telugu Mission comprises Masulipatam, 1841; Ellore, 1854; Bêzwâda, 1858; Koi Mission (Dummagûdem), 1860; Râghavapuram, 1872; Amalapuram, 1876.

Need of men.

THE Committee deeply regret to say that they have been unable to send a single additional missionary to this important and expanding Mission; while the Revs. J. Harrison and J. E. Padfield have come home on sick leave, and the Rev. E. N. Hodges, who cannot stay in the climate of Masulipatam owing to Mrs. Hodges' health, has been transferred temporarily to Kandy in Ceylon. The English missionaries now in the field are only six; and of these, one is only in the probationary stage.

The Native clergy have increased by one, by the ordination of Mr. Atsanta Subbaráyudu at Madras, in March, 1885.

Accessions and relapses.

The growth of the Christian community, mainly by accessions from the Mála and other low castes, continues rapid. There were 236 adult baptisms in the year; and the whole number of baptized and catechumens has increased from 6724 to 7521. But there is not sufficient strength to teach these people properly, scattered as they are in many villages; and while in the Ellore and Rághavapuram districts there have been large accessions, in the Bezwáda district not a few relapses into heathenism have occurred, a chief cause being lack of pastoral care.

MASULIPATAM.

Noble High School.

The Noble High School has again lost its Principal, Mr. Hodges, as above mentioned. The Rev. W. G. Peel now bears the whole burden on his own shoulders. The Committee earnestly commend to the attention and sympathy of the readers of this Report the following extracts from his Annual Letter:—

As a witness for Christ, and as a power for good in the Northern Circars (districts of the Telugu country), the Noble College is being more and more recognized. Frequently, and from various non-Christian sources, encouraging words have of late reached me, testifying to the moral worth of old pupils. Only a few days ago a dear friend, who took his F.A. with us two or three years back, and who is now the head-master of a thriving Hindu middle school, frankly said that he owes his hatred of lying and love of rectitude to the Bible instruction imparted to him in our classes, and that he was endeavouring to impress all he knew, and valued so much, on the boys under his care. I suggested that virtually he was indebted to the Great Teacher, and thereupon followed one of the oft-recurring talks about the claims of Christ as being not only a moral teacher, but also the Divine one.

Testimony of a former pupil.

Those who measure the spiritual usefulness of our College by the number of its converts to the faith, must be sorely grieved. We who labour are more than ever ready to do so, and we bless God in our hearts for the great privilege of being engaged in the work of weaving the threefold cord of intellectual, moral, and spiritual light. When I tell you that I positively know of a secret disciple here and there, drawing nearer and nearer to the Cross, it is not to "veneer with sanctimonious theory" the narrative of an educational missionary, who cannot tabulate his number of converts. For me, while imploring an opening of the "windows of heaven," and an outpouring of a "blessing" which all the world may rejoice to behold, it is enough to let the Lord work in His own way:

A three-fold cord.

> He crowns their labours who, though nothing taking,
> Have toiled all the night.

Hard things appear in books and newspapers relative to the mistaken zeal of trying to evangelize by means of education. "Let us alone, let us do our own work, and let time show," was the wise answer of one of the educational missionary staff in Madras, to one of the adverse criticisms I allude to. I go on in the happy consciousness that the seed which has God-given power within itself to bring forth fruit after "his kind," is ceaselessly falling on the hearts of hundreds of youths in our Mission schools.

Preaching and teaching go hand in hand within the walls of the Noble College. Just underneath the marble tablet, on which Robert Noble's name is linked with the name of Jesus, the preacher stands morning by morning, pouring into disciplined and attentive ears the story of the fall of Adam and of the impurity of man, of the justifying Jesus and of the sanctifying Christ. In the class-room the text of different and selected portions of the Old and New Testaments is explained and applied. Boys prepare the Scripture lessons beforehand, and commit to memory the most striking and important verses of the Word of God. In England a boys' school reflects the Bible truths, when careful attention is given to the divinity class. It is easy then to imagine the influence which the holy precepts of God must have on youths who come to a Christian school out of a Hindu home. To say the least, there is an interruption of Hinduism, and there is the breeding of a thorough contempt for idolatry; there is an utter exposure of sin, and there is the probing of conscience; there is an education in holiness, and there is the teaching of the absolute holiness of Christ; there is the analysis of the human heart, and there is the exhortation of self-surrender to God; there is the unqualified denunciation of false religion, and the unvarnished statement of man's Gospel needs. Can it be unprofitable labour and "zeal not according to knowledge," to deal thus with 600 or 700 budding minds, in this Kistna district, nearly every day in the week?

Preaching and teaching hand in hand.

"An Interruption of Hinduism."

My earnest hope is that the Committee will ever support education in its Missions, now by evangelistic schools, and hereafter, when the Hindu nation shall have been born for God, by training and divinity institutions.

Training Institution.

The return home just now of the Rev. J. E. Padfield is a serious loss to the Mission, as it leaves the Training Institution without a head. Mr. Padfield writes,—

This institution was started in 1868, and was for many years entirely a vernacular institution, until the spread of English education and the general rise in standards all round, compelled us, if we would not be behindhand, to introduce an Anglo-vernacular department. This at first was very small, but it has gradually grown until now it is larger than the mere vernacular branch. We have in the institution at this moment 39 students, of whom 22 are of the higher branch, and 17 purely vernacular.

The men it has trained.

During the seventeen years of its existence the institution has actually sent out, as agents into this Mission, 153 men, that is, at the rate of exactly nine per annum, on an average. All have not done well; some have, to our sorrow, soon turned aside; but the bulk have turned out fairly well, and nearly the whole of the Native agents in this Mission were trained in this institution.

Translations.

I have been working on steadily all the year, as time allowed, at my Telugu translation work. The first volume of the Commentary (St. Matthew and St. Mark) was issued early last year, and met with a most kind reception and a ready sale. The second volume (St. Luke and St. John) is nearly ready for issue. The manuscript of volume iii. (Acts—Philippians) is already with the printers, and the translation of volume iv. (Colossians—Revelation) has proceeded to nearly the end of Hebrews. This work is a translation of the well-known Commentary on the New Testament by the S.P.C.K. (2 vols. in English).

Girls' School.

Mrs. Padfield's Girls' School has, by God's blessing, continued to flourish. The Normal class has also done well. It was only opened in 1884 with three pupils who passed in December of that year. Last year the class consisted of ten students, and at the annual examination in December last no less than nine passed, and all in the first class, which is very encouraging; of these five are already actually at work as teachers.

It is a remarkable fact, and one worthy of note, that whereas when I came to India in 1868 there was not a single caste girls' school in the whole district, there are now many scattered up and down this town and district under the Zenana Mission, and no less than some fourteen old pupils of this school, Christian young women, but chiefly of Pariah origin, are at work in these schools, besides those engaged in ordinary Mission schools in this and other districts.

In a later letter Mr. Padfield reports that two of his old students, engaged in mission work, passed the matriculation examination of the Madras University in December. This is no unusual thing among Native Christians generally; but it is almost if not quite unprecedented for men from the Mála or Pariah caste to be on the books of the University. One of the two is a convert from heathenism; the other is a son of converts, his father being a baptized coolie from Mauritius, and his mother an old pupil in Mrs. Sharkey's girls' school. "This," observes Mr. Padfield, "is only a sign of the progress that is being made, slowly perhaps, but none the less surely, by the Native Church in these parts." Matriculation of low caste students.

The Masulipatam District is worked by the Rev. Manchala Ratnam, assisted by the Rev. Máramudi David. A few sentences are subjoined from Mr. Ratnam's interesting Annual Letter:— Rev. M. Ratnam's report.

Pastoral Work.—We have in the field now one Native pastor, the Rev. M. David, who has been energetically working, and whose labours, under God's blessing have been much blessed. He is a great help to me. We have besides five catechists working faithfully and zealously in the various parts of the district. These, too, have received their due reward and are blessed in the labour of love. May the Lord raise up more men who would devote their life to His service, and try to extend His kingdom in this benighted land. [The Native Christian adherents under Mr. Ratnam's charge number 2458.]

Evangelistic Agency.—Last year one more young Brahmin convert, G. Paul Venkatachallu by name, was added to our staff. He is most energetic and willing to do the Lord's work. I often stood by him while preaching to the heathen. The respect that he commanded was amazing. He is well versed in the Hindu mythology, and though not far advanced in Biblical knowledge, yet he daily tries to improve himself. He sings the Native lyrics very melodiously. These are the sort of men who, in God's providence, if allowed to work on along with more experienced men, will in course of time become effectual preachers of the Gospel, and through them we may hope to reap a rich harvest. An ex-Brahmin evangelist.

The Masulipatam district being very large, we want at least three more men of this sort to reach the upper classes effectually. Last year, about the middle of March, I pitched my tent at Kallepalli, a place about twelve miles from Masulipatam, situated on the Kistna, where people congregated from all parts of this and other Telugu districts. This feast was observed in honour of Siva, one of the Hindu Triad, and lasted three days. We had there a band of workers, consisting of the Native pastor just mentioned, two catechists, two evangelists, one teacher, and one Bible colporteur. From morning till eve we had visitors pouring into the tent; and the attention and the deference they paid to us and to our preaching was amazing. A great many religious tracts and Scripture portions were sold, and a few distributed gratuitously to the most deserving. If this sight were transferred for a moment to England, what sympathy it would elicit towards a work of this nature; and how Christian men and women would be stirred up to set forth before the perishing heathen the words of eternal life!

Work of Native evangelists.

The land traversed by the six evangelists up to the 31st of December last is 8385 miles, and the heathen preached to were 28,544. The tracts sold were 1196, and the amount realized by the sales was Rs. 38 : 4. May all this redound to God's glory! [There were 65 adult baptisms.]

Scholastic Agency.—Last year we had twenty-nine schools in the district, containing 430 children in all.

BEZWÁDA AND ELLORE.

Bezwada and Ellore.

The Rev. F. W. N. Alexander now has both these districts, owing to the lack of men. Mr. Martin Browne and the Rev. G. Krishnayya carry on the Ellore High School; and the Revs. Samuel Vores and Kandavilei Peter assist in the pastoral work in the Ellore district. In the BEZWÁDA district, as already mentioned, there has been some retrogression, owing, partly at least, to the absence of a sufficient staff. The baptized Christians are 17 less than last year, notwithstanding the natural growth of Christian families; and the unbaptized persons under instruction are 80 less.

Decrease and increase.

On the other hand, there has been marked progress in the ELLORE district, the total number of adherents having advanced from 1807 to 2197. Mr. Alexander writes, "We are literally 'not able to receive the blessing,' for we have had to diminish the teaching staff in other directions to occupy the new villages."

Ellore High School.

Of the Ellore High School, Mr. Browne reports that it has 241 boys, Hindus of the highest castes, Mohammedans, and a few Christians. Many of the non-Christians show "cheering indications of the Spirit's moving their hearts and influencing their daily conduct." An able Christian head-assistant master has lately been appointed, Mr. Venkatáratnam, B.A. (Madras), a Telugu man who took up Hindustani in all his University examinations, and therefore combines the linguistic capabilities of both a Hindu and a Mussulman graduate.

RAGHAVAPURAM.

The Rev. J. B. Panes has taken, for the time, Mr. Stone's place in this district. The Rev. Domatatti Stephen is the Native pastor. The Gospel continues to spread far and wide. There have been 83 adult baptisms, and 119 of children; and the Christian adherents have increased to 1761, of whom 1312 are baptized, and the rest catechumens. At one village, in the Nizam's territory, Mr. Panes found 38 persons who, five weeks before, had forsaken their idols and begun to pray to the true God. His report mentions two deaths of Christian women:—

Forsaking of Idols.

Death of an evangelist's wife.

We have had a sad loss in Jaggipett this year. The wife of Kaliyána Ráma Gáru, our Brahmin evangelist, has died, leaving five motherless children. She had begun zenana work, and superintended the caste girls' school, which was rapidly growing in numbers and efficiency. But now her work on earth is over. She died rejoicing in her Saviour, giving blessed testimony that she was entering upon that rest which is prepared for the people of God.

Old Rámamma, the woman of Kamma caste mentioned in the last report, died last June. She passed away resting on the Rock of Ages, and manifested a simple, child-like faith to the last.

DUMMAGUDEM: KOI MISSION.

Koi Mission.

The Rev. John and Mrs. Cain have had disappointments in the past year. The Rev. M. N. S. Atkinson, who had been appointed to assist them, has been transferred to the Ellore district while learning the Telugu language. The young lay evangelist from Australia, Mr. Peate, received a severe sunstroke, and had to be sent back. The Rev. I. V. Rázu's strength diminishes as his age increases, and he cannot travel at all. And the Tinnevelly evangelist at Mokpál, S. Suviséshamuttu, has also gone back to his own land. But Mr. Cain begins his Annual Letter with thanking God for "His comforting grace amid very chequered circumstances."

The work is both among the Telugu and the Koi people. Regarding the former branch Mr. Cain writes,— Visitation of cholera.

Our evangelistic work in the villages around Dummagudem was greatly hindered for three months by the most severe visitation of cholera since 1867, and the people were afraid to come into Dummagudem, and did not welcome any one from Dummagudem or its neighbourhood. We are very grateful to be able to record that the Lord was unto us a wall of fire round about, and only two of our Christians were carried off, one of whom went recklessly into the midst of the plague, and although he died only two miles from Dummagudem, we knew nothing of his death for four days, as all his heathen relations threw out his body and fled to the Nizam's country to escape the fell disease. As usual on such occasions, the heathen, even the educated ones, placed no trust in medicines and sanitary measures, but relied more on persuading the goddess to leave their villages by bribing her with the blood of fowls and goats and other offerings, which proved a grand feast to the jackals and crows.

Bribing a goddess.

In the early part of the year we visited our out-station of Bejjikavádа, the home of Lingayya, whose story appeared in last year's report, and we were greatly cheered by the earnestness of the inquirers there, whom the Lord had evidently chosen for Himself. Mrs. Cain examined the women and I the men, and, after rejecting several for want of sufficient knowledge of Christian truth, I baptized sixteen adults and eight children, all of whom remain steadfast in the faith with the exception of one. One young woman has since died in peace and sleeps now with Jesus. We could not help but thank God and take courage, as nearly all those who were baptized were very bitter with Lingayya when he was baptized, and for a long time would not join with him in prayer.

Opponents baptized.

We had other villages to visit on our fourteen days' march home. In one of these villages there are now fifteen catechumens awaiting our visit, and in another village there lives one young lad who did not lose his courage not long ago, when threatened with being thrown into a large fire because he refused to partake of meat offered to a village idol.

We are most anxious that the work should be as indigenous and self-propagating as possible, but this is very difficult, as our Telugu Christian literature is miserably scanty, and the style of our Telugu Bible and Prayer Book not one understood or appreciated by our Christians. So it is most difficult to provide for the building up in the faith of those born and bred in such an atmosphere as that of India, and the longer we are in India and get beneath the surface, the more are we inclined to wonder at the progress many of our Christians make, and not be surprised at the slow growth of the majority.

Progress a cause for wonder.

Not long ago I was asked by an inquirer for a book which would give him an intelligent idea of the main doctrines of Christianity, but I had to confess that I did not know of such a book in Telugu. For the use of the catechumens and Christian children in this district, I have compiled a small catechism, explaining briefly in simple language, the Creed, Lord's Prayer, and Ten Commandments, and we have gone through it in most of our congregations in the Sunday Services, the preacher reading the questions and those of the congregation who can read reading the answers, and thus we hope that nearly all our Christians in future will have a clearer idea as to the meaning of the "Communion of Saints, Holy Catholic Church, For Thine is the kingdom, &c.," and our less-educated evangelists will be able to explain these terms in a more satisfactory manner to the inquirers as to the way to Zion.

A Telugu catechism.

With the same object in view, Mr. Sadhuru (the translator of Miss Havergal's Morning Stars and Morning Bells) is preparing, under my direction, a series of reading lessons based upon the Sunday School Institute's Steps to Truth. These we are having printed in a cheap pamphlet form, and they are to be read in each congregation, one each Sunday for a year; and afterwards they can be revised and printed in the form of a book. What is the great need in most of the congregations is not preaching, but teaching.

Telugu Sunday-school lessons.

Concerning the Kois, Mr. Cain says,—

A fear will creep in lest a larger accession from the ranks of the Malas will prove a greater stumbling-block to the Kois—especially the Koi women. When nearly all the Kois who are now Christians were baptized in 1869-1871, it was felt that none of their wives being baptized was a great evil, but hopes were entertained that they might win over their wives. Alas! these hopes have not been fulfilled, and the fears then entertained have proved in many cases to have been well grounded; hence the want of spiritual life in so many then baptized. Six Koi girls were allowed, for some months last year (1885), to live in our compound and go to the Dummagudem

The Kois.

Girls' School with our boarding-girls, but the baptism of a Koi servant has led to the withdrawal of four, and though their parents allege that they were withdrawn to scare away the birds this harvest-time, and promise that they shall be sent again, we are compelled to believe that these are only vain excuses.

Although S. Suviseshamuttu has gone back to Tinnevelly, Mokpal is not abandoned. A young catechist, also from Tinnevelly, is there, and a Telugu Christian as his assistant. But Mr. Cain earnestly asks for an English missionary. Mokpal is in the Native state of Bustar, in which there is no other Mission.

Mrs. Cain's medical work continues to increase; and the arrival of Miss Graham, of the C.E.Z.M.S., will much strengthen her hands. Medical work.

One great privilege is enjoyed by this Mission, the prayerful and active interest of General Haig. Mr. Cain says,—

Gen. and Mrs. Haig very thoughtfully wrote a very kind, tender, inspiriting letter, to be read at our usual large gathering on New Year's Day, but the state of the crops has compelled us to postpone that meeting until later on in the year, and so written translations of the letter have been sent to each congregation to be read out at the Sunday morning service. May their prayers be abundantly answered.

III. TINNEVELLY.

The Mission is divided into ten districts, each with a Church Council, viz. 1, Palamcotta; 2, Dohnavúr; 3, Suviséshapuram; 4, Mengnánapuram; 5, Paneivilei; 6, Pannikulam; 7, Nallúr; 8, Surandei; 9, Vageikulam; 10, Strivilliputtur; the last two being in North Tinnevelly.

The need of reinforcing the European staff of the Tinnevelly Mission, with a view particularly to evangelistic work among the higher classes and castes, was specially noticed last year. It was with much thankfulness to God that the Committee were enabled to send out, in October last, two brethren for this most important department of the Mission, viz. the Rev. Thomas Walker, M.A., late Curate of St. James's, Holloway, and the Rev. A. K. Finnimore, one of the Islington men of the year, who, being the son of a Ceylon planter, had some knowledge of Tamil to begin with. A schoolmaster, Mr. E. Keyworth, late of the C.V.E.S. Training College at Amritsar, has also gone to Tinnevelly to superintend the Training Institution, thus taking (in part) the Reinforcements in Tinnevelly.

place of the Rev. T. Kember, who has come home on sick leave. The Committee earnestly trust that this reinforcement may be a comfort to their venerable friend, Bishop Sargent, and a help in many ways to the Native Church, as well as to the particular work to which the three brethren are severally appointed. In other respects the staff remains the same, the Rev. V. W. Harcourt having the Sarah Tucker Institution, and the Rev. H. J. Schaffter the High School in Tinnevelly town. Mrs. and Miss Thomas continue to conduct the Elliot Tuxford School at Mengnánapuram, in which there are about ninety pupils.

Bishop Sargent's Jubilee.

The great event of the year in Tinnevelly was Bishop Sargent's Jubilee, which was celebrated at Palamcotta with great rejoicings on July 14. Interesting accounts of this memorable occasion have been published. In this place the Bishop's own letter to the Secretaries of the Society shall be given:—

> The celebration of the Fiftieth Anniversary of my coming to this place has been taken up very warmly by our people, and their demonstration of love and esteem has affected me deeply. My Native friends had got a beautiful pandal or shed erected, capable of holding some 3000 persons. We began the day by a service in the church at 7.30 a.m., at which 1482 people were present, and 324 partook of the Lord's Supper. The Rev. V. Vedanáyagam, of North Tinnevelly, was the preacher.—Text, James i. 17. His reference to me was short and touching. At 12 there was a grand meeting in the pandal, when an address was read and a beautiful Bible presented me. We had no benches in the pandal; all sat on mats and carpets on the ground, without any distinction of caste. It was thought there were 3000 present; for not only was the pandal full, but every opening at the sides and the whole of the front outside was crammed. At 4 p.m. there was another meeting in the pandal, when the Rev. Joseph David read a narrative of the chief events that had occurred in the Mission during the last fifty years. This meeting was also very well attended. At 7.30 there was another meeting, at which the assembly were entertained with music and singing of sacred lyrics, and the evening closed with a few fireworks.

Hindu gentlemen congratulating Bishop Sargent.

> Next day at 5 p.m. there was a gathering of Hindu gentlemen, who wished to congratulate me and so show their regard for me. The poet-laureate of the Town of Tinnevelly composed and sang a lyric of some twelve stanzas, and a band of six musicians took up the chorus. Then there was an address read, and the leading court pleader, a Brahmin, got up and spoke of me in the kindest terms possible; and after their garlanding me, and receiving the usual token of respect on such occasions, profuse sprinkling of rose-water, with distribution of sandal-wood and betel-leaf, &c., the meeting closed.
> Next day the Hindu gentlemen of the Town of Palamcotta presented me with an address, in which they spoke of all that had been done here as done for the good of the people, and they bore witness to the high character of some of the high-class Christians with whom they were familiar. When the reader of the address closed, he folded up the paper and said, "I have now read what other friends have composed on this interesting occasion, but I must say a few words as from myself." And then among other things, he added to this effect: "Reference has been made to the large church which we daily pass by as we go to the river. How often have I come to the door and looked in to see your mode of worship, but hearing the Bishop preach I have been constrained to stand and hear him to the end. What has been the spell that has bound me to the spot? You are so fluent in Tamil, and so well acquainted with the idioms of our language, but it is not that. You use such striking illustrations, but it is not that. You employ such clear and logical arguments, but it is not that. What then? It is the kind and loving way in which you address all classes; the affection for us which you carry in your manner and in your words."

Spell-bound by Bishop Sargent's preaching.

Let this suffice, dear friends, to show what reason I have for thankfulness to God, and for gratification at this special season of rejoicing in having gained the goodwill and regard of both Christians and heathens. Of course the great thing is to win souls to Christ. The key to the ear is with us, but the key to the heart, through the ear, is with the Spirit of God.

I am reminded of another thing which the Hindu speaker remarked in his speech. "I was struck," he said, "with the words you used when replying to the Hindu deputation from the town of Tinnevelly, and the sentence is engraved on my memory, 'My times are in Thy Hand.' May God prolong your days, and spare you to us for long to come." Surely this man cannot be far from the kingdom of God.

Commending you all to the grace and blessing of our God and Saviour,—I am, ever yours affectionately in Christ Jesus, EDW. SARGENT, Bishop.

Another interesting event of the year was an Ordination held by Bishop Sargent at Palamcotta on Sept. 20. The following account appeared in the Madras C.M. Record:—

There were three candidates for deacon's orders, viz., Catechists V. Y. Pakianathan of Pannivellei, Abraham Carr of Pannikulam, and Ordinations in Tinnevelly.

S. David of Sivagasi. The candidates for priest's orders were—The Revs. Jacob Nallathumbi, A. Savarimuttu, and V. Surkunen of the Pannikulam District; the Revs. Joshua Paul, and Edward Asirvathem of the Mengnanapuram District; the Rev. S. Satthianathan of Suviseshapuram; and the Rev. John Kohlhoff of Palamcottah.

At eleven o'clock the church was filled to overflowing. The attendance was unusually large, numbering upwards of 1600. Two European missionaries, the Revs. V. W. Harcourt and T. Kember, were present with the Bishop, as well as fifty-two of the Native clergy of the province. As the procession of Bishop and clergy entered the church, and moved slowly up the aisle, the children of the Boarding School sang very sweetly the anthem "How beautiful upon the mountains."

The ordination sermon was preached by the Rev. Joseph David, Native pastor of Mengnanapuram. It was an earnest practical discourse on the words "Take heed to the ministry which thou hast received in the Lord, that thou fulfil it" (Col. iv. 17), and was listened to with deep attention. The sermon ended, the candidates were presented to the Bishop by the Rev. T. Kember, after which the Rev. Anthony James, pastor of Ukirankoti, read the Litany. The Rev. V. Vedhanayagam of North Tinnevelly read the Ante-Communion Service; and the Gospel for the day was read by the Rev. Abraham Carr, one of the newly-ordained deacons. At the ordination of the priests, the Revs. Periyanayagam Arumanayagam, J. Gurubathem, Anthony James, Jesudasen John, V. W. Harcourt, and T. Kember joined with the Bishop in the laying on of hands.

Though not in good health at the time, Bishop Sargent entered, with his wonted energy and heartiness, into the solemn proceedings of the day; and all who were privileged to take part in the service must have been filled with gratitude and joy at the evident marks of progress made in the Tinnevelly Church, and the unmistakable tokens of the Divine blessing resting upon it.

A medical evangelist.

One of the newly ordained deacons, S. David (or D. Selvanáyagam), is a medical evangelist at Sivagási, in North Tinnevelly, and has a dispensary, which is well attended, besides ministering to a large and intelligent congregation, and carrying on evangelistic work in the town, which has a population of 10,000.

Deaths of Native pastors.

But these ordinations go but a little way to supply the blanks the year has made in the roll of Tinnevelly clergy. Three have died, viz. the Revs. Samuel Gnanamuttu, Devanáyagam Viravágu, and Vedhanáyagam Viravágu. The two last-named, brothers by birth and brothers in grace, were pillars of the Church, and will long be sadly missed. They were born heathen, and were of the Vellála caste. Devanáyagam's conversion, which was the first, was the fruit of work in the C.M.S. school where he was educated. During the lifetime of his parents he did not dare to avow his faith openly; but on their death, he told his wife, sister, and two brothers, and through his influence all embraced the faith of Christ. The family circle now exceeds fifty souls, all members of the Church. The sister, after most faithful service in the Mission, as matron of the Sachiapuram Boarding-School, died in 1873, "a rejoicing Christian." The surviving brother is a merchant at Palamcotta. The two clergymen, who were ordained together in 1859, became distinguished men. Devanáyagam was for several years Superintending Pastor of the Mengnánapuram district, Vedhanáyagam exercised a similar office in North Tinnevelly, and was Chairman of the two Church Councils of Vageikulam and Strivilliputtur. The Committee thank God for the grace bestowed upon them, and pray that many may be raised up like them. Of the younger brother Vedhanáyagam, the Rev. R. R. Meadows writes:—

The late Rev. V. Vedhanáyagam.

The Rev. Vedhanáyagam Viravágu, so long my associate in North Tinnevelly, was to the day of his death my faithful correspondent about the affairs of the district. He was connected with me for some thirty years, first as a catechist; then, as a Native clergyman, superintending under me (I had rather say a coadjutor with me) a portion of the district; and lastly, when I was forced to leave the work, taking the entire charge of the whole of the wide field of North Tinnevelly.

That his life was consistent, let this fact bear testimony. A Native farmer was deeply impressed. He was disposed to become a Christian. But could he? Could Hindus live according to the holy precepts of the Christian faith? He would see. He had heard that one of our catechists lived alone in his tent, far away from us, far away from his wife and family. He asked us permission to go and live with Mr. Vedhanáyagam. He was so struck with his loving devotion, his purity of life, his evident disinterestedness of purpose, that he soon came back to us and requested baptism, saying that now he knew that Hindus could be Christians, for he had seen it in the life of our friend.

District Church Councils.

The usual Minutes and Reports have been received of the ten Native Church Councils, for the districts of Palamcotta, Dohnavur, Suviséshapuram, Mengnánapuram, Paneivilei, Panikulam, Nallur, Surandei, Vageikulam, and Strivilliputtur; also Annual Letters from some of the Native clergy. The number of unbaptized catechumens has diminished, while the baptized have increased; but this is due not only to the baptisms of the year (adults 674, children 1497), but to the falling back, apparently, of a good many. The total of adherents is a little less than last year, 55,908. There were 1157 deaths among the Christians. Some interesting cases of conversion are recorded. The late Rev. V. Vedhanáyagam mentions two in particular:—

Conversion of a Hindu merchant,

Gnanavelu was baptized on Jan. 28th. There were eight other adults who were baptized with him at the same time. Most of them have been from good families, but this man outshines them all in intelligence, constancy, and good works. The church in which he was baptized was built mostly through his effort. . . . He is a well-to-do merchant, and has found by experience that God has prospered his trade. In order to show the world that he has not been unmindful of God's special favour to him, he has furnished his church with a bell, a chair, a table, and other necessary furniture, in order that it may appear decent in the eyes of the Hindus. . . . The last time I visited his place he had his substantial stone-built house nearly completed. Although it was in an unfinished state, it was his particular desire that it should be devoted to God with prayer while I was there, before it was occupied by him and his family. I accepted the offer, and had service in the new house, which was filled with his friends, all non-Christians. After exhortation and prayers were over, he turned to his heathen friends and remarked, "I fully believe what my minister has just said, that I have a better house in heaven, which is more precious than all I have here."

and of an old man.

Gnanapragasam is an elderly person, more than seventy years of age, living at Sublapuram. I baptized him, in his village, on the 1st of July. His case is peculiarly interesting. He had stood unmoved and turned a deaf ear for a period of more than fifteen years to the constant entreaties of his three grown-up sons to follow their example in believing in the Lord Jesus, for the salvation of his never-dying soul. He had not only slighted their unceasing and anxious care of his soul, but often stood in the way of their Christian course. But God, whose very name is a "Prayer-hearing God," had regard to the prayers which they so often and earnestly offered Him with a deep concern for his soul's salvation, and brought him at last to feel the depravity of his evil heart, and to express a hearty wish to be baptized and to cast in his lot with his dear children and children's children, who form the majority of the congregation of the place.

Till 1884 we placed no permanent Mission agent at Sublapuram, but at the middle of the year we sent a faithful agent, a schoolmaster, there, at the earnest request of these dear people. His wife is as valuable as he is. Their usefulness soon attracted the old man's sons, who begged them to speak to him of Christ and His salvation. . . . These people are weavers by profession, but have become men of landed property; and it is known to the world that it is Christianity which has raised them to their present position which they have now come to.

The valuable work done in Tinnevelly by the Native evangelists on the William Charles Jones Fund will be seen from the account of that Fund appended to this Report.

Sarah Tucker Institution.

The Rev. V. W. Harcourt sends a short but encouraging report of the Sarah Tucker Institution, with its 100 Christian girls in training to be schoolmistresses, its five Branch Boarding Schools, and its thirty-seven Branch Day Schools, educating 1000 heathen girls. The Institution itself has had singular success in the Government examinations, passing seventy-five per cent. of its candidates, an unusual proportion in India, and beating every other Normal School in the Madras Presidency (Government, S.P.G., Romanist, &c.). Mr. Harcourt adds, "Thank God, ever since we have been here we have had no case of scandal, no immorality, though the girls and their teachers are so many—some 170 in all—and we have no barriers nor high walls round our pretty 'compound,' or premises! The Good Shepherd keeps us. We have many prayer-meetings. Miss Askwith keeps on her good work."

TRAVANCORE AND COCHIN MISSION.

The first Native Archdeacon in India.

BISHOP SPEECHLY has signalized the completion of the sixth year of his episcopate by the appointment of one of the Society's missionaries, the Rev. John Caley, and one of the Native clergy, the Rev. Koshi Koshi, to be Archdeacons respectively of Cottayam and Mavelikára. Mr. Koshi is the first Native of India raised to this office; and the Committee heartily welcome the step the Bishop has taken in his case, as well as in that of Mr. Caley. The Archdeaconry of Cottayam includes the Cottayam civil division of the Travancore government, and all parts of the diocese north of it; and the Archdeaconry of Mavelikára includes the Quilon civil division, and all parts of the diocese south of it.

There has been no alteration in the staff. The same six ordained English missionaries have been at work, besides the Bishop, viz. Archdeacon Caley, the Revs. J. H. Bishop, F. Bower, W. J. Richards, A. F. Painter, and C. A. Neve (but Mr. Bower has now come home on furlough); also Mrs. and Miss Baker; and the same sixteen Native clergymen are on the roll, including two retired from active work. The Bishop reminds us of the serious fact that since he went out as Bishop in 1879, not a single new man has been sent to the diocese, while one then in the field has come home. The one only labourer added was the Rev. W. Clark, formerly of Tinnevelly and Ceylon, who has now finally retired.

The Committee have to thank the Bishop for a full and interesting report sent by him of the TRAVANCORE PASTORATES, with extracts from the reports of the pastors to himself.

Native Pastorates

These pastorates, fourteen in number, are grouped under two Native Church Councils. The Northern Council comprises the pastorates of Cochin (town), Cottayam, Pallam, Arpukara, Changanasheri, and Olesha; and the Southern Council those of Mavelikára, Kannit, Talawadi, Putupalli, Kattánam, Koduwalanyi, Mallapalli, and Elantur. Besides these, the Tiruwella District has been under an English missionary, but will shortly be made into two fresh pastorates under the Southern Council; while the remoter congregations, those in the Cochin State and in the Arrian Hill country, are not yet under the Councils. Connected with both the Pastorates and the Districts there are 18,206 baptized Christians and 1190 catechumens. There were 300 adult baptisms in the year. There are 39 stone churches, and 104 prayer-houses.

The pastor of the congregations in and around the town of Cochin, the Rev. K. Kuruwella, though connected with the Travancore Northern Church Council, and sending his report to Bishop Speechly, has to receive his licence from the Bishop of Madras, Cochin town being a British port, and not belonging to either of the Native States of Travancore or Cochin, by the territories of which it is surrounded. The pastorate, however, includes some villages in Cochin State; and the population of the whole area in which Mr. Kuruwella ministers is 44,000. Of these, just one-half are counted by the Census as Christians, the place having been one of the strongest centres of Romanism in India for 300 years. Vasco de Gama's original tombstone is still to be seen there (his remains were afterwards removed to Portugal); and Mr. Kuruwella mentions that a Papal delegate, Bishop Agliardi, had a magnificent reception in November last. The Protestant (i.e. Anglican) community is small, 527 souls all told; but the pastor reports well of their devoutness as worshippers, and says, "Our Native Church has a recognized position and settled character, and exercises its influence for the good on the surrounding masses." Among the members are "a barrister judge, some graduates and undergraduates and several matriculates of the Madras University holding divers appointments and offices;" but the majority are of the labouring class, some being Pulayas (ex-slaves).

Cochin.

Influential Native Christians.

The pastor at Cottayam is Archdeacon Koshi; but the Bishop is anxious to get him help in his pastoral work, in order to leave him more time, both for the duties of his new office, and for the revision of the Malayálam New Testament (in which he takes a leading part). Of the pastor at Pallam, the Rev. Jacob Chandy, the Bishop (who resides there) speaks very favourably. In his report Mr. Chandy, referring to one great fault of his people, their lack of zeal for the extension of Christ's Kingdom, uses a felicitous illustration to point his moral, which may be commended to preachers and speakers for the missionary cause at home:—

> Very little of aggressive evangelistic work is carried on in this pastorate. The agents are so wholly occupied with schools and congregations, that little amount of labour is bestowed on preaching to the heathen. And I must also remark that Christianity cannot achieve much in a place where its professors do not show forth in their lives an example of piety, devotedness, and purity of life. There is an old story told of Philip, the last King of Macedon, that, before the final battle by which his monarchy was destroyed, he stood to harangue his soldiers upon a sepulchre, and it was interpreted by the augurs to be a sign of sure defeat because he stood upon a tomb to speak. In the same manner, it may be said that a Christian minister, unless he be supported by a living Church and borne up in the arms of a sympathizing and praying people, can expect nothing but a disastrous defeat when he stands upon a lifeless Church to fight against the powers of darkness.

A felicitous illustration.

A Young Men's Association.

At the time of the Bishop's Visitation in 1882, this Young Men's Association was formed. Some twelve young men willingly told his Lordship to enlist their names as members of the association, after hearing about the duty of the association clearly from the Bishop and from the late Mr. Thoma, of Mavelikara, who was with the Bishop then. One man withdrew from it, another died a happy death. Still our number is slowly increasing. We meet once every month, then one of us reads a portion of Scripture and exhorts others. Every one speaks before the meeting about his work in the month; some conduct prayer-meetings, others go out to the heathen to preach, others assist the Jones reader in singing and preaching.

The pastor of Mallapalli, the Rev. P. M. Kuryan (or Curien) has a great many converts from the Pulaya (ex-slave) caste:—

Pulayan converts.

He writes, that amongst these poor people there are two classes, the Easterns and the Westerns, "the latter claiming the higher social position." He has to do with converts from the Easterns, of whom he writes: "They have no private property. They live on the estates of their masters. Their daily wage is very small, about one chackram (about one penny) per head. In religious matters they are more earnest and more devoted than the Westerns."

Again: "They have begun to appreciate education. Already there are among them some fifty young men, and some women also, who are able to read and write and sing lyrics. The ability to read and write and sing the lyrics has attracted some heathen Palaya families to the Church. They are under Christian instruction—not yet baptized."

Provincial Church Council.

The Provincial Church Council met in March last, the Bishop, the two Archdeacons, and all the clergy and lay delegates being present. The Rev. E. Varkki John preached the sermon, on Acts ii. 42. Reports were presented regarding the W. C. Jones Fund agency, the Henry Venn Fund, the Native Missionary Association, &c.; the several pastors reported on their work; and various discussions followed. During the session a high-caste Hindu youth from the Pallam school was publicly baptized by Archdeacon Caley.

Turning to the work of the English missionaries, the two important institutions at Cottayam, the College and the Cambridge Nicholson Institution, claim attention. Of the College, the Rev. Clement A. Neve continues Principal. The number of students, Hindu, Syrian Christian, and Anglican Christian, exceeds 300, and of these nearly 50 are boarders. In the Peter Cator Scripture Examination last year, which is for all South India, and in which many University students compete, a Cottayam boy won the second prize in the Higher Grade, value Rs. 80. Mr. Neve thus notices the services in the college chapel, both daily and on special occasions :— Cottayam College.

Each day's work begins and closes with prayers in our beautiful little chapel, and on Sunday evenings an English service is held for Europeans and English-speaking Natives. I have always found these services seasons of refreshment to myself, and I hope and pray that they may have been helpful to others. Religious services.

We began the year with a refreshing service of prayer and praise, when the Rev. W. Johnson, L.M.S., of Calcutta (who happened to be passing through Cottayam at that time), gave us a few cheering words on "Goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life."

The following week we observed as a week of prayer, holding services alternately at the chapel and at the church, taking the subjects suggested by the Evangelical Alliance.

Again on Sunday, Nov. 29th, and the following day (St. Andrew's), we held special services for intercession on behalf of Missions, both at the church and in the chapel. The Bishop was present, and spoke at these meetings. Others also spoke, and there was a heartiness about the meetings which encourages me to hope that it may be the commencement of a revival amongst the Christians of our Church, and of renewed effort and prayer on behalf of the great heathen population amongst whom we dwell.

There is an interesting paragraph in Mr. Neve's report about Sunday-schools :—

Besides the Sunday-school which is held on the College premises for the pupils of the College, there are several Sunday-schools conducted by members of our C.M.S. College Association, i.e. by some of the students in the higher classes. There have been four schools thus carried on. The method by which they are worked seems to me a good one. A rupee per mensem is given to any heathen village schoolmaster who will gather together his little Hindu pupils on Sundays, and allow them to be taught the truths of Christianity by teachers whom our Association supplies. On Sunday afternoons I have several times visited these schools, and it was a pleasing sight to see the little Hindu children, boys and girls, gathered together in their classes, listening to stories from the Old or New Testaments, and learning the words of the Saviour. Sunday Schools.

Cambridge Nicholson Institution.

The Cambridge Nicholson (Theological) Institution is conducted by Archdeacon Caley. The year 1885 closed with nineteen students. Twelve had left during the year, ten of them for active mission work.

Itinerancy: opposition.

Mr. Caley is also in charge of the evangelistic mission called the Alwaye Itinerancy. He reports some baptisms, and many tokens for good; but the opposition of the Syrians and Romanists is very bitter. "When a real spirit of inquiry has been created amongst the heathen by our preaching, the most determined efforts have been made by these so-called Christians to hinder the people from joining us." A remarkable illustration of ignorant paganism occurs in Mr. Caley's letter:—

During my tour in September I made Koottathakullom my head-quarters for a few days. It is a wild but central place, about twenty-three miles north of Cottayam. Several Hindus, Syrians, and Roman Catholics reside there, nearly all of whom lead lives very much alike. The high-caste Hindus have two temples, and the low-caste their shrines, &c., erected in honour of inferior deities, their ancestors, evil spirits, &c.

Visit to the Hill Nairs.

On the morning following my arrival I went to visit the Hill Nairs or Ultadans. They live about two miles out of Koottathakullom, on a hill that may be seen for several miles round. They are intensely ignorant; so much so, that it is really difficult to engage their attention or lead their thoughts to God. In fact, they have no conception of one God who is good. The spiritual powers above them are of a similar kind to the human powers that surround them; and their treatment by the latter has caused them to regard all power as something bereft of goodness. The first house we reached was within an enclosure something like a garden. As no Sahib had ever been there before, a teacher who was with us went first to prepare the way. After about a minute we followed. I could hear voices inside the house, but no one ventured outside. I said, "You are not afraid, are you?" This brought out two women. There may have been men there, but if so they kept very quiet, for we never saw them. There was a strong reason for the men not coming out, supposing them to have been there, for often they have been seized by Sircar peons and compelled to bear burdens. They would repel a tiger, but a Government official with belt on is a perfect terror. They are also dreadfully afraid of those who are of higher caste than themselves. These latter go to their fields and gardens and just help themselves. Sometimes the poor creature who is being filched is made to climb the trees, and get everything ready for the superior and respectable thief. Close by this house there were several little niche-like places, which are supposed to contain the spirits of their ancestors. They worship these spirits, burning lights before them, &c. When asked why they did so, they said if they did not the spirits would bite and scratch them. Hence the worship is for the purpose of keeping them in a good humour.

Ignorant Paganism.

The Rev. F. Bower, who has been in charge of the TIRUWELLA district, but has now come home on furlough, mentions his useful literary work, and the happy influence of Bible-women :—

Tiruwella: Literary work.

Nicodemuses.

You will be glad to hear that several respectable Hindus, since perusing these little books, have begun to read the Word of God, and seem to be really interested in our holy religion. I only wish these people were not quite so timid. It is the opinion of many who ought to know that there are not a few Nicodemuses in this country. They would like to become disciples of Christ; but, alas! they have not sufficient courage to be loyal to their consciences.

The Bible-women have carried on their work more or less regularly, also under my wife's superintendence. To this branch of work, it seems to me, too much importance can hardly be attached, for until the women are enlightened we shall in vain expect to see many of the men coming forward to join our ranks.

The Bible woman welcomed.

The ignorance of Hindu females in religious matters in these parts is very great indeed, and their spiritual condition is fearfully sad. Many of them now listen to the story of redeeming love with delight, and often ask the Bible-women to repeat their visits more frequently. They are much struck with the love of God, manifested in giving His Son to die for sinners, and some of them distinctly say they would very much like to be baptized, but, alas! they are afraid of persecution, &c.

Allepie.

At ALLEPIE, the Rev. W. J. Richards is now stationed. This important coast-town has always been occupied by an English missionary; and the Bishop expresses much satisfaction at so vigorous a worker as Mr. Richards being now in charge. There are 737 Native Christian adherents, and 486 children at school. Evangelistic and educational work of various kinds is actively carried on.

The two very distinct sections of the Travancore and Cochin Mission, the work among the Hill Arrians, and that in the Cochin State, must now be separately reported on.

ARRIAN MISSION: MELKÁVU AND MUNDAKÁYAM.

Arrian Mission.

This interesting Mission is in two parts. The MELKÁVU district is connected with the Mavelikára or Southern Cambridge Nicholson Institution.

The Cambridge Nicholson (Theological) Institution is conducted by Archdeacon Caley. The year 1885 closed with nineteen students. Twelve had left during the year, ten of them for active mission work.

Itinerancy: opposition.

Mr. Caley is also in charge of the evangelistic mission called the Alwaye Itinerancy. He reports some baptisms, and many tokens for good; but the opposition of the Syrians and Romanists is very bitter. "When a real spirit of inquiry has been created amongst the heathen by our preaching, the most determined efforts have been made by these so-called Christians to hinder the people from joining us." A remarkable illustration of ignorant paganism occurs in Mr. Caley's letter:—

During my tour in September I made Koottathakullom my head-quarters for a few days. It is a wild but central place, about twenty-three miles north of Cottayam. Several Hindus, Syrians, and Roman Catholics reside there, nearly all of whom lead lives very much alike. The high-caste Hindus have two temples, and the low-caste their shrines, &c., erected in honour of inferior deities, their ancestors, evil spirits, &c.

Visit to the Hill Nairs.

On the morning following my arrival I went to visit the Hill Nairs or Ultadans. They live about two miles out of Koottathakullom, on a hill that may be seen for several miles round. They are intensely ignorant; so much so, that it is really difficult to engage their attention or lead their thoughts to God. In fact, they have no conception of one God who is good. The spiritual powers above them are of a similar kind to the human powers that surround them; and their treatment by the latter has caused them to regard all power as something bereft of goodness. The first house we reached was within an enclosure something like a garden. As no Sahib had ever been there before, a teacher who was with us went first to prepare the way. After about a minute we followed. I could hear voices inside the house, but no one ventured outside. I said, "You are not afraid, are you?" This brought out two women. There may have been men there, but if so they kept very quiet, for we never saw them. There was a strong reason for the men not coming out, supposing them to have been there, for often they have been seized by Sircar peons and compelled to bear burdens. They would repel a tiger, but a Government official with belt on is a perfect terror. They are also dreadfully afraid of those who are of higher caste than themselves. These latter go to their fields and gardens and just help themselves. Sometimes the poor creature who is being filched is made to climb the trees, and get everything ready for the superior and respectable thief. Close by this house there were several little niche-like places, which are supposed to contain the spirits of their ancestors. They worship these spirits, burning lights before them, &c. When asked why they did so, they said if they did not the spirits would bite and scratch them. Hence the worship is for the purpose of keeping them in a good humour.

Ignorant Paganism.

The Rev. F. Bower, who has been in charge of the TIRUWELLA district, but has now come home on furlough,

Tiruwella: Literary work.

Nicodemuses.

You will be glad to hear that several respectable Hindus, since perusing these little books, have begun to read the Word of God, and seem to be really interested in our holy religion. I only wish these people were not quite so timid. It is the opinion of many who ought to know that there are not a few Nicodemuses in this country. They would like to become disciples of Christ; but, alas! they have not sufficient courage to be loyal to their consciences.

The Bible-women have carried on their work more or less regularly, also under my wife's superintendence. To this branch of work, it seems to me, too much importance can hardly be attached, for until the women are enlightened we shall in vain expect to see many of the men coming forward to join our ranks.

ARRIAN MISSION: MELKÁVU AND MUNDAKÁYAM.

Arrian Mission.

This interesting Mission is in two parts. The MELKÁVU district is connected with the Mavelikára or Southern Church Council. The pastor is the Rev. K. Kuruwila, of whom Bishop Speechly speaks warmly. He is the youngest in clerical standing of the Native clergy, and received priest's orders on Trinity Sunday last year, May 31st. His hill people presented him with a gold ring on the occasion. He has 1170 Christian adherents, and baptized in the year 31 adult converts and 57 children. He especially dwells on one happy feature in his charge. When he first went up into the hills, all the people drank; drunkenness being a common habit of the heathen Arrians. It has now disappeared entirely from the congregation; and "most of the people, by the mercy of God, are seen in all things to be obedient and humble and God-fearing."

A good change.

The more southern portions of the Arrian mountain district are worked as a mission district by the Rev. A. F. Painter, whose head-quarters are at Henry Baker's well-known station, Mundakáyam. His Christian adherents number 1265, but some of these are not Arrians, but Pulayas at the foot of the hills. He baptized 42 adult converts and 34 children in the year. His work is accompanied by not a few personal privations:—

Henry Baker's old station.

> With fourteen stations scattered over a very rough country, mostly inaccessible save on foot, I have much cause for thankfulness for health and strength sufficient to carry on the work during a most unhealthy season—while all my servants, most of the teachers, and great numbers of people in the district have suffered from ague and dysentery. Especially as the work requires me to take long journeys on foot, frequently in pouring rain through flooded country with nothing but small Native huts to put up in, affording scanty shelter from rain and wind, and the more dangerous malarial mists. Still I must say that in practice I have not found it as uncomfortable as one would imagine. Perhaps the most disagreable experience is to take refuge in a Native hut, thoroughly tired out by a walk in the wet, and find it filled with smoke of wood, which draws tears from eyes and nose.

A missionary's privations.

Mr. Painter's reports of the different village congregations vary a good deal. One extract may be given:—

Village congregations.

> Of Mankompu I can again, thank God, write with unfeigned thankfulness. Contributions have steadily increased in spite of much sickness, and the almost total failure of last year's crops. There is a marked progress in their knowledge, and I have had the joy during the last year of admitting twenty-two adults to baptism, who had shown in many ways, as far as man could judge, their fitness to receive it. It is always a joy to me to visit the place, their simple faith, their evident desire to walk worthy of their calling, and the affection they show, make me thank God on every remembrance of them.
> The Government have at last, after a long and wearisome dispute, been prevailed upon by the firmness of the British Resident, and as there was no reasonable objection, to grant a qualified permission to build a church there. We hope to begin it soon. Meanwhile, the fine bell, sent out by a few friends from England, in memory of my dear wife (as the church will also be), has been hung temporarily, and sounds out for the first time on these Poonyatt hills, a call to Christian worship.

COCHIN: TRICHUR AND KUNNANKULAM.

The Committee have again to thank God for the blessing vouchsafed to the faithful labours of the Rev. J. H. Bishop. The Trichur Mission supplies a striking illustration of the mutual influence, one upon another, of what may be called Home and Foreign Missions—by which term is now meant, not Missions in England and in India, but Missions to Christians and to Heathen. There is perhaps no greater obstacle to the rapid spread of the Gospel than the inconsistent, or at least dull and cold, lives of Christian converts; and every effort, made in dependence on the Lord's blessing, to quicken the spiritual life of the Church, acts directly or indirectly on the world around. Mr. Bishop only had twelve adult baptisms in 1885, but the year closed with 73 candidates under instruction, 15 of whom were baptized between Jan. 1 and Feb. 25. These conversions were in part the fruit of the labours in the zenanas of the ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S.; but they were also, in a considerable degree, a result flowing from a remarkable "special mission" for the Native Christians held in September. Of this "mission" a full account was sent by Mr. Bishop at the time, which was published in the Intelligencer of February. In his Annual Letter, dated Feb. 25, Mr. Bishop thus refers to it:—

Influence upon the heathen of missions to Christians.

Fruits of ladies' work.

> The year under review has been one of marked blessing to the Native Church in Trichur. God has been pleased to visit us with a gracious revival in our midst. His Spirit has been poured out upon us. I have never before been privileged to witness such remarkable signs of the manifestation of the Spirit of God as I did during the mission held at Trichur last September, at which the Rev, Isaac F. Row, of the Anglo-Indian Evangelization Society, took the leading part. As I wrote you a full account of this awakening at the time it took place, I need not enter now into details. Time has proved the reality of the work. Definite and decided cases of conversion, to some of which I alluded, stand out in bold relief as monuments of the power of God's converting grace. There are a certain proportion of doubtful cases, those who are better than they were before, but not as earnest as we would wish. Then again I grieve to say there are some (I hope very few) who were awakened at the time, and professed to have found peace, but as soon as the excitement subsided, gradually backslided into their old ways. There are those also, who either through being absent from the services or through hardness of heart, never came under the influence of the revival. All the workers have been wonderfully stirred up. Special services were held at the close of the year in Trichur, and also at some of the out-stations, as Mankutti and Paranyi, and attended with very gratifying results.

Revival at Trichur.

That the material as well as the spiritual good of the converts is sought will be seen from the following:—

Temperance and thrift.

Promotion of Temperance and Thrift.—We are taking the subjects of thrift and industrial employments into prayerful consideration. Our Native Church Temperance Association has this year developed into a Mutual Alliance Society for Promoting Temperance, Thrift, and Industry. I have asked the Industrial Branch of the Basel Mission to introduce a patent-tile manufactory in Trichur.

Public discussion with a Hindu Shastri.

Mr. Bishop also gives an interesting account of a public controversy with an old antagonist, a Hindu Shastri:—

While we were holding our special services in Trichur, Mattakhandan Shastri, whom I have often alluded to in my Annual Letters, challenged me to a public disputation on any subject in connection with the Christian religion. It was finally agreed that the subject should be "Pâpamôchanam," or "Pardon of Sin." The judge consented to be umpire and to preside. He is a Hindu gentleman of strong religious views, but of perfect integrity.

It was decided by the judge that the party who opened the discussion should have the right of final reply. Each was to speak for half an hour at a time. As I had the option I elected to commence the discussion, and thus spoke three times to the Shastri's twice. Suffice to say, I never felt more helped in speaking for Christ, never had a more attentive Hindu audience, and never had a more favourable opportunity of preaching the Gospel to so many Hindus. The line of argument I was led to adopt, was (1) to unfold the Scriptural mode of atonement of sin through a divinely appointed Redeemer, the God-Man Christ Jesus. (2) To show by reference to the books themselves that "Forgiveness of Sin" was not to be found in the Vêdas, Shâstres, or Purânas, and could not be acquired by Karmam or works of merit. (3) That the Gospel plan of salvation as a divine revelation rested on solid proof such as—(i.) The Bible itself, the most wonderful collection of books in the world, and the greatest civilizing agency in the world, illustrated by a reference to New Zealand. (ii.) Minute fulfilment of prophecy. (iii.) The Jews. (iv.) The continuous and universal observation of Sunday from the time of Christ, in commemoration of His resurrection. (v.) The testimony of great and good men.

While this was the general line of argument I had in view, objections had to be met and answered (though each was allowed to speak half an hour without interruption), viz. that the Hindu idea of obtaining forgiveness, by prayer and meditation on the Deity, would not meet past sins. A man's promises of amendment and prayer would not secure for him immunity if he had broken the penal code: he must bear his punishment, and the judge must administer the law. The Shastri defended idolatry by a reference to the cherubim over the Ark, the same argument which the Roman Catholics invariably bring forward. I quoted the Second Commandment placed inside the Ark.

The Shastri repeated several Sanscrit slogas, attacked the doctrine of original sin, defended merit by reference to Jas. ii., but did not, as we had been led to expect, bring forward any strong arguments in favour of Hinduism, or make any formidable assaults upon Christianity. He told us he was educated in a Mission school, and was about to become a Christian, when he was dissuaded by a Hindu guru.

In summing up the judge briefly recapitulated what had been said by each party—arrived at no decision—thought that much more time would be required to discuss such a difficult subject.

In October, Mr. Bishop was granted, for the first time, an interview with the Maharajah of Cochin, to whom he presented a New Testament and Book of Psalms in Sanscrit.

CEYLON MISSION.

(Commenced, 1817.)

I. Singhalese Mission:—Kandy, 1818; Baddêgama, 1819; Cotta, 1822; Kurunêgala, 1880.

II. Tamil Mission:—Jaffna, 1818; Colombo, 1852: Tamil Cooly Mission, 1855.

The Ceylon Mission has had a year of quiet, steady work, without any events of special importance. The most interesting incident was the occurrence of the jubilee of the senior missionary and Secretary, the Rev. W. Oakley, who went out in 1835, and during his fifty years' service has never once come to England. It was celebrated on July 14th, the same day that Bishop Sargent's jubilee was being observed in Tinnevelly. A presentation was made to Mr. Mr. Oakley's Jubilee.

Oakley on the occasion in the name of all his brother missionaries and of former members of the staff still living; and money was also subscribed for an Oakley Scholarship Fund at Trinity College, Kandy.

The Committee have appointed the Rev. W. E. Rowlands to be Joint Secretary under the new scheme of administration noticed last year, but his health has not yet allowed of his return to Ceylon. The Rev. S. Coles has gone back, and the Rev. J. Ireland Jones and the Rev. J. G. Garrett have come home invalided. The latter's valuable work at Trinity College, Kandy, has been taken up by the Rev. E. N. Hodges, transferred from the Telugu Mission. The Rev. J. D. Thomas, formerly of South India, has been appointed to the Tamil Cooly Mission, and sails this year.

Ceylon Central Council.

The seventh Annual Meeting of the Central Council of the C.M.S. Native congregations in Ceylon was held on Jan. 15th. A Report was adopted for circulation among the Native Christians, which, while expressing thankfulness to God for encouraging signs of progress, calls the attention of the people to a falling off in some places in the contributions to Native Church Funds.

The statistical returns give 5943 baptized Christians, an increase of 159; and 247 adult catechumens, an increase of 3. The baptisms in the year were, adults, 134, children, 217. The number of scholars is 8773, an increase of 163.

The Disestablished Church in Ceylon.

The Draft Constitution for the Disestablished Church of England in Ceylon, drawn up by the Organization Committee appointed three or four years ago by the Assembly called by the Bishop of Colombo, is under present circumstances satisfactory, and the Committee hope that it may have been adopted by the Church Assembly in due course before this Report is in the hands of the members of the Society.

I. WESTERN AND SOUTHERN PROVINCES.

COLOMBO.

THERE is no alteration in the staff. The Revs. E. T. Higgens, D. Wood, and J. J. Pickford, and Miss Eva Young, have continued at their respective posts. The English work connected with Galle Face Church, and the Singhalese Mission, were described in the Rev. E. T. Higgens's report printed last year. The Tamil work has been divided between Mr. Wood and Mr. Pickford. There are 824 Tamil Christians, of whom 220 are communicants; and there are 429 boys and 72 girls under instruction. Miss Young is in charge of the Girls' Boarding School; and of its inmates Mr. Wood says, "As we mark their meetings for prayer among themselves, their growing knowledge of the Scriptures, and their little struggles to overcome wrong, we feel we cannot over-estimate the blessing these boarding-schools for girls will be to the people of this land." The contributions of the Tamil Christians to their Church Fund have been Rs. 984, the highest figure yet reached by them. Of evangelistic work, especially among Mohammedans, Mr. Wood writes,— Colombo Girls' School.

Native Contributions.

Moslem inquirers in Ceylon.

"It is very interesting to observe the spirit of inquiry which is extending among Mohammedans. Several have bought portions of the Scriptures, and some a whole Bible or New Testament. One man told me that he and his son read daily from a copy of the Bible which the latter had received in one of our Mission schools. Men often come to ask questions suggested by what they have heard at the street-preaching, or by what they have read. Frequently questions are asked on the Divinity of the Holy Ghost, the union of the divine and human in the person of Jesus Christ, the miracles of Christ, and such passages as "Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and Him only shalt thou serve." May the Holy Spirit bring home the Word with power to many hearts!

Many roads, but one goal.

Hindus also receive and read our religious books, and the more intelligent of them endeavour to defend their use of idols, by saying that they do not worship the idol, but only God, whom they believe to be in the idol. Some think they have scored a point when they say that just as many roads lead to the same city, so the roads to heaven are many, and that Christianity, Mohammedanism, and Hinduism are all ways leading to the same place. It is ours to tell them of Him who alone is "the Way, the Truth, and the Life."

COTTA.

The Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin sends one of his always interesting Annual Letters on the multifarious work summarized in last year's Report. Of the four pastorates included in the Cotta district, connected with which there are 1154 Singhalese Christians, he reports favourably. "There have been large drops of a gracious rain upon our inheritance, a shaking among the dry bones, an earnest spirit of prayer and supplication, which have cheered our hearts exceedingly." Special services for the Christians were held in the villages, at which several who had been only outwardly connected with the Church "received the Lord Jesus as their Saviour," including 23 girls in one school at Talangama. The numerous schools (51) give instruction to 1574 boys and 1011 girls; which is a little lower than last year, owing to depression and scarcity of food. Sunday-schools are also well worked, and there are Sunday-school Committees in four districts. The Girls' Boarding School is chiefly for Christians, but a few Buddhists have been inmates, and thirteen of these have been baptized on their own confession of faith in as many years.

Special services for Christians.

Sunday-schools.

Evangelistic work.

Evangelistic work is largely carried on, and the bitter open opposition of Buddhist priests in the Liyanwala and Angampitiya districts, alluded to in former Reports, has ceased, though it is believed that more subtle and secret influence is exercised to keep the people from the Gospel. Of one important adult baptism at Angampitiya an interesting account is given:—

Baptism of a young Buddhist.

The young man is a native of the southern province, connected with a rigidly Buddhist family, and was brought to Angampitiya by the Kurugala priest to teach in his school which he had commenced in opposition to ours in that village. Our catechist had opportunities of talking to him, and lent him books, which he carefully read. He saw him occasionally, and found that his mind was gradually opening to the light, and about four years after he came to the neighbourhood he expressed a desire to put himself under Christian teaching, as he was convinced that there was no salvation, pardon, or peace in Buddhism, saying in his letter of application, "Though I have been working under the Buddhist priest for the last eighteen months my heart is towards you. By reading your books and conversations with you my mind is now cleared, and I wish to come to you that I may embrace the true religion."

A public renunciation of Buddhism.

A month afterwards, in November, 1884, I saw him at Liyanwala, and after a long, searching inquiry I requested him to read publicly in the church a statement to the effect that he renounced Buddhism, and wished to embrace the Gospel of the Lord Jesus Christ. He did so at the morning service, and at once put himself under instruction, and made such rapid progress in the knowledge of divine things, that in March last I baptized him, and he has been a consistent Christian and most zealous in the work of his school ever since. He is living in the neighbourhood where he is well known, and his influence is for good.

"No Saviour in Buddhism."

When it was known that he had become a Christian his father came to see him, to endeavour to win him back to Buddhism, but all his entreaties and promises were in vain. He said to his father, "I cannot go back to Buddhism. I must believe there is a Creator of the world. I want forgiveness of sins, and there is no Saviour, no forgiveness in Buddhism. I want to be happy after death, and there is no hope in Buddhism. I find all these in Christianity. I want you also to believe in Jesus Christ, and then you will be as happy as I am."

The father went away and sent his brother, who was very fond of his nephew, and it was hoped he would prevail, although the father had failed; but the young man preached the same Gospel to him also and with good effect. On his way home the uncle called to see me, and told me of the object of his visit, and how his nephew had talked to him about Christianity. I urged him to follow his nephew's example, and got him to promise to read some tracts and papers which I gave him, and to go to our Native pastor for further instruction. He did so, and is now a candidate for baptism.

As may be expected, the path of this young man has not been one of roses since he became a Christian. Abuse has been thickly heaped upon him, but he has held on his way, and will, I trust, "cleave unto the Lord with full purpose of heart."

BADDÉGAMA.

Of this large southern district the Rev. J. W. Balding sends an encouraging report. Some brief extracts are subjoined:—

Quietly and unostentatiously God's work has been carried on during the past twelve months in this large district of over 100,000 souls. The good seed has been sown beside all waters, in the church, the school, the home, the village court, the prison, by the wayside. The faithful have been strengthened, the inquirer encouraged, and the heathen aroused. Our band of workers consists of one missionary, one Native pastor, five catechists, two Bible-women, 24 schoolmasters, 17 schoolmistresses, and one school inspector. Our Christian congregations number 526 adherents, and 147 communicants. During the year 8 adults and 17 children have been admitted into the visible Church by baptism, and 33 persons were confirmed by the Bishop of Colombo.

Confirmations by Bishop of Colombo.

In spite of the stringency of Government rules we have kept in a satisfactory condition our twenty-six schools, with an attendance of 1341 children, and the Government grant has been better than in former years. All the children possess a head knowledge, whilst some have a saving knowledge of Christianity. The Sunday-schools are attended by about 800 children.

Schools.

At Baddegama, the prayer-meeting, which is held every evening in different houses in the village (notice of which is given on the previous Sunday), has continued to strengthen the faith of the Christians, and to open the eyes of the heathen.

At Dodanduwa, a prayer-meeting is held every Wednesday afternoon for children, with an average attendance of sixty-one. Also two other prayer-meetings are held weekly in Christian families. The pastoral catechist reports, "We commence with a hymn, and a prayer offered up by one of the male or female Christians present on special matters appointed. We then read a chapter, and repeat texts by heart. Last year we took the two Epistles to Timothy. In this way many learnt the Scriptures, and another good effect was that fellowship was promoted among the Christians."

Native prayer-meetings.

Balapitiya.—A Native pastor is stationed here, and in writing his report for the year says, "I am more encouraged and cheerful than ever before with regard to my work." Prayer-meetings and preaching at the court-house are carried on with vigour. There have been two adult conversions, and there are five candidates for baptism. One man was brought to know Christ as his Saviour through listening to the preaching near the court-house. The Bishop has held two services in the church during the year, on the first occasion confirming seven persons.

Elpitiya.—This district, which is worked by an itinerating catechist, is most hopeful. I have enjoyed and been cheered by my visits to this and the surrounding villages during the year. The villages are very difficult of access, and much of the travelling has to be done on foot, yet all trouble is forgotten when you see the people seeking and thirsting for Jesus.

II. CENTRAL PROVINCES.

KANDY.

THE Rev. Henry Gunasékara reports on the Singhalese congregations at KANDY and its out-stations which are connected with the Kandy Church Council. They comprise 330 Christians. The various parochial and evangelistic agencies continue to be well worked. There were four adult baptisms in the year; and forty-eight candidates were confirmed by the Bishop of Colombo.

Confirmations by Bishop of Colombo.

Trinity College.

Trinity College has been conducted by its energetic Principal, the Rev. J. G. Garrett, assisted by the Rev. J. Ilsley. Mr. Garrett, as already mentioned, has come home on sick leave this year. The College is doing an important work among the higher classes of boys, especially Singhalese, and Mr. Garrett has always put its missionary object, the conversion of souls to Christ, in the forefront. He gives some touching instances of spiritual fruit, but it may be best not to cite them here. His remarks on the missionary value of the English education given in the College are important:—

Missionary value of English education.

I have often preached by interpretation to those street-congregations, and it is wonderful how ready they are to listen. English is becoming so well known that you can easily get a good interpreter, and the people are quite accustomed to this kind of communication, as all Government work is done in this way, even when the officer knows the language. I think it may be "the open door," set before the large number of those who call themselves by the name of Jesus in these heathen lands who are now paralyzed by the terrible difficulty of language.

Then, in visiting the homes of the boys, one gets many opportunities; and certainly the craving for English among the Natives at present is nothing short of a manifestly providential opening for Mission agency. Any Native will rejoice to get a lesson in English, and fathers are even becoming impressed with the idea that if a boy learns English he must become a Christian; yet they press their sons upon us for training in English, and woe be to us if we do not improve these golden opportunities. As an educationalist I magnify my office. An English school in a heathen land is like a magic-lantern at a temperance meeting. Our object is not to teach English more than the lecturer to advertise lanterns; yet the brightness of his pictures is his power to attract; and so our English, which should, of course, be first-class of its kind, is the attraction by which we can get Bible truth into thousands of minds, which otherwise would be for ever untouched. With Government utterly un-Christian, education, to compete with this agency, must be an expensive one; but as long as boys are willing to be taught about Jesus in English, and their parents permit it, let us thank God for an open door, and spend our strength to enter in and take possession of the Lord's inheritance.

Mr. Ilsley gives an interesting account of one agency for bringing the Gospel to bear upon the boys :—

Our morning service has gone on quietly from day to day. The boys—all of them, even the little dots, learn daily a text that has been given to them on the previous day. We are at present learning the Hundred Texts appointed for the Mission schools in Ireland. Our service is generally a shortened form of the morning service, omitting the First Lesson, the Te Deum, and the Creed. Immediately after the service three or four boys from different classes are asked to repeat the text, and very rarely indeed do we find any carelessness or imperfect repetition. A few earnest, simple words are then addressed to the boys, based on the text they have learned, generally lasting for about ten minutes. It is very hard indeed to speak so simply that even the very little boys can understand. This service is very much upon our hearts, and if we have prayed earnestly about any part of our work, it is this meeting for morning prayer; and God has been pleased to answer our prayers, for several times when I have thought the address had perhaps been beyond the boys, I have been told by some of the junior boys themselves, that all but the very little fellows who are just learning their A B C had thoroughly understood all that had been said. Services for boys.

For some time I have spent the interval between service and the beginning of school work (generally about three-quarters of an hour, the time given to Scripture in the school) in seeing boys whom we have reason to believe are inquiring more particularly the way of salvation. They bring their Bibles, and every reference is noted. Sometimes they carry their Bibles and references to their priests, and ask what they think about the texts. The great difficulty in the way of their becoming Christians is the fear of being cast out by their heathen friends. Of all the boys I have spoken to, not one has attempted to defend Buddhism. I am sure that many would become Christians and receive Christian baptism, were it not that they are afraid of home persecution. Bible-readings.

KANDYAN ITINERANCY.

The Rev. J. Allcock, at KANDY, and the Rev. L. G. P. Liesching, at Kaigalle, divide between them this important Mission to the Singhalese of the Central, North-Central, and North-Western Provinces. There are 947 Native Christians, scattered over a wide extent of country; and schools with 1093 boys and 123 girls. Twenty-four adult converts were baptized during the year. Mr. Allcock refers with sadness to the partisan spirit displayed by the agents of the Salvation Army. One well-known Singhalese evangelist among them has distinguished himself by violent Baptisms.

language respecting the C.M.S. Christians, and by preaching that Baptism and the Lord's Supper were neither needful nor profitable. One of the best C.M.S. schoolmasters was drawn away two years ago, being told that it was impossible to serve the Lord fully within the limits of the Church of England; but he has since come back, pained by the conduct of the leader just mentioned, and is now working with much blessing at Talampitiya.

TAMIL COOLY MISSION.

The Revs. J. D. Simmons and H. Horsley have through another year borne the whole burden of this extensive and important Mission. Mr. Simmons thus describes the kind of work:—

Work among the Tamil Coolies.

> Good health is an essential requirement in the Tamil Cooly Mission, on account of the physical toil that it involves. I am travelling from Monday to Monday, week after week; the year has been spent in a continual routine of journeys. It is true four or five mornings a week afford opportunities of preaching to a goodly number of coolies at muster; many supporters of the Mission are visited; a seed is dropped here and there; Native Christians are visited in their houses, and the coolies in their lines; on each Sabbath a Tamil and an English service, or two of the former are conducted; the Gospel is preached, and the sacraments are administered; but the physical wear is too great at my time of life to allow of as much time and vigour for direct spiritual work as are desirable. It is hard work of its kind, to be up at five o'clock every morning, and to be four or five hours in the saddle. You ought to have men in the full vigour of life in this Mission.

The Tamil coolies on the roll of Christians number 1414, a lower figure than last year, notwithstanding 93 baptisms (adults, 32). No doubt many, according to their custom, have returned to India. Both missionaries give encouraging accounts of the little bands of converts on the numerous coffee estates. Mr. Simmons writes,—

A singing convert.

> In the Haputale congregation, Abraham, kangany, is a shining light. He was born a Christian, but was converted only about three years ago. He married a heathen woman. After his conversion he laboured earnestly for the salvation of his family, and he has been rewarded by seeing them baptized last year. He cannot read, but he has committed to memory Christian lyrics; these he sings when he conducts family prayers, and when he exhorts the heathen. He has been instrumental in gathering three adults into the fold. Nightly some, besides the members of the family, assemble in his house for reading God's Word, exhortation, and worship. A Christian schoolmaster is now associated with the family, and has been installed as reader of the Bible. Another family, in this little congregation, is commended by the catechist as manifesting much of the graces of faith, love, and hope.

Mr. Horsley describes a baptismal service at which the English employer, a Christian gentleman, himself addressed the converts:—

Baptisms.—Jan. 11*th*, Udapolla.—Before the morning service, which was held in a schoolroom erected by a planter, five adults (three men and two women) were presented to me for baptism. Having examined them, and satisfied myself as to their knowledge and sincerity, I baptized them. After the service was over, the planter, who is an earnest Christian man, addressed in Tamil a few solemn words to the newly-baptized. He said, "You have now been baptized, and henceforth will call yourselves Christians; remember that the eyes of the heathen are upon you, and will watch your future conduct. Seek then to walk as Christians. If you pray to God daily, He will help you. I hope you will try to be examples to the other coolies on the estate, and be the means of bringing others to Jesus." It was the first sermon of the kind I had ever heard a planter preach to his coolies! Oh that God would raise up many more such earnest Christians from among our fellow-countrymen out here!

English Planter preaching to his coolies.

The Bishop of Colombo confirmed eighty-three of the Christian coolies at seven centres, and "expressed himself pleased with the signs of God's blessing upon the work." In a letter published in the Net, the Bishop writes,—

Confirmations.

In some interesting tours with Mr. Simmons and Mr. Dowbiggin, of the C.M.S., I have lately seen much that was encouraging among the immigrant Tamil coolies and among the Native Singhalese respectively. The former set a very good example by the zeal and liberality with which they support their own churches. In one planting district, while the English masters were waiting, and wishing, and wondering how they should get a church, their Tamil labourers built one!

III. NORTHERN PROVINCE.

JAFFNA.

The Revs. E. M. Griffith and G. T. Fleming continue their work in the northern peninsula, the latter conducting the Chundikuli Seminary, and the former superintending all the other agencies. Of the four Native pastors whose names used to reappear year after year, only one now survives, the Rev. G. Champion. The Rev. T. P. Handy died in May (1885). A few days after his death, on Whit Sunday (May 24), two experienced catechists, J. Niles and J. Backus, were admitted by the Bishop to deacons' orders, having passed their examination with much credit. Mr. Niles is at Kopay, one of the Jaffna villages; and Mr. Backus has charge of the wide Pallai district. Mr. Griffith's report is again this year very interesting. Some brief extracts only can be given:—

Ordinations.

Jaffna Native Church:

The Native Church.—This comprises 974 members, of whom 429 are communicants. The number of baptisms during the year has been 61; of these 20 were adults and 3 others converts from Romanism. There are also 40 candidates for baptism. The Church Council has just issued its report for 1885. Its opening sentence is: "The past year has been one of unbounded mercies shown by God to the Native Church." This testimony is true.

Its Anniversary.

The usual anniversary meeting of the Native Church was held on June 18th. I am thankful to say it proved, through God's blessing, a great success. The two newly-ordained deacons were present, and spoke well to a very full church. The reception of the six resolutions that were passed, and the general spirit of enthusiasm which prevailed, showed that a renewed interest in church affairs had been awakened. Subsequent events have given proof of this.

Other Anniversaries.

This brief review will not allow me to do more than simply refer to the other meetings connected with the Native Church, such as the watch-night services, week of prayer, ingathering meetings of each pastorate, and Lental services, together with the anniversary meetings of the Church of England Temperance Society, all of which have passed off well. Outwardly, therefore, the cause of the Native Church has been, under God, one of steady progress. As to its inward life, there have been cases of sad backsliding which have required the exercise of discipline, and in some members signs of much lukewarmness. As long as the tares and the wheat grow together, this is to be expected. I rejoice, however to observe that there is spiritual life, and that this life is showing itself more and more in earnest care for the souls of others.

Native C.M. Association.

The Native Church Missionary Association is now not only prospering, but, as the Native pastors say, it has taken root, and has become a permanent institution of the Mission. I send you a printed report of its half-yearly meeting (the sixth since its establishment), from which you will see that the Government agent, as usual, was in the chair, and that the agents employed by the Association spoke and gave their individual experience. It supports two readers and two schools, all in Pallai and Wannie. At this meeting they determined to employ a third reader. The income of the past half-year was Rs. 303: of this sum Rs. 157 was raised by 162 missionary boxes. Considering the hard times, this sum is more than could reasonably have been expected. The Pallai Christians remind one of the Philippian Church. Out of their poverty have they given even more than last half-year. Two young men (just out from Kopay Institution, and employed as masters) have given the whole of their first month's salary; two others gave, one a half, and the other one-third of their salary as a thankoffering.

Institutions.—These are two, the Nellore Girls' Boarding-School and the Kopay Training Institution.

Nellore Girls' Boarding School.

Nellore Girls' Boarding-School.—There have been forty-seven boarders during the year. All the girls are Christians with the exception of four, and these are ready for baptism. The conduct of the girls has been exceptionally good. Last March, one of them—Roseammah, daughter of the Rev. George Champion, our senior pastor—became suddenly ill with fever, and was removed to her home; there she became worse, and within a fortnight died. Her father gives a touching account of her happy death. Her last words were, "My Lord, my Lord, my Lord Jesus, hold my hand." She was but sixteen years of age, and of a most gentle and obedient disposition. Her influence for good was great among the girls in her class, by whom she was much beloved.

Kopay Training Institution.

Kopay Training Institution.—We have had thirty-nine youths in the Institution during 1885. Careful attention is paid to spiritual training. Besides morning and evening prayers, Sunday services, and monthly missionary gatherings, they have weekly prayer-meetings among themselves, and are encouraged to have private intercourse with the pastor and teachers. Bible study is so arranged that every student who passes through the Institution should become fairly acquainted with the whole of the Scriptures. Five of the students, between the ages of fifteen and seventeen years, after a probation of more than a year, were, after thorough examination by myself and the Native pastor, baptized in August last. All were the sons of heathen parents, whose consent had first been obtained.

Schools.—Of these there are thirty-two vernacular mixed, ten boys', and twelve girls' schools, making a total of fifty-four, with 3054 children under instruction.

Evangelistic Agency.—This comprises thirteen catechists and readers, two more readers supported by the Native Missionary Association, and three colporteurs and four Bible-women supported by the Bible Society.

Mr. Griffith appends to his report some accounts of Native Christians who have died during the year. One is subjoined:—

Deaths of Native Christians.

Death of Thevasagayam of Pallai.—This man was baptized about seven years ago, by Rev. J. D. Simmons, with four others, but about two years after his baptism he gradually grew cold and indifferent, whilst the others were consistent. It was feared Thevasagayam was going very wrong. For several years he totally neglected God's house and all means of grace, in spite of repeated warnings and entreaties. The reason he gave for this was that his pain had increased since he became a Christian. (He suffered much from asthma.) This idea was strongly impressed on his mind by his neighbours, who disliked his becoming a Christian. But the Native Missionary Association reader undertook to converse with him every Sunday morning. This plan, prayerfully and perseveringly carried out, was blessed, and the poor wanderer was at last restored to his former peace with God.

He began now to think of the conversion of his sons. The youngest had been baptized on the same day as himself, and having lived consistently, was employed as a schoolmaster a few miles off. But Thevasagayam, who was getting old, began to be very anxious about the conversion of his two elder sons and their wives, and tried constantly to bring them over to Christianity. His efforts have to a great extent been crowned with success. The elder son, Nathaniel, to the great joy of the father, was baptized in October last, and his wife is now an inquirer. The other brother also is a candidate for baptism.

The old man's days then drew to a close. His illness increased in severity, and he spent his latter days for the most part in close communion with his God. Prayer was his constant delight. He seemed to find great relief in it. He was never wearied of godly conversation. His faith became more simple and firm. The great pain he endured only reminded him the more of the sufferings of his Saviour. He spoke of death as of going home. His parting words to his sons were, "My children, do not waver as I once did. Cling fast to the dear Saviour. Lead a consistent Christian life. I shall be anxiously waiting to see you soon in the presence of Jesus, where I am going. Do not weep for me, as there is no reason for it, for I am to be released from the pains of the body and troubles of this world and to be admitted into the glorious kingdom of Christ." He died on October 26th, 1885.

The Rev. J. Backus also has sent a very full and interesting first Annual Letter, for which it is a matter of sincere regret that space cannot be spared.

MAURITIUS MISSION.

(Commenced 1856.)

Division of the Mission: 1. Tamil-speaking Coolies (Madras Branch), 1857; 2. Bengali and Hindi-speaking Coolies (Calcutta Branch), 1857; 3. The Seychelles Islands, 1875.

THE staff of the Society and of the Native Church in the island of Mauritius has been without change during the year, and the distribution of work among the coolies of various races and languages, Christian, Mohammedan, and Pagan, has been as described in detail in last Annual Report. For some months the Mission was weakened by the absence of Mr. Buswell in the Seychelles, as explained below, but he has now gone back to his proper post.

Statistics.

The number of baptized Christians, 1926, is exactly 100 more than last year. There have been 169 baptisms (99 of adults); but a good many Church members have left the island to return to India. The catechumens, 64, are fewer; so that the total of adherents, 1990, shows an increase of only 84. It is the custom in Mauritius to record the number of services, pastoral and evangelistic, and of the attendants at them; and the figures for the year are, services, 3393, attendants, 97,803.

Pastorates.

In all the four pastorates, Port Louis, Northern, Central, and Southern, both pastoral and evangelistic work of varied character has been vigorously prosecuted, with many tokens of spiritual blessing. The printed local report contains interesting accounts of conversions, and also of some Christian deaths. The missionaries to both the North and the South Indian coolies mention a wide-spread belief among them that Jesus Christ is one of the incarnations of Vishnu, the Bengalis identifying Him with Ráma, and the Tamils and Telugus with Krishna; but they listen, writes Mr. C. Young, "with rapt attention," as the "vast difference" is pointed out between the Gospel narratives and the legends of the Hindu sacred books. The Rev. C. A. Blackburn relates a striking instance of this:—

Gospel narratives and Hindu legends.

Lately a catechist and myself met, in visiting the camps of a sugar estate, some young men reading the Ramáyána. We asked them to read some of the passages where the acts or conduct of Ram give evident proof that he was nothing but a sinful man; but they declined, saying that it was the priest's business to read and explain the sacred writings, and they sent for one. We were glad of this, for we knew that they would never have accepted any explanation otherwise. The guru came, not knowing what discussion we had already had on the passages. He read and gave the true meaning of the texts, and this confirmed what we had said. Every one present listened with silent horror; when a man, with evident emotion, said that it was clear, by what had been read, that Ram was not God. "I have worshipped him as God from my childhood until now, but henceforth I can't do so. Ram is not God!" said he. His exclamations made a great sensation—some approving and others objecting. When we left, that man followed us and asked for more information about the true Saviour. We now and then see him, and he is very desirous to be taught.

"Ram is not God."

The following interesting statement, from a Brahmin who had heard of Christ at Bombay, and was baptized by a Roman Catholic priest in Mauritius, but was staggered at finding he had still to "pray before images," and ultimately

A Brahmin convert: joined the Church of England, is printed in the Local Report:—

His story; I was born in a high-caste family and strictly brought up in Hinduism. Every Saturday I used to worship the earth, which was represented by a horse-shoe, and six other idols made of silver. . . . Once in Bombay a clergyman presented me with a tract; I took it, but as soon as I espied the name of Christ in it, I immediately tore it to pieces, spat on it and trod it under my feet. How wicked I have been! But I am convinced by the Spirit through Christ, and am able to say that the good Lord, who is every ready to forgive, has already pardoned my foolish deeds.

Becomes a Romanist. My first inclination towards Christianity was on hearing a catechism of the Romish Church at Pamplemousses School. The words "Oui, son sang a été versé pour tous, et il a rouvert le ciel à tous ceux qui veulent se sauver" struck me. I began to attend the catechism daily, and shortly after becoming a monitor in that school, began to attend the mass on pretext that I must attend to the boys during the mass. . . . I now felt desirous to be baptized, but on my asking my parents, they said that if ever I should become a Christian they would make me eat on a banana-leaf, and would expel me out of their house. I secretly told my desire to the Roman Catholic priest, l'Abbé Paul. He gave me a catechism and a picture, and told me to learn the catechism and to pray before the picture. My heart melted at his last words, and I said to myself, "Must I again pray before images?" Still knowing that salvation is through Christ, I took the book and picture, and gladly went home. . . . I went on the 21st October, 1883, and after the mass was over was admitted into the fold of Christ. After the baptism I felt very happy, and leaping for joy outside the church said to myself "Let them (parents and relatives) now hang me if they like." The time of trial was not far distant. In the fourth month my brother-in-law knew my secret. He called me and in an angry tone asked, "Are you baptized?" At first I hesitated, and said no, but suddenly I felt myself strengthened and I said "Yes, I am." He immediately expelled me out of his house.

"Must I again pray to images?"

At Poudre d'Or I was admitted as a student in the dispensary. A young Protestant named F. R. Nursoo was dispenser. During the time of recreation we used to discuss religious topics: my intention was to turn the young man to the Romish faith, but as he had some knowledge of theology he pointed out to me some of the errors of Romanism from his Bible. Anxious to know the truth, one day when I was in town I bought a tract, La vérité sur le Protestantisme, which clearly pointed out the errors of Romanism. Still I wished to know more: I attended the Protestant Chapel, but could not understand anything, the service being held in Tamil. On my coming to Rose Hill in January last, I went to hear the Hindi service at Holy Trinity Church. I was highly pleased with the service and sermon, for I understood every part of them, a thing very different from my experience in the Romish Church, in which I tried hard to understand, but could not. The several errors (chiefly the prohibition of the reading of the Word of God, and the omission of the Second Commandment) now added to my discontent. I therefore one morning came and told Rev. C. Kooshallee of my desire to join the Church of England. My humble prayer to God now is to lead me in this path of truth which He alone has pointed out to me.

The catechist Jules Assah continues his work among the Chinese coolies. Nine were baptized in the year, and 64 of them are now Christians.

The Rev. Nigel Honiss is still at the head of the Plaisance Orphanage and the Mission Schools generally. The Government grant has been much lessened, and the Orphanage is now chiefly dependent on the gifts of friends in England through the Missionary Leaves Association and the Coral Missionary Fund. "Our doors have consequently been closed to many distressing cases that would, under more favourable circumstances, have been willingly admitted." Mr. Honiss writes with thankfulness of the good work done in the twenty-three day-schools.

Return home of Bishop Royston.

The Committee regret to hear that Bishop Royston, to whom the Mission owes so much, has been ordered home by the doctors. There has been much of a trying character in Mauritius lately, especially connected with the aggressive efforts of the Romanists.

SEYCHELLES.

African industrial institution.

In the absence of an English missionary for the African Industrial Institution and the other work in the island of Mahé, the Rev. H. D. Buswell, Secretary of the Mauritius Mission, took charge for the greater part of the year. His report shows that the work begun ten years ago by the Rev. W. B. Chancellor, and carried on by his successors, has not been without a blessing from the Lord. He has now been relieved by the arrival of a lay missionary, Mr. E. Luckock, a member of the C.M.S. Lay Workers' Union for London:—

Mr. Buswell's report on the Mission.

I went to Seychelles in February last, accompanied by Mrs. Buswell and my daughter. It was my privilege to carry on the African Institution on the lines laid down by Mr. Chancellor, and worked upon by Mr. Warry, and I look back upon the ten months spent there with much pleasure and thankfulness. The daily round of duties, differing in character from what I had been accustomed to, was far from being regarded as a "trivial task." Teaching little African children the three R's, plus the elements of Christian truth, may seem, at a distance, humble work, but it is wonderful how fruitful it may be of blessing to all concerned. Of course there are other duties devolving upon the missionary at Seychelles, but the Institution is his chief charge.

The majority of the African squatters in the neighbourhood of Venn's Town are members of the English Church, I presume as the result of the efforts of the missionaries who have been in charge. These Africans occasionally attend divine service, more for the sake of testifying to their allegiance than with a view to learn, or even to take part in the service. Divine service, for several years, has been conducted in English, of which these poor Africans are supremely innocent. The result is they know little or nothing of divine truth. I made it a point of addressing them in the simplest Creole, a patois, alas! much too limited in its vocabulary to admit of effective teaching. I am convinced that Mr. Luckock will do his utmost to qualify himself as a missionary to the Africans, by acquiring the Creole. Meanwhile he has succeeded in securing the services of a Creole of Mahé, a man who is perhaps better qualified for such work than any man in the archipelago. Sylvan Baltide, the Creole referred to, is well known to Bishop Ryan. He has been known as an exemplary Christian for many years. For some time he has, at the request of the Civil Chaplain of Mahé, held divine service at distant outposts on Sundays. He will superintend the boys at manual labour, assist in the school (he is certificated), act as pundit to Mr. Luckock, and visit and hold services in the villages in the south and south-west of the island. I trust and firmly believe that Mr. Luckock will find in him a real helper.

It seems to me very desirable that more direct evangelistic work should emanate from Venn's Town than has been possible for some time. There is but one clergyman of the Church of England in the island of Mahé, whilst in every district of the island a Roman priest, with the usual staff of Frères et Sœurs-de-Charité, is stationed.

At the Bishop's request I twice visited the larger islands of the archipelago and should have visited them more frequently had circumstances permitted it. Praslin, the most Protestant island of the diocese, has the advantage of a Creole clergyman, who is partly supported by the S.P.G.,—Mr. Pickwood, who for some time was superintendent of manual labour at Venn's Town. I had the pleasure of ministering to very large congregations, and of administering the Lord's Supper to an unusual number of communicants on each occasion. Mr. P. is turning to good account the experience gained by him at Venn's Town, having established, in his own compound, a similar institution, of course on a smaller scale. He had fourteen little Africans under his care, and I hope the number will increase. The Capuchin Frères, however, have begun the erection of a large building, presumably an orphanage, almost within a stone's throw of the Mission church. The Capuchin Order seems to have an unlimited supply of men at its disposal, judging from the lavish allotments to Seychelles. Whatever the quality may be, the quantity is very considerable.

Additional agency must be employed if the Church of England (the only Protestant Church at work in the Seychelles islands) is to hold the ground it has won, to say nothing of enlarging its borders. Ignorant Africans, in nominal connection with us, have need to be instructed in the first principles of the doctrine of Christ. Of unbaptized Africans there is but a remnant left. Those who are professedly members of our Church claim our prayerful solicitude, and I see no prospect of furthering their growth in the knowledge and love of God, and of His Son Jesus Christ our Lord, or even of saving them from Roman idolatry, otherwise than by sending amongst them qualified Creole catechists, who shall go from house to house, giving them definite instruction in the truth as it is in Jesus. I have sometimes thought that Bible-women might be advantageously employed. The fact is, however, that the women who have been brought up in Venn's Town (and many of whom I am deeply thankful to say are consistent Christians, regular attendants at church, and communicants) have their household duties to attend to, and are thus unable to undertake definite work.

CHINA.

Of the three territories for episcopal purposes (they cannot be called dioceses) into which China is divided, North China, Mid China, and Victoria (South China), the Society occupies the two latter, carrying on in them the whole of the missionary work of the Church of England. Yet China's millions have never received that proportion of the Society's resources in men and means which the Committee would desire to give. Its outlay in China is only one-fourth of what it is in India, although in India it is aided by considerable funds raised locally. The Committee rejoice that other Christian societies are able to devote a larger share of the means at their disposal to China.

The Committee cannot begin their account of the Society's work in the past year in China without expressing thankfulness for the remarkable testimony to the value and success of the Missions of this and other societies contained in Miss Gordon Cumming's recently published "Wanderings in China." They rejoice that so justly popular a book should manifest so true an appreciation of missionary work, and give so full and faithful an account of it.

Miss Gordon Cumming's Wanderings in China.

The late Canon McClatchie.

In June last year, the survivor of the two first C.M.S. missionaries to China was taken to his eternal rest. The Rev. T. McClatchie, M.A., went out with the Rev. G. Smith (afterwards first Bishop of Victoria, Hong-Kong) in 1844, and did not finally leave China till 1882. For twenty-three years of that period he was a missionary of the Society at Shanghai. He was a very learned Chinese scholar, and did much important literary work. He was made Canon of the English cathedral at Shanghai by Bishop Alford in 1871.

SOUTH CHINA MISSION.

QUAN-TUNG PROVINCE: Hong-Kong, 1862; Canton, 1882.
FUH-KIEN PROVINCE: Fuh-Chow, 1850; Fuh-Ning, 1882.

Delayed extension.

THE Missions at Hong-Kong and in the Canton District have been steadily carried on during the year; but the proposed extension to Western Kwan-tung, for which the funds were provided by Bishop Burdon, has not yet been begun, and Dr. E. G. Horder, the medical missionary sent out for that purpose, has been employing his time in diligent study of the language, and in some medical missionary work in Hong-Kong, thus preparing himself for future usefulness. He has visited Pakhoi, and it is hoped that before the present year is out he may be established there, with an ordained colleague if it please God to give the man.

HONG-KONG.

St. Stephen's Church.

The Rev. J. B. Ost is in charge of this Mission, besides acting as Secretary to the South China Finance Committee. The Rev. Fong Yet San is pastor of St. Stephen's Church. The regular congregation numbers 138 persons, of whom 73 are communicants; but the church is much used also for evangelistic preaching to the heathen. Mr. Ost gives an encouraging account of the congregation, the preaching services, the work in the gaol, meetings for inquirers, the nine day-schools, the night-school, the women's class conducted by Mrs. Ost and Mrs. Fong, the Bible-woman, the Theological Class, and the out-stations. Eight men, five women, and seven children were baptized in the year. One of the men was a fisherman, the first-fruit of the out-station of Stanley. Mr. Ost's notice of the Bible-woman is as follows:—

Women's work.

Chinese Bible-woman.

Our Bible-woman, Kwok Ho, the wife of Chung Wai Yaw, our Native colporteur catechist, is an active helper in our work among the Native women of this place. She is a regular attendant at certain of the classes held for our women students. During this last year she has spent three mornings every week in the dispensary, talking to the women and sometimes to the men, during the time they are waiting till their turn arrives to see the doctor. In this way much seed has been sown that we trust will some day bear fruit. Then any cases that may be specially promising she follows up, visiting the people in their homes, and thus gaining an entrance through doors that might otherwise have been closed. Should there be any female patients in the hospital wards, she visits and talks with them.

In the after part of the day Kwok Ho goes visiting from house to house. In this work she meets with very varied receptions. Sometimes she is welcomed, and, gathering a little company around her, is able to explain with ease the truths of the Gospel, but it not unfrequently happens that she is refused admittance, and more than this, abused and ridiculed. Some, too, who allow her to enter their dwellings, soon get tired of listening, and do not want to see her again. Still, in her work she has a share of encouragement.

The Rev. R. Sechlen, of the Basle Mission here, bears testimony to the good that is being done by this female agent. Some time ago he baptized a Hakka woman, whose acquaintance with Gospel truth quite surprised him. He questioned her as to how she had learnt so much, and was informed that Kwok Ho had taught her. This woman is the mother of one of our young Christian men. As she speaks Hakka and does not understand much Lunti, it was considered best that she should join the German Mission congregation. Mr. Sechlen tells me of a second woman who now attends his church, and who has been under the influence of our woman. It is cheering to have such external testimony as to the good work going on among the women of this colony.

CANTON DISTRICT.

Work in Kwan-tung villages.

The Rev. J. Grundy continues in charge of the numerous out-stations worked from Canton, viz. Wong-pi, Shiu Hing, Tung On, Lo Ting, Yan Ping, Hok Shan, Heung Shan, and Kong Moon. The Chinese evangelists at these places, some of which are populous cities, are reported as working faithfully. The visible fruits are not large as yet, though the progress seems to be steady. There are 107 baptized Christians and 10 catechumens; and 9 adults were baptized in the year. The most promising station is, Heung Shan, where a Church Committee has been formed, and there are candidates ready for confirmation. Much of the Chinese prejudice against foreigners in these country districts was removed last summer during the disastrous floods that took place, when relief expeditions were organized at Hong-Kong, and boat-loads of rice and biscuits were sent to the people whose crops had been destroyed. The fact, referred to by Mr. Grundy, that Mr. Ost took a leading part in this benevolent work, of course increased its favourable influence in a missionary point of view. "Foreigners are now looked upon as benefactors. Before the inundation they were greeted with 'devil' and similar epithets; but now the people will remember with gratitude, for many years to come, the help received from the 'barbarians' in the day of their calamity."

Foreigners regarded as benefactors.

PROVINCE OF FUH-KIEN.

THE same seven brethren whose names have appeared together in an unbroken list in now four successive Annual Reports continue to form the Society's Fuh-Kien staff. The Rev. R. W. and Mrs. Stewart, however, have returned to China after their furlough in this country, and the Rev. Ll. and Mrs. Lloyd have come home for a like season of rest. During the year Mr. Lloyd, and the Rev. C. Shaw, conducted the educational work; the Revs. J. R. Wolfe, W. Banister, and J. Martin, divided the superintendence of the several districts; and Dr. B. Van Someren Taylor continued his Medical Mission at Fuh-Ning (as Hok-Ning is more properly called), Mr. Martin also residing there.

The tone of the Annual Letters is less bright than usual. Mr. Wolfe writes, "Though outwardly we have had the blessing of comparative peace and tranquillity, I regret to say that internally, in the churches, there has been much cause for grave anxiety, and we have been forcibly reminded that the great Adversary is still unchained. This year I have had to mourn over several apostasies and backsliders, and over some who have been cut off from communion on account of their indulgence in gross sin. And some of our leaders and most trusted men have given us much sorrow of heart by the discovery that they had become seriously involved in debt." "But," he goes on, "there is also, thank God, a bright side." The number of adult baptisms was 253, or forty more than in 1884; and Mr. Wolfe specially thanks God for several very happy and peaceful deaths among the converts. The result, however, of the backslidings, the expulsions (42), and the deaths (70), together is that the number of baptized Christians has only increased by 84, from 3104 to 3188, while so many of those under instruction for baptism have fallen back that the total of adherents is actually less, for the first time for many years, Cause for anxiety in Fuh-Kien.

A bright side; baptisms; deaths.

5704 instead of 5868. The Committee deeply sympathize with their brethren, and ask that special prayer may be offered for the Christians of Fuh-Kien.

Among the deaths was that of one of the first converts of the Fuh-Chow Mission, who was a servant of the Rev. M. Fearnley's (one of the early missionaries thirty years ago), and was baptized by the Rev. G. Smith. "His whole life," says Mr. Wolfe, "was a bright example of Christian consistency, and I never knew a more honest and faithful man." He, and another of the earliest converts, Mr. Ngu, died of cholera. "Thus one by one our oldest members are passing away from these early scenes, and we have good hopes that they have entered on the blessed rest of eternity." Deaths of early converts.

The Theological College sent out three catechists into their respective districts; and from the Boys' Boarding School three boys were sent to Dr. Taylor at Fuh-Ning to be trained as medical missionaries. Of these latter, and of a Valedictory Dismissal for two of them and for the three college students, the Rev. C. Shaw writes :— Theological College.

We receive most cheering accounts from Dr. Taylor of the one who left us a year ago, and we trust the other two just gone may indeed turn out useful men, and be a means of blessing to numbers of their poor heathen countrymen. They were all good boys, they have been a long time in school, and have the advantage of having had a very good education. Two of them are orphans; one, Sin-King, is the eldest son of a former catechist who laid down his life for Christ's sake; his mother is at present a Bible-woman in the Hok Chiang district. The second, Sing Ong, has been in school about eleven years; his father and mother are both dead, both were Christians. The third, To Ang, is the son of a Bible-woman in Fuh-Ning. He has been in school about seven years; he is a very clever boy, and is, I trust, a truly converted Christian. We would earnestly ask your prayers on behalf of these boys; may God keep them earnest, simple, loving Christians, and may they desire above all things to spread abroad the knowledge of the Saviour's love! Trained Native medical students.

On the last evening of last term we had a dismissal meeting. We took leave of three students who had finished their college course, and two of the boys about whom I have been writing. It was similar to our dismissal meetings at home. In the absence of Mr. Lloyd (who had left for England) I presided. Mr. Ngoi, our Native clergyman in Foo-Chow, opened the meeting with prayer. I made a few introductory remarks; Mr. Wolfe gave an address to the three students who were about to be appointed as catechists; he based his remarks on Colossians ii. 3, 4, 5. Mr. Banister also specially addressed the two boys. One of the students replied on behalf of the others, and Mr. Chio, our Native Principal in the College, closed the meeting with prayer. There were about eighty persons present at this dismissal service; it was held in the College Chapel. At the same time prizes were distributed to the students, women and boys, who had passed successfully in the recent yearly examination. Native valedictory dismissal.

The work of the ladies of the Female Education Society and the Church of England Zenana Society in Fuh-Chow is of great value; but there is no special report of it this year.

Of the eleven Districts, four, Fuh-Chow, Lieng-Kong, Lo-Nguong, and Hok-Chiang, are superintended by Mr. Wolfe; two, Ning-Taik and Fuh-Ning, by Mr. Martin; and the remaining five, Ku-Chang, Kiong-Ning, Iong-Ping, Hing-Wha, and Ing-Chung, by Mr. Banister.

The LIENG-KONG district has now a Church Council of its own, which met for the first time at the beginning of the Chinese New Year, in the buildings lately erected in Lieng-Kong city with the help of the Wm. Chas. Jones Fund, comprising church, school, parsonage, &c. The zealous and efficient catechist in this city has been much blessed. In the district also there has been encouragement, particularly in the valley of Koi Hu:—

This place is in Au Kwang Hien, away amongst the almost inaccessible mountains, but for convenience sake it is at present reckoned in the Lieng Kong district.

A dream and its results.

We were led to this place by a very marked providence. About eighteen months ago an old man in the valley had a singular dream, in which he saw, as he was strolling leisurely by the riverside, five men sitting on the side of the hill. There seemed something unusual about their appearance, and the old man concluded they were supernatural beings. He at once addressed them, and asked who they were, and what brought them there. They in return asked the old man what he wanted, and he replied, "I want to know goodness." The five men then said, "Go to Sing Taing, and there you will be told what is goodness." Now Sing Taing was a C.M.S. station, having a catechist and a small congregation of Christians. The old man awoke, but could not tell why he was sent to Sing Taing in search of goodness. He hardly knew even where Sing Taing was. For several weeks this dream was constantly on his mind.

One day, as he was puzzling his head over the matter, an old Christian man, a native of the valley, but who had lived at Ma-pe for the last 20 years, and was converted there, suddenly returned. (Ma-pe is 45 English miles from Koi Hu.) The old man who had the dream mentioned the circumstance to the old Christian, who at once told him about Jesus, and said, "There is a church at Sing Taing." The two men walked the following Sunday morning fifty li to the Sing Taing church; and here he was told by the catechist about the love of Jesus, and what true goodness was. The man's mind was prepared for all that the catechist told him, and he believed with his whole heart For several months he accompanied the old Ma-pe Christian to the Sing Taing church; but as the road is long and rough and hilly, and the two men were old, they found it difficult in the hot weather to walk so far.

As there was a large population in the valley of Koi Hu, we opened it as a station. I was privileged to baptize seven adults and two children there this year, among whom this old man and his two children were the first and the most interesting.

The Lo-Nguong district continues under the charge of the Rev. Sia Seu-Ong. Nothing of special interest is reported regarding it; but "steady progress" is recorded. The meetings of the Church Council are well and regularly attended.

The Hok-Chiang district south of the Min is chiefly responsible for the falling off in numbers. Although 91 adults and 42 children were baptized, the number of baptized members only increased by five (from 704 to 709); and the total adherents are 211 less (1864—1653). Mr. Wolfe writes:—

In two large villages (Keng Tau and Keng Kiang) much has happened which has sorely grieved my soul, and tried me very much. Several families went back to heathenism at Keng Tau, and I had the mortification of seeing some of them openly and publicly taking part in some gross idolatrous worship in the town. No trial can be greater than this to a missionary, and I came away from the place with a heavy heart. What could I do but cry unto the Lord? Some of these have been persuaded to come back again, but one feels that little confidence can be placed in those who can so easily be swayed hither and thither; still one must trust in the goodness and mercy of God, and pray that the power of His Spirit may work in them, and carry home the truth to their souls. The catechist here, though a good man, was not equal to such a trying position, and he has been changed, and a new man put in his place. This has ever been one of the most trying stations, arising from the wild and unruly character of the inhabitants. I trust the new catechist will be able to do better. I would earnestly ask your prayers for this large and important town of Keng Tau.

A missionary's trials.

The devil has great power here in Hok Chiang. The people are extremely ignorant, and superstitious to the last degree. Our great want here is more earnest, spiritual catechists. I wish to emphasize this. There seems no other hope of teaching these people. We want men who will go amongst them continually, reading to them, and praying with them in their houses.

Ignorance and superstition.

Among the encouragements in this district is the earnestness of some of the catechists. Of one of them, a remarkable statement is made:—

The catechist at Hong Ah has long practised the plan adopted by Mr. Hoare at Ning-po, in carrying a banner, having a text inscribed on it, with the additional plan of wearing a sort of linen vest, with the Ten Commandments written in Chinese characters on its front, while the Seven Beatitudes are inscribed on its back. This plan, he says, helps him immensely, as it at once discovers to everybody what he is and what the object he has in view. The Ten Commandments on his breast, and the Seven Beatitudes on his back, render him an object of veneration with these villagers, and they listen with eagerness and respect to a man so covered over with "doctrine," and so evidently anxious to teach them the truth.

"Covered over with doctrine."

Mr. Martin's report of the Ning-Taik district is particularly interesting:—

Importance of ladies' work illustrated.

Mrs. Martin and I visited most of the stations, and as large crowds gathered to see us, we were able to preach to many who had never heard of Christ. The women flocked in by hundreds to see the foreign woman, and we did our utmost not to let them leave till they had heard our message of love. My wife was able to get to know something of the lives of our catechists' wives, and she encouraged those who were desponding, and admonished those who were indifferent, as to the condition of the women around them. In Ning Taik city Mrs. Martin was invited by some of the literati, and one of the mandarins, to visit their wives. I sometimes accompanied her, and while she was talking to the women in their own apartments, I was with their husbands, trying to press home the truths they had heard in the church, or from the visits of the Rev. Ting Sing-Ki and the catechist.

A Native Church Council's resolutions.

During the year we had three meetings of the Church Council. Every meeting was preceded by the Holy Communion, and we had opportunities for meeting together for prayer and study of the Bible. The following were the chief resolutions passed:—

(1) That all Christians and inquirers be required to possess a Bible or New Testament, a hymn-book, and a Prayer-book.

(2) That no grants be made from the funds of the Council for church furniture, unless the Christians first give half of the amount required.

(3) That the Bible-woman be free to visit any of the stations belonging to the Council, and that she make a stay of three months at the same. That the congregation asking for her provide her comfortable quarters, and pay her travelling expenses.

(4) That the members of this Council accept the scheme of prayer proposed by the Fuh Ning brethren, viz.:—On Sundays to pray for the Church of God in all countries; on Mondays for Lo Nguong and Lieng Kong; on Tuesdays for Foo Chow and the American Methodist Mission; on Wednesdays for Ku Cheng, Kiong Ning Fu, and Iong Ping Fu; on Thursdays for Fu Ning, Ning Taik, and the American Board Mission; on Fridays for Hing Hua, Ing Chieng, Hok Chieng; on Saturdays for the Church of God in all countries.

At each of the meetings I gave special lectures on the 1st of Samuel and the Epistle to the Hebrews, with a view to the annual examination of catechists at the Provincial Conference.

While on my itinerating tours in this district, I examined candidates for baptism, and gave particulars about them to Mr. Ting. I did not baptize any myself, for I am anxious that the Christians should know their own Native pastor has equal powers with the foreign missionary. Some were displeased, for they thought the rite was more efficacious when administered by the foreigner, and others looked upon my decision as an act of humility on my part.

Literati inquirers.

Ning Taik City.—The work has gone on very favourably here, and the literati still continue to be inquirers after the truth, although chiefly with a view to see what our teaching really is, and how it contrasts with Confucianism. I have often enjoyed sitting and listening to the Rev. Mr. Ting discoursing and arguing with some of these literary gentlemen. As they rise to go he asks them to think carefully of these things, and to consider whether it is not for their good to worship the Living and True God, and to be a disciple of the Lord Jesus. He bids them farewell with the invitation to come again. The church is being repaired, and Mr. Ting hopes, when it is finished, some of the literati will not be ashamed to be seen sitting in it. The William Charles Jones Fund has given $250 towards the expenses, the Fuh Kien Local Fund $150, and the Christians are subscribing either by money or by giving their time.

In FUH-NING, Mr. Martin mentions that Dr. Taylor's new hospital is an important additional centre for making known the Gospel. Dr. Taylor himself writes :— Fuh-Ning hospital.

The little hospital consists of five wards, capable of holding thirty beds, but at a press forty patients could easily be put up in it. The dispensary and students' residence (one building) consists of a large waiting-room, consulting, operating, and medicine rooms; room for patients after operation, holding two beds; ward for paying patients, three beds; senior student's room; passage; three students' rooms; dining-room; study or lecture-room.

The erection of these buildings, together with the alteration of my own house, has been a cause of great anxiety to me, for in this out-of-the-way place we were unable to get proper contracts, nor was the material easily procured. The buildings have had a good test of their strength, for before they were quite finished a great typhoon blew over the city, the like of which has not been felt for over ten years. All the damage my houses suffered was the loosening of the tiles and the consequent fall of the ceiling plaster in certain places.

I am exceedingly sorry that there was neither space nor money to erect a place for women, especially as I know women are anxious to come in. Now that my wife has joined me, and we have Bible-women here, several women come daily; but this is very hard for them on account of their small feet, and they would be quite willing to stay if only we had a place for them. I intend to ask the William Charles Jones Fund for a grant for this. And to me, work amongst the women is far more important than work amongst the men. If we can get the mothers, we will get the children.

The whole total of in-patients far exceeds that of last year, 416 as compared with 156; whilst the number of out-patients is about the same.

The greatest number of my in-patients have been opium cases (eighty-seven), and here I have only to repeat what I have previously written, that though I fear some of my cases do relapse, yet they have got a new start, and seldom begin with as great doses as they took before, and that some having been cured remain cured, as I have proofs of. Besides, it is well to have such an institution, for one of the oft-repeated questions put to us is, "Do not you Englishmen bring us this opium?" To this we are able to reply, "We Christian Englishmen try to cure you of the habit by opening such a hospital." A reply to the Opium question.

Mr. Banister's report of the KU-CHENG district mentions several places whose names will be remembered by those who have followed the history of the Fuh-Kien Mission. It illustrates the good work of some of the Chinese catechists, and its notices of Christian women are interesting :—

There is nothing more discouraging to a missionary or a pastor than to see members falling back. This I regret to say is the case at Ngu Tu. The misconduct of some has been a cause of stumbling and offence to others. Those who have followed the history of this Mission Retrogression.

will remember the good work done at Ngu Tu by Leng Seng Mi. The successor of Leng Mi was Ting Chung Seng, who did good work whilst he remained in charge, but he was soon removed to Hing Hwa as superintendent. Since the removal of the latter the congregation has visibly declined, though the number of the women is still high; I trust that under a new catechist the church may revive.

Pa Lau, in the Ang Yong pastorate, is another place that has declined during the past few years, though there is hope of its eventual revival in the fidelity and earnestness of one or two of its old members, especially the delegate of the place, who in the midst of much discouragement, and at great personal inconvenience, cheerfully performs his duties as representative, attending without fail all the meetings, working for no reward but that which his Heavenly Father can give him. I look upon him as one of the pillars of the Church in Ku Cheng, and pray that there may be more like him. Ang Yong still prospers; it has increased in numbers and stability under the charge of Lau Tek Ong. During the last year many of the old members have passed away, but their places have been taken by others who have joined the Church.

A faithful convert.

At Kwang Chin the seed of eternal life has taken root and is bringing forth fruit in the lives of the few simple Christians who form the witnesses for Christ amidst the surrounding heathenism. The wife of the landlord of the chapel is a bright and intelligent woman, who has been taught for a year in the woman's school at Foochow. She took the first place in Scripture at the recent examinations. I trust she will be the means of doing much good, and will use her learning for the glory of her Saviour.

Witnesses for Christ.

The Church at Tong Kio has been increased by the baptism of the first female convert—wife of the first Christian who was baptized at this place. She was baptized at Foochow, where she has been learning to read, and now she will, I trust, be able to do good in her own town. I would especially ask your prayers on behalf of this woman and the one at Kwang Chin, that they may be witnesses for the truth as it is in Jesus amongst their benighted and bigoted sisters, and that they may bring up their children in the nurture and admonition of the Lord.

First female convert at Tong Kio.

Sang Yong still gives signs of reviving life. Here again it is just to note the fidelity and earnestness of the Church delegate. He is a simple, unlearned man, yet he has remained faithful to his baptismal vows while so many others at this place have fallen away, and, as in the case of the Pa Lau "Hwoi pah" (Church Father), he also sacrifices the earnings of many days' labour in the year to attend to Church business.

Signs of reviving life at SangYong.

The head catechist in this pastorate is Li Sie Mi, who worked very well at Kwang Chin for some years, and was removed from there to take charge of this pastorate in the beginning of the year. I have great hopes that he will turn out a valuable man.

At L'o Hwa the catechist has had to mourn the loss of his wife, who died in the early summer of consumption. She was educated in our girls' school, and though not a very active Christian worker, owing chiefly, I think, to her weak health, yet the consistency of her life and conduct, the clean and orderly state of her house, could not fail to impress her heathen neighbours with the fact that the Christians are different from themselves, that they have found something which makes them lead better lives. The value of a young woman of this kind cannot be over-estimated. Female Christian education in China is pregnant with the germs of future blessing and benefit to the Church, and though the work may sometimes be trying and irksome to those engaged in it, yet they have the satisfaction of knowing that they are storing up future blessings for the Chinese Church and nation. Female Christian education.

At Ku Cheng (city) there have been accessions, and altogether there is much to lead us to hope that the truth will continue to radiate from this place to the surrounding villages and towns. There have been one or two instances of this influence during the past year. I myself feel more satisfied with the work in the city now than I have done since I took charge of the district. I think not a little of this improved state of the Church here is owing to the steady earnestness and diligence of our brother, Sing Mi. I pray that the way may be soon opened for his ordination, that thus a sphere of more extended influence and usefulness may be opened to him. Good work of Ku Cheng catechist.

The great "fu" cities of Iong-Ping and Kiong-Ning give no encouragement. The position at the former place is maintained, but from the latter the Mission has again this year been expelled, the faithful evangelists being shamefully treated :— Expulsion of Native evangelists from Kiong Ning.

Our venture of faith, in the spring of last year, ended in failure and expulsion once again. Our brethren, Ngoi Seng Ong and Taing Sing Ki, went there shortly after our Church Council meeting, and occupied the house which had been rented. After remaining there in quietness for about a fortnight, they were suddenly set upon by a hired mob, as in former times was the case. Their clothes were torn from them, they were severely and unmercifully beaten, filth was crammed into their mouths, and in an ignominious manner, amidst the shouts and jeers of the heathen crowd, they were expelled from the city. Surely this is bearing shame and reproach for the Master's sake, and becoming as the offscouring of the earth for His name.

The south-western districts of HING-HWA and ING-CHUNG continue to present a hopeful field. The head catechist at Hing-Hwa is Ting Chung Seng, who is both experienced and earnest.

The most interesting event of the year connected with the Fuh-Kien Mission was the commencement of a new Corea Mission by the Chinese Native Christians themselves. The interest they displayed in the account given by Mr. Wolfe of his visit to that distant and little-known country was referred to in last Annual Report. Money for the expenses of starting a Mission was contributed by friends in Fuh-Kien and in Australia; and in November Mr. Wolfe sailed for Corea with the two Chinese evangelists appointed, to introduce them to their work. In due course he returned to Fuh-Chow; and then the Fuh-Kien Church had to learn a lesson that the best of men are very weak; that the treasure of the Gospel is "in earthen vessels, that the The Native Mission to the Corea.

excellency of the power may be of God and not of us." One of the two Chinese brethren returned home, his heart having failed him. The other, however, stuck to his post; and others at once volunteered to go; so that the Committee trust the Lord's blessing may still follow the enterprise. They commend it to the intercession of His people at home.

MID-CHINA MISSION.

KIANG-SU PROVINCE: Shanghai, 1845.
CHEH-KIANG PROVINCE: Ningpo, 1848; Hang-chow, 1861; Shaou-hing, 1870.

Visit of Bishop Moule to England.

THE Committee have had the pleasure of welcoming their old friend Bishop Moule to this country. They are glad that the urgent needs of the great field of Mid China should have just at this time the best possible pleader in their behalf; and they trust that the University in which the Bishop's name—both on his own account and on that of his brothers—is held in so much honour will give him men of faith and prayer for the mighty work that lies before the Church in the vast territories conventionally assigned to him. The Society was only able to add one missionary to the staff during the year, the Rev. G. W. Coultas.

Some extracts from Bishop Moule's own Annual Letter will appropriately introduce the more detailed accounts of the Society's work. It is dated Hang-chow, Dec. 4th :—

The year I have now to review has been one of singular interest and some special trials. Amongst our trials I ought not to pass over the keenest—but briefest—of all. I mean the riot at the Hospital Gate [in Hang-chow] on one of the last nights in July. God protected us and our people by the loyal and prompt action of the Mandarins, and we have now (December) been brought safely through the anxious months of the Provincial Examinations—of civilians in September and October, military men in October and November. The Mandarins spoke to us anxiously of both, but, partly I doubt not through their precautions, not the slightest suspicion of difficulty has occurred, though preaching in our mission-rooms has gone on as usual, and a few (some 1000 odd) tracts were given to the civilians as they left their great arena on the last day of the examination.

Riot at the Hang-chow hospital.

A more real trial than these more or less public troubles, has been the illness of two of our brethren, Mr. Groves and Mr. Horsburgh. . . .

The only other trial I will mention is the necessity that has been hanging over me for many months to make a visit to England. Having been for sixteen months the only working clergyman at this station (including Siaosan, Fu-yang, Chuki—eighty miles across), and having on hand anxious and interesting episcopal duties at each of the other great stations, especially Ningpo and Shanghai, the necessity, which I do not see how to obviate, is more painful than I can express.

Trials recounted, I now come to the special topics of interest. I will not dwell on the consecration, on October 28th of last year, in the English Cathedral of Shanghai, of the third American Bishop of Shanghai. Altogether, the most striking characteristic of the year under review were Mr. Hoare's evangelistic missions—two to Chuki, one in the city of Ningpo. The Chuki missions, when Mr. Hoare was there in person with one or two "passed" theologicals, and a class of four or five under training, lasted altogether some five or six months. Compelled by Mr. Groves' illness to return to Ningpo at the end of June, Mr. Hoare resolved to attempt, as he expressed it, Moody and Sankey meetings in our largest chapel there. . . .

Mr. Hoare's student evangelists.

So far as I know no actual conversion has hitherto resulted either at Chuki or in Ningpo; but such prayerfully-conceived and effected work cannot be lost. Only the other day, walking with a Christian of the neighbourhood of Chuki, he began spontaneously to speak of Mr. Hoare's work, saying that the interest in the subject of Christianity had very sensibly increased in consequence. "Men of all classes," he said, "including scholars, think much more about it than they did."

Meantime, the spontaneous spread, under God, of the leaven introduced by others—my brother, Mr. Elwin, &c.—has not stood still. During a trip, a fortnight ago, with Mr. Horsburgh round the country stations west and south of Chuki city, I was furnished with some ten names of candidates for baptism, nearly all unknown to me by face, and all the result of the influence of private Christians. Of the six stations visited, some small enough, but each of them the scene of an administration of the Holy Communion, only one has a resident paid agent. At four the services are all kept up by unpaid Christians, and four out of six places of worship are private rooms lent for the purpose. The "churches" are there in "so-and-so's house." One or two are very squalid, one or two better and not utterly unworthy; but, for the present, "they have done what they can," and I thank God for it. I welcomed to His "board" fifty communicants in all. There are some forty more scattered over Chuki valleys.

The spread of the leaven.

Voluntary services of Native Christians.

Other points of great interest have been (a) my brother's manifold works at Shanghai, for Chinese, Europeans, and Eurasians too. (b) Dr. Main's always interesting work of dispensing to thousands and clinical treatment of hundreds of patients, together with the teaching and training of his large class of Christian pupils. To these, twelve in number, he has lately asked me to give special instruction; and since September I have accordingly, when not away from Hang-chow, lectured twice a week on the Epistle to the Romans, and once on the Evidences. (c) Our little girls' school is still a matter of thankfulness. We hope that they are, not without the Holy Spirit's blessing, preparing for the hard lot of poor men's wives that is before almost all of them. (d) An effort entered into by all the Missions of the city at once to secure progress in personal holiness, and to preach the Gospel more effectively in the city. I was led to propose an association of this kind last winter, on perceiving in the minds of the Native leaders of each Mission a sense of deadness and lethargy in their individual experience and a lack of power in the preaching and other means of evangelization and pastoral care.

An "Edification Society."

My proposal for an "Edification Society" was supplemented by a suggestion of dear Horsburgh's to add a union for public preaching to the heathen. The preaching was daily in the open air, at the most public spot in this huge city, by a party usually of one or two missionaries and four or five Natives, taken in rotation from all the Missions, each party serving for one week.

Ten monthly meetings have been held. Except on two occasions, when absent from Hang-chow, I have acted as their chairman, and have made the proceedings as little formal as possible. Conversation on evangelistic methods and experiences, on the difficulties of our people, and on personal holiness and devotion, with brief passages of Scripture, hymns, and prayers, have occupied usually two hours or more—from 7 or 7.30 to 9.30 or 10. We meet in Dr. Main's lecture-room, an excellent place. Weary as I have often gone to the meetings, I have never failed to be deeply interested. The members are Christian missionaries (men) and some sixteen or eighteen leading Christian picked men of the Church, Presbyterian, Inland Mission, and (latterly) Baptist Natives.

SHANGHAI.

Archdeacon A. E. Moule's "manifold works" referred to in the Bishop's letter above must be described in his own words:—

Baptisms.

The year has been one calling for thankfulness. We have had five adult baptisms, and instead of two catechumens at the close of 1884, we now have six or seven. Our numbers have grown also by accretion, so that the whole number of baptized Christians has risen from thirty-seven to forty-nine, and of communicants from nineteen to twenty-four.

The machinery employed during 1884 has been in operation during 1885; namely, (1) a preaching-room open five afternoons every week in a suburb about two miles from my house—Sin-za, visited daily by the senior catechist, and as often as possible by myself.

Schools.

(2) We have three schools, a boys' school in Sin-za, and a similar one in the city of Shanghai paid by the C.M.S., and attended by about sixty children, and a girls' school with eight or nine children, also in Sin-za, and paid for by friends of Mrs. Moule's, and visited by herself weekly. The mother of one of these girls seems much interested in Christianity; and one of the boys in the city school has applied for baptism.

Bible women.

(3) We have two Bible-women under Mrs. Moule's supervision: Hannah, trained by Mrs. Russell at Ningpo, and paid for by friends in England; and Mrs. Li, paid for by Mr. Hoare. She worked for some time in past years under the late Mrs. Gough, and was also with Mrs. Hoare for some time before her death. The work of these women is not without encouragement, and several persons interested by their house-to-house visitations now attend my Sunday afternoon service in my own hall. The Bible-reading for Christian women in the city has also been carried on by Mrs. Moule during the year.

Reading and inquiry-room.

In my last Annual Letter I briefly described the reading and inquiry-room, which I had just opened. The room has been kept open ever since, and has, on the whole, given us much encouragement. The five baptisms mentioned above are all of them, more or less, the fruit of this room; and the presence and work of Li 'Eo-Kwe, who joined me a year ago, after passing through the Theological Class at Ningpo, have been a real blessing in the Mission. The whole cost of this special work is at present defrayed by funds placed at our disposal by friends in England; but I am hoping that the Cathedral congregation will, during 1886, provide the necessary funds, and take an increased interest in the work. Some members of the congregation have already helped me in fittings for the room; but if they will adopt it as their own special Christian agency for the benefit of the Chinese in this great settlement, and visit it, introducing intelligent Chinese, the benefit will, I trust, be a large one.

Bible-class.

I have carried on my Bible-class in Mr. Lanning's school during the greater part of the year. I have endeavoured still to do something to show my sympathy and brotherly friendship towards the chaplain of the Cathedral, the Rev. F. R. Smith—preaching for him once a month in the Cathedral, and holding a Monday afternoon Bible-reading for ladies in my home.

Anglo-Chinese school.

Mr. G. Lanning, who continues at the head of the Anglo-Chinese School, sends a brief résumé of his ten years' work. He went out in 1875, and has ever since been diligently occupied in the education of large numbers of Chinese boys. Hundreds of them have heard the Gospel from his lips. The seed has been sown assiduously. As in India, the fruits of work like this are not immediate; but as in India, they are sure, if only we are "patient until the coming of the Lord"—the degree of patience enjoined by St. James.

PROVINCE OF CHEH-KIANG.

NINGPO.

THE missionaries in this great city are the Rev. J. Bates, who is Chairman of the Native Church Council, and generally superintends both the pastoral and the evangelistic agencies; the Revs. J. C. Hoare, W. L. Groves, and J. H. Morgan, who are attached to the College, but combine evangelistic with educational work; and Mrs. Russell, whose loving labours have been so much blessed among the women and children. Miss Laurence has returned from a visit to Australia, but is at present residing at Hang-chow. The four Native pastors continue their former charges: the Rev. Dzing Ts-sing and Wong Yiu-Kwong, in Ningpo city; the Rev. Ô Kwong-Yiao, at Z-Ky'i; and the Rev. Sing Eng-teh, at Kwun-hæ-we, in the Sanpoh district. Of these pastorates no report is to hand; nor yet of Mrs. Russell's work. Mr. Bates writes chiefly on that part of his work which lies among the heathen, both in Ningpo and in the surrounding country. In the city, the Jing-eng-dông, or Grace Church, is used for daily evangelistic preaching, mainly under his superintendence. One fruit of this agency is an interesting case:—

Ningpo pastorates.

Daily evangelistic preaching.

Baptism of a Mandarin.

A retired military mandarin was passing by the door one day, and attracted by the crowd entered in to see what was going on. He was much struck by what he heard. He felt it was just what he wanted. For since he had left the army he had given himself up to a religious life, according to Buddhist notions. He became a vegetarian and a frequent worshipper at the temples. He used even to visit the sacred island of Pootoo for this purpose. But now he felt that there was something better in the religion of Jesus. From this day he was scarcely ever absent from the preaching. With myself and the catechists he had frequent conversations, and not doubting his sincerity, we encouraged him to apply to the Native pastor for baptism. He did so and was accepted and baptized before last summer. He still comes now and then to the daily preaching, and I have reason to believe that he is a sincere Christian.

Mr. Hoare's Annual Letter gives a most graphic account of the remarkable open-air services conducted by himself and his students, first, as mentioned last year, at Chu-ki, and afterwards in Ningpo itself. The second assault upon the heathenism of Chu-ki was in May (1885):—

Mr. Hoare's student evangelists.

In many ways our experiences were much the same as those of the preceding visit, though with some marked differences. We had no set opposition, the scholars were absent, so that we had to contend only with occasional opponents, and the cold indifference of the human heart. We followed the same methods, preaching with our flag-texts daily in the centre of the city. Our audiences were not very large as a rule, not, I fancy, because the message was now no novelty, but because silk-worms and rice-fields were engrossing the people's minds. The autumn, after the harvesting is done, is undoubtedly the best time for such expeditions. At the same time we had very interesting times, and as before, we saw much immediate result in the way of impression and apparent conviction. As soon as we returned to Cu-kyi, many of our old inquirers came to us, and some, Chow for instance, kept up a connection with us throughout our stay, but the fear of man prevented them from making a public avowal of faith. Teh-kwông being now free from the morning lectures (which we always keep up with regularity), used to spend his time in visiting old acquaintances, and preaching in the neighbouring villages. He found that many who had heard before, still expressed their conviction of the truth of the Gospel, but in almost every instance they were afraid, or too busy, to come forward and confess Christ.

In this way we have met with much apparent disappointment in Cü-kyi. The family ties there seem to be so strong, the opposition in certain quarters so bitter, that it is very hard for a man to break loose from his old chains. Consequently, when we came away, we only left four candidates for baptism, and of these I hear that only two are holding on faithfully.

We did not, however, limit our work to Cü-kyi this time. Throughout our stay, Teh-kwông, with one of the Great Valley Christians, was frequently making short expeditions into the surrounding country, and preaching in many places to large and attentive audiences. Besides these expeditions, my five students and I made one long tour of a fortnight, partly to explore and test dialects with a view to future work, and chiefly of course to preach the Word. It was our first experience, as a party, of overland travel, for at Ningpo we always travel and sleep in boats. As usual the young men came out bravely, and bore the fatigue of long walks, and the discomforts of the filthy Chinese inns gladly, for the opportunities which they gained of preaching. On our tour we visited the cities marked in the C.M.S. maps as Pu-kiang, I-wu, Kinwha, Lan-ki, and Fu-yang, besides numberless places of less importance. We had many grand times, preaching the Gospel to those who had never heard the name of the Lord Jesus. At Pu-kiang we sold out nearly every book we had, at least a thousand copies of Gospels and tracts. At Pu-kiang, too, we had one piece of true encouragement; the only heathen coolie we had with us, began to take part in the work of tract selling, and in the afternoon came to me to ask for baptism himself.

Mr. Groves's illness compelled them to return to Ningpo in June. But there they began work on the same lines. Mr. Hoare goes on:—

Open air Services at Ningpo.

It was put into my heart to try some meetings somewhat after the home pattern, with a view to arousing the inert masses of Ningpo. We, therefore, erected a platform in Grace Church, and wrote out half a dozen hymns in large characters on sheets. These were hung up behind the platform, and the theological students and myself, with other volunteer helpers, held meetings every night. The hymns, which were arranged for solo and chorus, were sung with great spirit by the students, and we all preached, with prayer interspersed. Great crowds were attracted, constantly the whole church was quite filled.

At first we had great difficulty in keeping order, but after a little time, we had the meetings well in hand, and sometimes it was very impressive to notice the dead silence with which the people listened. Again I cannot speak too highly of these dear students. They preached the Word of God with power. Teh-kwông especially, with his formerly weak voice ringing out like a bell, holding up Christ crucified before their eyes, held the people night after night as though bound with a spell. We had many helpers, for the Native Christians were stirred up to come and swell the choruses, and sometimes to speak and help to keep order.

We kept up these meetings for some two months, and then the recommencement of term in the College, and Mr. Groves's continued absence owing to ill-health, made it impossible for me to continue them any longer. Since that time, I have been tied close to the College, with constant daily lectures for the theological students and the boys.

Ningpo College.

But Mr. Hoare is anxious that he should not be supposed to disparage the steady work of the College itself. It is this, he points out, that has resulted, in ten years, through the blessing of God, in more than thirty trained evangelists and schoolmasters now doing the Master's work at the different stations. No one work in the mission-field is so fruitful in the long-run as the training of Native preachers and teachers.

SHAOU-HING.

Unwearied labour unrecompensed.

Another year of unwearied labour, yet labour unrecompensed so far by "apparent results," is reported by the Revs. J. D. Valentine and A. R. Fuller. Mr. Valentine writes,— Souls tightly bound.

Another year's residence in this city has served to deepen the impression in my mind that the Enemy of God and man has the souls of this people very tightly bound. They are ignorant, grossly ignorant, of the veriest elements of knowledge. Readers, intelligent readers, are the exception, not the rule, in this so-called land of the learned. And when you have a people to deal with who can neither read nor wish to read, and who, for the most part, dislike to think or inquire about the things of God, you have little chance of making any headway.

In the city we have had the usual Sunday services, morning and afternoon, in the little church, preaching myself in the morning nearly all the year round, and Tsong Sieh-en, my assistant, preaching in the afternoon; Tsong also reading the Lessons, and I the Prayers. Our communicants are ten in number, as a rule—five married couples.

Fruits of School work.

Between the services, Mrs. Valentine has a class for women, with whom she has likewise a meeting every Wednesday; and I and Tsong have a class of boys from our day-school, most of whom attend church twice a day. Two "old boys" have become members of a Christian Church in this city, and the mother of one of them has also been baptized in connection with the same Church, and states that she learned a good deal of Christianity from her son, who attended our school. Thus "one soweth and another reapeth." "Even so, Father, for so it seemeth good in Thy sight."

The High Street Preaching-Room has generally been open every afternoon, saving Saturday and Sunday, and during the itinerating seasons; but during the summer months, and the absence of Mr. Fuller, whereby his catechist was set free to work with me, the room was often open for preaching, both morning, afternoon, and evening.

My wife and I, with Tsong Sieh-en, spent several weeks, both before the hot season and since, in visiting the towns and villages in the beautiful Shaou-hing plain, some sixty English miles from river to river, one on the east and the other on the west, and some twenty miles in width. Mr. Fuller and his assistants have followed up the work, visiting the eastern portion of the district, whilst we visited the western, and then reversing the order in the autumn. In this way we trust many have heard, and hereafter will believe, if they do not now, "the old, old story of Jesus and His love."

HANG-CHOW.

Bishop Moule himself has resided in this great city, the capital of Cheh-Kiang; and the work there has been briefly noticed in his letter printed above. The Revs. J. H. Horsburgh and G. W. Coultas are also stationed there, and Dr. Duncan Main. Mr. Horsburgh describes the missionary efforts made in connection with the Chinese Triennial Provincial Examination:—

Tract distribution among Chinese scholars.

This year the great triennial examination at Hang-chow for the second degree took place. Scholars flocked hither from all parts of the province—about ten or twelve thousand; and including Mandarins, attendants, shopkeepers, and others, the total number of visitors must have been twenty-five or thirty thousand. Encouraged by their quiet behaviour, and readiness to receive our tracts as we met them in the streets, on the last day of the examination, early in the morning, Dr. Main with a few helpers posted themselves outside the examination hall, and gave a suitable Christian book to each scholar as he came out, until our limited supply was exhausted. In almost every case the gift was received, and generally with much civility.

Oh, how dirty and jaded the poor fellows looked, some of them quite old men, and others quite young, after two nights and a day's confinement, thrice repeated within ten days, in a tiny rude cell without even room to lie down. All the sleep they had was what could be got in a sitting posture with their arms resting on a rough board which reached across the cell—their table! All this wretchedness (I don't think they mind it as much as we should) willingly endured, when they know that only one hundred out of the whole twelve thousand can obtain the much-coveted prize. The remaining 11,900 get nothing at all. As we saw them take the books, the preciousness of which they so little dreamed of, how we longed that they might prove to be God's silent messengers to bring them to Himself, whom to know is eternal life. God bless them, scattered as they now are in their different towns and villages.

Dr. Main's printed report of the new Hang-chow Mission Hospital is one of the most interesting documents that has reached the Society from the mission-field this year.

The new Hospital mentioned last year was opened on May 14 (1885). A Chinese newspaper contained the following account of it, which, says Dr. Main, "will stand 25 per cent. discount:"—

A Chinese newspaper on the Hang-Chow Hospital.

In the east of Hangchow from the "All-peace-bridge" to the "Crooked large square chief." These places, from the Rebellion have been waste; straight and crooked there must be more than some hundred acres. Though there are a few families living there, still the place is very desolate and cannot be fully inhabited.

Last year a missionary bought several acres of this land at a price, and there built a large hospital, containing over a hundred rooms (?) including an operating-room, a dispensary and wards, a place for opium-smokers; besides these, there is a lecture-room, a preaching-room, all perfect. The expenses of masons and carpenters came to more than $10,000. Last month the hospital was finished, a high two-storied building with thick walls, like a flock of birds flying. The second day of this month the hospital was opened. The doctor's name is Duncan Main; he took an interpreter and went to the Yamens to pay visits, and at the opening of the hospital all the Mandarins came to congratulate him (?).

Chinese and foreigners all came together, there was not a person in Hangchow that did not praise the work, saying it was better than any of the hospitals in Hangchow.

Dr. Main's Hospital work.

The report of the hospital work is most interesting from a medical point of view. Dr. Main had in the year 7931 separate out-patients, who made 13,040 visits; and 374 in-patients. Besides these, 79 cases of suicide by opium-poisoning were brought to him, in 60 of which life was saved. Patients visited at their homes numbered 180; and patients seen in the country, 1460; making a total of 10,024 separate cases. He gives a detailed account of the serious riot of July 29, referred to in Bishop Moule's letter above. Of the missionary work of the Hospital Dr. Main says,—

Weapons of Gospel and Steel.

We endeavour to meet the needs of the soul as well as those of the body; with weapons of Gospel and steel we fight against sin and sickness, and daily try to impress upon our patients that the salvation of the soul is of more importance than that of the body. The out-patients have the glad tidings preached to them before they enter the consulting-room, and with in-patients a short service is held morning and evening, consisting in singing, a short address, and prayer. During the year we have had much encouragement, and higher satisfaction than that derived from relieving human suffering. A few patients professed faith in Jesus Christ, and some of them, we trust, are really hopefully converted, not only "from idols" but "to serve the living and true God." Our work has taken root, and its influence is being felt not only in the city, but all over the province. The practical aspect of it commends itself to the Chinese; with their sclerotic hearts they do not apprehend the value of Eternal Life, but the blessing of bodily healing they do not fail to appreciate, and thus opportunities are afforded us of preaching the Gospel to them. Practical sympathy with human suffering undoubtedly removes prejudice, breaks down barriers of superstition and bigotry, and proves the key to unlock doors long bolted and nailed up against the truth, and gives the medical missionary an entrance into hearts and homes otherwise closed to human agency.

JAPAN MISSION.

(Commenced 1869.)

Nagasaki, 1869; Osaka, 1874; Tokio, 1874; Hakodate, 1874.

The death of Bishop Poole.

The Committee deeply feel the loss to the Society, and to the cause of Christianity in Japan, by the lamented death of their beloved brother Bishop Poole, on July 14th, 1885, while the last Annual Report was passing through the press. His episcopal career was brief; but he lived not in vain, for he won the affection and confidence not only of his fellow-Churchmen in Japan, but of the missionaries of the various American Societies, and his influence seemed likely to do much towards uniting together the servants of the Lord.

The new Bishop for Japan.

The Committee pray that a rich blessing may rest upon his successor, Bishop Edward Bickersteth, the son and grandson of two of the most missionary-hearted men of this century, both intimately associated with the Church Missionary Society,—and himself, like Bishop Poole, a missionary of Indian experience, especially among educated Hindus and Mohammedans.

Summary of C.M.S. work.

The work of the C.M.S. in Japan is on a small scale compared with that of the American Societies; but small as it is, it continues highly encouraging at all the four centres, Nagasaki, Osaka, Tokio, and Hakodate. There were 98 adult baptisms in the year, and the number of baptized Christians has risen to 519, with 46 catechumens. Both Nagasaki and Osaka are centres of widely scattered work. Connected with each there are distant towns occupied by Japanese evangelists. And in the island of Yezo the work among the Aino aborigines is a speciality of the C.M.S. Mission.

The staff.

The Revs. H. Maundrell and J. Williams have returned to Japan; and the Rev. T. Dunn, late of the North Pacific Mission and formerly of Ceylon (from both which fields Mrs. Dunn's ill-health compelled him to retire), is appointed to go out this year. This will make eleven missionaries in the field. The Rev. C. F. Warren is still unable, to his own and the Committee's great regret, to leave England, owing to Mrs. Warren's continued illness.

Floods in Japan.

The political development in Japan continues extremely interesting; but the only public event of the year 1885 which is reported as having affected the Mission was the great flood in July, the most disastrous on record. The Japanese showed extraordinary energy and liberality on this occasion, for they subscribed no less than five millions sterling for the sufferers. The remarkable sympathy which the disaster also called forth from foreigners of all nations has tended much to break down Japanese prejudices against them, and has opened up many channels for Christian work in the country districts. "It is not improbable," writes the Rev. G. H. Pole, "that many will bless God for this calamity."

Japanese liberality.

NAGASAKI.

The Revs. A. B. Hutchinson and J. B. Brandram have continued at this southern station. The Rev. H. Maundrell, as already mentioned, has now returned there. Mrs. Goodall, who has long been working most usefully as an honorary missionary side by side with the C.M.S. brethren, is now on the list of the Church of England Zenana Society.

"Abounding mercies and blessings."

It is pleasant to read an Annual Letter beginning with such words as those that open Mr. Hutchinson's,—"The past year has been one of abounding mercies and blessings." He goes on,— > Sparing mercy—for whilst the whole of Kiu-shiu, and especially Nagasaki, has been visited by cholera and small-pox,—not a single Christian has been carried off by either of these terrible diseases. Blessing, in the results vouchsafed, both in the increase of the number of converts and in the deepening of spiritual life of the older Christians.

Baptisms.

> No less than fifty-four have been added to the Church during the year by baptism. Of these, thirty-nine are adults, the remainder children of various ages. Besides these, fourteen catechumens are either quite ready or diligently preparing to make public profession of their faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, and to be received into the ark of His Church.

When I compare former experience in China with the present here I am amazed to find that in the two years during which I have been left practically alone in Kiu-shiu, I have been able, with every satisfaction as to the individual cases, to baptize more people than during seven years of similar solitary work there. In part, this indicates a greater readiness to receive the Gospel amongst the Japanese than amongst the southern Chinese; but this alone will not account for the great difference. I am rather inclined to attribute it to the fact of our having three energetic workers well established in central out-stations, from which they have diligently itinerated, evangelizing the surrounding districts. Could we but increase the number of such out-stations in the immediate future, I am confident that we should, by God's blessing, reap yet larger results. A spirit of inquiry is spreading on every side; requests are frequent for preachers and for preaching; the number of listeners in the large towns is trebled; disturbance and violence have given way to quiet and orderly attention. The present is emphatically the time for increased evangelistic effort; it only remains for our friends to enable us to take advantage in Kiu-shiu of this day of opportunity.

Readiness of Japanese to receive the Gospel.

A spirit of inquiry.

The converts now number 217. "Were these," remarks Mr. Hutchinson, "altogether in one town, it would be a Church of some strength." But they consist of little groups scattered along a line 700 miles long. If this hinders united action, it is, on the other hand, favourable to the diffusion of Christian knowledge. At the three chief out-stations, Kagoshima, Kumamoto, and Saga, three zealous evangelists are respectively at work, Koba San, Ko San, and Watanabe San. All three report attentive and interested audiences at their preaching services; and all three have presented candidates for baptism during the year. From Saga is worked the large district of Chikusen, an equilateral triangle with sides fifty miles long. Crowds come together in this district to hear the Gospel, and Watanabe San asks for a fellow-labourer, as when, after long preaching, he stops for a rest, the people ask for "more about Jesus."

The Training Institution at Nagasaki, and Mrs. Goodall's Girls' School, have gone on in their quiet and useful course.

Education.

OSAKA.

The important and expanding work connected with Osaka, including two congregations in the city, the new Theological College, and some remote out-stations, with the Secretaryship of the whole Japan Mission, has been divided between the Rev. H. Evington and the Rev. G. H. Pole; the Rev.

G. Chapman giving what help he could in the intervals of his study of the language. Miss Jane Caspari works among the women and girls, as does also a lady of the Female Education Society. Mr. Evington reports as follows on the work in Osaka itself:—

Ladies' work.

At Holy Trinity Church the services have been carried on as usual. Sometimes the congregation has exceeded ninety. The number of baptisms during the year has amounted, however, only to thirteen, including two children. There are on the books six catechumens, to whom belong three children. A women's class has been held on Wednesday afternoons, with an average attendance of fifteen. Miss Caspari has charge of this. A class for men, for Bible reading, has been held on Wednesday evenings, with an average attendance of thirteen. St. Luke has been the subject of study, and the class has been carried on by Mr. Terasawa. The candidates for baptism have been prepared in separate classes, Mr. Terasawa taking the men and I the women. In the absence of our own Bishop, and in accordance with Bishop Poole's instructions, the candidates for confirmation were presented to Bishop Williams, who confirmed, in August and September, fifteen men and thirteen women. These include, however, five or six from other stations. The number of communicants is now sixty-one.

Classes for men and women.

Confirmations.

The direct evangelistic work connected with this church is carried on in the preaching-room in Kiyo-machi-bori, where services are held on Friday and Sunday evenings. We are largely dependent upon the College students for help in this branch.

Church of the Saviour.—The year has been marked by quiet and steady growth, and gives us great cause for encouragement. A prayer-meeting, with Scripture exposition, has been held on Thursday evenings. A women's class has been held on Wednesday afternoons, in which Mrs. Evington has taken what part she could. The number of baptisms is thirteen adults and seven children. In one case a whole family, including father, mother, and three children, were baptized together. Among the baptized I am glad to be able to mention the College teacher, who is a man of some intellectual power.

Baptism of a whole family.

I presented fourteen candidates (ten men and four women) to Bishop Williams for confirmation in August last.

Miss Caspari has carried on Sunday-school work in this church, and also in the preaching-place in Kiyo-machi-bori, for heathen children, in addition to the regular Sunday afternoon school at the Trinity Church.

Sunday-school.

Mr. Pole reports on the College, which gives every promise of being a most successful institution. His lectures have been written down, in a shape which will make them available for other important uses:—

College Lectures.

I have been enabled to prepare running commentaries, in good intelligible literary style, on the Books of Genesis, Jeremiah, and Ecclesiastes; the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, and Luke; the Acts of the Apostles; the Epistles of Paul to the Galatians, Ephesians, Colossians, and Philemon; and also text-books on outlines of New Testament History, First Century Church History, First Course of Dogmatic Theology, and Prayer-book History. I have no intention at present of having these published, but they have been prepared with this aim in view, and eventually, no doubt, they will be so, with, I hope, similar text-books and commentaries on all the subjects taught in the College. These have not been either translations or compilations, but, in every instance, bonâ fide work of my own from careful study of works of the best and most trustworthy commentators or specialists on the respective subjects, and may be taken as the result of many years of considerably wide reading. I purpose, God willing, to continue this system of written lectures, dictated and explained fully verbally to the students, so long as I am connected with the Institution.

The out-stations, in the island of Shikoku, and at the western end of the main island, are briefly reported on by Mr. Evington. Fukuyama is the most flourishing. Ten adults were baptized by Mr. Chapman in September.

Mr. Evington concludes with some personal notices :—

Progress in Churches and individuals.

We can scarcely expect that in a Mission which has grown as ours has done, there should be nothing whatever to mourn over, and such there has been in individual cases. Still, thank God, we may praise Him for progress, both in the churches and in individuals. I do trust we are getting round us more and more energy that will prove efficient for good. Some of the old workers, whose names you have heard before, are still active and faithful. Mrs. Kubota does not slacken her efforts. I have been exceedingly pleased with Nakanishi, who seems to feel that his time is short, and he must work while it is to-day; and the Lord is blessing his efforts with success. Terasawa, too, shows himself an efficient worker. One or two young men connected with the Church of the Saviour are doing good work ; amongst these an old-style doctor, Hashindo, is the most energetic. We pray for still more of the Holy Spirit's blessing upon each and all of us, that we may all do the Master's will more perfectly, that we manifest more self-denial, more zeal, more love.

Native helpers.

TOKIO.

The Rev. J. Williams has now returned to the capital of Japan; but the report is from the Rev. P. K. Fyson, who is at present still engaged upon the important work of Bible translation under the British and Foreign Bible Society. His account of the C.M.S. congregation at Tokio is particularly encouraging :—

A self-supporting congregation.

The Christians have maintained their position of a self-supporting congregation, which, as you are aware, they adopted about the middle of 1884. They have paid the salary of their pastor and all church expenses, and have received no money whatever from the Society's funds. It is hardly necessary to say that the interest which they take in all that concerns the welfare of the congregation, now that they feel that they have something which belongs to themselves, and for which they are directly responsible, is double and treble of what it used to be.

The continued interest and zeal of the congregation may be ascribed mainly to their prayerfulness. To give one or two instances of their earnestness in this particular: last September I found that they were meeting every evening in the church for united prayer, and when I inquired the reason I was told that they felt afraid that they were growing cold and lifeless, and so had arranged for a week of prayer to stir themselves up. I also learned that one member came early every morning to spend an hour by himself in prayer, and that another did the same in the evening, and later on in the year I found that several met in the church every morning for prayer at half-past five. How many congregations in England adopt the same means for reviving themselves?

Makioka is acting as pastor. He has worked well throughout the year. He reads the service on Sunday—I assisting—and preaches once at any rate, and has the general superintendence of the congregation. He attended the general Conference of Japanese ministers and delegates at Kyoto last May, one of the congregation defraying the travelling expenses. I hope he may be ordained before long.

Dr. Hada continues to be the most zealous of all, and the most liberal contributor to all Christian objects. He is the only one who can be termed well-to-do, but I do not hesitate to say that his personal zeal and earnestness are of more value for the welfare of the congregation than his pecuniary support. I remember on one occasion when he was exhorting every one to do his or her best for the welfare of the congregation, he said, "If I find I have not time to do my duty to the congregation, I will make time; make time by curtailing my other business." Professional and business men in England, hear and consider!

A Japanese doctor's resolve.

Tsuda has charge of the Bible Society's Depôt. He has a poor voice, and is therefore of little use as an evangelist, but he has quite a talent for exposition, and has done his part well by giving an exposition every Sunday afternoon—this is in addition to the sermon. He has also been very helpful in conducting women's meetings.

Fueki Kakutaro is the evangelist employed by the congregation. He used to be the most successful of the colporteurs of the Bible Society, but has given up that work. He has a fluent tongue, and is specially useful for working amongst the poorer classes.

Native contribution to religious work.

This little congregation also subscribes liberally to the Episcopal Home Mission, to the support of the Old Testament Translation Committee, and to the erection of a Christian hospital, besides paying about half the salary of an evangelist whom they set to work in the city. Last year they raised altogether about 375 yen: this includes a handsome donation from one member to the Christian hospital just mentioned. A yen was worth about 3*s.* 6*d.* last year.

Baptisms.

During the year twenty-four were baptized, viz. nineteen adults and five children. The number in connection with this congregation is now fifty-four, a few of whom are in the country. The new converts were brought in, I think I may say entirely, by individual members of the congregation.

HAKODATE.

In the northern island of Yezo, the Rev. W. Andrews and Mr. J. Batchelor have continued their labours, the former at Hakodate, and the latter chiefly among the Aino aborigines.

A schism healed.

The Committee rejoice to say that the schism of three years ago has been finally healed, the seceding Christians having come back; and their teacher, a true and zealous servant of the Lord, now works for the C.M.S. Mission. Mr. Andrews now gives the following summary of the history and position of the little community :—

Since the foundation of the Mission in 1874, up to the present time, there have been 70 baptized. Of this number 3 have renounced Christianity, 4 have died, 5 have been lost sight of, 4 have gone to the main island and Kiu-shiu, 8 have joined the Sapporo Independent Church, and 46 are living in this island of Yezo. Eleven years of the Hakodate Mission.

There thus remain to us at the present time 46 members, who are scattered about in this island as follows:—At Nemoro there are 4 males; at Tate, 2 males, 1 female, 3 children; at Sapporo, 1 male; at Ono, 3 males, 2 females; at Nanaye, 2 males, 1 female, 3 children; at Okawa, 1 male, 1 female, 2 children; at Kamida, 2 females, 3 children; at Hakodate, 7 males, 2 females, 3 children—living temporarily at Osaka for education, 2 males, 1 female.

Nemoro is a small town of rising importance, about 450 miles by land from Hakodate, and is not accessible even by sea during the winter months. Tate is a small hamlet in the mountains, about 100 miles from Hakodate. Sapporo is about 170 miles away, but easily reached by steamer. Ono, a small village 14 miles distant. Nanaye, a small village 10 miles distant. Okawa, a small village 8 miles distant. Kamida, a small village 2 miles distant.

Mr. Batchelor has suffered a good deal from ill-health; but the work he has done is of an interesting character, and the Committee thank God for the first-fruits from the Aino people :—

During the greater part of four months I was a prisoner, almost unable to move, in a Japanese hotel, at a village called (in Ainu) Poropet Kotan. Whilst here we were obliged to carry on the greater part of our work in our hotel. This was a great drawback, for the Ainu can hardly be induced to enter a Japanese house, and the Japanese do not like the Ainu to sit upon their mats. We were seldom able to collect more than six Ainu together in the hotel at any one time, but when well enough to preach in an Ainu hut we were generally much crowded, the congregation never numbering less than thirty. All congregations, whether Japanese or Ainu, were always largely attended when it was known that my address was to be illustrated by the magic-lantern. Aino Services. Magic-lantern lectures.

At Poropet Kotan we soon became acquainted with a young Ainu named Kannari Taro, son of the village chief. He is a good Japanese scholar, and holds a schoolmaster's certificate. I have engaged him as my teacher of the Ainu language in place of poor old Penri, who has, I am sorry to say, entirely given himself up to strong drink, and is utterly unreliable. Kannari Taro, even before I engaged him as my teacher, early showed a great interest in Christianity. We are thankfully rejoicing that one Ainu at least has at last been brought to the knowledge of his Saviour, and is about to take the outward sign of baptism. [He was baptized on Christmas Day.]

Besides this, we have great pleasure in telling you that our two Ainu servants (man and wife) have professed faith in Christ as their personal Saviour. These, however, will not receive baptism yet, as they have still much to learn. There are also two inquirers at Poropet Kotan who we hope will eventually profess Christ. One of these is Aino converts.

Kannari Tari's father, the other his uncle. Our two servants are also Taro's relations, being his uncle and aunt. These are all teetotallers and non-smokers.

Poropet Kotan is a particularly good centre for our work, for it is nearly midway between the Saru and Usu districts. From it, in good health, I could easily keep up close communication between half the Ainu race. In this village there are about 150 Ainu all told, but, sad to say, nearly all the men are inveterate drunkards, and the women too will drink whenever they have an opportunity. After having made close inquiries in many Ainu villages respecting this vice, I find that the results are, at least, ninety per cent. drunkards!

Aino drunkenness.

The Christians at Sapporo;

It will be remembered that Mr. Dening some years ago described an interesting band of Japanese Christians at Sapporo, in the interior of Yezo, the fruit originally of the influence and teaching of an American gentleman at the head of the Government Agricultural College there. For a time they seemed disposed to ally themselves to the C.M.S. Mission, but ultimately they preferred to remain a distinct body, unconnected with any Church. A notice of them in Mr. Batchelor's letter is worth inserting here, as an illustration of the independence so characteristic of Japanese Christianity:—

Opening of their new church.

Early in July we received an intimation from the Christians at Sapporo to go and take part in the opening of the first Native church. This building cost $1300, all of which, with the exception of $140, was subscribed by the Japanese themselves, and is entirely supported by them.

We arrived in Sapporo on the 15th July, and though the church was not formally opened till the 8th of August, I had the honour and pleasure of preaching the first sermon in it to the Christians.

On Saturday, 8th August, the church was formally opened at 2 p.m., when Mr. Oshima gave us a good address from 1 Cor. iii. 11. In the evening there was a mutual Christian gathering, during which tea and cakes were distributed, and impromptu speeches were made. At 8 p.m. I gave an address, illustrated by magic-lantern.

After service, on the following day, fourteen persons were baptized by the Rev. J. McCanley, of the Presbyterian Church, Tokyo, who also administered the Lord's Supper.

I was invited to take these services, but, being unordained, had to decline. The Church now numbers seventy-eight members. The following day (Monday) was devoted to giving lectures in the church which lasted from 2 to 5 and from 7 to 10 p.m.

First printing in the Aino language.

Mr. Batchelor has sent the first specimens of printing ever produced in the Aino language, viz. the Apostles' Creed, the Lord's Prayer, and the hymn, "Jesus loves me." They were printed at a little press paid for by the children of Jesus Lane Sunday School, Cambridge. The Committee trust that through the Divine blessing there may quickly be a large ingathering from this long-neglected aboriginal people.

NEW ZEALAND MISSION.

European Missionaries first arrived in New South Wales, 1810; proceeded to New Zealand, 1814; Mission confined to the Northern Island.

DIVISION OF THE MISSION.

I. Diocese of Auckland. II. Diocese of Waiapu. III. Diocese of Wellington.

The loyal and the disaffected Maoris.

In each of the three Dioceses of the Northern Island (in which is nearly the whole Maori population) the Society's work is carried on, under the auspices of the Mission Board formed three or four years ago. In each of them there are large communities of Christian Natives with their own pastors, and in each also a disaffected section. In the Diocese of Auckland, there are 5600 baptized Maori Christians in the districts north of the capital, of whom the reports are decidedly encouraging; while in the wild and long unsettled districts in the south of the Diocese, reaching to the centre of the Island, the adherents of King Tawhiao and of Te Whiti still hold aloof, though the former are friendly. In the Diocese of Waiapu, all along the east coast, there are Maori congregations, comprising 5800 souls; while in the interior districts, reaching northwards to the Bay of Plenty, there are many Hauhaus still, and followers of Te Kooti. In the Diocese of Wellington there are no extensive Christian districts as in Auckland and Waiapu; but much good work is done in the south and on the Lower Wanganui; while Te Whiti is still followed by many on the upper parts of that river.

One-sided view of Maori Christianity.

It is easy, therefore, for a very partial and one-sided view of Maori Christianity to be formed in good faith, according to the particular district visited. Most English visitors see nothing of real Maori life. They only come across the waifs and strays that hang about the chief towns, and such little bands as are met with in the Lake tourist district south of the Bay of Plenty, who are mostly Hauhaus; while of the numerous flourishing congregations in the far north and far east they hear nothing at all. This seems to have been the case with Mr. Froude, whose new and widely-circulated book, Oceana, gives a sad account of the few Maori wanderers he chanced to see around the Lakes. Yet that even there some good work is going on is illustrated by the frontispiece to his book itself, which, representing the town of Ohinemutu, on Lake Rotorua, shows prominently a new church dedicated by Bishop Stuart only last year, which has a Maori clergyman and Maori churchwardens.*

Mr. Froude's Oceana.

The New Zealand statistics are still uncertain; but Archdeacon Williams, the Secretary of the Mission Board, hopes next year to send more complete and accurate returns.

The missionary staff is as last year.

THE Maori work in this Diocese is almost all under the superintendence of Archdeacon E. B. Clarke. The other C.M.S. missionaries are the Rev. R. Burrows, who resides at Auckland, and the Rev. J. Matthews, now on the retired list, but still dwelling at his old station, Kaitaia. The Rev. F. T. Baker, at Waitara on the west coast, is partly employed on Maori work by the Mission Board. There are eleven Maori clergymen and 165 Maori honorary lay readers.

Archdeacon Clarke's Annual Letter last year did not arrive till after the Report was published. It was full and interesting, and was printed in the C.M. Intelligencer of September. This year the Archdeacon sends a shorter letter; but an encouraging one. His opening words are,—"I am thankful to be able to give a brighter report of the Native Church in this Diocese than perhaps I have ever yet done." He goes on,—

* Mr. Froude's frontispiece is evidently engraved from the same photograph whence was derived an exactly similar picture in the C.M. Gleaner of March last.

A more healthy Christianity.

It is not easy to put one's finger on any one special point indicative of improvement, but on reviewing the state of the people I am conscious of a higher tone, a more healthy Christianity than before. Amongst those who make any profession of religion, intemperance has practically ceased, and, in consequence, the standard of morality is in advance of what it used to be. Quite lately I heard of public-house-keepers complaining that business was so dull that it did not pay to keep their places open. A far greater proportion of young people attend the services and avail themselves of the means of instruction than in past years. The increasing demand for Bibles, prayer and hymn books, is surely an indication of a revival of spiritual life. I confess one would like to see the precept, "Freely ye have received, freely give," more largely observed; but I think that even in that particular there is an improvement. It would be tedious to you to have to read every detail of what we may now call parochial life amongst the Maoris; suffice it to repeat that in nothing are they behind other Churches. These remarks, of course, refer to the settled Christian congregations of the districts north of Auckland, where their parochial organization is complete.

The Hauhaus.

The work of reclaiming the disaffected people of Waikato affords considerable encouragement. There is a very perceptible change. The Hauhaus are getting tired of their meaningless services, and are showing a scarcely concealed desire to return to the old paths. In May and June the Revs. W. Turipona, of Hauraki, and R. W. Tangata, of Ororu, made an evangelistic tour, and met with much encouragement; whilst I have had no reason to despond in my visit to the King Country proper. I have been eight times amongst the Hauhaus, each trip varying from a week to a fortnight. The people now quite understand that our Mission is harmless; that we are seeking not theirs but them; so that it is quite usual to be greeted as the messengers of peace and goodwill. In last month every settlement of importance was visited by either my Maori brethren or myself, and on comparing notes on our return to our starting-point, we were but of one opinion, viz. that Hauhauism now exists in name only. When we came to a Hauhau village the people suspended their own services and allowed us to have our own way. In confirmation of this change of mind I may give an instance. Rev. R. W. Tangata was at Cambridge when the Native Lands Court was sitting, and, as usual, there was a large gathering of Maoris. Archdeacon Willis kindly offered the use of his church to the Native clergyman on the Sunday, and the services, both morning and evening, were attended by large and orderly congregations, more than half of whom were Hauhaus. A little more than a year ago I tried to do the same thing, but signally failed.

Decay of Hauhauism.

It is not only amongst the Waikato Hauhaus that this change is going on. In Kaipara, and also in Whangarei, there are groups of Tawhiao's followers. A few weeks ago I was visiting the Christian Natives in Kaipara, when a deputation of Hauhaus asked me to go to their settlement, as they had decided to renounce their allegiance to the king's government and religion too. There are certain indications that the false religion is dying out, and it is for us to supply the true.

Native Church Board.

The Native Church Board for the Archdeaconry of Waimate (i.e. the northern districts) had a successful meeting in March of this year. A Maori clergyman from the Diocese of Waiapu was present as a visitor, and the Board passed a resolution requesting that he might be transferred to Auckland. On the same day, a new church built by the Natives was opened, when this same clergyman, the Rev. Mohi Turei, preached. The congregation afterwards entertained the 500 neighbouring white settlers at a dinner. The church is called St. George's, after Bishop Selwyn.

A new Church.

The Rev. R. Burrows, who was for many years Secretary of the whole Mission, has been relieved of much business since the Mission Board was established with Archdeacon Williams as Secretary to it. But he is still Secretary to the Land Board, which administers the Society's landed property, and hands over the revenues to the Mission Board for its work. This office involves travelling, and thus affords many opportunities for missionary work of various kinds. He sends the following very interesting narrative :—

Story of an old Maori teacher.

One circumstance has transpired during the year, which, taken in connection with my missionary duties in past years, may be worth recording, as showing how the "Great Keeper" of His vineyard does watch over and nourish "plants of His own right hand planting." At the commencement of the war in Waikato, a party closely related to what was called the King Natives lived at Mangarei, a settlement about five miles from Auckland, and formed part of my charge. Partly from fear, and partly from the treatment they received from certain Government officials, these people were driven from their homes, and found their way to their relatives, who were then in arms against the Government. Their Native teacher, Tamati Ngaporo, one of our most intelligent and zealous lay helpers, left with them, and although he took no active part in the war, yet after the war was over he removed with his people beyond the boundary of the confiscated land into what is called the King Country, which was closed against Europeans, including missionaries; so that for nearly twenty years I had not seen Tamati.

A short time before his death, which took place about six months ago, he sent a message by our Native pastor of the Upper Waikato, the Rev. Heta Tarawhiti, to say he would like to see me. I at once paid him a visit at the so-called Maori King township, "Whatiwhatihoe." Our meeting was a very cordial one. I was quite expecting that living as Tamati had been for so many years in the midst of Hauhauism and other errors, he had grown careless as to his Christian duties; but was gratified to learn from him that during the whole time he had been shut out from the public ordinances of the Church he had held fast to the Word of God, reading it daily, with meditation and prayer. By so doing he had evidently grown in grace and in the knowledge of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. "The one thing," he said, "which had long troubled him, was, that whilst he had attended to his own religious duties, he had not, as he ought to have done, lifted up his voice against the errors and superstitions which had been introduced among them."

After a long and very interesting conversation, in which Tamati took part, until he became quite exhausted (for he was now very ill), he meekly asked if I thought that after so many years' neglect of our Lord's command, "Do this in remembrance of Me," we might join once more in commemorating His love. Heta and I were much pleased that Tamati himself had introduced the subject. Due preparation was made for the performance of this holy rite. The occasion was one of deep interest, and I trust of real benefit to us all. I left Tamati trusting in the merits of his Saviour, and waiting patiently for the call, "Come up higher." He died a few days afterwards. At his own request his body was brought down to Taupiri, the late Mr. Ashwell's old station, and laid in the same burying-place where his wife and other members of his family hed been buried. I was called for to his funeral, where I had an opportunity of addressing these present, about 200, old and young.

On February 1 last, the Bishop of Auckland admitted to deacon's orders Wiremu Hoeta Te Matete. The Triennial General Synod of the Church of New Zealand was being held at the time, and all the seven Bishops of the Province (six in New Zealand, and the Bishop of Melanesia) were present. Ordination.

ARCHDEACON W. L. WILLIAMS superintends the East Coast districts, where the larger part of the Maori population is found. North and west of his field, the Rev. G. Maunsell is at Opotiki on the Bay of Plenty, and the Rev. W. Goodyear at Maketu in the Tauranga district. At Maketu also resides the veteran brother now retired, the Rev. S. M. Spencer. At Tauranga itself is a lay evangelist, Mr. Duffus. In the extreme south of the Diocese, below Napier (where Bishop Stuart resides), is the Rev. S. Williams. The Theological College at Gisborne is conducted by the Archdeacon and the Rev. E. Jennings.

In TAURANGA district, Mr. Duffus reports that the Natives may be divided into three classes, Hauhaus, followers of Te Kooti, and Christians connected with the C.M.S. The third class number 600 souls; but the second class are the most numerous. Many of the latter, however, are joining the Church, and a head-chief is mentioned who is very zealous in inviting and persuading them to come. Hauhaus, Te Kooti-ites, and Christians.

Mr. Goodyear reports from Maketu as follows:—

During the past year the work has been steadily progressing. Services have been more regularly attended, and greater interest manifested. Teachers have been appointed to new settlements and increased in the old ones. The demand for books and literature has been very great. The stand and increased energy displayed by some of the old teachers have been one of the marked features of the year, notably, old Paora Te Amohan of Rotorua, Rota Rangidoro and Te Demand for books. Energy of teachers.

Mapu Te Karewha at Maketu, and last, but not least, old Pohepi at Momea. These men have certainly stood side by side with me in opposing the Mormon and Hauhau services.

Te Kooti. Te Kooti, though he has made repeated trips through my district, has not made many converts. His stronghold is Te Teko, a populous but isolated Maori village inland from Whakatare and Matata. I visited the Natives last November, and was accorded a very hearty and interesting reception. Shall hope to repeat this visit during the present month.

The Hauhau faction, or, as they style themselves, the churches of Motiti Waitaharui and Maketu, have suffered much from sickness and deaths during the year. They are certainly more friendly and receptive than they were last year. They now read the New Testament in all their services. I feel that God's hand is leading them: I have missed no opportunity of preaching Jesus to them.

Opening of a Church at Ohinemutu. The opening of the pretty and substantial church at Ohinemutu has been the event of the year.* Bishop Stuart, assisted by the Revs. Samuel Williams, Spencer, Ihaia Te Ahu, and myself, performed the opening dedicatory service on the 15th of March last. The presence of the two old veterans, Revs. S. Williams and Spencer, lent a particular interest to the scene. The former interpreted the Bishop's sermon, and during his stay took the morning and evening services with appropriate exposition. The Natives seemed charmed with his matured Maori, and I trust his well-chosen words did not fall upon stony ground. Since the building of this church the Natives of other villages are desirous of having a "little sanctuary" of God in their midst. Thanks to the strenuous efforts of our good Bishop, supplemented by the continual collections by the Natives, the church is now free of debt. It has cost in all about five hundred pounds. I had the pleasure of receiving last Monday the last forty-three pounds, which entirely liquidates the debt, together with the twenty-five pounds promised by the Government. Morning and evening services have been held daily by the teachers.

My work at Maketu, where I live, has been somewhat hindered by the sitting of the Native Lands Court and my enforced absence. The increased interest manifested by the outlying districts has compelled me to spend more of my time away from Maketu. The women's Bible-class, conducted by Miss Spencer, has been most vigorously carried on. My young men's Bible-class has not been so regular, but still it has borne fruit; one of the class is hoping to become a pupil of Archdeacon Williams' class at Gisborne.

Bible Classes.

Improved feeling in Opotoki district. OPOTOKI, the scene of the murder of Völkner in 1865, has long been a centre of trying and uphill work; but Mr. Maunsell sends a report this year which is encouraging for part of the district. The Native Church Board for the Turanga district (N.E. corner of the island) met at Te Kaha, on the Bay of Plenty (and therefore in Mr. Maunsell's field), in December, and excited much interest; and a Maori clergyman ordained by Bishop Stuart in September, the Rev. Irimana Paeuta, has been stationed there. Mr. Maunsell writes,—

* This is the church so conspicuous in the Gleaner picture already referred to, and in the frontispiece to Mr. Froude's Oceana.

The events that have occurred during the past year contain much to encourage, especially in the eastern parts of the districts under my charge. In the first place, the riches of the liberality of the people in those parts has been manifested in raising an endowment fund for a Native minister, in amount 400*l.*; this year's contribution being 170*l.*; and comes from a by no means wealthy people, and greatly surprised me. Their minister was ordained in September last, and was inducted at a meeting of the Native Church Board held in his district, at Te Kaha, of which Archdeacon Williams was president, in the absence of the Bishop. This movement originated very much from the interest manifested in the tribes located in those parts by the tribes to the eastward of them, who, in response to appeals made by the Bishop and myself at a former meeting of their Church Board, agreed to their clergy and laymen conducting missions amongst them; and one old man, W. Paikea, volunteered to work amongst them as lay reader and catechist, which he has diligently done for the last two years. As he is a γραμματεὺς μαθητευθεὶς, &c., he has done so with considerable acceptance, and they still wish to retain him amongst them. They have now to build some kind of a parsonage and church. Of their new clergyman it may be said that he is a promising young man, as yet unmarried; an old pupil of the Bishop's, who has lived several years with him, who, in fact, clave to him when he gave up charge of St. Stephen's Institution; by name, Edmund Paeuta.

A Native endowment fund.

Of the rest of the district I am sorry to say that I cannot speak so hopefully. The bitter fruits of war, bloodshed, and confiscation, which happily were not so much felt by the above-mentioned tribes, are still manifest in Opotiki itself and in the districts to the west of it, in the shape of division, distrust, and disinclination to unite in common worship. With the exception of two small parties, who have faithful but ill-taught leaders, the great mass of the people are under the influence of Te Kooti, but do not refuse to listen to the preaching of the Word, although they prefer their own forms, which are taken from the Scriptures, and prayers composed by Te Kooti.

Fruits of war.

Archdeacon Williams himself reports on the eastern districts, and on the Theological College:—

I am sorry to have to report a further diminution in the number of our Native clergy. The Rev. Kerehona Piwaka was taken to his rest on March 28th, after a tedious and painful illness, being only about fifty-eight years of age. Having been formerly a pupil in the Institution at Waerengahika, and having afterwards done twelve years' good work among his own people, he was ordained deacon, by Bishop Stuart, on September 22nd, 1878, so that his ministry lasted only for six and a half years.

Death of a Native Clergyman.

Three new churches have been opened during the year, viz., two in the Waiapu district, at Tikapu, on May 3rd, and at Reporua on November 29th; and one in this neighbourhood, at Raikai-keteroa, on September 13th. The church at Tokomaru, which I mentioned last year as in course of building, is to be opened next month [February].

Three new churches.

The Native Church Board of the Heretaunga district met for business at Waipatu, near Napier, on October 5th, under the presidency of the Bishop. The parochial districts of Mohaka, Wairoa, and Nukutaurua, in the southern portion of this Archdeaconry, are represented in this Board. The Annual Meeting of the Board of the Turanga district (extending from Poverty Bay to Hicks' Bay, inclusive), was also held at Te Kaha, in the Bay of Plenty, on December 7th and 8th.

Theological College.

Our work at the Theological College has gone on steadily during the past year. We have had ten students, of whom six are married; and the wives have had regular instruction, besides attending to the domestic duties of the establishment. The Rev. A. O. Williams left us at the end of March to take up the work at Whanganui, to which he had been appointed by the Mission Board in the place of the Rev. T. S. Grace. His place here has been well filled by the Rev. E. Jennings, who had for some time previously been in charge of the Otaki School. Of the ten students, one the Rev. Irimana Paenta, was, as you have already heard, ordained deacon on St. Matthew's Day, and has since been located at Te Kaha, in the Bay of Plenty, where the meeting of the Native Church Board was held. Another, Hoete Te Matete, who comes from Waiheke, near Auckland, is to be ordained at Auckland during the approaching session of the General Synod. Both of these men give promise of much usefulness in the extension of the Master's kingdom.

DIOCESE OF WELLINGTON.

THE Revs. A. O. Williams and J. McWilliam, at Wanganui and Otaki respectively, are the two C.M.S. missionaries in Bishop Hadfield's southern diocese. In the Church Chronicle of the diocese there appeared, in the middle of last year, a very clear summary of the Society's work, some extracts from which it is desirable to put on permanent record here:—

The Church Chronicle on C.M.S. work.

The Rev. James McWilliam, who resides at Otaki, has ministered to the Natives on the West Coast during the last seventeen years. His district extends from Porirua harbour on the south to Rangitikei on the north. He is assisted by a deacon, the Rev. H. Te Herekau, who lives at Manawatu, and is not now able to do so much work as he once did. In this district there are seven churches, that is to say, Porirua, Waikanae, Otaki, Matakaraka, Moutoa, Oroua, Matahiwi; at all which places divine service is regularly held. This is the case also in many other places, such as Ohau, Waikawa, Muhunoa, Horowhenua, Poroutawhao, and Motuiti, where Natives meet on Sunday for divine worship. At all these there is a lay reader, who reads prayers when a clergyman is not present. In very many of the above-named places the Natives meet daily for prayers.

The Wanganui district, which at present must be considered to consist of all that part of the diocese which lies to the north of Rangitikei, was until recently under the spiritual charge of the Rev. T. S. Grace, assisted by two deacons, the Rev. Arona Te Haua and the Rev. Eruera Te Ngara. Mr. Grace has now returned to the Diocese of Nelson. He has been succeeded by the Rev. A. O. Williams. The district is very large, extending not only on the coast very nearly to Pariaka, but alse many miles up the Wanganui River. The Natives there are in a more or less unsettled state. There are churches at Turakina, Wangaehu, Parewanui, Putiki, and Koriniti. At these and several other places, as in other parts of the diocese, services are held by lay readers. One of the Native deacons resides at Putiki, and the other eighty miles up the River Wanganui.

The Wairarapa is a large district, over which the Natives live in small detached parties not very easily accessible for one who attempts to visit them. The Rev. Pineaha Te Mahauariki has been there for six years, residing at Te Oreore, near Masterton. There are only two churches deserving of the name, one at Te Oreore, and the other at Waitapu, in the Lower Valley. There are also buildings in which divine service is held at seventeen places. The deacon is assisted by twenty lay readers.

We do not venture to offer any opinion on the spiritual condition of the Natives in the diocese. The Hauhau superstition, no doubt, for a long time made havoc of the faith of many of them in some places, though very many showed by their steadfastness that they had deep convictions on religion. What is now quite certain is, that that superstition is fast losing its influence, or rather, has lost it over them, and that fresh efforts are now needed to enable the Church to recover the lost ground.

At the present time there are fourteen Maori churches in the diocese, two English clergymen, as we said, and four Native deacons, whose time is devoted to ministering to the Natives, while there are about thirty-five lay readers assisting them. There are many places in which, though there is no church, divine service is regularly held.

Mr. Williams reports as follows :—

The Whanganui district is naturally divided into three distinct sections. (a) The part lying between the Whanganui and Rangitikei Rivers; (b) the Whanganui River itself; (c) the district lying between the Whanganui River and Opunake on the north.

In the first of these divisions the Maoris are, with very few exceptions, members of the Church of England, and it certainly forms the most interesting and encouraging sphere of work at present. In the second, the majority of the Natives have gone over to the Roman Catholics, who have, I regret to say, gained a very strong footing at Hiruharama, their former station. I trust, however, that they have now received a check. In the third, the vast majority are adherents of Te Whiti.

The Temperance movement.

I am glad to be able to report that the temperance movement, initiated by the Rev. T. S. Grace, has so far been successful on the whole. The Ngatiapa tribe, living in the first division of the district mentioned above, have, to a man, joined the cause, and so far as I can see and hear, have not in any case broken their pledge. On the Whanganui River, however, many seem to have fallen away.

Spiritual condition of Natives.

With regard to the spiritual condition of the Natives under my charge, I am hardly in a position to judge, but it appears in many cases at least to be at a very low ebb. A great difference is noticeable between these Natives and those on the East Coast and in the northern parts of the island. This may be accounted for by the wars that have devastated this district, while the long interval that elapsed between the death of the Rev. Basil Taylor and the arrival of the Rev. T. S. Grace was also most disastrous to their growth in grace.

I cannot conclude my report without bearing testimony to the excellent work now being done by the two Maori deacons who are my fellow-workers. Of the Rev. Eruera Te Ngara, who is stationed on the Whanganui River, it is impossible to speak too highly. He is a most energetic, hard-working man, and is much liked by all the Work of Maori Deacons.

Natives. The Rev. Arona Te Haua, who is stationed at Patiki, is also doing well. He is a man of good abilities, and carries weight wherever he goes.

Mr. McWilliam's report is more favourable, and tells of quiet and steady progress. His district being more to the south is further removed from the influence of Te Whiti. "Though," he says, "I have no striking conversions or sudden revivals to record, still I am thankful to be able to report that, to the best of my belief, religion, as manifested by its practical fruits, industry, quietness, sobriety, &c., has been on the increase."

Practical fruits.

Upon the whole the Committee regard the present state of the Maori Church as calling for much thankfulness to God. The improvement from the sad times of the war and the apostasy has been noticeable for some years past, and the progress is now very marked; while there seems good reason to hope that the disaffected remnant will soon, by the grace of God, be brought back to the fellowship of the Gospel.

DIVISION OF THE MISSION.

Past and present in Rupert's Land.

The death of the venerable Bishop Anderson, and the completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway, occurring in the same year, mark with special emphasis the transition from the old mission-field of Rupert's Land to the vigorous and growing "North-West" of Canada. When Dr. Anderson was consecrated first Bishop of Rupert's Land in 1849, his sphere of labour was the most uninviting on the face of the earth. That the Church's work in those vast territories has been so marvellously extended and developed as to keep fair pace with their material progress is mainly due to his untiring devotion in the earlier half of the period and to the wisdom and energy of Bishop Machray during the past twenty years. The Society is happy in having had so large a share in that extension and development, by means of its Missions to the Red Indians of various tribes and tongues. It is represented in all the six dioceses which now form what has become the Ecclesiastical Province of Rupert's Land, and in three of them its own missionaries are the Bishops and clergy, and almost all the work is carried on at its expense.

I.—DIOCESE OF RUPERT'S LAND.

1. Red River district, 1823; 2. Fort Alexander district, 1864; 3. Swan River district, 1842; 4. Rainy Lake district, 1874.

Of the work carried on for the Society in this Diocese, comprising the Province of Manitoba and the territories eastward to Lake Superior, very little information has been received. There is no alteration in the staff since last year.

From St. Peter's Indian Settlement, on Red River, the Rev. B. McKenzie reports that his flock consists of 1130 souls, of whom 270 are communicants. The regular congregations are large, notwithstanding Romish opposition; and a temperance society is found useful in keeping the Indians from the drunkenness to which some of them are very prone. The venerable Indian clergyman, Mr. Settee, lives in the Settlement, and still works, as his strength will allow, in visiting the Indian reserves on the shores of Lake Winnipeg. An interesting passage from his report is subjoined:—

Romish opposition.

Temperance.

> Through the kindness of the Ven. Archdeacon Cowley, who equipped me and a companion with provisions to visit the reserves on the shores of the Lake Winnipeg to preach to the people, we soon met with our Christian Natives on the shores and points, either fishing or gathering wild fruit, which was abundant this year. On Sundays they rest, and assemble to read the Word of God, and pray with and for one another. Our first Sunday our divine service in the open air was highly satisfactory. The open sea before us, the birds of the air singing their sweet melodies, and a good congregation of pure Natives—a few years ago heathen idolaters—now in perfect harmony, singing the praises of that blessed Jesus who died upon the cross for their sins; and some fellow-heathen brethren, listening to the Word of God very attentively. They had brought them to read the Scriptures to them, and thus to bring them to the knowledge of the truth. I cannot speak of them too highly in this respect: our Christian Natives take every means to instil the means of grace into the hearts of their brethren.
>
> We were received cordially everywhere, and the Word of God listened to very attentively at Dog Head. When we met four chiefs we had enough of preaching to do. On one occasion, as I was speaking of the love of the Saviour, who in His great suffering upon the cross was praying for His murderers, one chief, Peter Stone, rose up and said with a loud voice before all present, "I lay up those words in my heart; that is the Saviour I have longed for to save my soul." "That is the Saviour I have longed for."

From Fairford, the centre of an extensive but sparsely populated district, the Rev. G. Bruce writes that his people were "loyal to the Union Jack" during Riel's rebellion last year. They number 500 at Fairford, and there are small bands at distant posts, which it is a hard task to visit regularly. The communicants are 105. Three adult Indians were baptized in the year. There are 225 children at school. "Loyal to the Union Jack."

No reports have been received from Islington or Lansdowne. The Bishop of Rupert's Land sent a very interesting account of a visit he paid in July to Lac Seul, where the Rev. J. Irvine is stationed. The journey took him forty-eight hours. In 1852 it took Bishop Anderson seventeen days. The contrast at Lac Seul itself he thus describes :—

I found upwards of 400 Indians assembled. It was the great festal occasion of the modern Indians for the year. The agent of the Dominion Government had that day paid the Indians of the district their yearly annuities and gifts. Traders were here with supplies to sell the Indian for his annuity money. The scene was most pleasing. Christianity had brought with it its civilizing results. There are still heathen in the tribe, but the Christians so exceed them in number and influence that they have given up their heathen practices. When Bishop Anderson passed Lac Seul, he wrote, "There is, I fear, little at present to encourage hope of the Indians at Lac Seul. How different from all at Moose and Albany!" But the Gospel has now won the same triumph at Lac Seul. Civilizing results of Christianity.

The officer of the Hudson's Bay Company, Mr. McKenzie, joined us. He is an excellent Ojibway speaker. He most kindly consented to act as interpreter for me. My words lost none of their effect when given by Mr. McKenzie to the Indians in their own tongue. The meeting was in the open air. I spoke to the Indians on the pleasure of my visit, and on the gratification given by the signs of their progress in the erection of houses and the cultivation of gardens and land. I dwelt on the benefit of education and the temporal advantages from the presence of the missionary; then I proceeded to explain the still greater hopes for them entertained by the kind friends in England, through whom they had a Mission. I spoke to them of the higher happiness held out to us in Christ, and the supreme object of the missionary's work amongst them with this view. The chief of these Indians, Cromartie, is a Christian, and understands and speaks English. Signs of material progress.

On Saturday forenoon I had another large gathering of Indians, who wished to hear specially about confirmation. On Sunday morning we had a happy service. Thirty-three were confirmed, including the chief. Mr. Irvine read the service in Ojibway, and also gave in that language my addresses, sentence by sentence. Confirmation.

The Indians of Lac Seul seemed as a body very accessible to the truth, and there is the greatest promise of the whole tribe being shortly added to the Church of Christ, and not a few of them presenting themselves a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable to God.

In the RAINY LAKE district, the Rev. R. Phair has been assisted during the year by Mr. Ellington and Mr. Holmes, who went out in the spring of 1885 en route for the Far North, but were prevented proceeding by the unsettled state of those parts of the country which were the scene of the rebellion. This unlooked-for reinforcement was a cause of much encouragement to Mr. Phair, who has had several years of uphill work among the unusually hard-hearted Indians of the district. His labours have not been fruitless, though he has not been permitted to bring into Christ's fold the whole, or nearly the whole, of the Native population, as has been the case in some parts. He has now 86 baptized Christians, and 22 under instruction for baptism; and there are 73 children at school. His station, Fort Francis, being now a colonial settlement, he suggests the removal of the Mission to Long Sault, which is close to the Indian reserves. On these reserves the two young brethren abovementioned, Mr. Ellington and Mr. Holmes, have temporarily held Government appointments as schoolmasters, which has given them good opportunities for giving the Gospel to the Indians; and they have also been graciously blessed in their efforts to win the settlers to Christ.

The SIOUX MISSION, carried on by the Rev. W. A. Burman, under the Bishop of Rupert's Land, and assisted by a C.M.S. grant, is doing good work. Mr. Burman thus writes of a Sioux convert:—

A Sioux convert.

I have lately had the joy of baptizing an old man, who has long listened to our teaching, yet seemingly without being moved. However, the Spirit was at work. Last week he was taken ill, and I went to see him, when he begged me to read and pray with him, saying he had longed to see me. After some talk with him, I told him he should be baptized if he really felt all he professed. He at once desired me to baptize him, saying he had been thinking about it, but having had a quarrel with a man he did not know what he ought to do. I was much touched and very grateful to find that God is, bit by bit, showing proof of His blessing. I am expecting more Indian baptisms soon.

II.—DIOCESE OF MOOSONEE.

Moose Factory, 1851; York, 1854; Albany, 1855; Matawakumma, 1876; Little Whale River, 1877.

BISHOP HORDEN's letters are as interesting as ever, and his own Annual Report to his many friends and supporters in England will best introduce the Society's work in his Diocese. It is dated Jan. 18:—

Bishop Horden's Report: Deaths.

Like its two immediate predecessors, last year was a chequered one, sorrow was largely mixed with joy, for disease again made its appearance among us, and many were the victims it took from our midst. The number of deaths here at Moose, exactly doubled that of the births; of the former there were twenty-four; of the latter, twelve; but this does not give a true sense of the magnitude of the infliction, for the disparity in the number of those taken, with regard to sex, greatly increased its severity. Of the births, six were males, and six females; but of the deaths, no less than seventeen were males, seven only females; as many of the males were married men, our widows, numerous enough before, now form a very considerable burden on us, for it must not be forgotten that all are poor.

Progress of spiritual work.

In our spiritual work we have progressed, and many fresh communicants, belonging to both English and Indian congregations, have made a stand for Christ, while many of those called away died the death of the righteous, trusting in the accomplished work of their Lord for their salvation.

Soon after the break-up of the river, Mr. Nevitt proceeded to Long Portage House, a lonely station, 120 miles distant, to which but a small number of Ojibbeway Indians is attached. As yet they are but babes in Christ, although a few are considerably advanced in Christian life.

Journey through the Albany district.

Not long after his return, I prepared for my own long journey through the Albany district. On June 27th, taking Mr. Vincent, one of my divinity students, with me, I embarked on board the H.B. Co.'s schooner for Albany, which I reached after a pleasant voyage of 100 miles. Here I remained a week, busily engaged with Archdeacon Vincent on the work of the Mission. Among my other duties, I confirmed forty persons. Leaving Mr. Vincent in charge, and taking his father, the Archdeacon, I proceeded by canoe 300 miles to Martin's Falls, a small trading-post on the south bank of the Albany river, and directly opposite the first of a succession of rapids and falls. This part of the journey was most dreary and monotonous, the canoe being tracked by my Indian voyageurs the whole way. The Indians here are not a very satisfactory people, and are steeped much more deeply in heathenism than any others in the diocese; neither are they very accessible, as they seldom come to the station, and when they do come, remaining no longer than is just necessary for trading purposes. I hope it will not be long before I shall be able to place a resident catechist here, who will have an opportunity of offering the Word of Life to every visitor. Having remained some days, to the great joy of all resident at the place, we proceeded onward, through a most difficult country, from the numerous dangerous rapids with which the river is beset, to Osnaburgh, 250 miles from Martin's Falls, and the most western division in Moosonee. It is situated in a large and beautiful lake, on whose banks there will doubtless by-and-by be a teeming population, but which is now the centre of a vast solitude. At this post, where I was the guest of very dear Christian friends, I saw a goodly number of Indians, who all received me with the deepest pleasure, and did their best to improve the opportunity thus afforded them, of learning more of the things of God. Morning, noon, and night the work of teaching went on, and it gladdened my heart to see that God was blessing the work of His servants. I confirmed forty Indians; they were not sufficiently advanced to partake of the Lord's Supper, but I think a few of them will be in another year, when Archdeacon Vincent, who has charge of the Albany district, will again visit them. At an English service five communicated. But Osnaburgh must have its own missionary, and this I trust it will have next year, when I intend to appoint one of my present divinity students as its pastor.

The centre of a vast solitude.

Confirmations.

From Osnaburgh I returned to Martin's Falls, where I confirmed thirteen persons, and administered the Sacrament to six. I then went on to English River Station, the smallest in the diocese. I here confirmed fifteen persons, and administered the Lord's Supper to the resident fur-trader, who, many years ago, was a member of my Moose congregation. I now sped backward to Albany, where I remained a few days, engaged in examining and revising the Archdeacon's translation of the Pilgrim's Progress into Cree, and then, in the same canoe which had safely borne me so many hundreds of miles, I once more returned to Moose, where all had gone on satisfactorily during my absence.

Return to Moose.

Mr. Nevitt will leave in March for Rupert's House, for the purpose of establishing a permanent Mission there. Mr. and Mrs. Peck arrived from England in July, and have since remained with me, Mrs. Peck's health not having permitted her to proceed to Fort George. She is now very much better than she was, and I trust she will be able to go forward next summer. At Matawakumme the Rev. John Sanders is pursuing his work steadily and successfully, as is likewise Mr. Lofthouse at York Factory.

Two events of the year call for special mention, the dedication of the chancel of our cathedral, and the utter wreck of our annual ship. The chancel was formally opened on Whit Sunday, and heartfelt indeed were our songs of praise; for a long time we had been very much straitened for room, but the additional hundred seats gained enable us to seat all the congregation, and a delightful sight it is to behold the fine church filled from end to end with attentive worshippers, joining in our service as well as an intelligent assembly of fairly educated Europeans. It is a long time since I have felt happier than on the dedication day.

The "cathedral" enlarged.

From the loss of our annual ship we suffer but little inconvenience; but how different it might have been! The ship arrived in safety and discharged her precious cargo, consisting of all the necessaries of all the inhabitants of South Moosonee. A year's food and clothing were secured in our stores, and then she was reloaded with bales of fur, huge bags of feathers, and hogsheads of oil. She left her anchorage, and got out over the long and crooked bar at the mouth of the river. She was then assailed by a terrible storm of three days' duration, which drove her back over the bar again, and ashore on an extensive sand just inside. Here she was fiercely buffeted by the sea, and threatened to part asunder, but she held together, and no injury to life or limb was sustained by any one on board, and all landed safely at Moose, where they will remain for the winter. The vessel is now a total wreck, its remains lying about fourteen miles distant from us. We should feel deep gratitude to God for having brought her here, through the numberless dangers which beset a ship navigating Hudson's Straits and Bay. We have but to sing and give praise unto our God.

Loss of the annual ship.

The Bishop has also sent some statistics of the Diocese, from which it appears that the Indian Christians number 3818.

The Rev. H. Nevitt also sends an encouraging letter from Moose Factory. He has now, as the Bishop intimates, removed to Rupert's House as his permanent station.

The Rev. J. Sanders' station, Matawakumma, is the southernmost in the Diocese, and only fifty miles from the eastern section of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The opening of the railway has not been an unmixed good. An accident on it caused the death of an excellent catechist, Louis Martin, whose vacant place it will be hard to supply; and the Indians nearest to the line have not been improved. Nearly all the Indians in the extensive district under Mr. Sanders' superintendence are professing Christians, he himself having baptized two-thirds of them in the last few years.

There is no separate report from Albany. Archdeacon Vincent was in England for some months, and was warmly welcomed on his first visit to this country. He was actively occupied in important translational work.

The York district has been under the charge of the Rev. J. Lofthouse, who is now no longer alone, the lady who has become his wife having gone out by last year's ship. They have remained at York Factory, in Mr. Winter's absence; and at present there is no means of their residing at Churchill, the station for which Mr. Lofthouse went out. An iron church is there; but the difficulty has been how to build a house, there being no materials at so remote and inhospitable a spot. This need has been supplied, up to a certain point, in a very remarkable manner. The Canadian Government having commissioned a steamer, the Alert, to survey Hudson's Bay, Professor Bell, of the Canadian Geological Survey, and the Rev. H. Pollard, of Ottawa, suggested to their Christian friends in Ottawa, mostly Presbyterians, that they should send by it all the materials for a mission-house at Churchill, as a free and spontaneous gift to the C.M.S. Mission. This generous proposal was actually carried out. The materials, timber, hardware, glass, cooking-stove, pipes, doors, window-frames, &c., were all sent 4000 miles free, most of them being taken by the Canadian railways without charge to the Atlantic sea-board, and at Halifax shipped on board the Alert, which conveyed them right round to Hudson's Bay and landed them at the mouth of the Churchill River. All that now remains to be done is their removal five miles to the station, and putting together; but, for reasons the validity of which is not evident to the Bishop, the Hudson's Bay Company, whose labourers alone are available, declined to render any help.

The movements of the Rev. E. J. Peck, the missionary to the Eskimo on the east side of Hudson's Bay, have been somewhat affected by Mrs. Peck's health, as mentioned in the Bishop's letter above; but he has been at Little Whale River alone, and hopes soon to take his wife there It is an interesting fact that a contribution of 100*l.* to Mr. Peck's new boat was received from Calcutta.

III.—DIOCESE OF QU'APPELLE.

Touchwood Hills, 1857.

Loyalty of Indians.

At the Society's one station in this Diocese, Touchwood Hills, the Rev. Gilbert Cook has 134 baptized Indians, and 295 unbaptized adherents. They all remained loyal during the rebellion, but Mr. Cook laments that some of them cling to their heathen ceremonies, "fearing the Lord and serving their own gods."

IV.—DIOCESE OF SASKATCHEWAN.

Cumberland and Devon, 1840; Stanley, 1850; Asisippi, 1875; Battleford, 1876; Prince Albert, 1879; Fort McLeod, 1880; Grand Rapids, 1881; Blackfoot Crossing, 1883.

Changes in the Staff.

Some additions and changes have to be reported in the Society's staff in this Diocese. Archdeacon J. A. Mackay and the Rev. J. J. Taylor have, at the Bishop's desire, changed places, the former moving westward to Battleford, where a missionary of long experience among the Indians was required to influence those who had been more or less touched by the rebellion; and the latter moving eastward to the important but quieter field of Devon and Cumberland. A new name on the C.M.S. list is that of Archdeacon George Mackay (no relation of his brother Archdeacon), who has been hitherto working under the Bishop upon a grant to the diocese from the S.P.G., but who has now been appointed Cree tutor at Emmanuel College, Prince Albert, and, being thus at headquarters, acts as C.M.S. Secretary, and takes charge of the C.M.S. Mission at South Branch. The Rev. H. T. Bourne, whose name appeared last year as in local connection, and who was in charge of Fort Macleod Mission during the Rev. S. Trivett's absence in England, has been obliged to retire, owing to his wife's health, and is now engaged in Colonial work; and Mr. Trivett has returned to his station. Two new Native clergymen have been ordained by the Bishop for C.M.S. work, viz. the Rev. J. R. Settee, son of the veteran Indian pastor bearing that well-known name, and the Rev. John Badger, also an Indian. The former is at Devon, and the latter at Fort la Corne, the old Nepowewin Mission.

The Committee are much indebted to the Bishop of Saskatchewan for his interesting letters reporting his visits to the various C.M.S. stations. Of those on the Lower Saskatchewan, Devon, Cumberland, &c., he writes as follows:—

Bishop's visitation of the Cumberland district.

I have come back from the Visitation of the Cumberland district with a heart full of thankfulness to God for the faithful work done at the Devon Mission and its outposts by a long line of devoted Christian missionaries. I saw full evidence of its being a solid, lasting work. The pure Gospel has for many years been faithfully preached by earnest men, and the seed has borne its usual fruit. The Indians are all poor in this world's goods, but they show themselves, as a body, to be Christian in their outward life, and I have reason to believe that many of them are truly the children of God. They all show a great appreciation of Christian ordinances and means of grace. They attend church well and join heartily in the services, especially in the singing: they come to Holy Communion in large numbers; they bring their children to baptism, as a rule, at the earliest possible period, and their ordinary life will compare favourably with that of white people.

I repeat, they are very poor; their love for ordinances ought not to be measured by what they give towards their support. They are of the poorest of Christ's brethren.

Service at Devon. Confirmations.

Sunday, July 12th.—A large congregation of Indians assembled in Devon Church for the morning service. The prayers were read by the Archdeacon and the Rev. R. McLennan, while I preached from Levit. xvi. 21, 22, the subject being the scape-goat led into a land of separation, bringing out the separating nature of sin, its tendency to separate man from God and man from his fellow-men, and applying it especially to the separation made by the late rebellion between those who ought to live as brethren. Fifty-eight candidates were presented to me for confirmation.

The bank of the river was lined with birch-bark canoes, in which many of the congregation had crossed over for the services. I went round among the people, shaking hands with every man, woman, and child, not forgetting even the babies, of whom there was a goodly number. I watched them from the bank as they departed. An Indian would lift up his canoe, carry it easily with one hand to the water; then he and his family would go aboard, and the canoe was swiftly paddled away.

There are 680 Indians in the Devon Mission, all Christians, with the exception of one family of heathens, who live fifty miles from the church. There are two day-schools; the teachers are paid by Government, but are members of the Church of England. One of them, Louis Ahenukew, was brought up at the Asissippi Mission, and then trained for two years at Emmanuel College. He is a young man of excellent character and ability, and has been employed as catechist in the Mission with good results. He has proved himself an acceptable and faithful missionary as well as a successful teacher. In round numbers, there are about 2000 Christian Indians connected with the C.M.S. Missions in the Cumberland district, including Stanley.

After narrating visits to several other places, the Bishop comes back again to Devon, where, on July 26, the ordination service was held, the Rev. Peter Badger, of Grand Rapids, receiving priest's orders, and Mr. J. R. Settee deacon's orders. There were 134 communicants. The Bishop on this tour confirmed 233 Indians in ten confirmations.

Ordination

At Cumberland is stationed the Rev. Roderick McLennan, B.A., of St. John's College, Manitoba, where he was educated under the Bishop of Rupert's Land, and was first classic of his year. The Bishop of Saskatchewan speaks highly of his work. Mr. McLellan has also lately visited the old station of Stanley, on English River, where a Native clergyman, the Rev. John Sinclair, labours. The total number of Christians in that district is not mentioned, but it must be large, as there are 150 communicants.

Asisippi is well known as the Rev. J. Hines's station. There are 290 baptized Christians, and 120 unbaptized adherents. Mr. Hines's Annual Letter is particularly interesting for its illustration of Indian loyalty and faithfulness during the rebellion :—

Our work here, to March, 1885, was carried on as heretofore,—services regularly held, day and Sunday-schools taught, and a constant visitation kept up, especially among the sick.

The Stony Lake band formed additional work for us, as well as additional interest. The Asissippi convert, whom I mentioned in my last Annual Letter as working among these Indians, spent about five weeks with them, and taught three or four of the young men to read the syllabic fairly well, and his lamp of Christian graces, which he kept brightly burning before the whole band all the time, had a very beneficial effect.

Work of an Asissippi convert.

I visited them again in January, and had three or four happy gatherings for worship and Christian instruction. Oomenowachokwāo, our chief's eldest son, accompanied me, and helped me much in explaining and confirming my teaching to them. Okinamoolayāo, the Stony Lake chief, made an excellent speech. On the 18th of the same month, I baptized a woman and her child at Asissippi, members of the Stony Lake band. The woman came all the way for this purpose with the full sanction of her husband. These were the first I baptized from this band.

I again visited them on the 4th of March, when arrangements were made for the chief, his wife and family, to be baptized at Asissippi on Easter Sunday. But, alas! how little we know of the future, for before the dawn of that glad day, the peace of this country was broken, blood had been shed, and we, with many others, were obliged to flee from our homes, and seek protection in Prince Albert, where we remained for nearly three months. Mission work hindered by the rebellion.

During the greater part of this time I was separated from my people, only seeing them at intervals, but took advantage of such intervals to have services with them. We were not a little cheered when they told us they had assembled together on Sunday mornings for worship, Joseph Sasakwamoos, the school teacher, leading the prayers and reading the lessons. All the Snake Plain Indians joined with them, and so did the Indians from South Branch Mission, who were ordered to join our camp. In the midst of all the disloyalty and confusion around, what a comfort it was to know that our people were true and loyal—in fact, living out their Christian profession. The Bishop used to say when we were in Prince Albert that the conduct of our people formed the only bright speck in our limited horizon. Consistency in the midst of disloyalty.

From time to time, news was brought in to Prince Albert that all the Indians in the Green Lake district had joined in plundering the stores, that none were exempt. This news of course included the Stony Lake band, and remembering the little instruction they had received from us, and their having no place to flee to for protection like ourselves, it seemed very possible that the report after all might be true. It appears that invitations had been sent twice to certain members of the band, inviting them to come to the fort and receive a share of the plunder; but they would not go. For three months they were hiding about in the forest, without ammunition to hunt with, without tea to drink, and with very little food to eat, and their clothing nearly all torn off their backs with the brushwood. Just contrast their adversity with the "prosperity," shall I say, of their Green Lake friends. These latter were feasting daily, and making garlands and arches with the various articles of fancy clothing which they had stolen. Whence came this difference? One had an eye to the future, and reckoned their present sufferings were not worthy to be compared with the glory and peace of mind which would be theirs when the country was once more restored to peace and order. They had faith in the promise of God's Word, which saith, "All things work together for good to them that love Him." The others had no thought beyond the present, and served the god of this world only. Suffering and steadfastness of Native Christians.

A later letter gives the best postscript to the above interesting narrative. The chief of the Stony Lake Indians was baptized in December with five of his followers. Baptism of a chief.

Battleford was under the charge of the Rev. I. J. Taylor for the greater part of the year. Since then, as already mentioned, he has been succeeded by Archdeacon J. A. Mackay. There are seven Indian reserves in the neighbourhood. Six of the bands are Cree, and one Assiniboine. There are 280 baptized Christians, most of them on the reserve of a chief named Red Pheasant, who himself was baptized by the name of Charles in December, 1884. The rest of the Indians are, says Archdeacon Mackay, "to all intents and purposes heathen." Some have been baptized by the Romish priests, "but their religion does not seem to amount to anything more than wearing crosses and other popish trinkets." In the rebellion three of the seven chiefs remained loyal.

Blood and Blackfoot Indians.

In the extreme west of the Diocese are the two Missions to the Blood and Blackfoot Indians. The former is at Kina Reservation, near Fort Macleod. The Rev. H. T. Bourne was in charge during the larger part of the year, until the arrival from England, in November, of the Rev. S. and Mrs. Trivett. The work is still in its infancy, and Mr. Trivett says, "At present I cannot speak of any conversions, but I am not disheartened when I remember the early days of the Chinese, Maori, and West African Missions." The Bishop of Saskatchewan visited the station in September last; and in his letter on the subject he dwells on the importance of giving the Indians some portions at least of the Scriptures in their own language. A beginning in this respect has been made by the Rev. J. W. Tims, the missionary at the other station, Blackfoot Crossing, Bow River, which is for the Blackfeet proper. St. Matthew's Gospel has been translated, and some fragments have been already printed by means of a small press sent out for the Mission. The Bishop visited Mr. Tims in November, and with him paid his respects to Crowfoot, the head of the whole Blackfoot nation, who, however, refused to allow a house to be built on his reserve, as was desired. Mr. Tims has been cheered by the arrival of Mr. H. W. G. Stocken, a young layman from St. Paul's, Onslow Square, and a member of the C.M.S. Lay Workers' Union for London. Though not directly connected with the Society, his engagement by the Bishop as schoolmaster is much for the benefit of the Mission.

V.—DIOCESE OF ATHABASCA.

Fort Chipewyan, 1867; Fort Vermilion, 1876; Fort Dunvegan, 1882.

Bishop Young has returned to his diocese, and on his way back, at Winnipeg, he admitted to deacon's orders a C.M.S. student at St. John's College, Mr. Malcolm Scott, who is to work under him.

A diocese of 250,000 sq. miles.

The three C.M.S. stations in this vast diocese of 250,000 square miles, Chipewyan, Vermilion, and Dunvegan, are all reported on by Archdeacon W. D. Reeve, whose own residence is at the first-named place. Much inconvenience and even suffering was caused in these remote territories by the rebellion; not that any of the Indians in them were connected with it, but the supplies from Manitoba, upon which the missionaries and others have to live, were robbed en route, and the disturbed state of the country prevented more being sent up. Mrs. Reeve's health was affected; and the Indians at Chipewyan also suffered. At this post the work is of a trying character, owing to the strength of the Roman Catholic Missions. At Dunvegan and Vermilion, on Peace River, small mission farms have been established, which render the residents less dependent upon supplies from without. The climate is much less severe than at Chipewyan. The Rev. J. G. Brick, at Dunvegan, has shown much activity in teaching the Indians to cultivate the ground. The missionary at Vermilion, the Rev. A. C. Garrioch, has been in England, but while here he was diligently occupied in preparing St. Mark's Gospel, portions of the Prayer Book and some hymns, in the Beaver language; and both the S.P.C.K. and the Bible Society assisted him in the printing. He has since gone back to the Mission. Mr. Holmes, also, whose labours during his detention in the south have been mentioned under Rupert's Land, has gone on to his future field.

VI.—DIOCESE OF MACKENZIE RIVER.

Fort Simpson, 1858; Fort McPherson and Rampart House (Tukudh Mission), 1874; Forts Norman, Resolution, and Rae, 1881.

This is the northern portion of Bishop Bompas's old diocese of Athabasca, which, as being the more remote and forbidding, he chose for himself, leaving the new southern division, the present Athabasca, to Bishop Young. Bishop Bompas continues his immense journeys, which are quite unprecedented and unparalleled as episcopal visitations. His successive letters come from places hundreds and even thousands of miles apart.

Unequalled episcopal visitations.

This Diocese, and the C.M.S. Tukudh Mission in particular, have sustained a sad loss by the death of the devoted young missionary, the Rev. Vincent C. Sim, from sickness brought on by want of sufficient food. It appears that he denied himself in order to feed the Indians round him. He was quite alone when the illness that proved fatal came on, at his station, Rampart House, the most remote of all the Society's mission-posts, on the borders of Alaska and within the Arctic Circle. He sent, however, for the Rev. T. H. Canham from Fort McPherson, Peel River, and Mr. Canham had the mournful privilege of ministering to his brother missionary in his last moments. Mr. Sim was taken to his eternal rest on May 11. His last letter (printed in the C.M. Intelligencer, Feb. 1886) was dated Jan. 9, 1885, and embodied a most fervent and touching appeal for an additional missionary or two. He did not know that a few days after he wrote that letter a previous one from him would be printed in the Intelligencer (Feb. 1885), and produce the gift from Mr. T. F. Buxton of 100*l.* a year, upon which Mr. Ellington has been sent out, as mentioned in last year's Report. The following short extracts from his last letter will show the readiness and appreciation with which the Indians received the message he had to deliver to them:—

His last letter.

At Nyooklakeyit there were a great number of Indians who had been expecting me for some time, and who gave me a hearty welcome. They had intended to leave on the Monday, but, although they had very little to eat, they deferred their departure until later, in order that they might have time to learn something more. While at the fort, I was the guest of the American traders, from whom I received much kindness, and also gained some valuable information, which guided me as to my future movements.

During the time we were at Nyooklakeyit the Indians gave me plenty to do. Morning and evening prayers were conducted, followed each time by "school," to which almost every Indian remains. The rest of the time I was teaching in my tent, which would be crowded by Indians anxious for further instruction. This was the general course of proceeding all the time I was with the Indians during the summer, and as it was talking or singing the whole day, I was generally done up by evening. The blind Christian leader appeared to have the respect of the Indians, and was as anxious to learn as ever. It was so long since these Indians were last visited by Archdeacon M'Donald, that I was not surprised to find that some of them had fallen rather back; still it did not take much to revive in their memories the recollection of their past lessons, and I aimed at this more than attempting anything new.

A blind Christian leader.

Leaving Nyooklakeyit we ascended the Tanana in company with a large number of Indians who were going to their summer fisheries. We went about two hundred miles up the river, the Indians gradually dropping off as we went along, until at last our number was comparatively small. At the farthest point we reached we found a number of Indians awaiting us, and these were largely increased by the Indians scattered over the surrounding country coming in to meet us. I stopped ten days with these Indians, ten days of hard but very happy work, from morning to night being constantly engaged in teaching. I proposed to go away before that time, because there was very little to eat, and I didn't like to keep them, many of them half starving; but they would not let me go. I was the first minister who had been to their country, they said, and they were glad, so I must not hurry away; never mind if they were hungry.

On our way down the Tanana we found a large party of the Tetsi Kwitchin, who had come up to fish, and with them we spent a few very busy days. I shall not soon forget the heartiness of the welcome they gave me, nor the feeling they manifested at our departure. We spent but a short time at Nyooklakeyit, on our return, as almost all the Indians were off. A missionary's welcome.

Mr. Ellington will, if God prosper his way, reach Rampart House by the end of this year, nearly three years after the appeal was written to which he is the response. Another brother, the Rev. C. G. Wallis, started for these Arctic regions in April, and is now en route in company with Archdeacon McDonald. Bishop Bompas will be encouraged by this reinforcement. Reinforcements.

In other respects the stations and missionaries are as described in detail last year. The only Annual Letters received are from the Rev. J. Spendlove at Fort Simpson, and the Rev. W. J. Garton, whose station is Fort Rae, but who was absent most of last year owing to a visit to Winnipeg to meet his bride, who had gone out from England. Neither of them has much to say that is encouraging. Both the Slavi Indians at Fort Simpson and the Dog Rib Indians at Fort Rae are very hard to influence. It is quite different in the far north, among the Tukudh or Loucheux. These have furnished quite half of the converts in the whole diocese, whom Bishop Bompas now estimates at 4000; of these one-half (not three-fourths, as stated last year) are baptized. The Slavi and Dog Rib Indians. The Tukudh.

NORTH PACIFIC MISSION.

Metlakahtla, 1862; Kincolith, 1867; Massett, 1876; Alert Bay, 1878; Kitwanga, 1882; Aiyansh, 1883.

ANOTHER year of trial and suspense has passed over Metlakahtla, where Bishop and Mrs. Ridley have continued to watch over the loyal minority of Christian Indians. Mr. Duncan has visited England, and the Society has been in communication with him, as well as with Sir John Macdonald, the Premier of Canada, who has also been in this country. After full consideration of all the circumstances, the Committee determined to send out a deputation, to confer with the Bishop, with Mr. Duncan on the spot, with both parties of the Indians, and with both the Provincial Government at Victoria and the Dominion Government at Ottawa; and they were fortunate in securing for this purpose the willing services of General Touch, a valued member of their own body, and of the Rev. W. R. Blackett, Vicar of Holy Trinity, Nottingham, who has had important missionary experience in Calcutta. The Committee await their complete report; but it may be said here that their letters abundantly confirm the general impressions of the situation and its difficulties which have been stated in the last two or three Annual Reports.

C.M.S. Deputation to Metlakahtla.

Bishop Ridley's own Annual Letter, dated January 12th, is as follows:—

The past year has seen some mitigation of the distress and peril through which this Mission is passing. The fiery trial and persecutions have developed spiritual life, and distinguished between the tares and the wheat. There has been a great need-be for the trouble, and we cannot fairly look for an early end to it, when all the true history of the Mission is remembered. Here, at its centre, notwithstanding the incredible tyranny so long inflicted on our brave and law-abiding Indians, our numbers begin to grow. The spirit of prayer that sprang up amid our misfortunes has been steadily maintained. The persevering attention to the consecutive reading and exposition of the Gospels has edified the hearers in a marked manner.

Tares and wheat.

"We had some links—now the chain."

"We had some links," said one intelligent man when the reading of St. Matthew was complete; "now we have the chain." Another remarked at the same time, "We saw through a narrow slit; now the door is wide open, we see the whole picture!" These are results to be expected from a larger knowledge of Holy Scripture. The translations into the vernacular will make it impossible to any false teachers to impose their errors on a people who can themselves read the words of the Great Teacher.

Lack of knowledge has been their curse, which the translational and educational labours of the missionaries are lifting off them. The four Gospels and most of the Prayer Book, including its extracts from the Epistles, and some hymns, are translated into Zimshian. The Gospels of St. Matthew and St. John, some hymns and prayers, are put into Kwagutl. St. John's Gospel, and portions of the Prayer Book, and some hymns, into Nishka. Portions of the Prayer Book are being printed in Haida. These works indicate solid progress. The less important department of building extension has been satisfactory, excepting at Metlakahtla. The church and schools, rent by robbery from the Society, are still in the hands that iniquitously seized them. Consequently, the Mission is sorely straitened in this respect.

Translations.

On the Nass River, an out-station church has been built, and the foundations of a new church prepared at Kincolith. Like efforts are being made at Aiyansh. At Massett a new church is projected. The S.P.C.K. has rendered much assistance in these efforts.

Proposed new church for Kitkahtla.

The materials are ready to be shipped for a new church, in the place of that which wicked hands destroyed a short time ago. The few Native Christians are straining every nerve to set it up. Colonel Martin has interested himself in raising funds, and has collected 36*l.* towards the 150*l.* for which the Bishop makes himself responsible to the builders. He would gladly receive further help from any who know how to esteem true heroism in new converts among a furious band of Indians. The Kitkahtla Mission has shown the true metal of patient endurance under savage and prolonged persecution. The wave of disloyalty that swept up the Nass River has, so far as our Christians are concerned, subsided, and they seemed more securely knit, because more intelligently knit to our Church than at any previous time. The selfish objects of agitators are obvious to them. They are peaceable, and growing in numbers, knowledge, and unity.

On the Skeena River the delusion is still maintained; but it may be reasonably hoped that time will weaken it, and so allow our work to expand.

Training of Native youths.

The little band of youths boarding at the mission-house at Metlakahtla, and supported partly by the Society, partly by the S.P.C.K. and partly by the Bishop, are making satisfactory progress. It is the first serious effort to steadily and systematically instruct Indians, They are now in advance of all others in the diocese, and bid fair to be a seed-plot for the future pastors and teachers of Native growth.

The missionary staff has been nearly as last year; but the Rev. J. Field, late of Ceylon and formerly of the Yoruba Mission, has been added to it. It is hoped that he will occupy Hazelton. The station of Kitwinga, lower down the Skeena, has been lost, owing to the interference of the opposing party at Metlakahtla with the Indians there; and Mr. Woods has retired. From Kincolith, on the Nass, the Rev. W. H. Collison writes:—

Kincolith, Jan. 27th, 1886.

I desire to give you a short account of our trials and triumphs during the past few months.

New Mission chapel.

I am glad to be able to inform you that we have been enabled to erect a mission-chapel, some sixteen miles up the Naas river, on the site of the Spring Fishery. I have long felt the necessity for this; and as so many tribes assemble here for nearly two months every year, including large numbers of heathen, I feel that our new mission-building there will be a fishery for precious souls. Years ago, before going to Queen Charlotte's Islands, I urged both Duncan and Tomlinson to push forward the erection of such a building, but nothing was done. I promised the people that I would find the material, provided they would volunteer to put it up, and they agreed. Brother McCullagh assisted to the amount of $25, and the Bishop has promised to give the same amount. The building is fifty feet in length, by about half the breadth.

Death of a Christian Indian.

So much for necessary externals; now as to the spiritual building. The happy and triumphant departure of one of our voluntary unpaid Native teachers caused us both joy and sorrow. He partook of the Holy Communion on the Sunday preceding his death, several of his brethren being present. He died on the Tuesday, during the singing of a hymn by some friends who had gathered in for the purpose. He repeated the text, "I know that my Redeemer liveth," &c., and requested them, should he depart before the hymn was ended, to sing on to the close. Ere they concluded, his spirit had departed, to be with Christ. I had visited him early in the day, and in answer to my inquiry as to the ground of his confidence, he replied that he had no fear, as Christ was all in all to him. What a contrast to the death of another of our people shortly before this. He assaulted and struck his wife, who went to Fort Simpson and laid her complaint before the stipendiary magistrate there. The husband was sentenced to Victoria jail for a term of nine months. He had not been in prison more than two months when he committed suicide by hanging himself in his cell. I had often warned and advised him of his violent temper previously, and he had promised amendment.

A Missionary's influence.

An insidious attempt was made by several of our people to re-introduce the old system of crests at Christmas. They at first stated that it was only for amusement, and hence some were induced to join it. From the first I firmly opposed it, refusing to attend any feast where it was permitted. I endeavoured to show them that it was sinful to make an amusement of a custom which continued to bind so many of their brethren in heathen darkness. At length it was given up, and those who were the leaders expressed their repentance.

The week of prayer.

The observance of the week of prayer proved to us a season of much blessing. Every evening our church was filled, and on the last day—Sunday, the 10th instant—at the morning service I baptized three young men. In the afternoon I held a special service for women in the church, whilst the men assembled for Sunday-school in the mission-buildings; and at the evening service nearly sixty souls remained to partake of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper.

Three other adults had been baptized on the last Sunday of the old year, and amongst those were two of the small remnant of the Zitzaow tribe, of whom I wrote in a former letter. There were just twelve souls when they joined us here—of these three have died—all of whom were baptized clinically; three have been baptized lately, and the remaining six are now under instruction. They were formerly numerous, and had their villages near the head of Portland Channel, which forms a part of the boundary-line between Alaska and British Columbia. To them, as to all, how welcome the Gospel, "The Son of Man has come to seek and to save that which was lost."

Higher up the Nass is the new station of Aiyansh, which is being worked very energetically by Mr. J. B. McCullagh. Some brief extracts from his interesting Annual Letter must be given. First as regards his plan for setting his Christian Indians to evangelize their brethren:—

A Sunday preaching band.

I conceived the idea of forming a company under the leadership of two chiefs, assisted by a Native teacher, to work on Sundays among the many hundreds of heathen at the spring fishing; their manner of performing it being to walk in procession from their own place of meeting, singing hymns as they went, until they reached a group or camp of heathen Indians, where they would halt and hold a short service, and so on until they should have visited as many camps as possible during the afternoon. I believe they did their work faithfully and well, finding much favour in the eyes of their heathen brethren, and much opposition from other Christians. During the spring I received a letter from the teacher Stephen, in which he says, "We have done our works on Sunday, this week and last two weeks. All our people from Aiyansh they strong hearts, and I am very glad to them, because I saw they good works before God. Now I sent my love to you."

This little band of "strong hearts" has been scattered far and wide during the summer months, but Abraham always puts on his badge on Sundays, and holds service wherever he goes. It was he who said before going off to the spring fishing, "We have not much knowledge; we may not be able to show a great light; but if we can only strike a match in the darkness it may show the way (path) of salvation to one of (among) the lost."

Then regarding the recent accession to the little band of Christians of two men, one of them named Muguiliksqu. A very remarkable prayer of this man's is quoted by Mr. McCullagh:—

The former is heir to the chieftainship of the Gitlakdamuks, and great efforts were made on the part of his tribe to induce him to return. They offered him gifts and dollars (100 dollars); visited him in canoes decorated with bunting; spread eagles' feathers upon his head; made feasts in his honour; flattered, scolded, and threatened, but all to no purpose; Muguiliksqu remained steadfast. Both are very superior Indians, and it will greatly rejoice me should I be permitted to see them grafted into the body of Christ's Church. I was so struck by Muguiliksqu's first prayer at one of our prayer meetings, that I made a note of it the same evening. It shall speak for itself:—

Conversion and steadfastness.

An Indian's Prayer.

"O Almighty Chief on high, I humbly cast myself down before Thee. Have mercy on me! Only Thou, O Chief, art merciful. I heard where Thou hast promised out of Thy Word. Be merciful to me, O Chief. I hear Thou sittest in light, but I have sat the length of my life among the darknesses. Good Chief, if Thou wilt lighten my darkness, send down Thy Spirit into my heart, that He may lead me to where I may rest. I ask this because Thou art Jesus Christ."

A glimpse of evangelistic work may be added:—

The Gitlakdamuks (men-upon-the-pool) are the particular tribe with which I have to do. I began my work last winter among them by holding services as usual in one particular house. My congregations were generally very small, and on one occasion I had none. Upon inquiring as to the reason of this, I was told the chiefs had made a "new law" forbidding any person to attend Christian services. I thereupon went from house to house, holding a short service in each, at the conclusion of which I found I had preached that day to a very large congregation, about six times the usual number, so that their new law turned to my purpose, and will also turn, let us hope, to their advantage: for it is a law to which I shall adhere while among the Indians.

A prohibition and its result.

On another occasion I came to a house where they were making medicine-men. My people would have dissuaded me from entering, but I thought it would be a pity to pass by so large a congregation already assembled, and so went in and sat down. The yelling and tom-toming was quite deafening; now and again a lull was reached in the performance, when one of the number was left to sing solo. This he did as if enduring great agony, always ending with the words, "Go away! Go away!" in English. Of course I did not go. Presently there was a pause, of which I quickly took advantage to stand up and speak, taking them, as it were, in the flank, for they only paused a moment, that they might come down on their tom-toms all together. They did not attempt to interrupt me, but sat, as it were, in a state of suspension and surprise, listening, it seemed almost unconsciously, while the truths of the Gospel flashed in upon them through the darkness. Some at length began to be ashamed, some sullen, and others angry; but I had said what I wanted to say, and departed before they could recover themselves.

"Go away! Go away!"

For a long time after this I sought to find "Go away," as he is now generally called, but he always hid himself. However, one Sunday afternoon, I found him sitting alone in his house, by the fire; and, sitting down by his side, I talked long and earnestly to him, seeking to fix the all-important truth upon the words "Go away," which I was sure he would never forget.

Mr. McCullagh has sent home his first Nishkah translations, St. John's Gospel, and parts of the Prayer-book.

Nishkah translation.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE'S ISLANDS: HYDAH MISSION.

The Rev. C. Harrison reports from Massett as follows, in a letter dated September 8th, 1885:—

This winter I have written a Manual in Hydah on the Old

Hydah translation.

Testament characters. I have also ready a translation of the Morning and Evening Service with part of the Communion Service, and hope that they will be in print in time for the coming winter. I have used the service for the morning and evening prayers during the past six months, and all the people are acquainted with it.

Church Council.

This winter I have formed a Church Council, which I am thankful to say has been the means of greatly improving the people. The object of the council is to encourage brotherly love amongst the baptized; to encourage all Indians to attend church, and to give up Sunday work; to settle disputes; and to arrange for services to be held in the village. Above all the other objects, it is to encourage the baptized to meet together for prayer.

Since the council has been formed I have got the Indians to subscribe towards erecting a large house for the use of strangers, also to be used as the village feast and play-house. They generously subscribed $40, and got all the scantling, also the foundation lumber, by going twenty miles south by canoes to cut down trees and chop them to their proper shape and size with axes. At the present time the members of the council are engaged erecting it.

The people like to have something to do, and as the council has given all the baptized men certain offices to fulfil, they are all exceedingly pleased. I have endeavoured to make our small building look as much like an English church as possible under the circumstances.

Baptism of three chiefs.

Three of the adults baptized this winter are great and mighty chiefs. One of them is named Edenshaw, and he confesses to have done everything that was wicked, even to murder. He is now seventy years of age, and the most influential chief that we have at Massett. Two weeks after he was baptized he gathered his people together and made a splendid road to the church, which in appearance is like a carriage drive.

Marked progress.

On the whole, the work here has been very encouraging during the past year, so that at the present time our place of worship is much too small to accommodate our people. Last winter many of them were compelled to return home, being unable to gain admission. There are already seventy-eight baptized and eighty catechumens. I have good reason to think that not long hence the whole Massett settlement will become Christians, if seasonable help can be obtained. It is most gratifying to know that our Indians have increased since the purity of their home-life has improved.

VANCOUVER'S ISLAND: KWA-GUTL MISSION.

The Rev. A. J. Hall reports:—

"Potlatching."

I cannot report the progress I could desire. The heathen party has been strengthened by an attempt of the Government to suppress the "potlatching," which has proved abortive. A law has been passed making this system illegal, and the Natives were expecting to be compelled to discontinue it; the minority were right glad at the prospect of being freed from its bondage. However, the traders south of us, who make gain by this system, used their influence, and an Indian summoned for "potlatching" was acquitted. This news has spread through all the tribes and has proved for a time a triumph of heathenism.

We had good congregations until the winter dances commenced, when no one was allowed to attend school or church. However trying this is for me to record and you to receive, I am satisfied it is but for a time.

One lad when compelled to wear the red bark turban (the sign of heathenism) threw it on the fire and burst into tears. Great effort was made to induce our boarders to join them, but three lads desired to confess Christ and were baptized the first Sunday in this year. During the service the naked medicine-man was running about outside, followed by many whistling and shouting. We prefer this opposition to indifference. Baptism of three boys.

Mr. Price is quickly learning the language, and has now taken charge of the day-school.

By the last steamer we received a case containing 500 copies of St. John's Gospel, for which we sincerely thank the Committee and the Bible Society.

MADRAS.

The Rev. W. T. Satthianadhan, who forwards report and statistics, writes as follows:—

Mr. A. Nallatambi, who has been working as an evangelist on this Fund for the past five years, continues to labour zealously in carrying the Gospel to the teeming population of this city. With rare exceptions his message is received with much attention and interest.

His report closes in words like the following:—"In declaring the message of salvation to the thousands in this large city, I find that though some people reject the message from pride of intellect and besotted ignorance, many not only listen to it with interest, but often evince a desire to accept Christ. The god of this world interposes a great barrier; and yet as darkness flies before light, so the darkness of heathenism and superstition shall fly away before the great light of God's truth. May that time speedily arrive when all shall praise the name of Jesus!"

The Committee have very kindly sanctioned an additional grant for the employment of a second catechist from the commencement of this year, with a view to further the work of evangelization in the Palaveram and Mount Mission District.

TINNEVELLY.

Very copious reports have been received from the catechists employed in this Mission. To print them would occupy a small volume. A few extracts only can be given.

Palamcotta.

Catechist Y. Surkunen writes :—

I was appointed as Jones Fund catechist, from July till December, to preach the Word of God amongst the heathen in thirty villages. Five souls newly joined our congregation, and are to this day faithful to their profession. A young man at I——, of the Pandara caste, says he is very desirous to embrace Christianity. He has already received our books, and seems to be truly convinced of the folly of idolatry; but as he is under the control of the head of the family, he is afraid as yet to confess the truth. The portions of Scripture and tracts he received from me were taken from him, and he was told, with threats, not to receive any more Christian books from me; but, to my joy, the young man is still privately reading our books and encouraging other people to embrace Christianity, the only religion that can save their souls. I learnt this from other heathens in his village. A Maravan, while I was preaching, came out of his house and read aloud one of our Christian books, called The Birds released from Bondage, and explained the meaning of the book to the crowd. This greatly rejoiced me, because, a heathen, he still seemed to understand the truth of Christianity.

Dohnavur.

(1) Nallamuttu, of Puthukudy, has thirty villages to visit. He shows that within this year forty-five converts have placed themselves under Christian instruction.

(2) Parenjothi, of South Dohnavur, has seventy hamlets to visit. He does not appear to be very diligent in his work. He was, therefore, admonished.

(3) Gnanayutham, of Kaduvetti, has twenty villages to visit. He seems to work fairly.

(4) David, catechist of Kalungadi, has twenty-five villages. Many say they are coming over, but as yet hold back.

(5) Andrew, of Nazareth, has sixty-seven hamlets to visit. About seventy-five souls have embraced Christianity at Valliammeipuram, and five at Thalavapuram.

(6) M. Masillamani, of Authichaperi, has thirty-eight villages to visit. Seven or eight relapsed Christian families promise to return and to renounce idolatry.

Panneivilei.

Pakianathen, catechist of Yerel, says that sixty-four heathen, with whom he has had to deal in his daily preaching, have placed themselves under Christian instruction. They are regular in attending the church, and are taught in the knowledge of the one true God and His Son Jesus Christ. Seven Romanists also have given up their erroneous notions, and have joined our Church.

Masillamany mentions that ten souls have renounced idol-worship, and openly serve the living and true God.

Nallur.

Speaking generally of the agents' work during the year, there is reason for encouragement. It is evident that, amidst various discouragements, the leaven of the Kingdom of Heaven which has been cast into the hearts of men during the year and in the years past is operating daily, though unnoticed by the human eye. Some, indeed, have openly professed Christ. Daniel reports 23 new comers; Christian, 6; Joseph, 26; Moses, 11; Arulappa Pilly, 4; making a total of seventy people who have renounced idolatry and have placed themselves under religious instruction. Several of those reported last year have been admitted into the Church of Christ by baptism.

Mengnanapuram.

Gnanakan Samuel spoke to 5575 persons, and was the means of adding twenty-five souls to the Church. He says that for the most part the heathen eagerly hear of the love of the Saviour, and the salvation wrought by Him for sinners.

The catechist of Santhapuram visited 370 villages, spoke to 4574 persons, and was the means of gathering in twenty-two souls. He is thankful that the Lord Jesus still brings into His fold "other sheep that he has;" and he sums up his experience as follows:—(1) The heathen in general are become acquainted with the fundamental truths of Christianity; (2) Objections are few, and Christianity is approved by all as a good religion; (3) Many are deterred from professing it by their unwillingness to forsake their relatives and social customs; (4) Others have their hearts touched by the Holy Spirit, disregard the sacrifice they have to make for Christ, and are led by Him to make an open profession of their faith.

Summary of work in Tinnevelly:—

Palamcotta.—Nine catechists; preachings, 1638.

Dohnavur.—Six catechists; villages visited, 2134; hearers, 37,768.

Surandei.—Seven catechists; villages visited, 2603; hearers, 60,275.

Panneivilei.—Seven catechists; hearers, about 55,700.

Nallur.—Nine catechists; villages visited, 329; number of visits, 2365; hearers, 36,000.

Suviseshapuram,—Seven catechists; hearers, 57,400.

In all these places Christian books and tracts were sold, in number about 20,000.

TELUGU MISSION.

The Rev. M. Ratnam, Chairman of the Masulipatam Church Council, has sent with the statistics the following:—

Four agents were employed on this fund, whose salaries ranged from Rs. 7 to Rs. 11 per annum. They were all men of energy, earnestness, and piety, most devoted to their work. They can number 15,000 hearers in all.

The seed sown will, it is hoped, spring up in God's own time, and yield abundant fruit to the praise and glory of His holy Name. As the Native contributions amounted to Rs. 901: 10: 9 against Rs. 690: 9: 6 of the previous year, the Council will feel extremely thankful for a grant to enable us to employ another agent to work in the Avinyadda subdivision of the Bandar Taluk, comprising 265 square miles, with a population of 31,616, hitherto much neglected for want of funds. I itinerated in this division, and found the people well disposed to listen to the sound of the Gospel.

For Statement of this Fund, see pp. 264-5.

REPORT OF THE WILLIAM CHARLES JONES CHINA AND JAPAN NATIVE CHURCH AND MISSION FUND.

THERE are no Missions of the Church Missionary Society where the gift of the late Mr. W. C. Jones is more valued than in China and Japan.

The object of the Fund in these Missions differs somewhat from that of the William Charles Jones Indian Fund; as in this case it comprehends (1) the training and preparation of Native pastors and catechists, and medical missionaries, male and female; (2) the support of Native agency; (3) the internal development of Native churches; and (4) the promotion of missionary effort on the part of such churches.

The following is a list of the grants made by the Committee during the past year:—

For a hospital in Hong Kong, and towards cost of instruments and drugs supplied to Dr. Horder (object No. 1) . . £350*
Training medical students at Fuh Ning, not exceeding (object No. 1) $300 Expenses of hospital at Fuh Ning (object No. 1) . . . $600

CHINA.

Dr. Van Someren Taylor reports respecting the special branch of his work:—

My dispensary work shows a marked improvement, not so much in the number of patients as in the nature of the cases that presented themselves for treatment. I feel that the people now have confidence in me, and that they are conscious that they improve under treatment. I am getting known in the surrounding districts, many patients coming two or three days' journey to be cured. They are losing the foolish notions that they had about me and my work. Also I am reaching the upper classes of the city.

But the hospital work is really the most effective, both as a Mission and as a medical agency, and the great increase in the number of in-patients, shows how much the people around are beginning to appreciate this department of my work. Most of the in-patients come from a distance, chiefly from Foo-Nang and Foo-Ting, and from even as far North as Pin-Yong, in the Wen-Chow prefecture.

My time has been chiefly occupied during the year with purchase and erection of a new hospital, students' residence, and the alteration of a house as a residence for myself. The William Charles Jones Fund granted me $2000 for the hospital, dispensary, and students' residence, and the Society $2000 for a residence for myself. There was a piece of ground situated in the north-west corner of the city containing two houses, and this I endeavoured to purchase. One of these houses I intended to fit up as a hospital; the other as a residence for myself, whilst on the vacant ground around the houses I intended to erect a dispensary and students' residence. But unfortunately they belong to different owners, and after I had procured the more important house with the ground around, the owner of the other house refused to sell except at a fancy price. There was nothing left for me to do but to erect both hospital, dispensary, and students' residence on the vacant ground, and this I have done, though it has rather cramped us and has necessitated a smaller hospital than I had hoped to have under my care. I have hopes that as the work extends that we may in time secure this property next door. We really require it.

The little hospital consists of five wards, capable of holding thirty beds, but at a press forty patients could easily be put up in it. The dispensary and students' residence (one building) consists of a large waiting-room, consulting, operating, and medicine rooms; room for patients after operation, holding two beds; ward for paying patients, three beds; senior students' room; passage; three students' rooms; dining-room; study or lecture-room.

It only remains for me now to mention the students. I began the Chinese New Year with seven; I now have five. My senior student who has been with me seven years, intends next year to leave me. The next student who now becomes senior has been with me over three years.

I have to thank the William Charles Jones Fund for granting me $350, and also to express my indebtedness to the Rev. J. Martin for his kindness in assisting me in operations.

Dr. D. Main has sent home an interesting report of the work and patients at the Hang Chow hospital.* Of the students he reports:—

During the year fourteen have been under training and a good deal of my time has been devoted to instructing them. I consider this department of my work the most urgent and indispensable. An efficient Native Medical Mission Agency is much wanted in China. The amount of good that such an agency could do is very great, not only in paving the way for the Gospel, but also in the relief of human suffering. Such an agency seems to me to be specially needed in

* See a cut of it in the C.M. Gleaner for November, 1885.

China, where elementary Western medicine is almost unknown, and where it only requires a sedan chair and a few dollars to become a member of the faculty.

For several months of the year Bishop Moule lectured to the students three times a week, on the Evidences of Christianity and Epistle to the Romans, &c.

We endeavour to meet the needs of the soul as well as those of the body; with weapons of Gospel and steel we fight against sin and sickness, and daily try to impress upon our patients that the salvation of the soul is of more importance than that of the body. The out-patients have the glad tidings preached to them before they enter the consulting-room, and with in-patients a short service is held morning and evening, consisting of singing, a short address and prayer. During the year we have had much encouragement, and higher satisfaction than that derived from relieving human suffering. A few patients professed faith in Jesus Christ, and some of them we trust are really hopefully converted, not only "from idols" but "to serve the living and true God." Our work has taken root, and its influence is being felt not only in the city but all over the province. The practical aspect of it commends itself to the Chinese; who do not naturally apprehend the value of Eternal Life, but the blessing of bodily healing they do not fail to appreciate, and thus opportunities are afforded us of preaching the Gospel to them. Practical sympathy with human suffering undoubtedly removes prejudice, breaks down barriers of superstition and bigotry, and proves the key to unlock doors long bolted and nailed up against the Truth, and gives the medical missionary an entrance into hearts and homes otherwise closed to human agency.

JAPAN.

The report of the Osaka Theological College has been received. Mr. Pole describes the staff, the studies, and the students. He writes the following paragraph specially for the Committee of the William Charles Jones Fund:—

Your buildings are all in good and thorough repair. The disastrous flood of July last caused no serious damage whatever to any portion of the compound. The breaking of a few windows by the dynamite explosions was really all the damage directly attributable to that calamity. The following extract from a memo. in the visitors' book will be interesting to you as the opinion of one who owns much property in Hong Kong, and has had a long experience connected with the erection of buildings there:—"I am astonished that such buildings, so well proportioned, substantial, and admirably adapted to the purpose, have been constructed in so finished a style, at a cost of under £2000. Similar premises could not be obtained in Hong Kong for twice the sum."

For Statement of this Fund, see pp. 264-5.

REPORT OF THE WALTER JONES FUND.

THE total sum granted during the year out of this fund was 1050*l*. Last year it was only 785*l*., but the increase is apparent only, as balances were owing at the close of March, 1885, to several Missions, which since have been drawn. The appropriation is as follows:—

1884-5.—	North India	170
	Panjab	100
	South India	170
	Travancore and Cochin	30
1885-6.—	Niger	175
	Palestine	120
	North India	85
	Panjab	50
	South India	80
	Travancore	20
	Mauritius	50
		£1050

It does not appear that any special reports from agents paid from the Walter Jones Fund have been received this year. The selection of agents is in the hands of local missionaries and local committees; but though no special mention may be made of any particular agent, the copious and in some cases voluminous reports received at the C.M. House of the work done at various stations, must necessarily comprehend those of the Walter Jones men. Take the following report of the catechist at Adjudya, Fyzabad, where there is a Walter Jones Fund agent. He writes:—

Two great melas take place annually at Ajudya. The first is held at the end of March. The other takes place in October. There are besides many smaller melas, in all of which the Gospel is preached.

At the last spring mela the Rev. F. E. Walton, the pastor, Rev. F. Abel, and the brethren, J. Chattri, J. Williams, and Lazarus came to Ajudya to help me. After prayer we went into the mela, and first sang a bhajan to the praise of our Lord. After which, many men and women having congregated, a brother would read a chapter of a Gospel, and then preach. In the same manner did all of our party. At this time Christ was continually praised, i.e. we explained how the Lord Jesus left His throne in glory to save all sinners. After we had preached these and other glorious truths, a woman and several men spoke up and said, "We also will believe in the Lord Jesus Christ, but we regret that we live so far from here. We wish, however, to make you a present of a little money before we go, for preaching to us such things." I explained that freely we had received, so we freely give, and hope for nothing again.

On one occasion Mr. Walton went with us to visit a famous Vedantist. He was very friendly, and asked many questions about Christianity, for he possessed a Bible which he is in the habit of reading. At the end of the interview he presented us with fruit and sweetmeats, and said, "I acknowledge that the Bible is the Word of God, and I also worship Christ."

We have also been permitted to scatter the seed of eternal life broadcast in the villages and small towns of the district. Thousands of men and women have heard the plan of salvation expounded. It now remains for the Lord of the Harvest to pour out His Spirit, that the seed may take root, and springing forth may bear fruit, some forty, some sixty, and some a hundredfold.

NIGER.

Archdeacon Hamilton writes :—

I have to state for the information of the Henry Venn Fund Committee, that Bishop Crowther requested that the grant might be applied to the payment of the tutor at the Lokoja Training Institution. As regards extension, though there is plenty of room, and also many calls, the men are not forthcoming.

NORTH INDIA.

The Rev. W. Seetal sends the following interesting report of work done by two of the agents in Agra and Aligarh :—

During the cold months (January, February, March, September, October, November, and December) they preached regularly and systematically in the Agra and the Aligarh districts. Always, before they go out, our missionary, the Rev. C. G. Daeuble, points out to them from a map what villages they are to visit. The whole work is so arranged that they and the other Mission preachers within three or four years visit all the villages in the district.

Our preachers when they go out, generally stay two or three days at some large village, and from there visit all the neighbouring villages around. Then they march on to some other large village, preaching in all those hamlets and villages that lie along their line of march. Thus they generally preach the tidings of salvation to not less than three hundred villages during the six or seven months that they are out.

During the hot weather they preached in different quarters of the city, both morning and evening regularly.

Our Agra Christians are sincerely thankful for the kind aid we received from the fund under your disposal, and we earnestly hope that you will kindly allow us the usual grant for the current year.

Mr. G. E. Knox, the Treasurer of the North-West Provinces Native Church Council, forwards the following report of the preachers :—

In Agra two preachers, by name Nanah Chand and Karim Ullah, have been supported from the funds set apart for evangelization of the heathen by the Native Church. The grant from the Henry Venn Fund forms the nucleus for this fund. The Native congregation, however, contribute regularly, and the sum raised by them in 1885, independently of all other sums collected from the Native Church, amounted to Rs. 65.

The preachers worked during the whole year under the direct superintendence of the Rev. C. G. Daeuble. During the early months of the year they went from village to village in company with Mr. Daeuble. In the hot weather they worked in the city itself.

Allahabad.—The Church Committee here have been compelled to wait and husband their funds until a suitable man could be found for carrying on the work. The congregation added during the year Rs. 46: 3 to the liberal grant they received out of the Henry Venn Fund. It was partly under my advice that they resolved not to entertain an inferior preacher, but to search until a man could be secured who could be trusted to work from real love for Christ. Prayer was offered frequently that a fitting agent would be raised up, and just as the year was closing, there arrived unexpectedly in the village one James Williams. He was a retired emigrant from Demerara, and came with testimonials of good work done there for the Lord. He has been engaged in preaching, and his work has been concentrated on the villages in the immediate vicinity of Muirabad. There are a large number of villages within sight of the Native Church and within sound of its bells who must hear much about Christianity, but in whose lanes the preaching of Christ regularly and systematically is a new thing. The Church Committee have enjoined on James Williams that he should take a small number of these, be incessantly in them, and take every opportunity of entering into conversation with any whom he can assist. He has been asked not only to speak, but also to do his utmost to invite villagers to the church services, their children to the schools, and to press invitations to the Native pastors in Muirabad upon all who would know more about Christianity. He is working with energy, and we trust his work will be much blessed. He seems to be unusually well fitted for his work.

The Rev. W. Latham writes as follows as regards Lucknow:—

We have two men working as evangelists, who are paid from the Henry Venn Fund, which has greatly strengthened our hands. One catechist works along with the other C.M.S. catechists, and goes with them for bazaar preaching to all the appointed places on the appointed days of the week, and with the Native pastor twice a week. It is intended to send him out during the present cold season to the villages when the missionaries go out itinerating with their staff. The other man was engaged by us last year as a colporteur. He sells books and magazines at the railway stall opened at the station platform before and after the arrival and departure of trains; and copies of Urdu and Hindustani (Hindee) tracts and Scriptures to the Native passengers in the waiting-hall. On occasions of large melas taking place, such as the "Mahábeeron Viá Melá," he has been selling a number of tracts and copies of the Scriptures in Urdu and Hindee.

SOUTH INDIA.

The Chairman of the Ellore Church Council reports that in connection with the Evangelistic Agency subsidized by a grant from this fund, the Committee of Management fixed on a town called Chintalapudi, thirty miles from Ellore, as the first place to begin operations. An agent is appointed evangelist to work in the villages round, and to preach the Gospel.

The results have been fairly favourable. The Gospel has been regularly preached in the town and country around. Before the Agency was established, all was dark. We may say "the true light now shineth," and God has blessed it. In Chintalapudi town relatives of some of our Christians were found by the evangelist. They were soon brought to obey the Gospel, and two families are now Christians, and the heads of both are communicants and steady Christians. Another family has lately joined us. These are all Malas; a school has been established for their children, and very lately the chucklers of the place have evinced a desire to place their children under instruction.

In Tinnevelly the grant was distributed among agents working in Palamcotta, Mengnanapuram, Suviseshapuram, Dohnavur, Pannivilei, Pannikullem, Nallur, and also in South Tinnevelly. No special report of the work of the agents has been received, but it will be seen from the above list of districts that the workmen are scattered over a wide field.

TRAVANCORE.

Bishop Speechly writes in respect to the grants for Travancore:—

The grants from the Henry Venn Fund have been used for the benefit of the children of converts from the Pulaya caste.

Cottayam had an extra sum this year to help it in building a prayer-house for these people, and Arpakkara had an extra sum also to help in repairing a church in which these converts are the majority of the congregation. These people are from the lowest in the social scale. I found their condition as Christians very unsatisfactory. To get their children to school was found to be a difficult matter.

What should be the outcome of this care for the education of the children of these people? It should be one force amongst others for their improvement in knowledge, and in the conception of their privileges and responsibilities as Christians. In this growth they will become the best witness for Christ, and no evangelistic agency will be needed amongst the Pulayas. The Christians themselves will evangelize, and bring converts in by word and by the power of a higher Christian life, so that the grant used as we are doing, not only helps to educate the children of the once down-trodden slaves of Travancore, but also to raise them in the Christian life.

The use then we make of the grant seems an appropriate one in memoriam of Henry Venn, who cared so much for the slave.

CEYLON.

The Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin reports in reference to the work carried on by the grant to this fund as follows:—

The catechist at Anganipitiya, who is supported mainly by the grant from the Henry Venn Fund, says that last year there were four candidates for baptism, but owing to persecution and temptation they have gone back, and at present only one, a youth in the school, is under instruction for that rite. Of inquirers he says that there were several, but worldly considerations had prevailed.

There is one man who has begun to read our books, and says he is anxious to find the true religion. He also comes to the catechist's house to hear the Word of God explained. This young man is a native of Ratnapura, and was for some time in a Buddist pausala, but left it in search of the Truth.

At Nambapana there is a mixed school for girls and boys, the only little light in a densely dark, benighted population, and I wish to do more for the people, and the thousands who pass through their villages on pilgrimages.

MAURITIUS.

The Rev. H. D. Buswell writes :—

The grant from the Henry Venn Fund, together with the contributions of the Native Christians towards the support of their pastor, are paid into the hands of a treasurer. Four pastorates are thus aided by the grant, and a fifth will, I trust, be arranged for.

We are far from being satisfied with the measure of support given to the Pastorate Fund by the Native Christians themselves. Progress, however, is real, though slow. We are trying to educate them in the matter of supporting their own pastors.

REPORT OF THE FRANCES RIDLEY HAVERGAL MEMORIAL FUND.

THE proceeds of this Fund are divided between two objects: (1) the translation into the languages of India of Miss Havergal's books, and (2) the employment of Native Bible-women as village evangelists.

Under the first of these divisions the Committee have granted Rs. 200 for the translation of My King into Singhalese. This work will be undertaken by the Rev. S. Coles. A like sum has been granted for the production of another work in Marathi. Similar grants have been sanctioned respectively for the translation into Guzerati of My King, Royal Bounty, and Royal Invitation, and grants made to the Madras Corresponding Committee to enable them to bring out translations of My King, Marriage Bells, and Royal Invitations in Tamil. Besides this the translation of Royal Commands has been sanctioned into Telugu, and of Royal Invitations into Malayalim, which latter is undertaken by the Rev. A. F. Painter. All the above works are now in hand, and some of them may soon be expected to be at press. The Madras Secretary writes that with the works to be translated into Tamil mentioned above, the whole of the Havergal works intended to be translated into that language will be completed. He mentions that second editions of some of them may soon be required, and adds that the books are sold under cost price to the people.

Under the second head five Bible-women are employed as follows: one in Western India, one at Jabalpur, one at Jhandiala, one at Masulipatam, and one under the superintendence of Miss Clay of the Church of England Zenana Society.

The Bible-woman employed in Aurangabad (Western India), who has been supported by the Havergal Fund since 1881, is named Tarabai Cornelius. She receives Rs. 13 per mensem. She is superintended by the Rev. R. Nowroji. Besides visiting she speaks at gatherings of women. She says:—

During this month we could only preach to about sixty women; Mohurrum and Derali festivals prevented us much. The zeal and earnestness the Mohammedans and Hindus manifest in the observance of their false religion often reproach our coldheartedness in following our true one.

During one month we had the opportunity of preaching to about 100 women; and it is our earnest desire that the Lord will give us more grace to do His work with still greater zeal and vigour. We must acknowledge that our spirits are damped to see the cold reception the Gospel meets, but we believe that God will bring our work to fruition in His own good time.

Mrs. Ellwood reports of the work of the Havergal Fund agent at Jabalpur as follows:—

Jane, wife of the late Andrew Moonshi, is still employed as Bible-woman in connection with the Fund, and is a woman in every way most suitable for the work. I always feel that the worker in connection with this particular fund should, if possible, be a Christian of a very high standard, inasmuch as she in whose memory the fund is raised was a Christian of no ordinary type. Last year Jane was called upon to pass through a heavy affliction in the loss of her husband, who had been employed by the C.M.S. as a catechist for upwards of twenty-five years. He was a true follower of his Saviour, and very highly respected by the heathen as well as the Christians, as was seen by the numbers who came to sympathize with Jane in her grief. She visits both Hindus and Mohammedans of the poorest classes. They all look forward most anxiously to her daily visits, and will sit for hours listening to her reading and explaining the Scriptures without any appearance of weariness. The other day I was particularly pleased to hear so many women repeat bhajans, or Christian hymns. If they can only get their minds richly stored with hymns and texts in times of sickness, and also during the hours of labour and toil, they will, we hope, tend to raise their hearts above the world and lead them to better thoughts. In two houses the women knelt down with us and repeated the Lord's Prayer before commencing the Bible lesson. This is a great step in advance for them; as a rule they are too bigoted to engage in prayer with us. One little woman I have great hopes of. She is most anxious to know the truth, and so is her husband. She tells him each day what she has heard, and he repeats what he has read. He is always reading religious books, and thus they converse quietly when alone.

In another house a daughter-in-law is reading the New Testament. About two years ago, when living with her mother and father, the girl seemed so bright and happy. Then came her marriage, followed by the death of both mother and father, and her removal to her father-in-law's house, where she has to work very hard. Poor girl! she seems years older since her parents' death, and still I daresay she is not unhappy in her way.

Then there is a nice old woman who was most anxious to learn to read. Jane taught her, and I am really astonished at the progress she has made and in so short a time.

One day, whilst sitting in a house and singing bhajans, word was sent from another house asking if I would go there. I went, and to my astonishment found a Native Christian guard, who had only just come to the station. He had been a Christian only twelve months, and, sad to say, his wife is still a Mohammedan. He is most anxious for her conversion, and asked if we would go and teach her. Of course we gladly promised, but she is an invalid at present, and will not be able to read for the next few weeks. I do trust she may soon be brought into the fold, and would ask your earnest prayers on her behalf. She is to come and live in the Mission compound, where, we trust, with Christian influences around her, her heart may be softened, and the Word blessed to her soul. She lost a little girl a few weeks ago. The elder child is to be baptized at once. Much more might be written, but this will suffice to show what is being done by an earnest worker in the Lord's vineyard.

For Statement of this Fund, see pp. 262-3.

REPORT ON HOME OPERATIONS.

THREE prominent characteristics have marked during the past year the Home operations of the Society. There has been: (1) A wider diffusion of the spirit of prayer for Missions; (2) Steps have been taken, chiefly in London, for drawing missionary workers into closer fellowship; and (3) Effective impulse has been given, also chiefly in London, to efforts for spreading missionary information and interest, and for collecting funds. The new departures can be best reviewed by calling attention first to those which it is hoped will be grafted permanently upon the Society's organization, and secondly to some special efforts which will be long remembered.

1. The Thursday Prayer Meeting, to which allusion has been made in the General Review, is happily being imitated. Some friends in Bath have commenced a meeting of similar aim, to be held on the same day and at the same hour, and a lady in Torquay has started "a C.M.S Invalids' Sunday afternoon Prayer Union," with cards of membership and a plan to pass the Church Missionary Intelligencer round among the members, and to pray for the work and the workers on Sunday afternoons.

2. No problem of greater difficulty has ever presented itself to the Committee than how to extend a missionary spirit among Christian people in the metropolis. The plan which seems most hopeful is the attempt to influence separately classes of its vast population rather than that population as a whole. This is the central thought which has stimulated the formation of three London Church Missionary Unions instead of a Missionary Union for the whole of London.

Lay Workers' Union.

The "C.M.S. LAY WORKERS' UNION FOR LONDON" sprang from a Conference of young men already working for the Missionary cause in their Sunday-schools and in other ways, held at the C.M. House on February 20th, 1882. Its Committee is comprised chiefly of laymen, mostly young men. The members, of whom 358 have been enrolled, may be said to have two duties, (1) to take in, (2) to give out. The first duty, "taking-in," they fulfil by attending the monthly meetings of the Union in Salisbury Square, also by reading the publications of the Society, and borrowing books, maps, &c., from its library. The second duty, "giving out," they fulfil by using the information they thus gather to interest others in the work, particularly by organizing and instructing Juvenile Associations, giving missionary lessons and addresses in Sunday-schools, &c.

To illustrate the "giving out," it may be mentioned that it is now customary to give Half-yearly Simultaneous Addresses in at least three districts of London, Islington, Paddington, and South London. Nearly seventy addresses were given on Sunday, May 30th, 1886, mostly by members of the Union. Members are also being asked to attend meetings out of London, and thus a band of voluntary lay speakers for the missionary cause is being gradually raised up.

To illustrate the "taking in," a list is added of the monthly meetings of the season 1885-6.

1885.
Oct. 5th.—Annual Meeting.
Nov. 2nd.—Address by R. N. Cust, Esq., on "An Indian Civilian's View of India Missions."
Nov. 30th.—Day of Intercession. Devotional Meeting.
Dec. 15th.—Address by the Bishop of Athabasca.
1886.
Jan. 11th.—Addresses for Criticism by Mr. F. G. Toase, on "Nyanza," and Mr. D. W. Brown, on "New Zealand."
Feb. 22nd.—Rev. A. Elwin. Subject, "Mid-China."
March 16th.—Address by General F. T. Haig, on the "Arabia Mission."
April 5th.—Address by the Rev. A. W. Baumann, North India.
May 17th.—Discussion, "The object of Missions: the Conversion of the World? or, the Gospel to be preached as a Witness?" Opened by the Rev. J. B. Whiting.

Besides these gatherings, which have been largely attended (by from 60 to 100 young men), there have been classes during the winter, for systematic missionary instruction. At these classes, courses of lectures have been given on Japan, the Punjab, North-West America, the hill tribes of India, Mid-China, and Missions to Mohammedans,—the programme being from time to time varied by a "model lesson," or by a "training lesson to children," or by a topic for discussion (see programme, May 17th).

Two important developments of the work of the Union deserve notice. (1) Through its origination, three large gatherings respectively of the Medical, the London Banks', and the Civil Service Prayer Unions took place at the C.M. House, and (2) two stirring gatherings of Sunday-school teachers have been held, from South London and Paddington respectively. The average attendance upon all these occasions was about 150, and it cannot be doubted, from the interest shown, that many fresh circles of influence have been created.

Encouraging as have been the results of the Lay Workers' Union, yet for none do the Committee give more heartfelt thanks to God than for the fact that several of its members have been led to offer themselves for service in the foreign field. Sixteen have already offered themselves to the Society. Of this number nine have been accepted, a proportion much above the average. Those named below have already gone out, and the remainder have been accepted for training at the Society's Institution: Mr. J. Burness (Niger), Rev. T. Walker (Tinnevelly), Dr. S. W.

Sutton (Quetta), Dr. H. M. Sutton (Baghdad), Mr. E. Luckock (Seychelles). In addition to these, Mr. W. G. Stocken has gone to the Diocese of Saskatchewan to work as a schoolmaster alongside the C.M.S. Mission, though not in direct connection with it; and Mr. Heal has gone out under the China Inland Mission.

Offshoots and imitations of the Lay Workers' Union may be mentioned. One of these is to be found at St. James's, Holloway, the Rev. E. A. Stuart's parish. A number of the members who belong to that parish have formed themselves into a little private society of their own for mutual missionary instruction and united prayer. They call themselves "The Mpwapwas." Their rules provide that "only those having an interest in missionary work" shall be "accepted as members," and that each member is "bound to give a missionary address before the Mpwapwas when called upon."

Country Lay Workers' Unions.

Throughout the country we hope that the example of London will be followed; already in a few places Lay Workers' Missionary Unions have been formed much upon the same lines as that in London. The Ipswich Men's C.M. Union, one of the earliest, is the result of a "Missionary Mission" held there in September, by the Rev. J. B. Whiting, and recently Liverpool, York, and Hull have held meetings of young men to inaugurate unions.

Ladies' C.M. Union for London.

The "LADIES' CHURCH MISSIONARY UNION FOR LONDON" is the outcome of three largely-attended conferences of ladies held at Salisbury Square in the spring and summer of 1885, and of the deliberations of a committee of ladies appointed to consider the details. The progress that has been made is remarkable. Already 620 members have been enrolled; 14 hon. district secretaries have been appointed; local missionary lending libraries are being set on foot, Hampstead and Clapham leading the way; monthly meetings, attended by from 100 to 200 ladies, have been held at the C.M. House; and to audiences of about 100 ladies, in March and in June, two courses of three lectures each were given by the Editorial Secretary, on "India and its Missions," and on "East and Central Africa."

The following is a programme of addresses given at the monthly meetings of the Ladies' Union, 1885-86:—

Oct. 16*th*, 1885, by Rev. H. P. Parker, of Calcutta, on "Missionary Work in India, viewed as a part of God's dealings with the Nations."

Nov. 20*th*, by Rev. F. E. Wigram, on "Our Men."

Dec. 18*th*, by Rev. C. C. Fenn, on "The Causes of the Variety of Success in Different Missions."

Jan. 21*st*, 1886, by Rev. C. F. Warren, of Japan, on "Our Japan Mission, its present position and special needs."

Feb. 18*th*, by Rev. J. Stone, of South India, on "Nine Years' Work in the Telugu Mission."

March 18*th*, by Rev. J. B. Whiting, Vicar of St. Luke's, Ramsgate, on "Zeal for Christ, as shown by the Native Converts."

April 15th, by Rev. A Elwin, Missionary from Hang-chow, on "Some Chinese Christians I have known."

May 20th, by Rev. H. M. M. Hackett, Vice-President of the C.M.S. Divinity School at Allahabad, on "Woman's Work for the Mission Field."

The following paper has been prepared by the Committee of the Ladies' Union for the guidance of their Hon. District Secretaries:—

1. Let each Secretary bear in mind that her leading object must be less to do things herself than to get others to do them. She must indeed be the mainspring, but a mainspring is valueless except as it sets wheels in motion.

2. This will be best effected by conference with members of the Union, and others, by face-to-face intercourse, by drawing-room meetings, where those who may have no other points of contact with her will be drawn together by the one common interest—missionary work. United prayer must be kept in view as a first object in such gatherings. The blessing of regular united prayer for missionary work cannot be overestimated.

3. Those who begin with united prayer will go on to united practical efforts for the cause. These may be classed under:—(a) Missionary handiwork; (b) Missionary literature; (c) Missionary teaching; (d) Missionary funds.

(a) Missionary Handiwork. — Needlework, painting, turning, leather-work, &c., either in working-parties or by individuals; encouraging servants to work; arranging for the sale of anything that anybody may make, so that none may feel they have laboured in vain.

(b) Missionary Literature.—Arrangements for the regular supply of the Society's books, papers, and periodicals amongst all classes; circulating libraries of missionary literature.

(c) Missionary Teaching.—Seeking opportunities to promote in Sunday-schools a greater interest in the work and a more efficient organization; to give information at working-parties, Juvenile Association meetings, &c.; to gain an entrance for the Society into Ladies' Schools, Colleges, and Institutions; and seeing that our poorer neighbours and servants have regular information.

(d) Missionary Funds.—The formation of Juvenile Associations; encouraging the organization or more efficient working of the various methods of collecting funds by missionary boxes and cards, weekly, monthly, or yearly subscriptions, &c., and if possible, the regular quarterly opening of boxes.

One or two leading principles of action may be further stated:—

1. Before setting on foot new plans, the counsel and co-operation of the clergy of the various parishes should be sought. Though unable to undertake additional work themselves, their countenance and support are of the highest importance.

2. Honour to whom honour is due amongst those already at work. In most cases agents for local work will be found amongst them; in all cases their sympathy and co-operation should be sought.

3. Encourage honest individual effort however small. A child may be encouraged to learn to work neatly that it may contribute its mite.

Younger Clergy Union.

Rapid as has been the progress of the Lay Workers' and of the Ladies' Unions, that made by the "C.M.S. UNION OF YOUNGER CLERGY FOR LONDON AND ITS NEIGHBOURHOOD" has exceeded the most sanguine expectations. Two hundred members have been enrolled in a membership not regarded by them as nominal, as is proved by the fact that the monthly meetings of this Union have been attended by from fifty to sixty clergy. Its objects and rules are subjoined, and a programme of its monthly meetings.

C.M.S. Union of Younger Clergy for London and the Neighbourhood.

OBJECTS.

1. To enlist the sympathy and co-operation of the Younger Clergy and Candidates for Holy Orders in the work of the Society, and their united prayers for God's blessing on its labours.

2. To enable members better to inform themselves as to the operations of the Society.

(a) By personal intercourse with those devoting themselves to the Society at home and abroad.

(b) By Monthly Meetings, Lectures, or Conferences, from October to June inclusive.

(c) By using the missionary literature available at the Society's House, by the permission of the Committee of the C.M.S.

1. That any Clergyman or Candidate for Holy Orders be admitted on nomination by a member, and payment of an annual subscription of One Shilling.

2. That the management of the Union be vested in a President, Vice-Presidents, and a Committee of fifteen members, including three Secretaries of the C.M.S. and the Metropolitan Association Secretary as Ex-officio Members; the Committee to have power to fill up vacancies.

3. That a Secretary and Treasurer be chosen by the Committee from their body.

4. That no Officer of this Union, except the Ex-officio Members, be of more than twenty years' standing in Holy Orders.

5. That a general meeting of members of the Union be held annually in October for the election of Officers and other business.

C.M.S. County Unions.

Passing from the metropolis to the country, the most recent features of the Society's permanent organization (not including the Lay Workers' Unions in the provincial towns already referred to) are the County Unions. A list of them will be found on page ix of this Report, numbering 23, and representing 26 counties. It is the less necessary to refer to them at length, as their working is generally well understood.† Some County Unions admit ladies as members, others do not; there has been formed in a few counties a separate Union for ladies. Perhaps this latter plan works the

* There were held at the C.M. House from June 1st, 1885, to May 31st, 1886, inclusive, in connection with the Lay Workers' Union, meetings and classes numbering 28, and Committee meetings numbering 9; in connection with the Ladies' Union, meetings and classes numbering 19, and Committee meetings numbering 11; in connection with the Junior Clergy Union, meetings numbering 8, and Committee meetings 8, making the total of meetings and classes in connection with the three Unions 55, of Committee meetings 28.

Articles referring to the three London Unions will be found in the C.M. Intelligencer, November, 1885, "On the Development of a Missionary Spirit at Home," section vi. See also Intelligencer, January, 1886, on "Our three London C.M.S. Unions."

† The working of the County Unions has been described at length in the best. It is earnestly to be hoped that next year's Report will chronicle a rapid forward movement in this respect.

Reports of Association Secretaries.

The annual reports of the Association Secretaries in January, led the Committee to expect some diminution of income from Associations. These anticipations, happily not realized, had a solid basis of fact. Throughout their reports, reference is made to three great causes which affected adversely the returns of many local Associations: (1) The almost unprecedented agricultural depression, resulting in the diminution of landowners' incomes; (2) the consequent diminished value of tithe and of clerical income; (3) the depression of trade.

February Simultaneous Meetings.

If now, leaving the more permanent forms of the Society's organization, we dwell upon a few special features of the year, undoubtedly the first place must be assigned to the February Simultaneous Meetings.* Their origin was as follows. At the Annual Conference of the Society's Association Secretaries in January, 1885, discussion arose upon the best methods of arousing the Christian public to a livelier sense of the greatness of the Missionary call at the present time. The idea was thrown out that if a special appeal were made by means of simultaneous special meetings all over the country, a moral effect might be produced by the mere fact of their simultaneousness, and if God in His goodness were pleased to accept and bless the effort, the result might be a decisive step forward, a real advance in the public mind regarding the claims of the Heathen and Mohammedan world upon the Church of Christ.

The features recommended for adoption in the conduct of the meetings were mainly three, one above all others: they were to present missionary work as the glorification of Christ, the Great Head of the Church, and the obedience to His commands; (2) they were to plead the cause of Missions rather than the claims of a society; (3) the question of funds was to be kept in the background.

An important preliminary Conference was held on January 14th, 1886, at the C.M. House, which was attended by 150 clergymen and laymen from all parts of England, who were about to take part in the movement. The tone of solemnity and responsibility

* Full particulars will be found in Intelligencer, November, 1885, "On the Development of a Missionary Spirit at Home;" January and February, 1886, "The February Simultaneous Meetings;" and in a supplement (printed separately) of 100 pages to the Intelligencer for March, 1886, in which they are reviewed, and letters of speakers and accounts of all the principal meetings are added: see also the special tracts, six in number, written for the occasion.

which pervaded the meeting was enhanced by the deeply impressive addresses of Mr. Stevenson Blackwood, C.B., and the Rev. F. F. Goe, Rector of St. George's, Bloomsbury.

The number of centres at which meetings were held was between 170 and 180; at not a few they lasted for two days, at others they occupied the whole period, February 8th to 12th inclusive. This was the case at Manchester, Yarmouth, Exeter, Wolverhampton, &c. While again at others, a large number of village meetings were organized outside the principal centres, as in Cambridgeshire, Bedfordshire, and Kent; so that the total number of meetings held in connection with the movement can be reckoned at scarcely less than 800. The number of speakers who co-operated directly with Salisbury Square was 160 (96 clergymen and 64 laymen), the majority of whom placed themselves at the Society's disposal for the week: and, in addition, a number of other speakers lent their aid at the request of local friends. The work done in the matter of organization by the Association Secretaries and by local friends was in many cases both intricate and enormous.*

A review of the meetings reveals—1. that upon the whole they were successful beyond all expectation, but more so, it would seem, in the small towns than in the larger centres of population; 2. that a high level of spirituality was aimed at and reached by the speakers in their addresses; the solemn tone pervading them was at the time intensified by the news of the murder of Bishop Hannington, which was received on February 8th, the day when the meetings commenced; 3. that the prominence given to the cause of missions instead of to the claims of the Society was the means of enlisting the kindly co-operation of many not hitherto identified with the Society's work.

Many of the Bishops wrote expressing their hearty sympathy, and their regret that a conference of the Bishops in London prevented their taking active part in the meetings; but several did preside at least once. The Archbishop of Canterbury sent the following letter:—

Lambeth Palace, S.E., 6th February, 1886.

My dear Mr. Wigram,—I am late, but not the less earnest, in expressing my sympathy, and promising my Daily Prayers through the week for the "Simultaneous Meetings."

By God's help, keenest attention will be aroused to the Duty of the Mission Work and its maintenance, and that Heavenly Help, sought by united Prayer, will (I believe it) be granted. We shall feel the effect.

It is matter of great regret that the Bishops will be necessarily in London during the week. Their time had to be fixed by a committee, who found that there was as a matter of fact, no choice.

But I am sure you will have the united Prayer of the Bishops.

Yours sincerely,

The Rev. F. E. Wigram. EDWARD CANTUAR.

Special Mission Weeks.

2. The suggestion thrown out three years ago by Bishop Bickersteth in a letter to Mr. Wigram, which will be found in the June C.M. Intelligencer, 1883, has borne during the last year some excellent fruit. Special mission weeks in connection with the Church Missionary Society were held at Southport in June, at Ipswich in September, and at Kendal in February. The principal "missioner" upon these occasions was the Society's friend, the Rev. J. B. Whiting, M.A., Vicar of St. Luke's, Ramsgate. An account of the Southport "week," containing valuable hints for the organization of similar attempts, is subjoined:—

The clergy of Southport were invited to preach introductory sermons in their own pulpits on the 14th of June, drawing attention to the Mission and its object.

The real business of the Mission commenced on Monday evening, June 15th, when a prayer-meeting was held in the Mayor's parlour, Town Hall.

On Tuesday the first service was held in Christ Church, as being the central church of the town. There was a short service each morning at 11.30, and the Rev. J. B. Whiting gave a series of addresses on the principles of the work, as illustrated in the "First Missionary Report of the Christian Church," the Book of the Acts of the Apostles.

On the afternoon of each day various social gatherings and drawing-room meetings were held, and gave the friends in other parts of the town an opportunity of hearing the missionaries who supported Mr. Whiting. Archdeacon Johnson from the Niger, a clergyman from New Zealand, missionaries from Japan and North-West America, representing the five great divisions of the world, testified to the great extent of the Society's operations. A most successful meeting was held in the Smedley Hydropathic Establishment, Birkdale, and on Wednesday afternoon a large juvenile meeting gathered in the Cambridge Hall. Curiosities were shown from all parts of the mission-field, and specimens of the Society's publications for home work, including valuable maps and diagrams, as well as a series of translations of the Bible, Prayer-book, and other works, into the languages of peoples amongst whom its agents labour.

The evening of each day of the mission was occupied with addresses in the churches and school-chapels of the town, three or four going on at the same time.

During the week's work there were no appeals for funds; the whole effort was concentrated on supplying information; then on Sunday, 21st June, the regular Anniversary sermons were preached in all the churches of Southport, and collections made on behalf of the Society. On Monday, the 22nd, a large and enthusiastic meeting was held in the Cambridge Hall, when the chair was taken by Dr. Pilkington, Mayor of Southport. A concluding service was held on Wednesday evening, the 24th, in Christ Church.

The especial feature of encouragement in the Mission was the growing interest shown by all classes in the work as it was unveiled to them. It was not a passing interest in what was attractive for the moment, but there was an evident impression of the deep responsibility displayed by the character of the work as resting upon our Church and nation. Some would have been better pleased by crowded gatherings from the first; but the small congregation at the beginning showed the necessity for the effort, and the growing interest and increasing attendance throughout, with the enthusiastic meeting at the conclusion, witnessed to the blessing that evidently rested upon it.*

3. The efforts made to arouse a missionary spirit have received signal marks of the Lord's blessing.

Interest at Trin. Coll. Dublin.

(1) On November 12th, 13th, 14th, 1885, a "Missionary Mission" was held at Trinity College, Dublin. The principal speakers were Rev. H. M. M. Hackett (Allahabad), Rev. R. Stewart (Foochow), two T.C.D. men; Rev. H. Sykes and Rev. W. Weston, two Cambridge men. Chairmen were found in the Rev. G. Salmon, D.D., Regius Professor of Divinity, the Provost of Trinity College, and the Bishop of Ossory. Gatherings for prayer were held on the afternoons of each of the three days at four o'clock.

On Thursday night the subject of the addresses was the love of the Lord Jesus; on Friday, when an increased attendance of 300 necessitated removal to a larger Hall, personal consecration was urged home, and on Saturday, as the climax of consecration, Missionary work. For a second meeting, about 150 stayed.

After prayer, Mr. Stewart's appeal to men to offer themselves for this grand work, and to try their hearts if perchance they might find that God was calling them to it, was felt by all. Several of the students then led in prayer, and the hymn, "Take my life and let it be," was sung kneeling, and then the Secretary of the U.C.M.A. went on to the platform, and asked that all men who were willing to give themselves up entirely to God to work wherever He might be pleased to call them, either abroad, or, if He made it plainer, at home, would join him on the platform. Over forty came, and joined in heartfelt prayer that God would accept their consecration and enable them to walk in His ways for ever.

Letter from Cambridge men.

(2) The subjoined letter is an illustration of the growing Missionary spirit at Cambridge.

April 2nd.

To Rev. F. E. Wigram, M.A., Hon. Sec., C.M.S.

Dear Sir,—We, the undersigned, desire respectfully to explain that though pledged at present, more or less, to home work, we are equally willing, if God's providence opens the way, to look forward to offering ourselves for missionary work, should openings for us be found within the next few years. The only fitness for foreign work we venture to claim is that we are willing, by the grace of God, to go where most wanted. We would not seek difficulty or danger for its own sake, but we would be ready to incur either, where necessary, rather than that Christ's cause should suffer from His people's want of zeal or England cease to be foremost in missionary work. We ask that you will kindly entertain this our prospective offer, at least by letting us know from time to time of such openings as you may think suitable to us individually, even of such as might be only of a temporary character. We venture to hope that the Committee will think it worth while to retain our names and addresses, and they will, no doubt, make any further personal inquiries they may think necessary.

* See Intelligencer, August, 1885, p. 605, "The C.M.S. Missionary Week at Southport;" at Kendal, April, 1886, p. 246.

We remain, dear sir, yours truly and obediently.

[Here follow the signatures of thirty graduates and undergraduates of Cambridge University. Six of them are put separately, under the head of "definitely expecting to go out."]

Fifty-three Inquiries.

3. As a result of the Simultaneous Meetings, and also of the heroic death of Bishop Hannington, fifty-three persons, within four weeks, made inquiries with the intention of offering themselves for the foreign field. One lady touchingly wrote, "I desire to consecrate all my powers and all my means, it may be to missionary work, if such work be not thought too high for me."

Valedictory Dismissal.

The Annual Valedictory Dismissal of Missionaries takes place in October.* Last October, the large band to be "dismissed" imparted to the occasion exceptional interest. The friends present filled to its utmost capacity St. George's Hall, Langham Place, a building which holds over one thousand. Thirty-five missionaries (twenty-one brethren and fourteen sisters) received their instructions and were commended in prayer to Almighty God. Of this number, thirteen brethren and ten sisters were going out for the first time, including representatives from the Universities of Cambridge, Dublin, Durham, and London, the Society's College and the Training Home at Mildmay. In the evening of this same day, October 2nd, a meeting, numbering about 400, nearly all young men, was held in the Holborn Town Hall, when short and stirring speeches were made by many of the departing missionaries.

The C.M.S. Children's Home.

On April 14th, 1886, the Memorial Stone of the new buildings for the Church Missionaries' Children's Home was laid by Mrs. Wigram. A beautiful site upon the top of a hill, at Limpsfield, near Oxted, has been selected, and premises to accommodate 111 children are being erected. The Home at Islington, opened in 1853, had become too small; there was no playground near; its surroundings, instead of fields, had in thirty-three years become streets.† The Committee have ventured on its removal, believing that many will wish to show their sympathy with the absent parents by providing the funds which will be required in addition to the 10,000*l.* specially given two years ago and the proceeds of the present site. The Rev. A. J. P. Shepherd, the Director of the Home, has been compelled, through ill-health, to resign, and the post he vacates has been accepted by the Rev. F. V. Knox, M.A., late chaplain at Amballa, in the Punjab, and a son of the Society's well-known friend, the Rev. G. Knox, of Exton.

NOTICE TO TREASURERS AND SECRETARIES OF ASSOCIATIONS.

THE COMMITTEE of the Church Missionary Society beg to remind the Treasurers or Secretaries of Associations that the Society's financial year ends on the 31st of March.

All Moneys belonging to the year should be received at the Society's House by that date, in order to ensure their being included in the accounts for the year then closing.

Sums remaining unpaid on the 31st March are no longer shown in the Accounts as Balances. The Contribution Lists should therefore agree in total with the amounts actually paid to the Parent Society to that date.

Much labour and expense is saved to the Society by sending in the Lists and Accounts as soon after the money as possible. If not so sent the lists are liable to be excluded from the Report. The date at which the Accounts of the Association are closed, and the names of the Local Officers should be specified. Should no names be given it will be assumed that they remain the same as in the previous Report, and the List will be so printed. Where the Account or the List is a printed one, two copies should be forwarded.

The Lists and Accounts should be written legibly to avoid mistakes in printing, and made up in the manner in which the same are printed in the Parent Society's Report. A Form of Account may be had on application at the Society's House.

Where an Association has Branches connected with it, the Accounts of the Branches must be forwarded to the Secretary of the Association some time before the period for forwarding the Accounts of that Association to London. When this is not done within a reasonable time, such Branches should be considered as self-excluded, and the Accounts forwarded without them.

Branch Associations should in every case, where practicable, forward their Money and Lists through the Association with which they are connected, and not direct to the Parent Society. If sent direct, the Association or District with which such Branch is connected should be specified.

The Committee would also strongly urge for universal adoption, the practice of making early remittances after the 1st April on account of the year's receipts in the hands of the Local Treasurer. This course would tend to equalize in a greater degree the Income and Expenditure in the earlier months of the Society's Financial year, and save the Society a considerable yearly sum. They are glad to observe that the suggestion has been partially carried out during the present year, but they are desirous of seeing it more generally adopted.

II.—ENGLISH ASSOCIATIONS.

NOTE.—All Contributions from Associations are for year ending Dec. 31st, 1885, except where otherwise stated.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO SPECIAL FUNDS have been, where possible, taken out of the following lists and transferred to the funds to which they respectively belong. In cases where the lists were received too late for this purpose the transfers will be made in, and the amounts deducted from, the Contributions of the current year.

XIX.—TABLE OF CONTRIBUTIONS, SCHOOL FEES, GOVERNMENT GRANTS, &c., RECEIVED IN THE VARIOUS MISSIONS OF THE SOCIETY DURING 1885.

N.B.—This Table has been compiled with a view to giving to the Society's friends the best statement possible of the sums received (in connection with its work throughout the world) in addition to the Contributions to General Fund, and to the Income derived from Special Funds in the Parent Committee's hands.

The following figures are therefore assumed to be exclusive of the sums shown in the General Account of Receipts and Payments on pp. 250 and 251.

In the absence of returns from several of the Missions, and of complete returns from others, the figures are necessarily imperfect; but the Committee consider it desirable that they should nevertheless be shown, in the hope that, with the assistance of the Society's representatives in the several Missions, and of the Missionaries themselves, this table may become more perfect as time goes on.

FIRST RESOLUTION.—Moved by Seconded by

That this Meeting fully recognizes the duty incumbent on Christians to employ all suitable means for the propagation of the Gospel throughout the world; and hails, with thankfulness to the Great Head of the Church, the labours of the CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY in its various Stations in Heathen Lands, and among decayed Christian Churches.

FOURTH RESOLUTION.—Moved by
